Municipal Record

ONE-HUNDRED TWENTY-FOURTH COUNCIL

BEN WOODS President
MICHAEL PERRY City Clerk
LINDA M. JOHNSON Asst. City Clerk

Pittsburgh, PA

Monday, January 6, 1986

In accordance with the provisions of the Act of Assembly of the Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved May 31, 1911, the Members-elect of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, together with those holding over, convened in the Chambers at 10:00 A.M.

The Council was called to order by Michael A. Perry, City Clerk, who acted as Chairman pro tem of the meeting.

Mr. Perry:

This being the day and hour fixed by the Act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Pittsburgh Home Rule Charter for the organization of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, the One Hundred and Twenty-Fourth Council will be in order.

At this time will Mr. Grabowski and Mr. Givens please escort Mayor Richard Caliguiri into the Chambers.

We will rise for the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and remain standing for the invocation.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

Mr. Perry:

We are honored this morning to have with us the Reverend Loran Mann, Pastor of Pentecostal Temple Church of God in Christ who will deliver the invocation.

Reverend Mann:

Let us pray.

Oh God, our help in ages past, our hope of years to come, our shelter from the stormy blast, and our eternal home.

Before the hills and order stood or earth received her frame, from everlasting thou art God through endless years the same.

A thousand ages in thy side or as an evening gone, short as the watch that ends the night before the rising sun.

Thank you for the blessings of life and liberty and for the privilege of coming boldly to thy throne of grace, for it is there that we find the mercy to sustain us in the hour of need.

You have admonished us to always acknowledge you in all of our ways with a promise that you would direct our paths.

And so we come now thanking you for the privilege of serving the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh and its environs and ultimately our fellow men, and to ask your blessings upon the members of City Council, individually and collectively, as well as all who govern the City.

We pray that you would give them wisdom, knowledge and understanding, that you would remind them that they who govern must govern rightly.

We ask that you would be in every session of this body, both private and public, that you would guide them as you did Israel with the cloud in the day and a pillar of fire by night.

We plead for your presence. Be with these public servants in all of their deliberations.

And we pray not only for those who serve but for the electorate which they represent. Grant patience, wisdom, trust, and most importantly, understanding.

We ask that you give us unity, for where there is unity there is strength.

This is our prayer, God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Spirit.

Amen.

Mr. Perry:

Thank you, Reverend.

The first order of business will be the Presentation of Certificate of Election.

Mr. Perry:

We also have with us the Honorable Rita Wilson Kane, Register of Wills, who will administer the Oath of Office to Sophie Masloff.

The Oath of Office was administered by Mrs. Kane and Mrs. Masloff signed the Oath.

Mr. Perry:

We also have the Honorable Paul R.
Zavarella, Judge of the Court of Judge Zavarella and Mr. Pollock signed the Oath.

Mr. Perry:

We also have the Honorable Gerard
M. Bigley, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, who will administer the Oath of Office to Ben Woods.

The Oath of Office was administered by Judge Bigley and Mr. Woods signed the Oath.

Mr. Perry:

Being that the newly elected and re-elected members of Council have been duly sworn in, the Clerk will call the roll.

And the roll being called, the following members were present:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Pollock
Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Wagner
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff

Mr. Perry:

Nine members present. The next order of business is the nomination and election of the President of City Council. What is your pleasure?

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. City Clerk, at this time I take great pleasure in nominating Council's past Finance Chairman for the office of President of Council, Ben Woods.

Mr. Perry:

Mr. Woods is nominated. Any more nominations?

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, City Clerk, whatever you title is today. Traditionally, a senior member of Council becomes the President and while I have not supported this concept in the past, and while it is true that Sophie Masloff and myself have not always agreed on issues, nevertheless, I must admit openly that Sophie has always conducted herself with dignity and treated everyone with courtesy and respect.

It is certainly a disgrace, and I know Sophie shares my views, that we will not have even one minority on Council in a City that has a population of some 28 to 30 percent Blacks. It is also true that while women are not the better half, we certainly are the other half, and obviously we do not hold half the seats on this City Council. There are those who may say this is a chauvinistic remark, and you can bet your tootsie it is.

Women in government, in the decision-making process, comprise only about one percent of the elected officials of the decision-making process, and I say boo. It is time that women, and I speak from personal experience, are not ruled out of order after eight minutes while men can go on and on and on and on before being asked to curtail their comments.

I honestly believe that Sophie will treat all Councilmembers equally. She will have the best interest of the public at heart, and will break the tradition of the old boring network.

In the 250 year history of City Council there has never been a female President of Council. Let's make history today.

Before my closing remark, as everybody in this room knows, and it's no secret, it's been front page, this Council has been divided 4-4 as to who would be the President, Mr. Woods, or Councilwoman Masloff. And the decision that really held this up was who was going to be the Finance Chairman. Well, Mr. Givens is the other senior member of this Council and I don't think that Mr. Givens would be less of a Finance Chairman than anybody else because if I was appointed I would have to learn the job and I think he would make an excellent Finance Chairman.

Therefore, I would like him to think about the fact that whether it was a last minute request — One of the reasons it was last minute, there was so much interplay behind the scenes in the back room, people's feelings being hurt and offers being made, that no one wanted this to be a public issue until the last minute. Mr. Givens, I think, is offended he was asked at the last minute. But I want him to know it is not Sophie asking him because she wants to be President of Council, she was not going to be vindictive nor ask Mr. Woods to step down, it was all of us saying, "Why not Mr. Givens; he's been here as long as anyone else." I wanted him to understand that before we voted.

I close by saying, after years of devoted service to the people of Pittsburgh, it gives me a great deal of pleasure, Councilwoman Sophie Masloff, to nominate you for President of Pittsburgh City Council.

Mr. Perry:

Sohie Masloff has been nominated.

Are there any more nominations? Any more nominations? Any more nominations?

At this time I would like to entertain a motion to close the nominations.

Mr. O'Malley moved that the nominations be closed.

Mr. Woods seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Perry:

Before calling the roll, would any member of Council wish to withdraw their name?

There being none, the Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. Ben Woods.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. Ben Woods.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. Ben Woods.

Michelle Madoff:

Sophie Masloff.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mrs. Masloff.

Mr. O'Malley:

Mr. Woods.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. Perry, I have a motion. While I would have been honored and had truly wanted to serve on the first Council to have a woman President, my arithmetic is good and with four votes and his own vote yet to come, Mr. Woods will be our Council President.

Thus, in the interest of harmony, I move that the voting be unanimous for Mr. Woods.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Mr. Perry:

At this moment, the motion is out of order. We will continue with the vote.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. Woods.

Mr. Wagner:

Sophie Masloff.

Mr. Woods:

Ben Woods.

Mr. Perry:

The ayes and noes were taken agreeable to law and were:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Pollock
Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Woods

MR. WOODS - 6

Michelle Madoff Mr. Wagner
Mrs. Masloff

MRS. MASLOFF - 3

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, Mr. Woods was approved as President of City Council.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. Perry, I'd like to restate my motion and again state that, in the interest of harmony, I move that the voting be unanimous for Mr. Woods.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I think that the public, through the media, and to the guardian of the people's right to know has seen what has happened here today and we women will be heard in future elections. Thank you.

Mr. Perry:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. Pollock
Mr. Givens	Mr. Wagner
Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley

AYES 7

NOES 2

(MICHELLE MADOFF AND MRS. MASLOFF VOTING NO)

And the votes of Council not being unanimous, the motion was defeated.

Mr. Perry:

We have the Honorable Gerard Bigley who will administer the Oath of Office to Ben Woods as President of City Council

The Oath of Office was administered by Judge Bigley to the President of City Council.

Mr. Perry:

Members of Council, ladies and gentlemen, may I present to you Council President Ben Woods.

Mr. Woods:

Thank you all very much. I thank all of my colleagues, those who voted for me and those didn't vote for me, I'm sure we can work this out. I intend to work with all of you in harmony as I have in the last four years that I've been on this Council.

While I'm here, I would like to thank all the members of my family, all my neighbors, my friends, the ward officers in the Democratic Party and especially the people of this City for electing me to serve another four years.

Thank you all very much.

Now I'd like to call on Eugene DePasquale to come up and say a few remarks.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mayor, Reverend Clergy, distinguished guests, relatives and friends all. This is probably the fourth time that I'm taking the Oath of Office as a Councilman of the City of Pittsburgh. I took it three times as the Council President. It may be a record for a person to be sworn in four times; I don't know. I'll have to have Mike check on that.

When I was first sworn in in January of '72, the three pressing problems in the City of Pittsburgh were transportation and unemployment and housing. I would say that skybus, which was the mode of transportation we were discussing then, as you know, did not succeed and it was through no fault of mine. I was supportive of skybus and, for the record, I was the last public official to stay on that bandwagon. I think Pittsburgh will live to regret that they didn't go through with skybus. But we do have a pretty good system now and we have to make the best of what we have.

We did make a dent in housing but not as good a dent as I thought we should have made. We can make a better one and we have to keep striving towards that.

Right now, unemployment, I don't have to tell you, is our chief problem, our chief concern. I know the Mayor has addressed it on several occasions with the task force that he's formed and what have you, and I know he's working towards that goal and working very earnestly. Along with City Council, I think that we can pull it off and get some work back in this area, get some industry in this area, and certainly keep what we have here now.

There's not much else I can say except that when I ran in the primary - I'm going to be very frank with everybody; I've been a frank person all my life and a very honest person - I wanted to prove a point. I walked out of City Council; I just said, "I've had it," and I took off. But some remarks were made and certain things were said. Sadly it had to come from my own party and leaders of my own party and it disturbed me and I was going to show them that I could come back with the help of fine people like you and get re-elected. I proved that point and now that I've proved that point I've got a job to do on City Council and I'm going to do it.

Contrary to what some of you are thinking, I'm going to make no comments in regard to certain comments that were made earlier with the exception of saying that Sophie Masloff, whether she realizes it or not, is one of my dearest friends in the world. However, things happen along the way. I'm not going to say deals were made but politics played a part; that's for sure. I swung to Ben Woods who also is a very dear friend. So, it wasn't a case of disliking Sophie Masloff or being anti-woman or anti-minority or anything else.

As far as Black representation on City Council goes, no one is sorrier than Jeep DePasquale that we don't have Black representation. If Jeep DePasquale would have had his way we would have. But we were thwarted along the way, for whatever reason. That will be corrected; I can guarantee you that.

I have just two other comments to make. Members of Council, I am more or less the senior member and I think I can give a little advice. I wouldn't let the news media concern you too much. In the past, it did concern me and got the best of me at times. Regardless, I've traveled quite a bit in the last two years, in fact, the last ten years, and there isn't a city in the United States where the Council is not the butt of the jokes and isn't the cause of all the problems. With all due respect to our Mayor who is probably the greatest Mayor we ever had, whenever anything goes right in the City, the Mayor gets the credit; and whenever anything goes wrong, City Council gets the blame.

I'm just trying to make a point that we are not unique here in Pittsburgh by getting time and again by the news media. I think you know that in my case, the news media has accused me of everything but having Aids. Somehow I've held my head above water.

One other bit of advice to City Council. Let's get back to what City Council is supposed to be, a legislative body and nothing else. All that we owe the City of Pittsburgh is constructive legislation and worthwhile legislation. We don't belong in investigations and all the other publicity-seeking things.

I'm not pointing any fingers but remember, every one of you, you're to legislate and that's all you're supposed to do. And if you do a good job at legislating your name is not going to get in the papers too much because when you're doing a good job they're not going to hear your name and they're not going to see your name in print. It's something like a baseball umpire. You don't hear about the good baseball umpires because they do their everyday job and they do it good. But you do hear about the lousy umpires, the ones that make mistakes. They're the ones whose names get in the paper.

So, we don't have to have our names in the paper. Let's do our job, let's legislate properly, and everyone is going to be happy.

If I may, I would like to acknowledge the fact that along with tons of friends that are here today, that my family is here and I would ask them to take a bow. My wife, Josephine, my daughter, Carol Ann, her two children Chris and Angela, I see my son Mark and I presume the rest of them are here, Jimmy, Alfred, and Eugene. I see my good friend Guy DeLuca is pointing back there and I finally realize that he's pointing at my brother Bob, my son-in-law, Robert Hertz. I believe my daughter-in-law, Helen, is here. My brother Al and my sister-in-law Ange and, as I said, tons of cousins and obviously a lot of friends.

I want to thank all of you and God bless everybody.

The Chair:

Next, I would like to call on Sophie Masloff.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mayor Caliguiri, honored clergy, distinguished guests, my beloved family, they say that time passes swiftly when you're having fun. Certainly for me these past eight years on City Council have passed quickly but it's hard to say just how much fun it has been. I know that they have been eventful and productive years, years during which I have been privileged to have contributed and serving and advancing the best interests of the people of Pittsburgh.

It is not in my makeup to spend much time reflecting on the past but in retrospect and on balance, I believe that the members of Council with whom I have served have shared a common desire to represent the people in a positive and responsible manner.

Oft times, the periodic controversies and superfluous rhetoric clouded the effective work of Council and its accomplishments. One thing that I have found these years in the public service is that this is not an easy job; it's a job that requires the wisdom of Solomon and the hide of a rhinoceros. It deals with the making of difficult and controversial decisions, all of which have some bearing on the future of this City and the well-being of its citizens. But I'm satisfied that I have accepted the challenge and I'm gratified with the continued support and confidence of the people in my ability to serve them.

Looking ahead to the next four years, I do so with confidence, despite the fact that we may be facing some financial difficulties with sizeable federal assistance cutbacks looming for '87. It is vitally important that we do everything possible for as long as possible so as not to add to the financial burden of the residents. I see my place in the next four years as supporting all efforts to increase employment, to provide effective and efficient and public safety services and, in general, work with the residents throughout neighborhoods and the business interest to improve the quality of life and economic climate in the City.

Those of you who have followed my career in City Council must realize, as I do, that I've already talked too much.

I'm not much at running off at the mouth; I believe in saying what has to be said and I have no intention of deviating from that policy in the years ahead. But I do want to acknowledge publicly the support of my friend, Rita Kane. The ideal she holds dear of honesty and faithfulness in public service have been an inspiration and have served me well these many years. I also want to give public recognition to the support given me by my husband, Jack, my daughter, Linda, my son-in-law, Nick, and my grandchildren, Jennifer and Michael, and my beloved sister, Sarah.

Thank you and my best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year. Thank you.

The Chair:

Next I would like to call on Mark Pollock.

Mr. Pollock:

Reverend Mann, Rabbi Jacob, Mayor Caliguiri, Justice Papadakos, other members of the judiciary, honored guests, my new colleagues, family and friends, I want all of you to know that I have a lot more to say than either Jeep or Sophie.

First, this is my first time here and it took a great deal of effort to get here.

Second, this might be the last opportunity I get to speak in this room. But don't worry, I have to be out of here by 11:00 to start my new part-time job as a talk show host on KQV Radio.

Often, when an individual is sworn in, his or her spouse holds the Bible. You may have noticed that there was no such person for me here today. I've been asked many times what my goals are and that's one thing I'd like to accomplish in the next four years. Being single, I have also been frequently asked if my election victory has improved my social life, and, clearly it has. Now when I ask a woman out and she says, "No thanks", she always follows it with, "But I voted for you", and I don't feel so bad.

Before I continue, allow me to introduce my mother and my grandmother.

I'd like to reflect on some of the events and people that made this great day in my life possible. Last year at this time it would have been extremely difficult to identify a person less likely to win than I, and for those of you who don't know it, I was on just about every elected official's hit list. Very few would have anything to do with me because of positions I had taken, loyalties I would not forsake, and friendships I would not abandon for political expediency. Fortunately, however, there were people like Augie Carlino, Sam Tiglio, Nick Gallo, Chief John McNamara, Liz White, Stan Lederman, Marty Krauss, the Mulders, Leon Davis and others who supported me. These quality individuals stuck with me for the very reason why so many in high places had targeted me for elimination. Because they saw in me the qualities that they themselves possess; loyalty, integrity and courage. One who displays these characteristics should be encouraged, not punished.

I thank these people and all the others who helped me obtain the endorsement despite heavy obstacles. Sometimes it is difficult to comprehend how I was able to do it with the powerful forces against me, but I am reminded of a quote by Winston Churchill: "At the bottom of all the tributes paid to democracy is a little man walking into the little booth, with the little pencil, making the little cross on the little bit of paper. No amount of rhetoric or voluminous discussion can possibly diminish the overwhelming importance of the point."

I harbor no resentment toward the officials who worked so hard against me. I have always tried to recall a bit of sanskrit wisdom: "The anger of a good man lasts but an instant; that of a meddler two hours; that of a base man a day and a night; and that of a great sinner until death." Indeed, I look forward to working with these individuals and learning from them. I hope they come to realize that the same people who flocked to them when other's political fortunes failed will just as quickly abandon them when their own fortunes begin to decline.

There was a great deal of apprehension, even fear, about me. Was I some radical, an obstructionist, a revolutionary? Time will prove me to be none of these. I do acknowledge a past when I would see injustice and would seek confrontation. Age and the education gained from mistakes made have altered this. But the most significant factor in my development was the advice and counsel of caring friends who had the stamina to wear me down, the wisdom to show me that far more can be accomplished through cooperation than confrontation, and the patience to endure my growing pains. Words cannot adequately express my gratitude to these people who surely must know what it is like to break a wild young bronco.

To Robin Bernstein, Phil Frasca, Sue Scott, Seymour Heyison and others, thank you for your dedication and patience. You were wiser than I all along and thank God you were stronger than I as well.

A different Mark Pollock has emerged from this process. Yes, I still see injustice but now I realize that if every battle is fought, then none will be won. These people taught me to pick my spots. The name of the game is effectiveness. I can have great ideas but I must still be able to convince at least four of my colleagues that my cause is just and that's what government is all about.

The most difficult part of this entire process has been trying to thank all the people who are responsible for my being here. What is so very gratifying, indeed humbling, was the quality of the people who worked very hard to get me elected. Their passion, their commitment, has never before been witnessed in any campaign.

There has been much said and written about my energy. Sherley Uhl said it was enough to pilot the space shuttle. Well, my friends, if you're the candidate and the volunteers are putting in 18 to 20 hour days, it's very difficult to sit down and relax. It was guilt that kept me going; guilt, Diet Coke, and about 16 Stresstabs a day.

Please permit me, however, a few special acknowledgements. Sue Scott, who worked so hard and believed so deeply in my candidacy from the very beginning. I will always remember Primary night when we hugged and she said, "The good guys won."

Robin Bernstein, my campaign professional, my advisor and my friend, who had the courage to go to work for me at significant risk to her own career and political future, when I was about as popular as Moammar Khadafy. She gave of herself totally and selflessly.

Judge Paul Zavarella. Many wonderful things have happened to me in my life but none more wonderful than when he hired me out of law school in 1979. Since that time, he has become like a father to me, a person in whom I have total trust, a person to whom I turn in my darkest hours with confidence that I will be directed right. His family has become like my family. One of my first thoughts after my victory was the realization that my long-time dream of having him swear me in would come to be.

Irene and Jay Fingeret. These are two people who not only believed in me from the first day I decided to run, in November, 1982, but who have shared each and every hardship, every disappointment, and every pain with me. They had given everything they could give - their time, their energy, their family, their house, their hearts and souls. More than anybody else, they deserve to share the joy of this day with me. They are far more than my partner and his wife, they are the most selfless, giving people I have ever known and probably the only couple in the world that could have endured this disruption of their lives, their work, and their home. I only hope you know how grateful I am.

Last, but not least, my three brothers, the people nearest and dearest to me. What can I say about three younger brothers who would do anything in the world for me. Lee and his wife Natalie, limited by geography but who gave financially until it hurt and who kept in constant contact and who did all they could by long-distance.

Herky who went days without sleep at all, commuting from college in Ohio. He would put up signs all day and then stay up all night guarding them to make sure no one tore them down. He was so tired one night he actually broke down and will anyone ever forget that night of the endorsement when he ran across Soldiers and Sailors, actually flew across Soldiers and Sailors, with the results.

And Adam. Making him campaign manager was a decision akin to converting Babe Ruth from a pitcher to a hitter. He turned a floundering campaign into a powerful, synchronized machine that would not be denied a victory.

There are many others who worked very hard. I have tried to thank you all but please realize how inadequate I have felt in doing so. I will always remember your dedication and treasure your friendships. What makes me very proud and gratified is that I know what got me elected was not my qualifications or my work, not the money or anything else; it was my friends.

Speaking of friends, the only damper on this great day is that my good friends, Sonia Melnikova and Benjy and Tania Bogomolny could not be here today. But they are Russian Jews and so are trapped in the Soviet Union and not even able to receive mail, so they probably didn't even receive the invitation to come today.

I will close by promising all of you that I will be a Councilman of whom you will be proud. I will be a Councilman of courage. Courage is the most important virtue because it makes all other virtues possible. I will be a Councilman of integrity. My standard will be what is right and wrong, not what can I get away with. And I will be a Councilman of action and hard work. There are three kinds of people; those who make things happen, those who watch things happen and those who don't even know what is happening. I will make things happen.

When one graduates from law school, the joy is really spread out. First there is a celebration of the last day in classes and the last day of finals and the last day of the bar exams and then the day you receive the bar exam results and then the day you take your Oath of Admission. So it was with this election. We had the joy of the endorsement victory, the elation of primary night, and the utter relief of the general election victory. But this today is the greatest of them all. Starting today I am serving the most livable city with the most lovable people in the world. Hey, I don't care what Rand McNally says now or in the future; Pittsburgh will always be the greatest city, the city I love.

You have given me an honor that only few receive. With it comes an awesome responsibility. I will always treasure the honor and remember the responsibility. All I can say is thank you, and you won't be sorry.

The Chair:

Now I would like to announce the Committee Chairmen.

The Committee on Finance, Mr. O'Malley. The Committee on Public Works, Mr. Givens. The Committee on Planning, Housing and Development, Mr. DePasquale. The Committee on General Services, Mr. Grabowski. The Committee on Water, Ms. Madoff. The Committee on Parks and Recreation, Mrs. Masloff. The Committee on Public Safety, Mr. Wagner. The Committee on Engineering and Construction, Mr. Pollock..

Also, the appointment of Councilmembers to the Board of Trustees at Carnegie Library; Mr. Givens, Mr. Wagner and Mr. Pollock.

Also, one Board member to the Board of Trustees at Buhl Planetarium, Mrs. Masloff.

In the past, usually the Finance

Chairman is President Pro tem. I would like to deviate from that and I'd like to have Mr. Givens nominated as President Pro tem of City Council.

Mr. O'Malley:

So moved.

Mr. Grabowski seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, I'd like to move that the rules of the preceeding Council be adopted as the rules of this Council.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I move that we have our usual meeting to amend those rules that we've been planning to do for a very long time, to treat people a little more fairly and have some of our situations cleaned up in a meeting in the very near future.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. Woods, I make a motion to table that since, honestly, I'm not familiar with the rules of the prior Council and I'd like time to review them before I vote on the matter.

The Chair:

Before I can table it, there's been a motion and it's been duly seconded.

Mr. Pollock:

A motion to table takes precedence over all other motions.

The Chair:

No it does not.

Michelle Madoff:

It only does in Robert's Rules.

The Chair:

The motion was made and has been seconded to approve the rules of Council and that's the motion, unless these two people would like to withdraw their motions, Mr. Pollock.

Mr. Pollock:

I think a motion to table takes precedence over all other motions. Mr. Perry?

The Chair:

No it doesn't.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, I think it's very important that this Council have some rules to operate under. If those rules need to be improved upon, we should establish a committee and we should re-evaluate them. But I do not want to see this Council proceed from this day forward without any rules. So, I would suggest to my colleagues that we have some rules by which to govern ourselves by and if there is need for re-evaluation and restructuring of those rules, so be it.

Michelle Madoff:

I concur with my esteemed colleague, Mr. Wagner; we have to start from some base. But my point was, and I repeat, that we meet tout de suite and that we do something to update those rules as we've been planning to do for some time and have not done so.

The Chair:

Is there any other discussion? All in favor signify by saying aye. Opposed?

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

The Chair:

Now I'd like to call on Mayor Richard S. Caliguiri for a few remarks.

Mayor Caliguiri:

It's indeed a pleasure to be before you once again and to congratulate the newly elected and re-elected Councilmembers.

Mark, newly elected, it's certainly good to have you with us and there's no doubt in my mind, and I'm sure all in this room, that you'll certainly bring new ideas and thoughts to this City Council and to this City, something that is always necessary and something that is needed as this City goes in transition. So, Mark, I congratulate you and welcome you to this City Council.

Jeep, we won't blame everything on you if the Pirates don't win this coming year but I think you have made a record, Jeep. I don't know of any other Councilman that has come back after a two-year hiatus as you have, but it's good to have you back, Jeep. It's good to be working with you once again. We've had a great working relationship and there no doubt in my mind that once again you will be heard from, but the City will be better for it. Jeep, I congratulate you once again for that.

Sophie who has been re-elected with her little grandson there. Sophie, you've done so much to give us stability in this City and certainly your voice is more than necessary. I look forward once again, Sophie, to be with you for the next four years and I congratulate you on your re-election and for remaining and staying with us and being just a great City Councilwoman.

Ben Woods, Mr. President, we will have a close working relationship, Ben. That's necessary between the President of City Council and the Administration as well as all members of Council. Ben, I congratulate you for the next four years and I can assure you, Ben, and all members of Council, some of the words that you've heard from the newly elected Council officials and, of course, the existing Councilmen, our agenda is certainly a long one in Pittsburgh. We are going through transition and we need each other. We've got to have each other when this Administration and this City is to move forward.

Council and the Mayor must work together, must cooperate together. When we do it, we get everybody else to do it, all the citizens in this City. And for us to continue to go forward with some of the thoughts and ideas and the things that we've done in the past and to keep them going, we must do it as a partnership.

I, as Mayor for the next four years, certainly say to you that that's the environment I want to work in. I want to come to this end of the hall on many occasions and I want you to be on the other end of the hall. Let's have one common denominator in working together for the good of this City. As Mark said, it's the most liveable city in this country. We knew that before we got the title and we're going to keep that even after that title.

Thank you all and God bless you.

The Chair:

Thank you, Mayor.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, if I might have a point of order here.

I'd like to recognize, before we formalize our meeting, that of Bob Stone, our out-going President. If he could just please stand up and be so recognized.

Bill Robinson, also. I haven't seen Bill but I would like to say that I've enjoyed serving with him.

Also, in the audience, Mr. President, is an old-time, ex-Councilman, ex-President, Tom Fagan in the back here and I'd like to recognize Tom.

We have Bernie Burns from our Firefighters union and some other union members. Chief McNamara, John McNamara is representing Gene Coon.

Some people do know that Judge Papadakos is here but I'd like to recognize him along with Justice Johnson from our Superior Court.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, if I may, I'd like to echo the sentiments of Councilman Givens and also one other note. When I first started on Council in '72, obviously there were nine Councilmembers, but only two of them are here today and for obvious reasons the other ones aren't and that's the now Mayor, Council had Mayor Caliguiri and the great labor leader that Mr. Givens had just mentioned, Tom Fagan.

Mr. Givens:

We also have our Honorable Controller here, I better introduce him, Tom Flaherty.

The Chair:

There are so many people here that if we tried to recognize all of them, we couldn't. If we had had a sign up list or something we would have done that. But thank you Mr. Givens and Mr. DePasquale.

Now, if I may continue, Rabbi Walter Jacobs will say Benediction.

Rabbi Jacobs:

Lord, our God, we thank thee for all thy blessings upon those members of City Council whom we have honored on this day. Thou hast granted them gifts of mind and spirit. Thou hast given each of them wisdom and understanding. Now we ask thy blessing upon them for the future. Grant them patience with each other, impatience with the problems that we face, enable them to help solve those problems with new ideas so that this city may continue to be rebuilt. Bless them so that all of us may be blessed through their efforts, so that work and good housing may exist for all of our citizens. Bless them now and bless us as citizens of this great city. Amen.

The Chair:

I will now entertain a motion to adjourn.

And on the motion of Michelle Madoff

Council adjourned.

Municipal Record

Proceedings of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh

VOL. CXX

No. 2

Municipal Record

ONE-HUNDRED TWENTY-FOURTH COUNCIL

BEN WOODS President
MICHAEL PERRY City Clerk
LINDA M. JOHNSON Asst. City Clerk

Monday, January 13, 1986

PRESENT:

Mr. DePasquale	Mrs. Masloff
Mr. Givens	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Pollock
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
	(Pres't)

ABSENT:

Mr. Wagner

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The Chair:

At this time, I would like to make a change of Committees. Mr. DePasquale, who was appointed Chairman of the Committee on Planning, Housing and Development, will now serve as Chairman of the Committee on Engineering and Construction. Mr. Pollock, who was appointed Chairman of the Committee on Engineering and Construction, will now serve as Chairman of the Committee on Planning, Housing and Development.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I realize that it's a matter of information, that it's your decision to make. But may I respectfully remind this esteemed body that, more often than not, when Mr. DePasquale was with us on Council, he did the honorable thing by refraining from voting because there were so many of his relatives who were in the construction business. I think it would be inappropriate then, perhaps, to have him on that Committee and he might want to reconsider that if that would be a problem to him. It may not be, he may just not be able to vote on it, but he would have to be putting in the bills for people he refrains from voting for, which is why I'm not working for Insituform and Insituform is now doing $400,000 worth of business for the City this year, they'll probably do $1 million a year. I was cleared by the Ethics Commission, the Law Department and the Mayor and I could be collecting $10,000 a year for doing nothing on an evergreen contract but I thought, since I deal with the Water Department, etc., I could not accept that and I think that that's something that the Chair might want to reconsider and might want to discuss with Mr. DePasquale. Perhaps he hadn't thought of it from that angle.

The Chair:

I'm sure Mr. DePasquale is aware of that and I served with Mr. DePasquale for two years and any time anything came up with his family or any other relation was on it he did not vote and I think that that has been discussed and that is my decision and now I'd like to go on with the regular order of business.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm just making the point that he's going to have to submit the legislation and there will be, indeed, people that are related to him.

The Chair:

You're exactly right.

Mr. DePasquale moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I don't believe that that kind of resolution belongs in City Council. It has come up every year and Mr. Robinson and I have always addressed it as not belonging before this Council.

I believe in the laws of the land; whatever the laws of the land are I will obey them. I have a daughter who is 25 and as long as I can remember I've always taught her to respect her body and certainly not to use abortion as a form of birth control. What we need is education. We certainly don't need the burning down of clinics, people being threatened.

I don't think that is an issue that belongs before this Council. I think that I will abstain.

MICHELLE MADOFF AND MR. POLLOCK ABSTAINING.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Ms. Cindrich:

Mr. Chairman and members of Council, on behalf of People Concerned For The Unborn Child, on behalf of the voiceless innocence for whom we speak, on behalf of the vulnerable pregnant women whom we serve with our services, on behalf of the thousands of people from the Greater Pittsburgh area who will be traveling to Washington, D.C. to petition Congress to make a law protecting all human life as declared in the Declaration of Independence, I thank the Council of the City of Pittsburgh for this resolution. Something like this is a sign of support for the pro-life movement in the Pittsburgh area. Everyone in this room knows the reputation of People Concerned For The Unborn Child, they know our methods, they know the results we have achieved and I believe that getting this resolution is a confirmation of the work we are doing and I thank you all.

The Chair:

I thank you, Helen, for coming.

Michelle Madoff:

I have a floor motion and I have two other items of business. Would you like me to get the two other items of business out of the way first or the floor motion first?

The Chair:

Motions and resolutions.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. As everybody knows, we're under a deadline with reference to the sculpture, the DiSuvero piece of sculpture. The Mayor has made a statement that no matter what happens he will raise the money whether this Council appropriates the money or not. The issue is not the $22,000; the issue is where that piece of statuary is going to be placed on our land, on City property.

Now, I have no problem with the piece of art, if I could at least see the piece of art. Mr. DiSuvero has said and people in Parks and Recreation have said that that is an old piece of work that was rusty, that we just sort of dusted it off and brought it out. It's not what Mr. DiSuvero has in mind.

I think that Mr. DiSuvero owes us the courtesy of showing us what we are going to put as a signature piece for our City. I'm sure that if the Chairman, the President of this Council were to call Alcoa or Michelle Madoff or anybody else on this Council and ask for a couple of pounds of aluminum and if we were to ask for the other companies to give us some steel or some other kind of metal, I don't think Mr. DiSuvero would have any problem himself acquiring some of the metals, he could give us a sample of the finished product.

There seems to be a great sentiment among the public that this is not the kind of art that the public wants. I for one, and I don't want to go into my press release, would like to see something more in the nature of the Unknown Soldier, the Einstein Statute and so on.

Now, I would like to create a line item. My motion is to create a line item for the people who want to contribute to meaningful art in the City. The checks would be made out, incidentally, City of Pittsburgh, My Voice For Pittsburgh Art. As I drive around the City or walk around the City, there isn't too much art. There's a lot of emperor's clothes, there's a lot of pipes that are bent and painted that are posing as art. Even if we were to lose out on this, this is the fate it can play I'm afraid, I hope it's not, I hope the people will say don't put this piece of statuary until we know what it really looks like on our land. At least we will have some money the people feel they're contributing toward their choices of art and my wish is to create a line item that says, City of Pittsburgh, My Voice For Pittsburgh Art. I need a second for that.

Mr. Pollock seconded the motion.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Michelle Madoff Mr. O'Malley
Mrs. Masloff Mr. Pollock

AYES 4 NOES 3

(MR. DEPASQUALE, MR. GRABOWSKI AND MR. WOODS VOTING NO)

(MR. GIVENS ABSTAINING)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Michelle Madoff:

Question. Is it proper to introduce it as a resolution or does it fail for the year?

The Chair:

It fails for the year.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you.

The Chair:

Your next order of business?

Michelle Madoff:

I have two pieces of information that I want to share with this Council.

As you know, there has been an extensive amount of work done on McCordle Roadway. It took seven years to do the bridge and there was no work on the sidewalk.

The other day coming down McCordle there were four high City trucks clearing ice away. I know of a major accident that took place on that Roadway, on the ice. Probably the City is going to have a lawsuit and it's not the City's fault. It appears that the Port Authority had a waterpipe they were pushing over the hillside, according to information from Mr. McDermott, and I think we ought to have somebody who heads that Committee — and at this point I don't know who heads that Committee, is that Mr. DePasquale? — look into the situation, because that man was found unconscious, so that we would not be liable for that piece of business.

On another matter. On the issue of the rental property that has been before this Council on Old Business referring to the proposal of putting the Water Department in the Allegheny Building, I want to share with Council what has transpired.

Mr. Evers, and there's an article incidentally in today's Press which will bring people up to date by Mr. Spatter but it doesn't have all the properties and all the prices. Mr. Evers has gone around to various locations and has a whole list of people who are willing to give us space. Oliver Realty has three places, Mr. Eddie Lewis has a building right across from Kaufmanns. There's an offer, probably the best offer we have which is a ten minute walk, it's $11 from Mr. Berger in the building that he's converting to a computer building.

But I couldn't understand why the Allegheny Building was willing to come down to two year and I thought that was a deal. Perhaps we might go in there just for that reason but we ought to look for the lowest rate. Well, it turns out that although there would have to be a tremendous amount of preparation, probably in the nature of $200,000 no matter where we go, and that figure, incidentally of $11 includes the preparation by Mr. Berger as opposed to $14 by the Allegheny Building.

Once the Water Department goes in and brings in its computers, its telephone system, it's microfiche, there isn't any way in two years it would be expendable or financially logical for that department to move out. So, subsequently, that ten year lease in the Allegheny Building which does provide for an increase in taxes, and I guess every lease would provide for that, is definitely not the lowest bid.

Mr. Daryl Smith is saying that he prefers to be in the Allegheny Building for various reasons. He's saying that he needs a computer tie-in. We've checked and a computer tie-in can be anywhere in the City. My position is that we ought to take our own stock for $200,000 in, fix up 8,000 square feet and pay no rent. We're talking about $1 million in ten years; $100,000 plus a year.

The fact that we have senior citizens coming in to pay their bills, their Water bills are paid downstairs in the Treasurer's Office anyway, in the City County Building on the first floor, and I don't think he has one valid reason for not wanting to go to a building that will give us the lowest rate.

I want to share this information so that by the time the bill comes to us again, before Council, since Mr. Smith is being adamant in his position of going into the Allegheny Building, that all of us will look into the alternatives and understand that his thought of consolidating and being close to the City, just as close, within a ten minute walk, as it is anywhere else. I think Mr. Smith keeps a fine figure the way it is by that little walk; it will not hurt him any to come to our meetings. And I would strongly suggest that a, we use our own housing stock and b, if we're going to go out and rent, we certainly rent at the lowest rate that we can get within a ten minute walk.

Mrs. Masloff moved to excuse Mr. Wagner for absence from the meeting.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. DePasquale moved to approve the Minutes of Monday, December 16, 1985.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, I move to adjourn this meeting until next Tuesday, January 21, 1986 at 2:00 p.m.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

And on the motion of Mr. Grabowski

Council adjourned.

Bill No. 54

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 578, effective June 25, 1985, entitled, 'Providing for a Cooperation Agreement with the Urban Redevelopment Authority of Pittsburgh for the administration of the Bates Street Housing Development Grant and providing for the payment of the cost thereof' to provide for execution of an owner-grantee agreement for the project."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. Chairman, I was out of the room are we voting on Mr. Pollock's bill?

The Chair:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

This Council voted and moved and I reminded the department heads repeatedly that we want to know the principals listed on the contract. Who are the principals? Mr. Pollock has told me — Is it in your record Mr. Pollock?

Mr. Pollock:

No, I told you that the principal is a corporation.

Michelle Madoff:

I know but — no, principals are not corporations. I want to know the principal owners in the corporation. That is the way this Council has voted in the past. We want to know who we are voting for in business so we know if they're responsible or not responsible. I believe it's Seymore Baskin. I have no problem with him. That is the law, Mike. That is something we're supposed to have in our bills and we're not getting it. This is 1986 let's start off right.

Mr. Perry:

Recommit the bill if you're not satisfied with it.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm not going to recommit it because I think it's important that we move forward with it, but I'm just pointing out that in the future the department heads — maybe they need a refresher letter. You've been gone — saying how about remembering that Council members want to know who we're voting for. Would you please supply me with the information because I, Mike Perry do not have a crystal ball and then you can list on the agenda what the project is.

You know sometimes we talk about Lot 6604 and it happens to be the Beacon Street property or it happens to be the Butler's property. We want to know what we're voting on. We're not computers and we want to know who the principals are and we voted to do that. Now, let's do it.

Mr. Pollock:

Michelle, when you say principals are you saying share holders?

Michelle Madoff:

That's correct.

Mr. Pollock:

So, you would want all the share holders listed?

Michelle Madoff:

Principal share holders. Not the limited partnerships but the —

Mr. Pollock:

What if there are 20 equal share holders all holding five percent; you'd want all 20?

Michelle Madoff:

We don't get that. We've never had that that I know of in a project.

Mr. Pollock:

Mike, is there some kind of guidelines set forth that confirms what Michelle's talking about.

Mr. Perry:

Yes, each department head received copies of that. If there's principals involved that they should include the principals.

Mr. Pollock:

In other words you're able to find out who share holders are of a corporation?

Mr. Perry:

Yes, I'll call Paul Brophy --

Michelle Madoff:

I think what we want is not the limited partners but the principal partners in the corporation. I don't think we need a list of 100 people. Like, Michelle Madoff is in real estate because I'm a limited partner with a project that gives me $3,000 a year. I'm happy to announce that as part of my disclosure I don't think that puts me in the real estate business, though.

Mr. Pollock:

Well, that begs a question though, that when these people start to enter into an agreement they should know up front that share holders names will have to be divulged.

Michelle Madoff:

Absolutely.

Mr. Pollock:

Because, one of the reasons for having a corporation is to protect the identities of certain people.

Michelle Madoff:

When we're voting with City money I want to know who's getting the money. Is it the same people all the time? I want to know, why? I think we all know why we want to know.

Mr. Pollock:

I'm not saying it's wrong, but I'm saying that it shouldn't be sprung on people at this late date. That's all I'm saying.

Michelle Madoff:

Mark, this has been the law of Council for years, and every now and again there's a lapse, and this bill lapsed which is why I called you, and Mike has been out ill. He has done a tremendous job, tremendous. He should be congratulated on the legislative agenda that we get, which never gave us any information he is now giving us a summary.

Even Lands and Buildings gives us one, if it's a side lot, we never knew it was a side lot, we never knew that the house was in such disrepair that that was why we were selling it for the price we were.

So, we would send bills back we just had no information. We voted in a vacuum and then we hold the bills up and it makes tripple work for this Council. If we had the information we would know ahead of time. I get copies of the bills I see who it is, do I feel they're a responsible person, yes I can vote for it, no I can't I want more information.

That's all.

I mean this business for example on the property of the Water Department. It turns out there's six people who have property available for where the Water Department can go, and it's a sad day that everybody's buying for the only contract that we have.

The Chair:

Michelle, if I might make a little note right here. This bill is a technical change in a bill that has already come before the Council and has been approved. Maybe, they might have given those names at that particular time. I really don't know.

Michelle Madoff:

I think you're right, Mr. Chairman, and the problem is that none of us are computers, and I don't remember who that person was. I thought it was Mr. Baskin, because I think I was directly involved in some negotiations where I talked to somebody, but I can't remember everything there's hundreds of bills in here.

The Chair:

We were in the middle of the roll call at this particular time.

Michelle Madoff:

We hadn't started yet. We had not started the roll call.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. Chairman, if I may I was about to ask the same question last week not in the same manner as Michelle Madoff, and I was ruled out of order by Michelle Madoff, but I don't want to get into that, but I just want to know if Council's concerned with the merits of the bill and the principles involved? I think it's much more important to determine if it's a good bill and good for the City of Pittsburgh rather than who is involved unless we prove there's some gangster or whatever. I mean we're talking about decent, respectable people whoever they are, so if we're going to start naming names it just doesn't make sense. The principals yes. The National Development, you want to know the President, it's Seymour Baskin. If you start with all the stock holders, where do you end the thing?

The Chair:

I don't think that was the intent of Michelle. She wanted to know the principal owners of that particular piece of property. I think any Councilperson that wishes certain information be put in a resolution if they bring that forward, and there's five people on Council that approve that then that is what this Council will have, and the only alternative of that is the bill would be returned back to Committee.

Michelle Madoff:

No, I don't wish to return the bill back. I just wanted to reaffirm that starting 1986 under old business that we do old business properly and when one says that perhaps it is the quality of the work not who we're doing business with. I don't think we want to do business with South Africa. So, I think it's important to know who we're doing business with.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Pollock
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Wagner
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Givens
	(Pres't Pro tem)

AYES 8 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Wagner presents

Bill No. 124 WHEREAS, the Detectives in the Homicide Section of the Pittsburgh Police Bureau have distinguished themselves in recent years with an outstanding record of "cleared" cases; and

WHEREAS, City Homicide Detectives ended the year with only one (1) unsolved slaying out of 33 committed in 1985; and

WHEREAS, the tremendous investigative work of our homicide detectives enables Pittsburgh to rank far above other American cities in the percentage of homicides solved; and

WHEREAS, this exemplary record is part of the tradition of excellence in providing safety protection for the lives of our citizens that has always distinguished the Pittsburgh Police.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby recognizes and commends the Homicide

Section of the Police Investigations Branch and the Detectives who have made Pittsburgh a safer place to live and raise a family with their unrelenting, careful and courageous investigative efforts.

Mr. Wagner moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Grabowski seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Wagner:

Before asking Lieutenant Mullen to say a few words or Sergeant Flannigan, I'd just like to say that I think this record for 1985 not only reflects the Homicide Section but the entire Police Bureau itself. We all know that it takes the entire Bureau to solve crimes. It shows that they've been doing an excellent job, not only in 1985 but also in previous years.

Coincidentally, our number one rating that we received last year are related significantly to how safe our City is and I think this is reflective of the type of work that the police officers within the Police Bureau have been doing over the last several years to give us that excellent ranking.

So, I'd like to now congratulate Lieutenant Mullen and Sergeant Flannigan and ask them if they'd like to say a few words.

Lieutenant Mullen:

Often the police are criticized for what they do, what they fail to do. On behalf of myself, Sergeant Flannigan, and the 17 members of the Homicide Squad who worked so diligently to have accomplished this record, I'd like to thank the Members of Council.

Sergeant Flannigan:

President of Council, Councilman Wagner, and other distinguished Members of Council, I too would like to show our appreciation for this nice award that you have given us this resolution. I know that all the members of the Homicide Section who have in my mind an excellent record of solving cases because of their very professional attitude and their ability, and of course all the officers within the Bureau of Police who assist them in homicide scenes. I know they're very appreciative of this type of recognition, so thank you again.

Mr. Wagner:

The second resolution is for a gentleman that all of us know quite well, Mr. Joseph Natoli, and I'd like to ask him to step forward please. We've taken Joe out of his busy schedule at his — is it the first day at the new position or the second, third?

This Resolution is Resolution No. 4 and it is great honor that I present this Resolution.

Mr. Wagner presents

Bill No. 125 WHEREAS, Joe Natoli, formerly the Assistant Director of Maintenance for Citiparks, has completed his distinguished 35-year career with the City of Pittsburgh and has been appointed Director of Parks and Recreation for Allegheny County; and

WHEREAS, Joe Natoli is renowned throughout the Pittsburgh area as founder and coach of the Morningside Bulldogs football team from 1950 to 1979, compiling an amazing career record of 279 victories and only 19 defeats and winning the national Pop Warner Championship in 1955; and

WHEREAS, Joe Natoli's personal activities were reflected in his professional career as his entire working life has been dedicated to providing recreational opportunities for the people of Pittsburgh while helping to mold the characters of thousands of our young people; and

WHEREAS, Joe Natoli has received numerous civic and athletic honors including the 1959 Dapper Dan Award and the renaming of Morningside Field in his honor;

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on behalf of the citizens of Pittsburgh, offers our gratitude to Joe Natoli for his outstanding public service over the past 35 years which has left a unique legacy and an indelible mark on our City, recalls his particular commitment to our youth, and wishes him continued success in his new endeavors.

Mr. Wagner moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Wagner:

I'd just like to comment before introducing Joe, that Joe we're going to miss you. I know I am going to miss you here in the City, because whenever I had a problem in Parks the guy I called was Joe Natoli, and if it was possible Joe solved the problem for me and if he couldn't he'd tell me straight up if it was impossible.

Joe, has been with the City for 35 years. Joe, I didn't realize it was that long but we certainly — I know speaking for myself for Council for the citizens of this City we are going to miss you very much, but at the same time we wish you a lot of success and we know the City's part of the County and we're going to be working with you in the County, so I congratulate you and wish you a lot of luck.

Mr. Natoli:

Thanks Jack, and I want to thank the Councilpeople here. You know everytime I get some kind of an award or we're talking about Parks people, Louise can tell you this they don't introduce me as a Parks worker they always say the Coach of the Morningside Bulldogs. You know it's just like being a professional all your life, but you're still a shoemaker, you know, and they never forget that.

I appreciate this very much and yes I'm over at the County I don't know what it's like yet I've only been there a day or so. They got their problems too, but I think with all the experiences that I've had in the Parks Department here in the City that I will be able to cope with it over there, and everything that I have learned over here I'm certainly going to incorporate it over there; and to all the Councilpeople of course I'll be seeing all of you around other places and other events, and I want to thank Louise Brown my former Director. I want to thank Louise for coming and just thanks to everybody in the City of Pittsburgh. Thank you very much.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to thank Joe personally for being the dear that he is. I know that we've had our little battles about getting trees. It took 20 years in some places but you know God can make the tree but Joe gets them planted. It may take him 20 years. I just want to know one thing Joe, will you still be in this building?

Mr. Natoli:

I'll be in the building in and out.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to watch the cigars at Christmas time.

Mr. Natoli:

You notice I didn't carry one in.

Michelle Madoff:

And they don't know what we're talking about and we're not going to tell are we?

Mr. Natoli:

No, no, don't tell that story.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd just to say I think this Resolution is an honor well deserved. I've known Joe Natoli all my life and I sat in his house with him and I know his family and ever since I was -- Joe's not that much older than I am but ever since I was a young fellow I used to always look up to Joe and his family, and everybody in Morningside in the City holds Joe in the highest esteem. I'd just like to congratulate you personally, Joe.

Mr. Pollock:

Can I get a grove in North Park on the 4th of July?

Mr. Natoli:

You got it.

The Chair:

Joe, I'd like to add my bit of compliment to you. I think you and Louise Brown have been a tremendous one-two punch in our Parks and Recreation Department of the City of Pittsburgh. When they mentioned the fact that Pittsburgh's number one you have to think of the new events that have been created in the City of Pittsburgh since Dick Caliguiri became Mayor and Louise Brown headed the Parks Department; and Joe I know Louise had to lean on your shoulder many times especially over the weekends and holidays, and so many of your people were working out there when the rest of the City was sleeping. I thank you from the bottom of my heart, Joe.

There is one note that I would like to bring forward to the Council and it had to do with this last weekend in the solving of a particular labor dispute, and I wish to congratulate primarily the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, Mayor Caliguiri and Members of Council, those who participated and all who intervened aided in the settling of a ten week labor strike.

The dispute involved over 400 and some workers primarily from the Service Employees International Union No. 29 and workers bargaining units and Office Buildings Association of Pittsburgh, Inc.

They announced their agreement on Friday the 15th and that was the first time these people have gotten back to work since September and there was no pay cuts, and I think that's to be commended of those people who all joined in on this.

This victory and by this I feel the spirit of Pittsburgh we can attribute this type of leadership and active involvement to our Mayor, Richard S. Caliguiri, the Mayor was cohesive force in bringing the leaders together. Leaders in every field, employees, employers, union officials, and our own City government.

I feel this victory sets the pace we can expect from our Mayor and our City in the coming years, and this is a milestone as far as I have been concerned in this last particular negotiations.

Is there anything else to come before the Council?

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, Members of Council, since the topic has been brought up pertaining to the resolving of that labor dispute I'd just like to comment. I also, am very pleased that it has been resolved, but the situation is not as rosy as has been mentioned. True, all workers that are presently working under that contract will come back at the same wage and will have a wage freeze, but what has not been mentioned is that any new hires in that union will take approximately a $3.00 an hour cut in pay and that goes from approximately $7.30 to about $4.20 or $4.30.

I personally think that that was not significant in resolving a dispute in a union where you have a 30 percent turnover per year, and wherein a three year period or four year period of time you can have essentially all new workers in the union.

So, I also want to comment that even though I am pleased to see the people not on strike any longer I am not pleased to know that the wage that new hires will be forced to work at is not a just wage; and I say that publicly because I sincerely mean it. I think a cut in pay of $3.00 an hour for new hires is simply not justified and it's unfortunate that that occurred.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, tomorrow we had scheduled in this Council a post agenda on the Lincoln-Hays 16-inch water line which burst and did complete havoc to a huge community, wiped them out. One house was approximately $30,000 worth of damage. The land looks like —

The Chair:

Did you cancel that Michelle or is that going to be on for —

Michelle Madoff:

I want to tell you what's happening. We had to cancel because the people we'd invited from the City are unable to come. We need the Water and Sewer Authority, they can't make it. We needed various principals in the City they can only come in for ten minutes.

Now, they have a film that they would like to show the devastation because now that the land is settled we've got sink holes and they're getting very slow response from West Penn Water.

Now, we have talked in this Council since I've been here almost eight years, other members have been here before I was here about acquiring West Penn Water because 30 percent of the people get subsidized or subsidized by City taxpayers so that everybody pays the same rate.

We need to see West Penn Water here. They're willing to come but what good is it if we don't have our own people here, and my office will certainly be presented, and then I'm going to hold a Press Conference on a very serious matter which relates to this, which is the Torte Immunity Bill meaning that people just aren't getting insurance and why, and what the problems are.

But, we have a responsibility to those 30,000 people or 30 percent of the City and it seems that the City's has sort of washed it's hands of this saying well, all we do is subsidize it we don't have anything to do with repairing it. We don't have to worry about the lines or providing water, that's not right and I would like to set up — if the Clerk would please be responsible a meeting for these people to show their film. They have it on a video cassette, they're coming prepared to show it.

Perhaps a week from Wednesday and making sure that the principals who are supposed to be here namely Mr. Roddey, somebody from the Mayor's Office, and I think you have a list of all the other people who are supposed to be here Lou Gaetano, Richard Cosentino and certainly we wouldn't want to miss Mr. Daryl Smith. I would not want him to miss this wonderful exposition, because he feels that it isn't his responsibility I mean don't call me I don't deal with it, that's not my Water Department.

We, also need to get some body of people that are available at a moments notice if that leak takes place in Sophie's back yard in Mr. Givens' back year or our constituents back yard or Lincoln-Hays or some of the forgotten communities of the City, that they don't have to take a cab in the middle of the night or they can't afford to take a cab in the middle of the night; so they take public transportation at three in the morning, wake me at five, and they have to take two hours with public transportation to get to the yard, then they've got to get their equipment together as opposed to having a task force that can immediately go and shut off the valves.

Now, I've talked about this to the Water and Sewer Authority people and they're about — according to the committee — Jack they're talking about doing this; are they not, Mr. Wagner? There is a movement to do something to have a stand-by emergency task force, but that doesn't include the West Penn Water people, and we've got to start working together, and I think when you see the havoc and the devastation on this film it could happen to any one of us.

Now, if we can't do it next Wednesday, Mike, then make it the following Wednesday, but I want to do it at a time and I want to be sure I'm here I want to be sure that everybody else is here.

The Chair:

Jack, you have one post agenda for 1:00 o'clock tomorrow?

Mr. Wagner:

Correct, scheduled for 1:00 o'clock tomorrow pertaining to the police boat operations.

Mr. Wagner moved to excuse Mr. Woods for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Grabowski seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. O'Malley

Council adjourned.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill No. 31, which is paying for a part-time lobbyist, I've stated my opposition to this consistently since we've voted for this in Council. I believe we should have a full-time lobbyist. I've had the opportunity to talk to our lobbyist about the fact that the county is of course not very happy about the idea or the concept of paying for a commuter tax.

The City is pushing for a commuter tax. How can one person have two bosses, one cannot have two masters, and I think the young man in question does a tremendous job for us Mr. Kolling, but my only reason for voting against this bill is a protest vote saying that we ought to have a full-time person working for us; and I would urge my colleagues to consider having Mr. Kolling work for us and not work for the county to subsidize the dollars and let him spend all the time he works for the county working for us. I think it would be very cost effective for us.

Now, we've seen where the county has spent -- I think in one year $90,000 for a lobbyist and got a lot of money back that more than paid for their lobbyist.

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

Also,

Bill No. 37

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing the amendment of a Guaranty Agreement with the Stadium Authority to include certain contractual obligations of the Stadium Authority as part of the City's guarantee."

Which was read.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and Members of Council, Bill No. 37 it was indicated in Committee last Wednesday by our former Assistant Solicitor, Marvin Fein, and this bill pertains to the Stadium Agreement, that this legislation even though it's not clearly spelled out in it in addition to it guaranteeing the payment of $852,000 from the City in addition to the Stadium Authority.

There's also one other item in this piece of legislation that guarantees even though it's not clearly spelled out and I find it difficult sometimes to understand why it is not clearly spelled out, but the agreement that we are making with Three Rivers Stadium Associates has with it as part of this legislation the guarantee re-zoning of the property that the stadium sits on along with the re-zoning of the parking lot property.

Whenever, the re-zoning of the parking lot property takes place in the future the re-zoning of the stadium property from the purpose which it is being used right now will be re-zoned to its highest potential use that's similar to the new parking lot re-zoning in the future.

First of all, I'd like to state that I voted for all the legislation that has come in front of this Council for the stadium deal transaction, whatever it's called. This is the first portion of those pieces of legislation that I don't agree with. This deal is continuing to be negotiated between the City and the proposed new owner of the stadium, and I think they realize being shrewd business people, being smart business people, that we are sitting at a disadvantage, and I think they're getting more out of this deal than was originally intended that they get out of this deal.

I never heard a guaranteed re-zoning of property at a far distant future to the highest potential use of that property, and that is what is being suggested here.

I don't think that we should be granting that to be quite frank about it. What we are saying if we are doing that is that come the year 2011 or prior to the year 2011 if we are to lose our sports franchises and we voted to change the intended use of that facility, if that were approved that that land could be used for another purpose for development. I don't ever want to see it used for another purpose even come the year 2011 other than a stadium.

I think we are suggesting if the situation develops that the land could be used for another purpose even if it's 25 years in advance. So, therefore, I have reservations pertaining to Bill No. 37.

I think as time goes on the City of Pittsburgh has become more and more vulnerable to the deal of not being beneficial to the City and more beneficial to the purchaser of the stadium.

I think the line has to be drawn somewhere and for that reason I cannot support Bill No. 37. If the bill includes and it's been told to me that it does include a guaranteed re-zoning of the stadium property for the future. I wanted to express that publicly and to get my points on record.

Michelle Madoff:

With all due respect to Mr. Wagner, I think your points are well taken. However, having hired an independent consultant costs us a lot of money this Council. I believe this item was explained and certainly I met with them privately and was thoroughly explained to me that the best use of that land would be the benefit not only whoever might own that property the stadium at the time, but to this Council because we would be guaranteeing something like well over $400 million that would come to the Council or whoever sits at that point, and I'm sure it will not be any of us at that point.

To build another stadium maybe in a more desirable location. I think we would be reimbursed sufficiently if we vote for this and it was already discussed. That has got to be the most complex creative financing thing, it takes an Einstein to understand it. I don't think the people working on it really understand it, but I think we are somewhat protected. I think your points are well taken and I think they should be on record, but I think the $400 million would give us enough money to reimburse us, and that was the only reason I would not hold up or endanger the fact the taxpayers would have to pay $4.00 a head instead of $1.00 a piece if the bill doesn't go through.

Mr. Wagner:

I'd just like to make one final comment in regard to that. I don't think it should be the prerogative of this Council or this Administration to re-zone property for the future. That should be the prerogative of future legislative bodies and future Administrations; and I truthfully feel that that is what is being done here. I had never heard that ever. I've never heard that situation before in a Real Estate deal here at this Council. I think it is a first. I don't think it's a first that's in the best interests of that property.

If at sometime in the future that property is intended to be used for another purpose I believe that whoever the legislative body consist of will make a fair and proper judgement for the people at that time. But, I don't think it should done until then and I continue to take the position that the purchasers of the stadium are very shrewd, very competent, very productive people in terms of understanding complex deals of this type; and as time goes on I think they are at a distinct advantage to get more out of the deal; and for that reason I would like to see the deal finalized as quickly as possible and no further legislation come in front of this Council.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to make a couple of comments. One, as it was briefed to me that if we left the land under its present configurations the assessed valuation as the real estate people will look at it as the stadium versus that of using it for any type of major commercial use, but the difference is $250 million versus about $400 million over the life of the contract.

Now, that's one significant thing that we must look at and I don't know if this particular bill right here would destroy it, the whole stadium authority deal, but I think it just might. It just could so that's an emphasis that I'd like to add right there.

If I were to go into any real estate myself, personally and do it in behalf of the City I'd want to be sure that I could use that land to the greatest advantage that I could possibly use it to.

None of this is binding on the City because the City always has the option to come back and re-take the stadium. If the franchise would leave the City of Pittsburgh, and the year 2011 dear knows who would want that stadium or if we might even want to relocate the stadium in another location if that land, in fact, becomes more valuable as a commercial development be it that of the stadium itself. I think this gives the Administration the options to do with that land today what they feel today is the best option for.

I could perceive that if down the line someplace development in this particular area that should be in concert with the stadium. If, in fact, these people are going to be running the stadium and owning the stadium then I think they should have the right to control what environment there is around that particular piece of real estate to enhance the atmosphere of people wanting to come to the ballpark, that's why I want to vote on this.

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, on Bill 53 the Resolution authorizing the Urban Redevelopment Authority of Pittsburgh to acquire various properties. We heard from so many people -- you know I did that six month study on City properties and now that we're listing them on cable we're getting a tremendous result in sales even in these hard times, but what we're getting is a lot of people questioning properties that are going from Lands and Buildings to URA, and I think it might be advisable if when URA is going to enter into the purchase of land they tell us what the purpose is for. Could they say why they're acquiring this land. Just to add I would like to amend the bill to state that they would give us the reasoning for purchase of the property.

That's a motion to amend that bill to include the reason.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, it is in the bill. Line 2 of Section 1 for the purposes of the Urban Homesteading Program.

Michelle Madoff:

That is really very nebulous. That's a generic term. What we find is frequently there's some master plan that somebody wants to buy a house and nothing happens for four or five years. What project are they going to work on? Define, more clearly the specific project. It's been a generic term.

The Chair:

In the future ask them to define it more clearly if they can.

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On the Market Square Bill, did anybody or did everybody read the editorial that said if it isn't broke don't fix it, that Market Square is fine just the way it is, and that we ought not to be spending any money on it? I would like to resubmit that bill for consideration whether we should be spending the money, because the question was asked by Mr. Wagner at the time whether that money would take away from other parks and unless there's a resonable answer and I'm willing to listen to one I would like to hold it a week.

The Chair:

You're making a motion to hold for one week?

Michelle Madoff:

To hold for one week.

The Chair:

Is there a second to that motion?

No second the motion dies.

Michelle Madoff:

May I have a clarification?

Mr. Pollock:

I just wanted to explain to Michelle that all this legislation is doing is asking for a grant from the State for Parks money. That's all it is doing. It has to be submitted this week if it's not submitted this week the money is lost to the City for the year. This does not address the merits of the Market Square work. That will still come up when we get to the allocation of the money that was approved in the budget. You can then address the question of should in fact, the work be done. All this is doing is giving us $150,000 grant that we must apply for this week or it will be lost.

Michelle Madoff:

I understand that but I think it would have been better to say we're applying for money's for Parks and not specify Market Square. That might have been a better way to go at it, because they're saying this is exactly what we're going to use the money for. We're going to use it for Market Square. That's what we were told when we were here.

Mr. Pollock:

It does say it for Parks, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Pardon me.

The second paragraph says Market Square.

Mr. Pollock:

Read the third whereas clause.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, the second one says Market Square.

The Chair:

Let's quit exchanging back and forth. Address yourselves to the Chair, please.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, the bill on the second paragraph says, "Whereas, the City of Pittsburgh after thorough consideration has determined that the rehabilitation of Market Square is desirable." I think the Chairman might want to caution the Committee when they're soliciting funds for Parks in general if it's indeed to be used for Market Square and we were informed that that's what the money was for.

The Chair:

Well, I think he explained it sufficiently for myself anyway. The money is an application for the money and the third paragraph does say Parks.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, I'm not sure that we don't have to use it for Market Square, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Wagner:

I'd just like to follow up on what Mr. Pollock indicated. If, in fact, we get the grant and at a later time there is an intention to change the use of money, that can be accomplished for another location with the approval of the state government.

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, I think some clarification again and you were not here when the bill came up on Public Safety. I was asked by some media people whether this bill was directed at you from me to you the answer is absolutely, no.

John Norton, was asked by me our Safety Director to please put out his pipe. I asked him because Mr. Givens sitting in the seat at that corner is walking around and saying he was having trouble, that the air was very stuffy. I asked Mr. Givens at the time whether — I said I'm going to introduce my bill on no smoking, which I introduced last year and the year before, he said wait until after Mr. Robinson leaves and we'll do it then, because Mr. Robinson smokes a pipe it would be in bad taste to do it, and I agreed with him I said you're absolutely right, and let me just clarify what I stated the last time.

The way the thermostat works in this room as you noticed we came in it was cold, Mr. Perry turned up the heat so we could warm up the room we got to warm he turned down The thermostat is fine. I do not have any problem with that. I have a problem when the room is occupied, we're sitting at this table, the lights are on us, the two people sitting at the end of the table were Mr. Wagner and I'm not sure who else it was, but they had to take their coats off it was so hot from the flood light. If you keep the heat at 74 degrees — lights generate heat.

The U.S. Steel Building works on waste heat, body heat, on lighting heat and so on. You must take into consideration the overhead lighting. If we keep that thermostat at 68 degrees or 65 degrees and take into consideration the heat we will have from the lights we'll have enough heat to keep us warm when it isn't as cold out and there are more people.

The problem is in order to get more ventilation in the room. What happens is the switch is put on and the switch is occupied or unoccupied, and on the occupied switch we don't get a difference of temperature. So, we get air conditioning so that in the middle of winter we're having drafts blowing on us and I've been out ill a number of times. You've had a severe cold, Sophie Masloff's had colds, others of us have been ill, and I'm trying to avoid having a draft on my body, and according to Robert's Rule the comfort of Council takes precedent over everything.

Now, I think we resolved the problem by turning down the thermostat and I would respectfully point out that as Mr. Pollock has stated if we want to conduct this body and change our image somewhat to make it appear somewhat more like a court, we should conduct ourselves in a business professional manner, and in court you're not allowed to smoke or drink or have coffee and have sandwiches and so on. As a matter of fact, the day I tripped and hurt my arm, which will never be right somebody spilled some liquid right near the cord.

Now, I repeat this was not designed at anyone or against anyone, and I do want to point out to Mr. Givens that he's been the recipient of heart surgery which is no joke. He's been away from this Council. He's had bypass surgery and one has to have one ounce of brains to read anything to know that smoke is very detrimental to one's heart and to anybody who has cancer; and I can't imagine that Mr. Givens being a man of honor and I've always known him to be a man of honor to have the public interests at heart, but said one thing to me one time and then not vote for having a bill even if he likes pipe smoke or whatever and not vote for the smoking bill.

We're one vote short. I would ask the Chair, who is doing a very commendable job as President to be a gentleman and to vote. When Mr. Norton has put out his pipe and others have to support no smoking. You can always take a smoke break for a couple of minutes, and I respectfully ask those who voted against the bill to reconsider and to give us the fifth vote.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. Chairman, I would like to emphasize something that I brought up both at the Committee meeting and throughout all the discussions involving this issue, that is that this is not a smoking issue, it's not a ventilation issue, it's not a heat issue. In my mind and the minds of many people who have called me and expressed support for this legislation, this an issue of respect for this body and respect for this Chambers.

I find it somewhat ironic that this body sits and determines what individuals can or cannot be affirmed to serve as Magistrates in the City Court and Traffic Court. This body sits and determines the budget for the City Court and Traffic Court and Magistrates Court and those halls do not permit smoking in them, yet we can sit here and smoke while deliberating on decisions effecting those bodies.

We are asking for individuals who come into this Chambers to show respect for us and I think that we in turn should respect them by not smoking and not permitting smoking in this hall.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. Chairman, I also would go on record to saying that it's not a personal issue my voting no. Sometime ago there was a no smoking ban in restaurants proposed and I led the fight to defeat it on the grounds that it was an infringement of people's rights, and I stressed then that if you were in a restaurant and the maitre d' or someone was told that someone was smoking and it offended you that they would go over and tell the party not to, and in most cases 99 out of 100 they would quit smoking, and I think that the same can hold true in City Council.

That if someone is smoking and someone feels that it is bothering them and if it is bother their health I can understand why they would ask that they put their cigarette or cigar or whatever down and they probably would. But, just to say they can't smoke, they're not allowed to smoke, it's giving them a censorship as far as I'm concerned or similar to censorship and I would say again that I won't impose on anybody's rights and I don't expect anybody else to, and I would vote no on the issue.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, prior to my coming to Council I think most of you realize that I was a Member of the House of Representatives, and there was a similar ban that the House of Representative adopted in its rules, and my recollection was that that provision was nothing but chaotic and disruptive when the House was in session.

There are those that are very adamant about smoking and it's just not worth the trouble to try to prevent them from doing it, and I can see the same thing happening here in these Council Chambers. I don't think it's worth it and we should just leave well enough alone.

Mr. Givens:

Well, from what Mr. Depasquale said even though I sat next to Bill Robinson and was a person who inhaled most of his contaminants that some people would consider it to be, I still feel that that individual has the right to do what he wants to.

In my time I have never sat next to any person that I asked them to put out their cigarette or cigar or pipe, whatever the case might have been in a restaurant or a bar or any other place that they did not comply with my wishes, and I think that's where it should lie.

If smoke does bother certain people and it's generally right when you're next to that individual, and I think that is a personal commitment between the individual and the person sitting next to him as to whether or not they're offended or not offended.

The ceilings in this Chambers must be 40 or 50 feet high, you know our meetings are generally an hour and a half maybe two hours at the most and it can accommodate anything. I never had no problem with smoke in this Chambers.

What I did have a problem with was heat and heat bothers me quite a bit, not the smoke in the room. On two occasions maybe when we had the five, six hour meetings with the capacity filling of the hall with absolutely no windows opened and no circulation for five or six hours yes, I think that type of condition would get to anybody, smokers, non-smokers, people that have problems with their lungs, etcetera, and that particular situation was pretty critical for everybody.

Hopefully, if the temperatures remain at federally regulated temperatures of 68 degrees I'll have no problem.

Michelle Madoff:

You know, I love the rhetoric that is going here today including mine. Everybody's saying I didn't mean what I said when I did it and I didn't mean my actions. I'm confessing I got up and it was a game, people were watching us on television and laughing. I turn down the thermostat or the occupancy you go put it on, I turn it down you put it on, on and off, on and off, it became a joke and if you think that doesn't lend to the perception of the circus image and the zoo image of this austere body you're wrong, and I would like to avoid that, and I think when you say only when we have a hearing then it bothers me, then you have the right to get up and say it's bothering me only in certain times. Why don't we just have rules?

This body passed an ordinance that says no smoking in elevators. That's in this community we passed it, but we're going to smoke in Chambers and tell people they can't smoke in elevators — and as my colleague Mr. Pollock said the issue is not one of smoking or one person offending another.

Although, I will tell you if you want to bring it to that level I'm an asthmatic and smoke bothers me. I'm asking as someone that is bothered by smoke please not to allow smoking in the Chambers. Did you want to bring it to that level, then I will personalize it.

In response to Mr. Depasquale, in the same way that one has the freedom under the First Amendment to practice their right to smoke. I don't think you put that in the same category as freedom of religion. When somebody is smoking they may have the right to smoke, but I don't have to be mandated to inhale the smoke because the smoke is in the room, and I think that adds some infringes on the rights of those who don't smoke, who are forced to inhale that smoke.

Again, it appears that Mr. O'Malley and Mr. Woods have the option to give us or not give that fifth vote or the others to change their mind.

Mr. DePasquale:

I have to make this comment. Michelle, you sat next to Mr. Robinson or two seats away from him and I don't recall you one time asking Mr. Robinson to quit smoking.

Now, if it didn't bother you then, why does it bother you so much now? Weren't you an asthmatic then?

Michelle Madoff:

I will address the Chair. Mr. Depasquale, has not been here for a while so he may not remember, but I have consistently introduced no smoking bills in this Council. I introduced it last year and it failed. I reactivated the same bill with the promise of support by Mr. Givens. I don't think that he is going to honor that commitment to me; will find out when we vote.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and Members of Council, in regard to this Bill I don't think its going to be earth shattering no matter how it's voted on up or down, but I am happy to see that my colleagues are attempting to make the decorum of Council much more professional in this sense, and if its no smoking that it takes to accomplish that I support the legislation.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to make a motion Mr. Chairman. That this Council receive a list from all the Authorities and Boards and Commissions of all the employees. I believe we get them from a couple of the Authorities.

One, is the Water Authority they provide them every year. I'd like to amend it to include, every new appointee and every sponsor including those of this City Council.

There was an error made on my appointee here. Mr. Perry thought that I had okayed. My turn came up and there's somebody appointed, but I want that on all Authorities, all Commissions, all Boards to follow the name of the person who is appointed and the sponsor. I want to watch that very carefully. Do I have a second on that? I think under law we're entitled to it anyway. It's nothing we really vote on.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion passed finally.

Mr. DePasquale:

I don't know about other boards

Michelle, but ALCOSAN sends a list over

The Chair:

It sends it in every year so does the Housing Authority. They all do it.

Mr. Depasquale:

Well, I'm just saying don't all the rest send them over?

The Chair:

Yes, they do. Yes, everyone sends it over but just make sure everyone gets a copy this time, Mike.

Mr. Pollock:

This past Wednesday during our Committee meeting Bill No. 55 pertaining to a zoning change for certain property bounded by Troy Hill Road was referred to you as the Chairman of the Committee on public hearings to be set down for a public hearing. I at this time would like to make a motion that this public hearing be held at a building in the area in the evening so that residents of that area can attend the public hearing and have their opinions on this proposed zone change be heard.

The report of the Planning Commission states that there are eight responses relative to this in addition to that, I have received telephone calls from people who are either in favor or opposed to this proposed change.

Two of the people stated that they are unable to attend the hearing downtown because of health reasons. So, in light of that and in light of my desire to take Council hearings to the people and in the neighborhoods I would move that this hearing be held in the neighborhood and in the evening.

I have been in communication with the American Legion in Troy Hill. They would provide space for this public hearing at no charge. They have the requisite microphones and tables and it is located in a convenient area to the people affected by this proposed zoning change.

The Chair:

Is that in the form of a motion?

Mr. Pollock:

Yes, I move that this hearing be held in a location in the evening at a site near the proposed zone change.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mark, is that one that dealt with the historic —

Mr. Pollock:

No, this is a zone change.

The Chair:

Mark, I am almost positive and I am new at being President of Council, two weeks, that I set the places, times, and dates of all hearings and seeing that that is my duty I will not honor your motion. I will set the times and places of all hearings and the place of all hearings will be in City Council Chambers.

Mr. Pollock:

My reading the Home Rule Charter states that you schedule the hearings as far as time but not as far as location.

The Chair:

As far as Council Rules, I believe unless I'm wrong we can check it out and we can bring this up later at next Monday's meeting, because I'll set the time of the hearing anyway.

I believe under Council's Rules I set the time and place and I am not and I'll tell you up front going to have any hearings outside of City Council Chambers. It's too much of an expense. It will be chaotic and if you want to talk about a circus when we get outside this Chambers that's when it will really be a circus. We have enough time controlling people in this Chambers let along outside this Chambers.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, why would there be any difference in as far as peoples conduct inside this building or out? I've been present at many public hearings where the conduct left a great deal to be desired, and I don't think it would make any difference where this public hearing was held. Where any public hearing was held in so far as the public's conduct; and number two, as far as cost, why would there be any greater cost if we are able to obtain locations that do not charge for the rental of the facility?

The Chair:

We have to pay our staff to work overtime to travel. We have to bring stenographers. We have to have two stenographers. We have to have a policeman. We have to have access to the copy machine, any other material that the people might want at a public hearing. Any of our colleagues that want something right a way, are we going to take all of our files with us, we just can't do that.

Mr. Pollock:

Why, would you have to have all of the files? All you need are the files relevant to that hearing.

The Chair:

Mark, there have been many many times that courses come up in a public hearing and some Member of Council asked the City Clerk to check this out, or we need a Director of a certain department to come up, somebody else from another department. We'd have to bring Director's with us and everyone that knows about the public hearing, which we have them right here and we have hands on available.

Mr. Pollock:

I think you should consider the fact that when you restrict the public hearings to the City-County Building during daylight hours that you're really not getting a fair reading as to the public sentiment regarding that hearing.

The Chair:

Mark, I didn't say just during daylight hours. Many times we had public hearings in the evening and I'm not against an evening public hearing. I am against taking the meetings out of this Chambers and I'm not going to discuss it any further. That's my decision at this time.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, on this one issue I agree with the Chair on this issue I think all official public hearings should be held in Council Chambers where we have access to all documents and all the equipment and to our staff, but I see no problem in holding the community hearing, Mark.

Many times on important issues to this Council that there can be a hearing set up and an official hearing set up at the American Legion in Troy Hill, and I've attended many of them on Banksville Road concerning the Port Authority. I would be glad to attend an evening hearing in Troy Hill myself.

The Chair:

A community hearing?

Mr. O'Malley:

Right, but I think all official hearings should be held in Council Chambers whether they be in the afternoon or they be in the evening, but I have no problem attending a community hearing in the evening where the community people can make their position known to all of us.

Michelle Madoff:

I might remind this austere body that the Mayor sends out his people and staff and all the material he needs to go into the area before the budget to hear from the people and they're held in the communities. If the Mayor's staff can do it we can do it as well.

But, I think it's really a much more serious issue and that it isn't humanly possible and Mr. Pollock is relatively new to this body. To hold every single hearing that everybody would like to have — I remember a time when Mr. Givens particularly would have a — and I'm probably as guilty we'd have a post agenda almost every week. We really have to work on prioritizing our hearings. I think the fact that my bill passed to have Council on cable has gone a long way to letting people know what goes on in this body.

Unfortunately, I think our efforts would be better spent if we could get the post agenda's televised and the public hearings televised, so the people would really know what goes on because they don't really know what goes on. We say bill number so and so, and so and so, and it's just quickly passed over. They don't really know where the gut of the decision making is made.

The day we had a hearing on the Minority Contracts this room it was packed with 300 people and the Black leadership got up and said this City will burn if you don't give us our quota, but that wasn't on cable. Nobody knew what was going on. It wasn't reported in the media, and I'm just pointing out that perhaps we have to prioritize where our battles are going to be with this Council, and as the Chairman said if you want to hold a meeting in a community, I do that all the time, we all do that.

I'm going out on West Penn Water, they called me at 5 in the morning I went out the next afternoon on Sunday. We're going to have a post agenda in this Council. It's been postponed three times.

What might get back to the point of a bill that I introduced last year, and that we have on routine matters and I repeat routine matters not the buying or selling of a stadium or a Pirate Team, but on a zoning issue. Three people representing Council whose job would be to be there and if they couldn't be, they could trade off with somebody else or they have to be there.

When you're talking about when they're going to re-zone some lot and you have no opposition or two people opposing there's no reason for us all to be here. We don't get any work done in our offices. We don't have time to address the people's business. That might be a way that we ought to go and might discuss that at the meetings, that you've scheduled I believe today. Are we having one today?

The Chair:

Next week.

Michelle Madoff:

When, starting next week they're going to be after our Monday meetings? That's the kind of item we ought to be discussing to try to resolve some of the problems.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, I might remind the Members of Council, that this is a public hearing not on the basis of 25 signatures acquired, but this is one mandated by our City Code. This is a zoning change, this is not an optional one.

Number two, it's my understanding that the employees of City Council who admittedly work very hard are not hourly employees, but are on salary and as such there would not be a question of overtime payment but they would be expected to attend whatever sessions that Council may have.

The Chair:

No, they are hourly employees. The only ones that's not hourly employees are our own personal staff and the budget staff. When they work overtime they get comp time.

Mr. Pollock:

The idea of having community hearings in the neighborhoods is fine and I'm not saying that's not something that should be done, but legislation that effects an areas livability, legislation that effects a neighborhoods zoning classification, that many people would like to testify at to require them to have to come downtown. Whether it be in the afternoon the morning or the evening, expend sums of money for parking for getting downtown possibly hire a babysitter or so forth. Whatever else is involved restricts the quantity of people that can come down to watch the Council session to have their voices heard.

I respectfully request that the Chairman of the Committee on Public Hearings consider taking some of these hearings in the neighborhood. I would be happy to Chair a sub-committee on examining this in so far as the cost involved the convenience the availability and I think it's something that we should consider. I think there's a great deal of public sentiment behind this.

The Chair:

Mark, I gave you my answer once and I'm giving it to you finally, no, and thank you.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I think the question of consideration is maybe a genuine request and knowing that you Chair the Committee on Hearings and looking at the Charter of the City it does clearly indicate that your responsibility is to schedule public hearings with Council and preside at them.

Whether or not the location is defined in that is an unknown factor in my mind anyway and maybe that is indicated in our rules.

The Chair:

I believe it is and as I stated in the very beginning it's not completely clear to me, but the way I read it is that I do think I have that authority and I'm exercising it now, and we will research it for a week and if I'm wrong and if you can get five votes to change it, God bless you.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. Chairman, I don't want to belabor the point except to say that I concur with Councilman O'Malley in that it's rather difficult to hold the hearings out of the Council Chambers, and a community meeting where we get the sense and the feel of the community and the neighborhood is good enough, because then we can take that back to the hearing and make a decision from that; and I might add and Mark you're going to see this happen it's going to be the same people from every community or each community that comes in to all the public hearings.

Tragically, you can't get enough people in communities and neighborhoods interested. It's always the same group. You're going to see they sit in the same seats and in the same rows. Just watch when everybody's here just look there and see the group from the North Side the Allegheny General the same people, out in Oakland the same people. Whatever, it's going to be the same people.

I wish to God these other people would get interested. We begged them to get interested and when we'd go into the communities we would beg them to get interested. But, they just can't come out or won't come out it's always the same group. But, if you have the community meeting you get the sense of their urgency, whatever.

Hearings are routine as you know I mean when they're sensitive ones and important ones sure you should have community meetings, you should meet with them, but the hearings should be held in City Council Chambers.

The Chair:

I think we discussed that long enough and I guarantee you I'll do the research and if I'm wrong we can correct it next week.

Mr. Wagner moved to approve the Minutes of Monday, December 23, 1985 and Monday, January 6, 1986.

Mr. Grabowski seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. O'Malley

Council adjourned.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Mrs. Masloff:

There was legislation introduced today from the Cable Committee and I want to point out that long before cable became a reality in Pittsburgh I worked diligently on the cable issue. Now, for some obscure and unconscionable reason, you refuse to recognize me as Chairperson of the Cable Committee.

I think perhaps I have a better knowledge of cable than any member of this Council. I go to the annual conventions, I keep abreast of the industry, and I subscribe to all written matter and keep informed. I monitor complaints and give constituents good service on a day to day basis.

Now, as a protest on anything pertaining to cable, I will vote no. I urge the honorable members of this Council to support me and vote their protest to stop this spiteful vendetta and restore to me what is rightfully and justifiably mine.

The Chair:

As everyone here knows, the Bureau of Cable is under the Department of Public Works. This Council does not put bureaus in the different departments; the Administration does. Historically, it has been under the Department of Public Works.

Mrs. Masloff:

That's wrong.

The Chair:

Historically, and I went through the records last week, the first sub-committee on cable was formed in 1974 with the Chairperson being Amy Ballinger. Bob Stone was on the Committee and Eugene Jeep DePasquale. When Amy Ballinger left, Mrs. Masloff was appointed by then President Lou Mason. The sole purpose of that sub-committee was to bring cable into the City of Pittsburgh. It has been brought to the City of Pittsburgh. A few of the members that were on that existing committee are no longer here and I would like to remind my colleagues, all sub-committees, in fact, all committees can only be appointed or dissolved by the President of Council. I have not dissolved that to this date, but from this point on, the sub-committee on cable television is dissolved. We have an advisory board; that stays in effect, it is by ordinance. But the Cable Bureau is under the Department of Public Works and that's where it stays.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I respectfully accept your right to appoint anyone to any committee that you wish because that is how the structure, unfortunately, is structured. But I would like to remind this august body - I think I've got the right word this time, not austere, although it becomes very austere when we have the kind of things that are happening - that Sophie Masloff, whom I have not gotten along with for many years, and the personalities aside, the facts remain that Sophie Masloff is the person who helped bring cable to this City, worked and continues to work on complaints, is the liaison with Brother Richard Emenecker, has attended the meetings all over the country.

I was totally unaware that she was going to bring this issue up today but we all know that if a bill is passed to fund any particular entity, say be it in Water, it sometimes or almost always will end up because of the cost of the item, under Finance. So that while Sophie is still technically, until you remove her from that Committee, I believe ill-advised, the head of the Cable Company, Cable Committee, sub-committee on Cable, the bill could be introduced by Public Works but it still would be her sub-committee. And may I remind this Council that a number of years ago when Mr. DePasquale was President, he appointed me as the head of the sub-committee on energy because of my years, 17 years of experience in the field. And I think the public would like to know those people who have experience would be those people that would be used by or appointed by the President so the public would get the best of those who were the most knowledgeable, not just pick someone at random, which is why I strongly objected to Councilman O'Malley being put on the Alcosan committee when I had far greater experience and have never been appointed to a board or commission from this Council.

I would like to see us rise above the issue of who is going to be President, how the fighting took place. It's after the fact; it's done. We should respect our President, treat him with respect, not have the digs at each other that are taking place in the media, and I think that it would be a first step in the right direction to consolidate a feeling of, oh, I don't know how to put it, getting along amongst all of us, for you to allow Sophie Masloff to stay as head of the sub-committee or the Committee on Cable and if necessary, the bill could be introduced under whatever appropriate committee it normally would be introduced. If not, without doubt, the public is going to perceive that Mrs. Masloff is being punished because it's "We're in charge and we're going to show people that we're in charge". And I'd like to think that you're above that, Mr. Chairman.

The Chair:

Are you finished? Now, I would think that both you and our colleague, Mrs. Masloff, know that that is a ridiculous statement. You made it and she made it. This situation has been going on between the Committee on Public Works and the Committee on Cable Bureau, sub-committee, since I've been here arguing whose committee it was. My colleagues that are sitting here know that it's been going on - For those who have been here for two years, it's been going on for two years. I've been here for four years and it's been going on, Sophie arguing that this is her committee. It is a sub-committee. In fact, I do believe, and I didn't check this out, every time we re-organize all the sub-committees are dissolved. I haven't checked it out but I'm telling you there's no more arguing but if Mrs. Masloff would like to switch entire committees with Mr. Givens, I would be more than happy to accommodate and I'm sure Mr. Givens would do that. If you would like to be the Chairman of the Committee of Public Works, Mr. Givens will take the Chair of Parks and Recreation and then you will be Chairman of Public Works and also the Cable Bureau will be under your chairmanship.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. Woods, I, too, agree that the decision involving all committees and sub-committees is totally within your province and I respect any decision you make. I would only ask that you withhold making a decision on the dissolution of the sub-committee on cable until such time as we meet for our regular monthly session in Council Chambers to discuss this matter. I think it's something that should not be done on public time but a matter for Council to take within its own private discussions and I would ask that you just withhold making a decision until we each have a chance to air our views on it in private.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, one thing I'd like to point out, every two years this Council reorganizes and at the first meeting the first item of business is the swearing in of Councilmembers. The second item of business is electing the President. The third item is then the assignment of committee posts and quite frequently they change. I believe, based on this Council's prior action, that's an indication that all committees dissolve, all committees and all sub-committees, at the end of any given two year session. So, consequently unless committees are re-appointed and chairpeople reassigned, I believe they are dissolved.

The Chair:

I agree with you and I went through all the records, all the records. Mrs. Masloff's appointment was by Lou Mason when he was President. I have them all here and we will discuss it later. But I have dissolved the committee.

Mrs. Masloff:

Therefore, Mr. President, if you've dissolved them you also have the power to re-appoint them.

The Chair:

That's exactly right.

Mrs. Masloff:

And you chose not to re-appoint me, is that it?

The Chair:

Mrs. Masloff, you were never re-appointed since, I believe, 1976.

Mrs. Masloff:

You are now the President and I want to know if you will re-appoint me.

The Chair:

I don't believe that we have a need for a sub-committee on cable television when the sub-committee, and I have the facts in front of me, was formed to bring cable into the City of Pittsburgh in 1974 at the request of then Councilwoman Amy Ballinger to take a survey and there was a private citizen involved and there was a community involved also. That's been dissolved.

The sole purpose of that sub-committee, the sole purpose, and I have all the records, I have the Municipal Record, all the documents, the resolution that formed that committee, the sole purpose, and that has been done. There is no need for a sub-committee.

Michelle Madoff:

Respectfully, Mr. Chairman, I would disagree with you simply because my answering service, which I have 48 hours a day so that I can get calls from constituents, happens to be the answering for our telecommunications company and there are many, many problems. I think we do need a sub-committee, whether you appoint Mrs. Masloff or someone else, who would head up a sub-committee dealing in the problems and the inter-liaison with the telecommunication company and with Brother Richard because what happens, and I'm sure in your office as well as mine because I'm not unique, you must get calls periodically saying that they have a problem with cable, isn't that true? And I'm just saying that it would be to our own best interest to have the person who started it, help bring it here, worked on it, inherited it from Amy Ballinger, to continue as a sub-committee on cable. And if there is a bill that relates to some expenditure and then it gets funneled through the appropriate committee, I don't think that's what Mrs. Masloff is talking about.

And whether you believe it or not, the fact is, I did not know she was going to talk about this today. It just triggers the fact that again there was a committee that the Mayor has appointed on energy and it's a disaster. They never invite me to anything, I ask, I send letters saying that I would like to know when you are having the next meeting, I'd like to be briefed. I'd like to know why you haven't done something about the elevators where six elevators go up at once with six different people, one in each elevator. The cost is astronomical. We could pay to have a guard downstairs that would more than cover the cost of what we would save in energy. So, I think I would be very useful with my background serving as a subcommittee on energy.

So I think what Mrs. Masloff and Michelle Madoff are saying to you is that we need a sub-committee, both on cable and on energy, and we're saying that no matter what has happened in the past, as the President of Council, would you re-appoint us to those sub-committees? And we can discuss that at your leisure.

The Chair:

And I am saying that the sub-committee on cable is dissolved. It was created for one reason in 1974, to bring cable into this City. That was the only and the sole reason it was created.

I have a solution. As you know and every other member sitting here other than Mr. Pollock, there has been constant bickering, who was going to introduce legislation concerning the Cable Bureau. And that's why I noticed something brought up today because there was something introduced on that Cable Bureau and now there's bickering. So, your solution, like you say just follows in the steps, doesn't work. My solution is very simple. If Mr. Givens is willing, and he told me he was, and if Mrs. Masloff is willing, we'll just switch entire committees and that solves the problem. But as far as the sub-committee, I've made my decision. We can talk about it in the Conference Room later but the sub-committee -- In fact, it's not even dissolved; it was never re-appointed.

Michelle Madoff:

By virtue of the fact that it was never dissolved, it continued. And as a member of this Council who was sitting here when this bickering was going on, to my memory, I don't recall you ever commenting on why don't we resolve it or talking to the then President and saying why don't you do just what you're suggesting now.

I'm not saying you're wrong. I'm just saying that it looks like a vendetta, it looks like you're singling somebody out you're saying you're not. We're going to talk about it in the meeting in the back room and I also would like you to think about appointing me as the head of the sub-committee on energy.

The Chair:

Michelle, for anyone that ever follows these meetings, any of these people sitting here, to say that it's a vendetta is totally ridiculous. These people know that this bickering has been going on for as long as everyone has been sitting here.

Michelle Madoff:

But you have the power to resolve that bickering, don't you?

The Chair:

And I just tried to. If they want to switch committees, they can do that.

Now, we will go to the regular order of business.

Michelle Madoff:

Point of order, Mr. Chairman. Could you clarify something for me that pertains to Council in general? I have made it a policy that when I'm not going to be here to inform the City Clerk. As method, I've even sent you a note that I've been at the dentist or something so that you know where I am and why I'm not here and I also have it circulated if there's a public meeting.

Personally, as a member of this Council and because we are on camera, I would like to know where the two members are that are not here and why they're not here.

The Chair:

They both notified myself and the City Clerk some time ago that they will not be here this week.

Michelle Madoff:

I know that Mr. O'Malley is at a meeting.

The Chair:

And Mr. DePasquale is also at the same meeting.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. DePasquale is already on a junket. Okay.

The Chair:

Michelle, I'm going to say this one time. Personal references and derogatory statements are not going to be permitted in this Council any longer.

Now, please read the bills, Mr. Perry.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. Could somebody from the Law Department — this is an instance where we need somebody from the Law Department — could they help us, please? Would you clarify something for me?

Mr. Pellegrini:

If I can.

Michelle Madoff:

In the case of the subterranean caverns, I was in the courtroom when the ruling was against Mr. Crown, and he —

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

That's right. I want to know whether Mr. Crown was declared a non-responsible bidder, and he's allowed to bid on anything, that's why I'm asking. Is that in line with questioning, Mr. Chairman? Am I on target, on subject?

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

Yes. Thank you, sir. Is he or is he not a responsible bidder, and is he allowed to bid with the City?

Mr. Pellegrini:

My recollection is it didn't involve that case. He was declared a non-responsible bidder, but it was for technical reasons. In one case he failed to sign a bid and in the other case he left a blank.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't care why, but he was declared.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Yes, but it was for technical reasons, but it was non-competent.

Michelle Madoff:

So he's allowed to bid.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Yes.

I just wanted it clarified. Thank you.

I'm opposed.

Discussion. Director, the same question I asked you on Bill No. 72, could that equipment be used? Could you get together with Construction and Engineering and Water?

Mr. Gaetano:

Some can; some can't.

Michelle Madoff:

Make a pool where all the equipment is listed on a computer and if it's not out, not signed out, somebody else can use it. Try and get some kind of a central use of all the equipment. It would save us a lot of money in taxpayers' dollars.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Givens presents

No. 206 WHEREAS, The American Heart Association was founded in 1949; and

WHEREAS, The American Heart Association is a non-profit volunteer help organization, funded by private contributions, and the stated goal is to reduce early death and disability from heart disease, stroke, and related disorders; and

WHEREAS, to achieve this the American Heart Association funds medical research, professional and public education and Community Service Programs; and

WHEREAS, Since 1949, 572 million dollars have been spent in research; and

WHEREAS, the American Heart Association is governed by a Board of Directors and is comprised solely of volunteers.

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby joins with the American Heart Association and the Citizens of Pittsburgh in declaring the month of February as Heart Month.

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Grabowski seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

If I could invite Mr. Harry Mahr, Jr. Esq. to come up and he'll tell us a little bit about what this month of February, Heart Month, means to the people in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Mahr:

Thank you, Mr. Givens. Heart Month means a lot to us. I'm one of the volunteers, I'm a Director of the Heart Association, one of the some 10,000 volunteers in this area. This is the month that we're going to have, among other things, a Heartthrob, perhaps you've heard about it, out at Robert Morris College with the chap from Miami Vice, Don Johnson, and folks like that who are committed to healthy hearts, who don't smoke, who exercise. They're going to be there to meet with the ladies in the community.

February 14th, young ladies from the sororities out at Pitt and from the Bradford School here in Pittsburgh are going to be selling lollipops. So, buy a lollipop. Your dentist may not think it's a good idea but we in the Heart Association think it is.

We thank you very much for your support and appreciation.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to present to Mr. Mahr the resolution and if you could please take it back to your Board of Directors right there and place that wherever you so desire. I thank you very much for coming up here; I know there are a few people on this Council who have been, I think, recipients of your foundation. Thank you very much.

Mr. Mahr:

I thank you. Our slogan is "We're fighting for your life".

Michelle Madoff:

Don't go away; I want to help you fight.

Many years ago, in my former life, I was married to a cardiovascular surgeon for 22 years and I served on one of the early heart committees, the Ladies' Auxilliary, and my job was to originally address and seal envelopes but I found out that I shortly became head of solicitations from apartment houses. I did that for ten days, raised $10,000 and spent a day in the hospital for every thousand I raised.

I think that the Women's Auxilliary does an outstanding job and it's time that perhaps we combine all organizations so we don't have sexist things like Heartthrobs. Are these Heartthrobs going to be all men?

Mr. Mahr:

They're all going to be men, yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, I suggest that you change it to have some Heartthrobs who are women.

My heartthrob is Ben Woods even though he didn't vote to keep smoking out of this Council. I mean, look at that handsome devil; he's been asked to go to Hollywood to screen for some television commercials and when he did not vote to support non-smoking in this room, Mr. Givens asked me to hold off on the bill on smoking because we had a battle about a thermostat. It had nothing to do with smoking; he was putting air conditioning on in the winter which affects my heart because I get sick. And it would be very kind of you if you'd take Mr. Woods into the woodshed and take Mr. Givens with you and give them the lecture on non-smoking and how it would help the rest of us. Thank you.

Mr. Mahr:

Fine. Thank you; I appreciate it. Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Pollock:

I'd like to point out to the members of Council that this next resolution is being presented by all nine members of Council.

Mr. Pollock presents

No. 207 WHEREAS, Afro-Americans have been an integral part of this nation, this state, this country, and this City's history for more than three hundred years; and

WHEREAS, the first week of the month of February has been traditionally designated to recognize their many deeds and accomplishments; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Executive Board, working with other Federal, State, County, local agencies, and concerned citizens, is coordinating the observance of Afro-American History, an event launched for the first time in 1926 by the Association for Study of Afro-American Life and History; and

WHEREAS, this occasion seeks to encourage Americans to recognize, understand, and appreciate the contributions of Blacks to our Nation through this year's theme, "The Afro-American Experience: International Connection;"

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh on behalf of the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh, hereby recognize and observe the month of February as Afro-American History Month.

Mr. Pollock moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, as you know, and as the public knows, approximately three weeks ago there was a near fatal fatality in drowning in the Allegheny River. At that time, we were not prepared to properly respond to a river rescue operation. Also, about two years ago, actually, I think it was January or February of '84, a similar situation occurred where we were not adequately prepared to respond to a river rescue situation.

We are a city of rivers and because of that we're becoming more and more a city of boats. As a matter of fact, I believe in the County we have over 22,000 boats registered in our City. As all of you know, we have the Gateway Clipper Fleet that has five boats and has a maximum capacity in the five boats total to carry over 2500 hundred passengers. We have a tremendous potential catastrophic situation for loss of life on our rivers so we as a city have to be prepared to respond to river rescue operations.

As a result of those two accidents, there was a recent post agenda held on January 22nd of this year that I chaired and some of you attended. I had in attendance many of our directors in the City and the purpose of the post agenda was to clearly identify what our problems are in terms of proper river rescue operations. It was brought out in the media a couple of days after the accident that really all we had to do was to increase or enhance communications. The problem is much more in depth than that. It involves a whole lot more; it involves various bureaus within the Department of Public Safety and various departments within the City of Pittsburgh.

What I've done is put together a report which I would like to read into the Record that is a summary of that post agenda. After reading it I would like to actually have Council discuss it, if they choose, and I would like to even have a motion to endorse it so that this could be sent to all departments heads as an endorsement from this body rather than coming from only one individual.

(BEGINNING - REPORT SUBMITTED BY COUNCILMAN WAGNER)

February 3, 1986

TO: All in attendance at "RIVER RESCUE" Post Agenda:

John Norton, George Jacoby, Lou Gaetano, Bob Coll, Glenn Cannon, Ralph Pampena, Ed Patterson, John Leahy, John Harpur, Bob Lurcott, Paul Farmer, Paul McDermott, Steve Schillo

RE: Post Agenda - January 22, 1986 on "RIVER RESCUE"

The Post Agenda highlighted several areas of importance that must be addressed to prevent a re-occurrence of the recent river rescue attempt.

The majority of items discussed pertained to particular needs that can be improved upon immediately to correct our river rescue effort. However, the overriding item of importance is the need for policies and procedures to clearly define the responsibilities of each Bureau within the Public Safety Department.

The items discussed at the Post Agenda and the efforts to be taken include:

1) Within sixty (60) days the Director of Public Safety will develop a policy and procedure of notification and communication to alert the appropriate people when a river rescue boat is not in operation. During the interim period a letter defining these responsibilities will be sent to all Bureau Chiefs. Of particular importance is the communication between the Police, Administration and E.M.S. Bureaus when police boats are not in operation to insure that E.M.S. back up boats are on standby.

The reason for the importance of that No. 1, in a recent incident we actually had three bureaus in the new Department of Public Safety that needed to communication between the bureaus. The River Rescue Operation falls under Police. When the boat goes out of service, they notify Communications, Communications in under the Bureau of Administration. The Administration then had the duty to notify E.M.S. to get their backup pontoon. There is no written procedure, no written management procedure, that clearly defines what those bureaus should be doing in the event these boats go down.

2) A policy and procedure should be developed within the General Services Department to place a priority on the service and maintenance of rescue boats. Due to the fact that the City has only two rescue boats (excluding E.M.S. pontoons), it is critical that these boats receive top priority for maintenance service from the General Services Department when they are not in operation. This is particularly important when one of the two boats becomes inoperable because the one remaining boat has no backup except for the E.M.S. pontoons. Without a written policy of this type a re-occurrence of the past situation could occur. It is suggested that a policy be written as soon as possible.

At the post agenda it was indicated that there is no priority put on the maintenance of river rescue boats over other emergency equipment. Due to the fact that we only have two river rescue boats, I think it's critical that a priority be placed on one when it goes out of service because once one is out of service we are only sitting left with one other. Therefore, the priority must go immediately.

In a recent situation, the first boat went out of service in November. It was out of service for almost two months. We should have had a high priority placed on that boat to make sure that it was back in the water when the second boat went out of service.

3) An emergency service and maintenance contract with an outside boat service and maintenance company should be initiated. This contract would be utilized in the event the service work cannot be done by City of Pittsburgh personnel.

What that is referring to is if, for some reason, the work is specialized, it's on the hull of the boat or some type of work that is not normally done within our General Services Department, we should have a service contract, a service maintenance contract, already in existence so that that boat can be sent out immediately to have it serviced.

4) An emergency lease contract with an outside marina should be initiated. This contract would be used to obtain an extra rescue boat if one or both of our boats would be out of service for an extended period of time.

Again, we need an additional safety network here and what this suggestion is saying is that if one of our boats go out of service for an extended period of time we should then go out and lease a boat and have it on standby. If both boats go out of service we should lease two boats but there should be a contract in existence so that our departments can do that immediately.

5) Engineering and Construction will place priority on the new Public Safety Boat Storage and Launching facility to be constructed on the western edge of Clemente Park. Design on this facility will be completed in 1986 and construction completed in 1987. The facility will be in operation in late 1987.

The Director of Engineering made public commitments to these dates. We are hoping that they can be met and, in fact, we're hoping that it can be done sooner. That is the ultimate solution to this problem.

6) The Public Works Department will investigate the possibility of placing life preservers on several bridges. This will be done as soon as possible.

Other cities, particularly Chicago, do this and the life preservers have actually worked and have helped save lives.

7) The Police Bureau will investigate the possibility of having life preservers in all police cars and vans; this will be done immediately.

This suggestion was made primarily because the Police vehicle is generally the first one to the river out of all vehicles and at the very least, if they have a life preserver that can be thrown to a victim that would be a tremendous help; it would keep them afloat. I don't think the investment would be significant to put a life preserver in several hundred Police vehicles.

8) Communications will continue with outside agencies (Coast Guard, Pennsylvania Fish Commission, Sheriff's Office, Allegheny County, marinas and private boat owners) to enhance their involvement in rescue operations. This includes the possibility of housing the Coast Guard boat at the new Public Safety boat docking facility.

Communications have been going on. What this is simply suggesting is that they continue and they become even more concentrated as they relate to the City of Pittsburgh.

9) More emphasis will be placed on education and awareness of the public through the Police Bureau and its Community Relations officers. One particular item of information that needs to be better relayed to the public (and City personnel) is that the spare tire of an automobile, truck or van is the most available life preserver.

A lot of people don't realize but actually a spare tire with a rim on it is a floatation device. I'm talking about a spare tire that's full of air that you have in the trunk of your car. The larger tires from the older vehicles and now used for vans and for pick-up trucks can hold two or three people in the water. The new smaller tires can keep one person afloat.

That's something that even our Public Safety Personnel are not aware of and should be aware of. We stand hopelessly on these bridges and watch people in the rivers when, at the very least, we could throw them a spare tire, something that they could swim to.

In addition, if someone were to go out in the river to rescue someone, they should have something with them to save themselves, and a spare tire could serve that purpose.

10) The Public Safety Department will investigate the availability of the Allegheny County boat to be used as a backup rescue craft.

It's my impression that they have a boat; we simply have not asked them to utilize them as a back-up craft.

The above items provide redundant safety checks and alternative approaches to insure that rescue boats will always be available. This requires the efforts of more than one City department and more than one Bureau within the Public Safety Department; therefore, proper policies and procedures to guide internal communications is critical.

I am certain that all our efforts to improve the rescue capabilities on the Pittsburgh rivers will reduce the potential for loss of life. Please let me know if I can be of assistance in addressing the above-items. Some may require legislation.

Thank you for your ideas and presence at the Post Agenda.

Sincerely,

JACK WAGNER
MEMBER OF COUNCIL

cc: Mayor Caliguiri
Members of Council

(END OF REPORT)

Mr. Wagner:

What I want to do with this summary of this post agenda is that it is being sent this afternoon to all individuals who attended the post agenda an to the Mayor and I would like to follow up all of these recommendations in 60 days. Prior to doing that, I would like to simply make a motion and ask all of you for your endorsement in regard to these ten recommendations.

Michelle Madoff:

Point of order. I think you've done an outstanding job, Councilman Wagner, and you're to be congratulated. But I think you're in the wrong form; I think it should be a resolution with recommendations that we should adopt and you certainly would have my support on them.

The Chair:

He's simply asking, and we do this all the time, is for all of us to endorse a letter that we are sending to a director or to a particular individual. And we've done that time and time again. So, your motion is in order.

Michelle Madoff:

Well I hope it would go beyond that.

The Chair:

I would like to ask the Councilman if you would hold off a week. I agree with many of these things in here but I would just like to go over it one more time. This is the first I've seen it; you may have passed it out to my office but I just haven't had a chance. But there's something I think is missing that I'd like to see added and I will discuss it with you and perhaps you could do it next week and I'll be more than happy to vote for it.

Mr. Wagner:

Okay but what I would like to do though is, due to the urgency of the situation, is send a letter out and then next week we could endorse it and even add to it.

The Chair:

Alright. I appreciate that.

Mr. Givens:

Jack, I just have one area of caution and that is the fact that we are a legislative body and we legislate and the fact that your letter is directive in nature for various department heads to do certain things and that's really, to a certain degree, when you give specific actions to department heads, that is out of the realm of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh saying that you will do this. We can suggest and make recommendations but we cannot direct and have them responding to us in such a way that they are responding to us and not the Administration.

The Chair:

I don't think he's doing that, Mr. Givens. I think this is almost like one of our resolutions that we just passed, a wish of Council. We've done this before. Within 60 days you want an answer with what you're going to do but when we all sign it we can make our recommendations. He's going to send it on his own anyway.

Mr. Givens:

Well I caution, Ben, because some paragraphs in there are directive in nature and this Council in fact cannot — we can suggest, make recommendations to departments to do certain actions but we cannot tell them and the fact that we are not truly their bosses it's that of the Administration to direct it. But I would hope, as I've indicated in years gone by, Jack, that we have some areas that need to be tightened up and tightened up very quickly and we're sure that this will happen.

But this is another instance on that river patrol that we had some difficulties and that one particular scene was dramatic enough that if one would think of what could happen on one of our bridges in the way of an accident, maybe a bus or so in the river at one time, then we can see the magnitude of what could happen in the city of bridges that we have and the number of roadways that are adjacent to the rivers themselves. It's a real great concern of mine and it's a good report that you read, Jack.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, I think sometimes we forget that the Charter clearly dictates to us, as members of this Council, and I'm reading verbatim, "Council has the power to investigate any legislative or administrative matter in the City". That is what a post agenda is and my interpretation of a post agenda is the investigation of an administrative or legislative matter. I view the river rescue operations as an administrative procedure that was investigated and many of the ideas in this report, as I indicated in the last sentence of the report, "Thank you for your ideas and presence at the post agenda", many of the ideas were actually the ideas from the various department heads. It's just that we have not sat everyone down in one room and brought out all that information. So, I know that I as a Councilmember or this body does not have the ability to administer this City but we do have within our power the ability to suggest that certain things be done.

Mr. Givens:

That's what I'm saying, Jack. It has to be in that suggestive recommendation type thing.

Michelle Madoff:

I repeat, I think that this is a very well put together summary. You did an outstanding job at the post agenda. The input was from various people but in your first paragraph, item one, it says that within 60 days the Director of Public Safety will develop and in the second one you said procedure should be developed within the General Services Department.

So, I am suggesting that if you wish to write a letter in principle and wish that we get moving with it, I see no reason why we can vote for it. But I would like to see you follow through by Monday with a specific resolution encompassing exactly what you've said here, have it come up the following Wednesday and let's mandate that these actions, as suggested by everybody, become a reality. That was my point originally.

The Chair:

Mr. Wagner has agreed that he will hold off on any motion until Monday and he has also graciously accepted any information that any of our colleagues would have for him. Is that correct, Mr. Wagner?

Mr. Wagner:

That's correct. Real briefly let me explain. Where it says in No. 1, "will", the Director of Public Safety actually agreed to do that at the post agenda. That's public record. Where it is indicated it is suggested that a policy, for instance, in No. 2, be written as soon as possible for giving priority to maintenance of the boats, that Director did not agree to do that. So, I am only suggesting strongly, and I'm hoping that all of you back me up, that that be done within that department.

So, I'm trying to define clearly exactly what they said and what they agreed upon.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, I think Councilman Wagner has just reinforced the need for some legislation to come out of this body because while they may disagree, he may have a greater concern and I think you will find great support in this Council if you put it in the right form, as a resolution.

The Chair:

Okay.

Michelle Madoff:

On another subject. This Council has not as yet, to my knowledge, unless you've discussed it privately, and I don't think you have, and Councilman O'Malley is not here today, the subject of raises of this Council which are tied in to Police, Fire, Paramedic, on the annual cost of living.

I would suggest, in light of what has happened, that this Council set an example and not accept any raise this year. I'd like to make that in the form of a motion.

The Chair:

This Council, or any other elected official in this City, receive a raise -- If we were going to receive a raise we would have had to do it at budget time. We would have to pass along with the budget the average raise that all other City employees were to receive and we didn't do that.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. Discussion, please. I spoke to you specifically about what the rule was and at that point, I think I did it here in session and privately, nobody knew what the negotiations were going to be. You said that we had to wait until that was done and it would be retroactive. I think that has now happened. I don't know what it is and I don't really care. I'm saying that in these hard times, and Peter Leo's column may have been joshing today but it really exemplifies how bad things are, we ought not to have a raise. I think that should be the will of this Council.

The Chair:

It already is the will of this Council because during the budget process we would have had to establish that whatever the average raise was, the average, we, all elected officials would receive in the coming year. We did not do that during the budget process.

Michelle Madoff:

I hate to be redundant, Mr.

Chairman, but at the time that the subject came up during the budget you told me, and you said it publicly, it's on the Record, that we couldn't do anything on it until it was agreed upon and negotiations were finished and then we would deal with it because it was a matter of record that we had that on the referendum and whatever the referendum dictated we would then accept and that if the raise across the board was four percent we would get four, if it was two we would get two and it would be retroactive but we didn't know what it was at the time of the budget.

I'm merely suggesting, and I believe it was raised to four percent for Police and Fire, nothing for City employees, so that what it would work out to is about two percent. I'm saying we don't take anything just to show that we understand what's happening in this community.

The Chair:

I apologize for misunderstanding your question during the budget process.

Michelle Madoff:

It was after the budget process, sir.

The Chair:

We have to vote on raises for not only ourselves but every other elected official and everybody. That's how we have to vote on the budget. We did not do that. The year before last we voted that whatever the average raise was, the eleven elected officials would receive that. We did not do that at this budget time; therefore, we said to ourselves, we're not getting a raise.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. That would make us sound holier than thou and altruistic. The fact remains that the law, which was introduced by the people who wanted to get this monkey off our backs so that it didn't look like we were taking a grab every four years, said that we were going to be tied into whatever the negotiations were. The negotiations did not take place during budget time; they took place after budget time. I spoke with you about it and you said when we know we'll then see what the average is.

I am now making an official request that we do not, because we are entitled to it, do not accept it. Why don't you check it out but I would say we reject it.

The Chair:

Alright, I'll check it out. My understanding is that the law says that we can receive no more than the average increase that the regular City employees got but we still have to vote to get that increase. We did not vote for it during the budget process or the passage of the budget. This is my understanding and I will have the Budget Office and the City Clerk check it out. Therefore, we are not entitled to it. But, Michelle, so that we can go on to our other business, I will promise you it will be checked out and we can raise the question next Monday.

Michelle Madoff:

Will you check it with the Law Department because it is my understanding that we automatically, once the negotiations are resolved, get the average of the increase of the City and then we vote. You and I discussed this; you had a lot on your mind, you're very tired. This is not a criticism but after reading today's paper I think we ought to pass on it even if we are entitled to take it retroactively.

The Chair:

Well let's wait to see if it's allowed by law or what the situation is.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine. On another subject. I think that it's important that we clarify a development that has happened in this Council with reference to Councilman O'Malley's - accusations by Mr. Flaherty.

I happen to have been directly involved and part of it and I can speak to only that that I know of and to say that Councilman O'Malley, on the subject I know of, was very innocent and I think more it appears as impropriety than actual actions and I would like to clarify those.

The Chair:

Can I ask you one thing and you don't have to comply on this but it's a request for everybody here. Mr. O'Malley is out of town. There have been a lot of things thrown around here but why don't we wait until he gets back. If you could do that I'd really appreciate it and I know he would. I think that's the proper way for this Council to go on a subject like this. We all know particular different parts, like you do, but let's wait until he gets back. He'll be sitting right there in the chair and we can raise whatever question we wish to raise at that time. I think that would only be fair to Mr. O'Malley and I know that you believe in being fair --

Michelle Madoff:

Just as fair as you do.

The Chair:

And I'm sure he'll be glad to be there.

Mr. Wagner:

I agree, Mr. President. I think that should be the proper way to do this.

Michelle Madoff:

I will yield to your request but I would like to continue to explain why I'm concerned about waiting.

If it were me and I were many miles away when one of the Councilmembers in this Council gutted my bill on the garages, at my expense I flew back to the City from my vacation because it was important. I think Mr. O'Malley is doing himself a great disservice by not coming back until next week because this thing is snowballing. There are accusations being made; some of us are directly or indirectly involved and I think our Chairman might be well-advised to get on the phone and call Mr. O'Malley and ask that he return. Perhaps we could have an investigation as of Wednesday so that we can be dealing with this problem.

And I have a request, you requested and I will wait until he gets back, but I have a request. Will the City Clerk please request from Mr. Creehan at Alcosan the subject matter of the meeting, the technical and all subjects, any literature at the Water and Sewer Conference that's taking place in my daughter's city of Orlando, I would have loved to have visited her and it would have been perfectly legal for me to go to this, but I want to know whether the technical matter is something that would be addressed by our colleagues. I'd like to know the expenditures of the amount of cost to the two Councilmembers going and I will determine and give you an evaluation from a professional point of view by consulting with experts as to the technical nature of the meeting as to what input would be appropriate.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, I move for the suspension of Rule 8 for all Committees providing for the mailing of printed copies of all ordinances and resolutions to each member of Council at least 48 hours previous to their consideration by Council after the return of such papers from Committee.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I was waiting for this. Mr. Perry, can you explain why once more these bills were not ready last Thursday?

Mr. Perry:

I think we're back in the old trend again. The employees are off sick and I don't have time to get them out on time, that's all.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Perry, would it be possible, and Mr. Woods, to discuss at our meeting, this is going on all the time. Perhaps Mr. Perry could assign a member of the staff to deal with this problem because it happens only too often.

I was trying to get my bills in order today; I kept calling, they were not ready, and I was a little sharp with somebody on your staff saying, "Where are they?" and he brought them to me before the meeting. I have a new administrative assistant and we need to go over the bills.

This is totally unacceptable. What is your budget, Mr. Perry, for the year? Could you give me a ballpark figure for the listening audience?

Mr. Perry:

I really can't give you a ballpark figure.

Michelle Madoff:

What's the budget for your office, Mr. Perry? Is it over $100,000?

Mr. Perry:

Definitely.

Michelle Madoff:

Is it over $200,000?

Mr. Perry:

It's over $200,000.

Michelle Madoff:

For over $200,000 you can have the bills ready on Thursday the week before. It's happened once too often. I didn't say anything the first time, the second time, the third time. It's too often.

Mr. Perry:

I think it is happening too often.

Michelle Madoff:

You do not have the responsibility, they're not giving you the authority over your staff and maybe they have to give you that.

Mr. Perry:

I have the authority.

Michelle Madoff:

Then you've got to get it done. How about some alternative people? Hiring part-time people?

Mr. Perry:

I'm turning over a new leaf, Michelle.

The Chair:

All in favor of Mr. Grabowski's motion?

Mr. Pollock:

Could you just explain it? Steve, are you just saying that your motion will not require that these bills be submitted to us?

The Chair:

Just these particular ones that we already passed.

All in favor?

Michelle Madoff:

Opposed.

(AS AMENDED IN COMMITTEE)

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, on Bill 130 it might be appropriate to mention that they just paved McArdle Roadway and there's a hole so bad that it's knocking every car out of alignment, all the hubcaps are falling off and somebody is going to go over the cliffside.

Could we have whoever's committee that is take care of it today? It is really going to cost the City a bundle. I'm taking my car in for re-alignment. Somebody in front of me had to stop; they lost their hubcap.

Who's department is that? Mr. Givens? It's the upper part of McArdle Roadway. It's a huge hole.

Mr. Givens:

Michelle, I think everyone has the right — We have the Mayor's Complaint Center, we have a Director. Please call it in. I get hundreds of calls this time of the year —

Michelle Madoff:

I thought I had an in knowing you.

Mr. Givens:

You have a good in but I'll tell you, when I call and you call right behind me, Michelle, we've really got an in.

Michelle Madoff:

My administrative assistant will call.

The Chair:

Thank you very much. It will be taken care of.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, I request that my comments on Bill No. 130 be brought forward for the Record.

(BEGINNING - MR. WAGNER'S
REMARKS ON BILL NO. 130 -
WEDNESDAY, 2/5/86)

Mr. Wagner:

Discussion. Director, this involves our milling contractor, correct?

Director Gaetano:

Correct.

Mr. Wagner:

That is Swank Construction?

Director Gaetano:

Yes, he had a two year contract that was bidden last year.

Mr. Wagner:

When did that construction contract begin?

Director Gaetano:

Last year, right before we started our paving program. We are talking April or May, I don't remember the exact month, but it was during the milling season.

Mr. Wagner:

How do we determine which streets are milled?

Director Gaetano:

Every street that we pave is evaluated whether it needs milled or not milled, if the street is bad and needs milled to stop the water from coming up over the curb. If the street needs profiled to get a better crown to make the runoff of the water go better, it will be milled. If the sub-base is decent we try and mill and the biggest reason we do mill is to save money. If we mill and you take only an inch and a half off, you don't have to strip the whole street down to the base and then put the total three inches back. So everyone is evaluated on an individual basis as to if it needs milled or not.

Mr. Wagner:

Does the milling contractor have input as to which streets are milled?

Director Gaetano:

No, none.

Mr. Wagner:

Is there a policy or a formula by which we evaluate which streets are milled and if so, is that available to this Council?

Director Gaetano:

Yes.

Mr. Wagner:

Would you please supply me with a copy of that policy for milling?

Director Gaetano:

Yes.

Mr. Wagner:

The reason why I ask, in reviewing many of the streets that were milled last year and repaved -- many streets were milled that I thought did not need to be milled and paved and repaved that essentially had nothing wrong with them and even members of the public, residents on those streets indicated to me that there was no need for paving of these streets. And it makes me wonder if we are following a set policy and we are placing priorities on our streets and whether or not the milling and the paving is being done for other reasons. There are many streets in the City that are in bad shape. There are streets in the City that need I think to be milled, to be paved and I would like to see that happen no matter where they are located, but I am beginning to question why we are milling and why we are paving certain streets and not paving others.

Director Gaetano:

Every street in the City of Pittsburgh that is put on the paving list is evaluated and a number is given on that particular street as to being primary, secondary, the condition of the street, if it needs milled, and everything else and that number then is given a priority. Yes, there are primary streets that will have a higher number than some of the secondary or some of the ways or the alleys, yet you would go out and look at that alley and say there is a little bit more potholes on this street than there is on the primary, yet the primary is used constantly by vehicles every day and gets a higher value and this is how it is done. Yes, there might be a street here, or there might be a street there; I get a lot of problems from people saying well, my street was worse than their street and yet you did their street, and that happens back and forth.

Mr. Wagner:

Do alleys ever have priority over streets?

Director Gaetano:

No.

Mr. Wagner:

Okay.

Director Gaetano:

But we do do them.

Mr. Wagner:

I would — where in the management's system is the final determination made as to which streets are milled and paved?

Director Gaetano:

Our milling starts with our Street Repair Division. The fact is I have a preliminary listing right now that we are going over and it came up through our system to the Superintendent of Streets and then to my assistant and then to myself.

Mr. Wagner:

The final determination is made by whom?

Director Gaetano:

Myself.

Mr. Wagner:

Can you reassure me that this year the final determination will be made by you for all streets, you or the Mayor, for all streets that are milled and paved?

Director Gaetano:

Yes.

Mr. Wagner:

One final area. Are you aware that some of your — not some of your, but a management person within your department has a family member working for this milling contractor?

Director Gaetano:

Yes.

Mr. Wagner:

Are you aware that Democratic Committee people are working this contractor?

Director Gaetano:

No.

Mr. Wagner:

I would suggest that your investigate and look into whether or not there are associations or ties with this City working with this particular contractor. And I say that for valid reasons and my information is extremely valid.

Director Gaetano:

I can't stop a private contractor from hiring committee people; I can't stop him from hiring anybody he wants to hire. That is his right to do that. I do not ask him to hire these people. I don't know who is asking him to hire these people, but I can't stop him from saying who he wants to work for him. All the people that work for that general contractor go through that union, they are all union people and I can't stop the union as to who they put on or who the contractor hires. I can't do that.

Mr. Wagner:

I agree with you. However, as Director of the Department of Public Works and as a City of Pittsburgh that is paying a contractor $900,000 a year, there should not be people hired that obviously appear to be selectively picked by people in this City rather than the contractor itself or the union itself and what I am suggesting is that there needs to be a greater scrutiny placed on the management of these contracts with these companies. All of my information indicates that Swank does a good job, they do a professional job. However, I want to be certain that there is no violation of the ethics of government when it comes to top management people of this City appearing to have input as to who is hired by companies that have contracts with this City. What I am suggesting is that there needs to be a detailed investigation made to determine if that is happening with this contract or with any other contracts within the City. I would not be saying that if I was not standing on solid ground. I am standing on solid ground and I know I am or I would never say it publicly. I would like to see, I would like to make sure that the same thing does not happen this year that has happened last year because I can assure you that any legislation that comes in front of this Councilmember, I will not approve. I will not cast my positive vote if I see that happening in the future.

One final comment. Director, I have total confidence in you as an individual and as a Director and I want to state that publicly and I respect you very much. My concern goes beyond that as you know and it goes to other people having more input than they should in the operation of the Public Works Department. I am not in any way saying something that I haven't said before privately or publicly. I believe in professionalism in various departments and I believe that you have that capability within your department. My only concern is that that professionalism is exhibited and if it is I certainly will back it up here at this table in support of what you do. I just want to be sure that policies and procedures are in existence to make decisions as to what streets need to be milled, what streets need to be paved. I think there also needs to be a clean, clear relationship with our contractors and we should not have ties with contractors, with management people. If we do, it casts a bad reflection on this City. It has happened in the past and my hope is it will not happen in the future.

(END OF REMARKS)

Mr. Wagner:

I'd like to further state that I did request last week that a policy be provided to us as to the determination on which streets are milled and which streets are not milled. As of yet I have not yet received that. I think it's important that Council know procedurally how the Administration determines which streets are milled and then the follow-up of milling being the paving.

I don't want to hold up a piece of legislation but I would like to have that procedure and maybe Mr. Givens could enlighten me as to whether or not that is available to me.

The Chair:

I think at the Wednesday meeting last week that Mr. Gaetano said he would get it up to us. So let's wait until this Wednesday and ask him again. I'll call him myself.

Mr. Wagner:

Are you advising, then, to hold the legislation one week?

The Chair:

No. I'm saying let's pass the legislation and make sure we have an answer by Wednesday off of Mr. Gaetano.

Mr. Wagner:

Okay, I can go along with that. I would also like to state, though, publicly for the Record that the concerns that I made last week in regard to Bill No. 130, and people working for Swank Construction Company, which does the milling contract, as related to management people within the City of Pittsburgh, I think my comments last week were very clear and very much to the point and I don't want to be redundant in regard to that. However, I am going to make a request in writing to the Mayor to ask the Administration to please investigate the matter. Things that have been done in the past I don't believe can be corrected but I do believe that we can prevent a redundant, repetitive situation to exist in the future. So, I want all of you to know that that will be the course of action which I take.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, with reference to a street that has just been paved or a sidewalk that's been put in, if its not been done in-house, if its done by a contractor, sub-contractor, isn't there some guarantee that the work has to last at least one season? I want to know who did McArdle and I want to know when they're going back to fix it. It is not just a pothole; it is a mineshaft.

The Chair:

Mike, on both counts, a letter to Lou and a call to Lou that we want that milling information by Wednesday.

Mr. Givens:

On Bill 130, I would like my remarks to be brought forward from Wednesday's meeting.

(BEGINNING - MR. GIVENS' REMARKS
ON BILL NO. 130 - WEDNESDAY,
2/5/86)

Mr. Givens:

I would like to say, if I might, that as Chairman of this Department that the number of streets we have done over the last eight years in the City of Pittsburgh, we have been averaging somewhere between 75 and 100 miles of street. I believe some latter years we have done maybe 50 miles, but if you consider that the City of Pittsburgh having about 900 and some miles of roadways, we have almost done the whole City of Pittsburgh within the last eight years and a street normally lasts, we hope, for 20 years. But we know that, as we can see out there today, what the first thaw since a long freeze period that we are beginning to get some holes in our roadways out there. So, we have done a tremendous job, I feel, and Lou has done a tremendous job and I have never personally heard anything about any of our contractors as far as doing their job as prescribed by the contract that was issued to us. I think all of us have driven through the City of Pittsburgh and seeing our own crews as well as contracting crews out there and there is nobody that I have ever seen leaning on a shovel.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, if I might invite up to the podium here Mr. Wayne Whiting who is the Acting Director for the Highland Drive Hospital and accompanied by Bobby Lee.

Mr. Givens presents

No. 232 WHEREAS, Almost thirty million Americans living today are veterans of the Armed Forces of the United States; and

WHEREAS, a million and a quarter veterans are admitted each year to Veterans Administration Medical Center across the country; and

WHEREAS, the national salute to hospitalized veterans is organized to recognize and pay tribute to the many men and women in Veterans Administration Medical Centers across the country who are facing personal battles of illness, pain and loneliness; and

On February 14, 1986 the Veterans Administration is celebrating the 1986 national salute to hospitalized veterans at the Highland Drive Medical Center; and

WHEREAS, each of us should seek ways to express our collective appreciation for their service and sacrifice; and

WHEREAS, we should take time from our busy schedules for even a short visit to our many forgotten patients.

NOW THEREFORE, be it resolved that the Mayor and Members of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh join the nation in honoring and recognizing the veterans who are admitted each year to the Veterans Administration Medical Centers and together let us show our thanks for their service and their great sacrifice.

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

If I can, Mr. President, I'd like Mr. Whiting to come up here and say a few words on behalf of our veterans that are here in the Greater Pittsburgh area.

Mr. Whiting:

Mr. President, Councilman Givens, thank you for inviting us today and thank you for passing this resolution honoring our veterans who are now hospitalized in our hospitals across the country.

There are a series of activities that are being conducted during the next two weeks that are designed to bring attention to the veterans that we have hospitalized in the Pittsburgh area and across the country and one very important part of those programs and those activities is visitation by people in the community and it's particularly important to those veterans who, for various reasons, have limited contact with either family or friends. Your visitation, whether it's just for a few minutes or for an hour, is very much appreciated. I've noticed myself over the past few years with Councilman Givens who, I think, again this year is going to come visit us this coming Friday, the veterans react very positively and really enjoy the time spent with them.

So, again, thank you very much for the resolution.

Mr. Lee:

I just want to add, on behalf of our many hospitalized veterans, employees and volunteers at the Highland Drive Medical Center, we want to thank especially Councilman and Mrs. Givens who have been coming up to the hospital throughout the year visiting our hospitalized veterans. Thank you.

Mr. Givens:

It's interesting to note that the Highland Drive where these gentlemen come from have a little over between five and six hundred some patients. Then we have the medical center up here by the University of Pittsburgh along with one other medical facility right within our immediate area with another couple hundred people.

I have the great privilege to have gone through that particular medical system when I was discharged from the U.S. Air Force and I can assure you both that this hospital and other veterans hospitals in San Diego and Philadelphia that I have gone through, that when you're there by yourself, and many of these people, these are regional hospitals, people come in from Ohio, West Virginia, Western Pennsylvania, and it's a long trip for many family members to come in. So, when we here from our local community, and especially veterans within this Council, take a little bit of time out to go up and see these veterans, I mean they really, really do appreciate it.

Being one who has volunteered in this hospital system, you can see it, the people at the hospital can see it. I mean, they look forward for weeks on end to the various events that the Veterans Administration has put on for the patients that are up there. But when the people come, not the volunteers, but the people who come off the street maybe that one time a year, it really means something very dear to all the veterans.

For Mr. Whiting and Mr. Lee to take back with you, I have two resolutions here. If you could, put the on the wall someplace, in the day room, where the men and the women have an opportunity to take a look at them. Let them know how the people of the City of Pittsburgh, via this Council, feel about them.

Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff presents

No. 233 WHEREAS, on January 28, 1986, the explosion of the manned space shuttle resulted in the loss of seven lives; and

WHEREAS, these seven brave astronauts:

Francis Scobee
Michael Smith
Judith Resnik
Ellison Onizuka
Ronald McNair
Gregory Jarvis
Christa McAuliffe

represented a cross-section of America; and

WHEREAS, Judith Resnick was a graduate of Carnegie-Mellon University, one of Pittsburgh's distinguished institutions; and

WHEREAS, the accomplishments and achievements of these seven astronauts must be recognized;

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh join the citizens of Pittsburgh in mourning the loss of these seven outstanding Americans and honor their memory.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

The next item is a resolution that is the outgrowth of my being in my automobile and hearing K. Leroy Irvis on the news expounding on an issue that I have some very strong feelings about. There has been a task force formed that will be addressing some of the issues and one is only to follow what was going on in the papers and the issues of what is happening in the papers to know that we have a crisis in Western Pennsylvania, particularly in the Pittsburgh area. We've lost 40,000 in the last ten years; we're going to lose, according to the experts, another 30,000 and I wonder whether Governor Thornburg remembers that he came from Pittsburgh, from Point Breeze.

Michelle Madoff presents

No. 234 WHEREAS, the Thornburg/Scranton Administration in Harrisburg is intent upon proposing grandstand tax decreases which will, in actuality, mean no more than 38¢ per week to the average taxpayer; and

WHEREAS, the Thornburg/Scranton budget proposals would reorder spending priorities, in some cases taking credit for the initiatives which would have to be funded by the next 5 to 10 General Assemblies and 3 to 5 governors; and

WHEREAS, Speaker of the Pennsylvania House K. Leroy Irvis has gone on record stating that such individually meaningless tax cuts (which amount to approximately $120 million in the aggregate) or the reordering of budget priorities this year could have significant impact if used constructively and immediately to encourage entrepreneurs and major developers to invest in the economy of endangered areas such as Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Pittsburgh shares with the 48 year Representative of the Hill District K. Leroy Irvis' concern for tax cut opportunism and reliance on a succession of future elected state officials at the expense of economic and job development;

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh supports Speaker Irvis' position that State income tax cuts of 38¢ per person or a massive reordering of State budget priorities could be far better spent to give a significant thrust this year to:

Strategy 21 Projects
The Entertainment Center
North Shore Development
(spearheaded by innovative concepts such as the Buhl Science Center)
Investment in the Convention Center
Construction of the Midfield Terminal

Development of the Mt. Washington Area

(as our major tourist attraction)

and

Other projects presently being discussed by members of the Mayor's Task Force on Entertainment Center Development

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Pollock seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

I would hope that this would be sent to all the legislators and to the Governor as quickly as possible. If there's any delay, I would move that the one to the Governor go as a Mailgram today.

Mr. Grabowski:

Discussion. Mr. President, having served two terms in the Legislature, I'm all too familiar with the underlying considerations that go along with, perhaps, the radio announcement that my colleague indicated she heard. It's basically political and I don't think that I will ever criticize any administration if they can find ways to cut taxes. Based on that, I cannot vote in favor of Ms. Madoff's resolution.

Michelle Madoff:

May I respond, Mr. President? I've heard from very reliable sources that the Governor would like to go out of office saying that his taxes are lower than when he came into office. The fact remains that he could still accomplish the same thing but give us a large sum of money for infrastructure and to make this City a place where 40,000 are leaving and 30,000 more planning to leave but come back. The difference of the $18 a year to the average person is not going to make a whole lot of difference but it's going to make a tremendous difference, and you notice I didn't touch on rebate that he's offering tax cut to industry because they do generate jobs and you're right, it is political, and it's political in the worst sense of what represents politics.

That $120 million should come back to this community. We have a task force; we're trying to do things, we're trying to back the Mayor. That's what Mr. Leroy Irvis is saying and I think that all we're saying is don't give us piddley amounts so you can say, "Look, I lowered your taxes" but really do something to build this community. And it was not an announcement; it was an interview that I happened to turn on my radio and hear Mr. K. Leroy Irvis expounding and I think if we don't support him we're very foolish and I would urge my colleagues to support his position.

Mr. Grabowski:

I'd like to make one further comment. There are about 12 million people in this state and if Pittsburgh receives its proportional share of this $18 per year, I don't think it will amount to a great deal that we can do the North Shore and the Strip and the other projects that you outlined there.

Michelle Madoff:

According to Mr. Irvis, and I have talked to his staff who have done the homework, they say it's $120 million. Mr. Wagner who helped organize the task force, it was his idea. Could we use $120 million to get some of our projects going or would you rather have $18 a year in your salary?

Mr. Wagner:

Councilwoman Madoff, I like the idea behind the resolution but Councilman Grabowski brings up a good point. The $120 million wouldn't go totally to our area and I personally would like to see us zero in on that figure more. If it's $15 million, $20 million, whatever it is, then identify that, get a handle on it, and then send the resolution to the appropriate people. I think it's misleading with $120 million right now.

Michelle Madoff:

You hit it right on the head, Jack. Some millions are better than no millions and the $18 a year and the 38 cents a year are not going to make the difference. I think we need to support Mr. Irvis in this battle because he is fighting for Western Pennsylvania. He remembers his roots; he knows where he's from. I use to socialize with our Governor; he lived right near me. He's forgotten our community. And just to make him look good with $18 or with 58 cents is not the answer. That $15 million would go a long way, or $20 million, and my understanding is that it's a lot more million than that that would come to Western Pennsylvania.

The amount isn't the issue; the issue of let's get a large sum as opposed to having a rebate to the individual. That is what the resolution states. And, incidentally, it was drafted out of his office.

Mr. Wagner:

What if we were to amend it to say that the proportionate number of dollars relating to the immediate area of Allegheny County and Western Pennsylvania would be devoted to economic development projects and the development of jobs rather than the $120 million figure?

Michelle Madoff:

I couldn't agree with you more. He was just giving a figure of how one translates to the other. The concept of the resolution is very clear; it's exactly what you just said. We're all in agreement, I think most of us are in agreement, and that is that we should give the money to the projects as opposed to the individuals. I'll forfeit my $18 or better a year and I think it will not make a significant difference to most people, even indigents, because they're not going to get $18 back, they're going to get a lot less, to at least create some jobs for them and give them some pride, some dignity, and create jobs. To the unemployed and underemployed in this City it is very discouraging and I would hope that this would not become a political battle between my colleagues and myself and vote, and that's why I'm stating it as Mr. K. Leroy Irvis's position.

I would accept that as an amendment to the bill. I'm not married to the words and I don't think Mr. Leroy Irvis is married to the words either. It's a concept.

Mr. DePasquale:

One question, Michelle. Did Speaker Irvis state that the said projects should have a priority?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes, sir. I spoke to him personally.

The Chair:

Is there any other discussion?

All in favor? Opposed?

Mr. Grabowski:

Opposed.

Mr. Givens:

I abstain.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, last week I presented to all of you a report on the river rescue operation of which there were an analysis and ten recommendations to be made to various department heads as to how we can improve that river rescue operation so that we do not have a repeat occurrence of approximately three or four weeks ago and one year ago.

At that time, Mr. Woods indicated that prior to this receiving the official approval of Council, all of you would like a week to take a look at it. I have sent this to the department heads but I think it is much more meaningful if it has the support of all of you rather than just me.

So, I would simply like to make a motion that we support the enactment of the items listed in those recommendations so that the Administration can move forward on them.

Mr. Pollock seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

Jack, last week when this issue came up, and I only brought it up for one purpose, and that is our legislative prerogative versus that of the executive prerogatives in almost four or five or six or seven of your lines you say "will". I don't think it's in our -- You know, the intent is there but Council, as far as my interpretation and I'm sure the legal interpretation is that we cannot direct the Administration to do something. We can ask them to do it and, of course, Council always has prerogatives that we can use in order to have the Administration listen to our desires. But it's very difficult for me to say yes, we're going to adopt this in resolution form when we're directing the Administration to do certain things. So many of those were, you "will" do this and it's signed by you. So, if I then agree to that, I'm saying to the Administration, "You will do this." and that is not within the structure of our government to do that and that's my only problem.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Givens, I indicated, and in reading it, you're right, seven out of the ten indicate "will". For instance, the last item and probably the least important of them all. The Public Safety Department will investigate the availability of the Allegheny County boat to be used as a back-up rescue craft. The seven of the ten where the word "will" is indicated, commitments, verbal commitments were made by the respective directors at the post agenda to do that and the other three out of the ten where that is not indicated, I am simply suggesting myself, as a result of the post agenda, that those actions be taken. So, I'm not saying they must do this if they didn't already commit to doing it publicly. And they have.

Mr. Givens:

Again, Jack, they're saying something to you in the post agenda which is an informal Council gathering. If you were to bring them up to the Council as a body for a public hearing, if you feel that strongly about it where it's on the official record. But, again, the intent and the purpose is there. I think the purpose that you wanted to have the post agenda was accomplished. You got commitments from the various directors and departments and rightfully so and I think that's where it should lie. I think the Administration should now react and if you find in your continuing on investigations that some of those "wills" that they said they will do it, have not been accomplished, then fine and dandy.

I think all it should do is just go down as simple communication to all the various directors. I think you sent it to all the Councilpeople; they have it. I think now what we want to do is just to follow on. Otherwise, all of us are going to get into a baliwick and previous attempt of this nature, Mr. President, for your own information, in years gone by, was always, normally voted down and asked to communicate as Councilpeople have the right to communicate for, in fact, our constituency out here, to communicate to the directors. And then if we don't see them reacting to this, then I think we have some cause to really bring them up before the whole body and make sure that certain actions are taken because we do appropriate the money for the Police Department, the Fire Department, the EMS Department, and yes, we do have a certain right to be assured that that money is being spent properly. That is our job.

But again, we cannot direct, and Jack, I appreciate what you were saying there but to me it's in fact redundant and the fact that they said they will do it. If they do not do it then I think you should make this body aware of that and the body take appropriate action.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to say the same thing today that I said to Mr. Wagner last time. We're haggling over words, not the intent, and now we're haggling over process. It is not appropriate, nor do I believe it is legally correct, to have a will of Council vote, floor motion, on legislation. It is appropriate now, since you have the commitment, to introduce legislation which is "will" and I for one am going to vote with you. To just say we're going to send a letter to them saying that they should do it because we voted for them to do it is not the appropriate format. I think if we asked our legal advisor, the proper format is now to follow through with legislation, just go through the routine, normal procedure, and I'm sure you'll have the support of the majority of this Council. I wouldn't even fight over it because you've won it already. Let's just go with it.

Mr. Wagner:

We have not yet solved our problem. Just to go back a little bit, about seven years ago it took two off-duty police officers with a broom and a boat sitting alongside the river to rescue someone that had fallen or jumped into the Monongahela River. Two years ago the same situation occurred. We had no rescue boat and the person died. Three weeks ago, a situation occurred in the Allegheny River. The person is still in serious condition in the hospital.

I, as a Councilmember, and Chairman of Public Safety, will not permit any longer for this not to go on record as the solution to the problem. I had made my investigation and I am making a report; the Charter gives me the permission to do that. I'm simply asking all of you to support the recommendations of the investigation.

Coming from me as one member, I'm one out of nine — This Council does not have any authority unless the majority really supports something. If that's what it takes to say, will do this, must do this, it is mandatory to prevent a re-occurrence, I'm willing to do that. I'm willing to step out and do it. If we permit the same situation to exist one more time, I think all of us, meaning not only this Council but this entire City, are not meeting up to our responsibilities.

Therefore, I'm simply stating that the report is here, I'd like all of you to support it. If you do, it has more meaning.

Mr. Pollock:

I think the fact that Mr. Wagner took his Chairmanship seriously enough to investigate this problem, took the time out to call all the appropriate directors and people concerned, to come before Council and then prepare this report, whatever the language is, I think it's important and incumbent upon all of us, in the interest of the public safety of the City of Pittsburgh, that we give this post agenda report the full force and effect of this entire body and that the people concerned and affected by it, whether they gave assurances to Mr. Wagner at the post agenda or not, will know that the entire City Council supports these findings and that the proposals and planned solutions be put into effect immediately. And I think that a unanimous vote, which I hope we have, will give this message to the appropriate people.

The Chair:

Mr. Wagner, maybe this will help solve the problem for everybody and make everybody comfortable. If you would just re-write it and say you committed to these things at the post agenda, now we expect you to carry them out. That might solve Mr. Givens' problem, it would solve everybody's problem. It's the same thrust. It's stating in there that they have committed, like you said, now it's in writing, and now we expect for these commitments to be carried out. I think that would solve everybody's problem.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, Mr. President, I have indicated, prior to the recommendations, the items discussed at the post agenda and the efforts to be taken include, and then I sum up the report by saying that many of these ideas were yours. And they were. And many commitments that were made were your commitments. Only three out of the ten there were not commitments made; number 2, number 3 and number 4. And I do not indicate "will do" in any one of them.

So, it's a matter of rhetoric and dialogue here and I'm going to follow up on them whether or not this Council supports the recommendations. I can assure you that.

The Chair:

Can you change from "you will" to "we expect" or "I expect" and that would help Mr. Givens out a tremendous amount. And I'd like to see it go down with everyone's name on it also. Just that; instead of "you will" to "we expect". That would solve the problem.

Michelle Madoff:

After eight years on this Council, Councilman Wagner, unless you introduce legislation which becomes the law of this City, you don't have the clout to accomplish exactly what you want to do. You are right; it is long past due and we need "will" not "may", "would you think about it", "we'd like you to", "we're glad you promised", "thank you for your promise and commitment at the meeting".

You introduce legislation; it goes through the process on Wednesday. We'll waive Rule 8 and speed it up, and then it is, whether they want to do it or not, we do it.

I can assure you, if Michelle Madoff had introduced your letter as a report and said "you will", we wouldn't even have had this much conversation on it. It would have been, "You're out of order; you have to introduce legislation." That's the way it is; let's introduce the legislation.

The Chair:

That's not the way it is, Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

But we do need to introduce legislation to make this a reality. Would you agree with that?

The Chair:

If Mr. Wagner wants to introduce legislation I'm sure he's going to do that.

Now, are we finished discussing this letter? Mr. Wagner, will you change it to "we expect" instead of "you will"?

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I refuse because they indicated to me verbally that they will. To me, that is their commitment and I am not going to back off on this issue.

The Chair:

Fine.

Michelle Madoff:

One question. Mr. Wagner, do you plan to introduce legislation?

Mr. Wagner:

Several of the items do not relate to legislation; they are administrative matters.

Michelle Madoff:

On the items that do? On the others?

Mr. Wagner:

Two of the ten pertain to legislation.

Michelle Madoff:

Are you going to introduce legislation?

Mr. Wagner:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

And the others you're just going to hope that they do it?

Mr. Wagner:

Well I simply am suggesting publicly on the Record that they do it and, like I said, in most they've made the commitment but I want them to know this body supports it.

Michelle Madoff:

What if they don't do it?

Mr. Wagner:

If they don't do it then we're have another post agenda in two months.

Michelle Madoff:

And then you'll start thinking about introducing legislation?

The Chair:

Direct your comments to the Chair. You've asked a question, he's answered.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay, to the Chair. May I strongly suggest that we have legislation. Accept the report and go on with legislation.

The Chair:

Right now I am going to call for the vote.

All in favor? Opposed?

Mr. Givens:

I abstain.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Mr. Wagner:

There was a memo sent out by Mr. Perry directed by the President to all department directors in regard to being present at Committee Meetings. For some reason, the Director of Public Safety -- is he on this? I see the various chiefs and I don't know if he's on this or not.

The Chair:

He should be.

Mr. Wagner:

Okay. I'm not certain.

The Chair:

If he's not we'll make sure he gets a letter.

Mr. Wagner:

Alright. Fine.

Michelle Madoff moved to excuse Mrs. Masloff for absence from the meeting.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. DePasquale

Council adjourned.

Also,

No. 278 Resolution providing for the letting of a Contract or Contracts, or the use of existing Contracts for the furnishing, inside delivery and installation of a new filing system for the Narcotics Section of the Bureau of Police, at a cost not to exceed $25,000.00, chargeable to and payable from the Department of Public Safety Third Party Payers, Code Account DPSTPP.

Also,

No. 279 Communication from John Norton, Director, Department of Public Safety, requesting permission for ten individuals to attend various legislative meetings in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania at various times in 1986, at a cost not to exceed $10,000.00, payable from the Department of Public Safety Third Party Payer Trust Fund.

Which were severally read and referred to the Committee on Public Safety.

The Chair presented

No. 280 Petition from electors of the City of Pittsburgh, requesting a public hearing on Bill No. 222, legalizing dog racing.

Which was read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. O'Malley moved to suspend Rule 8 by providing for consideration of the bill only until or after the 9th calendar day following the meeting in which the bill was introduced so the bill will be on the agenda this Wednesday.

Mr. Grabowski seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

We requested a public hearing ourselves after our discussion on Wednesday. We have to entertain this petition today and then discuss it on Wednesday but I had to set a public hearing for February 26.

Michelle Madoff:

What day of the week is that?

The Chair:

It's a Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. A week from Wednesday.

Also,

No. 281 Communication from Michael Perry, City Clerk, requesting permission for Eileen M. Conroy, Safety Officer, to attend the Annual Meeting of Members of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council, to be held on Tuesday, February 25, 1986 at the Marriott Hotel in Monroeville, PA, at a cost not to exceed $30.00, chargeable to and payable from Code Account 1001-1, Miscellaneous Services, Supplies, Equipment, etc.

Which was read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Michelle Madoff:

We're having a hearing on garbage and I think it would be advisable that we run a display ad and that the Golden Triangle be notified to notify all the people Downtown that there is going to be a public hearing so that they don't say they didn't know about it.

The Chair:

Fine. The Clerk will take care of it.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. O'Malley presented

Bill No. 282

And there being two-thirds of the votes of Council in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Also,

Bill No. 161

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant in favor of Apex Association, R. Tillie, President, in the amount of $15,084.00 in payment of Extra Work, being in addition to the original contract price of $34,400.00 on Controller's Contract No. 27112, furnished for the benefit of the City in connection with the Rehabilitation of Fire Stations No. 7, 16, and 36; and providing for the payment thereof."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill 161, if memory serves me well, that was the bill that Mr. McDermott said he inherited it, it was a mess, and the scope of work had not been clearly defined.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, I have some notes on that.

Michelle Madoff:

I just want to make sure I'm on the right bill. Is that correct? And if anybody cares to add anything to it before I vote, if there is any other information, I would like to have it.

Mr. Wagner:

I'd just like to comment that one of the three fire stations are completed; it's a renovation project where a contractor has bid on three separate buildings. We learned something from this procedure in that in the future a contractor should be bidding on one project and not three separate individual-type projects. There has been a lot of flaws, there has been a lot of delays, two of the three buildings are still not completed but we're hoping to get them completed as soon as possible.

Mr. Pollock:

My notes from the Committee Meeting also revealed that Mr. McDermott said that Bill 161 concerned a design that was done poorly by the architect and that he also stated that he was contemplating a lawsuit at this time against the architect.

Michelle Madoff:

May I have my comments from the other day included so I don't have to repeat them because I plan to vote no on this bill as a protest vote.

(BEGINNING - MICHELLE MADOFF'S
REMARKS ON BILL NO. 161 -
WEDNESDAY, 2/12/86)

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. Paul, we should have a meeting every week. Could you tell me why the scope of work did not encompass simple things like installing wire, 6 light fixtures at No. 16 Fire Station? This work was necessary to replace the existing circuits in the attic which are a fire hazard, like you didn't know that in advance, or three shower lights, that you didn't know you were going to have to replace, or installation of new circuits and conduits for new floor, removal of floor, like you didn't know you were going to do it. Something is wrong. I don't know if you are the victim or the perpetrator. Knowing you the way I do, I'm assuming you are the victim because I think you are a very honorable man and I've known you a very long time, and as you know, for those that are listening, I was very influential in your coming to this City. You are a great asset.

We are going through the same old story; scope of work not clearly defined, goes to the lowest bidder and then we say, "Oh, guess what, we have all of this extra work". I'm getting tired of it, Paul. And the public is getting tired of it.

Mr. McDermott:

Well, if I may comment on this particular piece of legislation. These three stations, these projects have been total chaos from the day one.

Michelle Madoff:

You inherited this, is that what you are telling me?

Mr. McDermott:

That's immaterial whether I inherited it or not.

Michelle Madoff:

The point is that I need to know what the scope of work was determined; prior to your taking care of it or after you took care of it.

Mr. McDermott:

Prior.

Michelle Madoff:

That's all I wanted to know.

Mr. McDermott:

The architectural services that were provided for this project was one of the poorest jobs I had ever seen.

Michelle Madoff:

What was the architect?

Mr. McDermott:

I will not name him at the table.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sorry. I want to know who the architect was.

Mr. McDermott:

Well, I don't have that information with me.

Michelle Madoff:

Was it in-house?

Mr. McDermott:

No, it was not.

Michelle Madoff:

Are you suing the architect?

Mr. McDermott:

We will contemplate that at the completion of these jobs.

Michelle Madoff:

Did somebody learn something from that. That I am not entirely a nut; that when I tell you that these overruns are overruns and that you are not getting the proper scope of work, and then we get poor Paul having to take the heat that we should not --

Mr. McDermott:

That's my job.

Michelle Madoff:

No, no. We all understand that one of the jobs when you are elected to the City Council is scapegoating. But there is no reason why we should have to scapegoat anymore than necessary. So, in this particular instance, we are asking for $34,000 in extras. I'm sorry. $15,000 on a $34,000 job, we are asking for 40 percent more than what the job called for. Who got the contract?

Mr. McDermott:

Well, this particular contract was Apex Associates.

Michelle Madoff:

Who was the principle?

Mr. McDermott:

R. Tillilie is the President.

Michelle Madoff:

Has he done any work with the City?

Mr. McDermott:

Not to my knowledge. It's not Mr. Tillilie's problem. The problem is with extra work. What is designated as extra work at this time was not identified as the original part of the contract. It was not recognized or not added to the original contract documents. Once the job was started, it was deemed that it was important to have this work done. Had it been in the original contract documents, it would have been in the original bid price. Some of it was unforeseen due to the heavier fire trucks that are now being ordered, which was not known at the time the design was done, we had to tear that floor out and as a result of tearing that old floor out, we had to do some of the wiring and the new lighting as a result of taking out that existing truck bay floor.

Michelle Madoff:

But you're saying that perhaps we ought to be a little more selective about our engineering and our long-term planning. It happens in the City. Nobody knows better than you that you put in new streets and then along comes the gas company and tears up the street and the street is out of use, when we could have been doing it collectively or when we could have been doing it in some kind of sequence that makes sense.

Paul, see what you can do about getting the new scope of work because I'm going to watch everything on scope of work, and I told you there is a contractor in town who says he will give up his business. He makes $4 million a year. If he could just deal with our overruns.

Mr. McDermott:

How would he deal with our overruns?

Michelle Madoff:

By bringing down the price. He could live nicely on the money.

Mr. McDermott:

How would he do this —

Michelle Madoff:

I'm making a point that we better get our house in order.

One quick question. I presume that you will not rush out to use this architect again?

Mr. McDermott:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you.

Which was read.

Mr. Pollock:

First of all, I would like my comments from the Committee Meeting brought forth.

(BEGINNING - MR. POLLOCK'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 188 - WEDNESDAY, 2/12/86)

Mr. Pollock:

This was a conditional use application that appeared first before the Planning Commission. At the time, there was numerous neighborhood opposition to the plan with consideration of the negative traffic impact, the negative impact on already scarce parking in the area and other concerns involving aesthetics.

The facility which is being proposed in addition to the parking garage is a more than 300 seat conference center which will generate enormous amount of traffic and parking when the conferences are held.

The members of the Northside community contacted me to express their dissatisfaction with this proposal. They told me it was going to be approved by the Planning Commission which, in fact, it was and they told me they were going to be coming down to Council to express their opposition. In the interest of avoiding that, I tried to bring the parties together and did, in fact, bring the parties together. Mr. David Campbell, President of the Hospital, Seymour Schafer, the Attorney for the Hospital, and members of four different neighborhood groups. On two separate occasions, we met for extended periods of time in the City Council conference room and I'm very happy to say that this past Saturday we reached an agreement which I will read into the record on Monday which basically provides that because of the numerous concessions made by the hospital, who I must commend at this time for being extremely cooperative and helping the community and not having a negative impact on the community, that because of these concessions and because the neighborhood groups and leaders on the Northside are satisfied with this, that the opposition to this conditional use application by the Northside residents is no longer in existence and they in fact now support this.

So, with that, I am very delighted to move for a positive and affirmative recommendation.

(END OF REMARKS)

(BEGINNING - MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING - REQUESTED BY MR. POLLOCK)

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

This memorandum is to set forth the understanding between and among Allegheny General Hospital (hereinafter "Hospital") and the Northside neighborhood groups, Central Northside Neighborhood Council, East Allegheny Community Council, Fineview Citizens Council and the Northside Conference, (hereinafter these groups are jointly identified as "the neighbors"), as represented by their respective Presidents, Barbara Burns, of East Allegheny Citizens Council, Randy Zotter of Mexican War Streets, Delores Swartworth of Fineview and Nancy Schaefer, Director of Northside Conference. This agreement was reached after negotiations in the Pittsburgh City Council conference room on January 28, 1986 and February 8, 1986 at which time Mr. David Campbell, the President, and Seymour Schafer, Esq. represented the Hospital and the above-named individuals represented the neighbors. Also present was Mark H. Pollock, Member of Council of the City of Pittsburgh, who participated in the negotiations.

The parties were brought together as a result of a conditional use application (No. 552) filed by the Hospital in furtherance of its plan to, inter alia, construct a parking garage of 925 parking spaces, to construct an educational conference center of 10,800 gross square feet housing a 300 seat auditorium and smaller meeting rooms and to make the necessary traffic circulation improvements to mitigate the traffic impacts of the proposed garage. Certain aspects of the Hospital's planned construction and development presented grave concerns to residents of the adjacent neighborhoods.

With the desire of reaching an amicable resolution of the problems and to eliminate the necessity of a public hearing before City Council, the parties met on the two above-indicated dates. The specific problems set forth by the neighbors concerned the construction of the new parking garage and its impact on traffic flow around the Hospital, the possible negative impact on the parking availability adjacent the Hospital created by the construction of the 300 seat conference center and, in general, the perceived problem of the Hospital's continued expansion and development. As a result of these meetings, the parties reached the following agreement.

1) The Hospital agrees to widen James Street from the exit of its James Street parking garage to North Avenue, making every possible attempt to provide greenspace or landscaping between its structure and the widened James Street. In addition, in assigning parking spaces to its employees, the Hospital will examine the location of the residences of its employees in an effort to determine the likely driving route of the employees to the Hospital's garages, with the intent of maximizing the traffic flow about the Hospital.

2) The Hospital agrees to landscape its existing surface parking lot on James Street so as to protect it from the view of the nearby residences.

3) The Hospital agrees to convey the property which it owns at 1408 James Street for the same sum for which it purchased said property to the East Allegheny Community Council, Incorporated, or its designee as soon as is reasonably feasible, to be used as an owner-occupied, single family residence.

4) The Hospital agrees to continue to make a good faith study of the possibility of implementing a valet parking procedure at its proposed parking garage on Hemlock Street and/or its existing surface parking lot on James Street for the purpose of handling the additional parking requirements necessitated by the use of the proposed conference center. Should said study reveal that valet parking is not feasible at either site, the Hospital agrees to provide parking for outside attendees at the Allegheny Center Mall parking garage, or other appropriate off-site parking facility, and to specifically inform all attendees that this parking is available and is included in the cost of the program they are attending at no extra charge to them. In addition, the Hospital agrees to review the results of the aforesaid study with the neighbors.

5) The neighbors agree that they will not request a public hearing on any matter related to the aforesaid conditional use application, will attempt to dissuade the residents of the Northside from petitioning City Council for a public hearing on any matter related to said conditional use application and will, in fact, support said conditional use application.

6) All parties agree that meetings on a regular basis should be held for the purpose of maintaining greater understanding and harmony between the parties.

For the Hospital:

David Campbell, President

Seymour Schafer, Esq.

For the Neighbors:

Barbara Burns, President
East Allegheny Community Council

Randy Zotter, Vice President
Central Northside Neighborhood Council

Delores Swartworth, President
Fineview Citizens Council

Nancy Schaefer, Director
Northside Conference

Mark H. Pollock, Chairman
City Council Committee on Planning, Housing and Development

Date: February 14, 1986

(END OF MEMORANDUM)

Mr. Pollock:

Secondly, I would like to call my colleagues' attention to the Memorandum of Understanding which I have distributed to all of them, which I am very delighted to say has been executed by all the parties concerned, the four neighborhood groups, by their Presidents, Barbara Burns, President of the East Allegheny Community Council; Randy Zotter, Vice President of the Central Northside Neighborhood Council; Delores Swartworth, President of Fiveview Citizens Council; Nancy Schaefer, Director of the Northside Conference; and by David J. Campbell, the President of Allegheny General Hospital and by Seymour Schafer, the attorney for Allegheny General Hospital.

I would like the record to reflect that these parties were brought together because of the conditional use application of Bill No. 188 and because there was a great deal of apprehension and misunderstanding between the parties concerning the conditional use application.

The parties were able to sit down over two separate meetings and work out the differences. I think that the give and take was extremely cordial, the parties were very conciliatory, and I would like at this time to commend them on the way in which they were able to resolve what could have been a thorny situation in an amicable manner. I would especially like to thank David Campbell, the President of Allegheny General, for the way in which he conducted himself and the manner in which he was able to satisfy the neighborhood citizens on their concerns.

Allegheny General is a marvelous institution; the City of Pittsburgh should be proud and happy that it is part of the City of Pittsburgh. It's not leaving the City like many other hospitals are doing and, not only is it a good hospital but it's now showing that it is a good neighbor.

So, I would like the record to reflect all this and I would not only like to commend these parties but also thank them for all of their time and their desire to have this resolved.

The Chair:

Mark, are you asking that this agreement be part of the legislation?

Mr. Pollock:

Yes.

The Chair:

Would you like to make that in the form of a motion.

Mr. Pollock:

So moved.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

That's exactly what I was going to say; you beat me to the punch.

The Chair:

I'm sorry I did that.

Mr. Givens:

I have one good comment to make. I thank Mark for the extra work that he has done on behalf of Council and I think not only he but other Councilmembers, including myself, are definitely involved in that and it was a complicated affair and I think he handled it very nicely.

Mark, this is the first time, however, that I've seen such a memorandum be attached to any legislative bill and I just only read it when I came out here today. Before, it was always a verbal agreement between parties, etc. Is there anything, and I'm sure you probably looked up the legality, is there anything legally forbidding a memorandum of understanding being attached to the bill and the fact that Council cannot enter into any contracts, I know that, but I would take that one step further. Can we attach anything to a bill legally?

Mr. Pollock:

My search reveals that there's nothing that forbids it. It is not an agreement to which Council is a signatory; it is a memorandum of understanding of a private agreement between private citizens and I'm just putting it in to show how the parties resolved it between themselves. There's nothing in it that binds the City of Pittsburgh or the Council. My signature to it was only as a witness to the other party signatures.

Mr. Givens:

Okay, did the conditional use exception require automatically a public hearing?

Mr. Pollock:

No, it did not.

Mr. Givens:

So it was one that the citizens wanted to make protest, etc.

Has there been any notification given to the residents abutting and surrounding that area that in fact this has happened? In fact, you only consummated this deal, I think --

Mr. Pollock:

A week ago Saturday.

Mr. Givens:

How was that then distributed to, even though you have the various presidents, the various neighborhood groups, they are an entity out there just like any other. We have a committee system out there in some neighborhoods; we also have neighborhood advisory groups. How did the citizens abutting this particular property - had they been notified of this memorandum of understanding? How was it conveyed to them?

The Chair:

Dick, they were represented very well in that particular part of Northside, especially around Allegheny General Hospital.

Mr. Givens:

I know they all do, but I can say in my own neighborhood that in some cases the community organization does not speak, in all cases, on behalf of all the citizens. So, my question is, do the Northside residents abutting this area that don't have a formal connection with or attend meetings of the various neighborhood organizations, have those people been in any way shortchanged or have they been notified that there will not now be a public hearing?

The Chair:

I think everyone is well aware of it and, believe me, if there had been any descending voice at all we would have heard about it from last Wednesday to this time.

Mr. Givens:

As I indicated, Mr. President, this is the first time I read it and I'm hoping that the people in the community have read it.

I don't think there's a problem if we pass this bill in final; that's my only concern. The people in the community that have not received this information, I hope that we might not hear from them later and that they would be very disgruntled at the fact that we did not give them due process.

Mr. Pollock:

Two items I'd like to respond to, Mr. Givens. Number one, there was no requirement for a public hearing by Council, so there was no requirement to notify them.

Number two, all the parties abutting the conditional use application zone were informed of the hearing before the Planning Commission. The parties who are signatory to this agreement were the only parties that appeared there and expressed discontent with it.

So, those parties that ever expressed discontent on the record were the ones that were signatory to this understanding.

Mr. Givens:

One final comment, if I may, Mr. President, and that is that I'd like again to thank you, Mark, because it was a very touchy situation. When I read the minutes or hearing of the people, of course, the heliport was also deeply involved in this thing and I can see, by reading this memorandum, where you separated that particular issue and that was one issue also of further development of the hospital complex. So that separated the two issues apparently and I commend you for it. I think if all the people on the various committees would do this this Council would be much more peaceful because, had that come to a public hearing, it would have been a no-win situation for the Council people who probably would have sent it back to the Planning Commission who should have possibly have done a little bit more spade work before it finally came up to them because it was a very sensitive and a very flammable situation that would have stopped the growth of the hospital and needed parking solution to all their problems down there and some other recommendations of what other hospitals are doing throughout the City and would accommodate some of the congestion that we have around and abutting our local hospital that infringe upon those people who live in that particular area. Thank you, Mark.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to remind my colleagues that for the eight years I've served here I think six of them I have tried to get a legal counsel for members of Council and I've been voted down. It's been very close; I think once we got as close as four or five and I am delighted that Mark Pollock who is an attorney is with us. Had we been able to get the fifth vote, a lot of the issues would have been resolved amicable and I think Mark should be congratulated for taking it upon himself to share his expertise in the legal field to really do an outstanding job and he should get full credit for it.

Mr. Pollock:

I'll be submitting a bill for my regular hourly rate later on.

Michelle Madoff:

And I think we should pay it.

Mr. Pollock:

I do not want to let something pass. The reason why this was not submitted to my colleagues prior was because I did not receive the signed copy until today. That's the only reason why you didn't get it earlier.

Mr. Wagner:

If I may make a comment in regard to that same bill. Just this morning, myself and my assistant, Caroline Pilewski, were at Allegheny General to review their operations and they have indicated that they are now beginning to have periodic meetings with the neighborhood around them. The purpose of the meeting was to get acquainted and also to take a look at the heliport operations that they have. I know it's not in relation to this bill, Mr. President, but they have even agreed on a new flight path for their heliport which I think is very significant.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Also,

Mr. DePasquale presented

Bill No. 286

Report of the Committee on Engineering and Construction for February 12, 1986 transmitting two resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 162

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution authorizing and directing the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Engineering and Construction for and on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh to enter into an Agreement with Calvary Cemetery, Browns Hill Road, relating to the construction and maintenance of a traffic signal along Browns Hill Road on cemetery property in the 15th Ward, City of Pittsburgh."

Which was read.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. Givens reminded me that that should have been in Public Works rather than in Engineering and Construction. So, could we amend that?

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, and Bill 162, I'd like to amend that and the easiest way to do that is to put in where it says "Resolution" in the bill itself, right after the words "Department of Engineering and Construction" add, "Director of the Department of Public Works". On Section 1 use the same thing after "Department of Engineering and Construction" put in there "Director of the Department of Public Works" and on Section 2 where it says "Engineering and Construction", add "Department of Public Works".

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

On the bill itself. I know there's a terrible, terrible shortage in the City. All of us are inundated in our offices for traffic lights. There isn't a Councilmember that isn't called constantly for school crossing lights, traffic lights, and generally we have to turn them down; they are very costly. There is not one yet at Station Square when you go across the bridge. It's like taking your life in your hands.

I would like to know how this bill for a cemetery got passed before having a light placed near Station Square. Could someone explain that to me? Mr. Woods, would you care to explain it?

The Chair:

I guess this bill came up before the other bill. That's all I can say.

Michelle Madoff:

Well I cannot vote for it until I know why.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, I'm familiar with this. It is cemetery property but the street is on Brownhill Road. It's for construction that's going on right up from the Wendy's and the Buy Wise there. They're going to have to tear up that street and when they do that they're going to have to take out the stop light. So, people coming out of that Buy Wise parking lot will be risking their lives without a stop light there. This bill puts a stop light back after the construction is undertaken.

Michelle Madoff:

So we're not putting another light, we're just putting in the same light that was there?

Mr. Pollock:

Right.

Michelle Madoff:

Wouldn't it be nice if we had an attorney on Council who could advise us?

The Chair:

Michelle, thank you very much.

Mr. O'Malley:

Michelle, the light you're talking about by the Smithfield Street Bridge, I think that's one of the busiest intersections in the county but that's PennDOT; it's not the City of Pittsburgh. That's the responsibility of PennDOT and from my understanding there are plans to install traffic signals when the construction on the Pat Busway is finished.

Michelle Madoff:

In the year 2001?

Mr. Wagner:

In regard to that bill on that traffic light, that's part of a major reconstruction project on Brownhill Road of which the county is paying for the majority of that project.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't have a problem with it but I do think we have some priorities in the City. We do have residents who do go across that Smithfield Street Bridge at Station Square and that has been a disaster forever. We need something done there. I don't care if it's Port Authority or if it's the City; somebody on this Council has got to move to do something about it.

The Chair:

Mr. DePasquale will look into that. It's under his Committee.

Mr. DePasquale:

If I may make one comment in regards to what Mr. O'Malley said, I wasn't aware of the fact that that reconstruction was actually on the road but I thought all street lighting was the prerogative of the City of Pittsburgh. I'm pretty sure, Jim.

The Chair:

Will you check it out, Jeep?

Mr. DePasquale:

I will check it out.

The Chair:

Thank you very much.

Also,

Bill No. 208

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution further amending Resolution No. 319, effective April 10, 1985, as amended by Resolution No. 1081, effective December 4, 1985, entitled: 'Providing for an Agreement or Agreements with a Consultant or Consultants to perform professional services on various City facilities on an as-needed basis, in response to the Capital Budget Program; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof,' by increasing the total project allocation by $60,000.00."

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I'd like to call forward some gentlemen in the audience. David Kurtanich, Lisle Williams, Larry Young and Earl McCabe; would they please come forward?

The Chair presents

No. 287 WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh has always been a national leader in Engineering, whether it be research or in actual practice, with the engineering community supporting the many building projects, subways, busways, bridges and other construction projects underway in our city; and

BECAUSE Engineers have always played an important part in the development of this Country, especially Allegheny County with its difficult terrain creating the necessity for our many tunnels and beautiful bridges; and

ALSO BECAUSE the City of Pittsburgh wishes to recognize the over seventeen-thousand engineers and scientists represented by over forty technical societies such as the National Society of Professional Engineers which sponsors "Engineers' Week"; and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh recognizes the winner of the Pittsburgh Chapter's PSPE 1985 Professional Engineers' Distinguished Service Award to be John F. Graham, Jr. P.E., Director of the Allegheny County's Department of Engineering and Construction;

AND, the City of Pittsburgh also recognizes the achievements of other notable engineers such as William Schaefer, P.E., 1985 Dedicated Service Award winner and Joseph P. Fagan, E.I.T. 1985 "Young Engineer"; and

WHILE the theme of National Engineers' Week, "ENGINEERS: Turning Ideas into Reality" is quite an appropriate theme considering the ideas which were required to transform Pittsburgh into the "Number One" City that it has become.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby proclaim the week of February 16th to 22nd, 1986 as "Engineers' Week" throughout the City of Pittsburgh and expresses our appreciation for the achievements of those engineers who have done so much in bettering their communities and in contributing so extensively to the vitality and progress of the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

If I could at this time have Lisle Williams come up and following him will be Earl McCabe to say a few words on Engineering Week.

Mr. Williams:

Thank you. National Engineers'

Week is celebrated February 16th through the 22nd, 1986. National Engineers' Week is the one time each year all engineers have the opportunity to come together and celebrate the profession. Through this celebration, we promote public recognition of all engineers and engineering accomplishments. This year's theme, "ENGINEERS: Turning Ideas Into Reality", is most appropriate. The theme is intended to highlight the image of the engineer as an innovator.

Engineers' Week has been celebrated since 1951 nationally of which Pittsburgh is the third largest chapter in the United States and actively participates in those activities each year. With that, this past Saturday we had our second math competition out at CMU whereby 18 schools, either Parochial or City of Pittsburgh schools participated, along with their coaches and the encouragement of their parents and I will say that for the seventh and eighth graders of this area, we are fortunate that we had so many of them participate and take part in this particular program.

As an additional attraction this year we had an item that our President-elect, Earl McCabe will speak briefly on regarding the most engineering accomplishments in the Pittsburgh region.

With that, I'd like to turn the program back to Earl after just thanking City Council. This is my first Chamber meeting that I've had the opportunity to attend and I'm really delighted. Thank you.

Mr. McCabe:

Thank you. I'd like to bring the attention of City Council back to 1985, in May, the Pittsburgh chapter was 50 years old. In honor of that event, we took a survey of all our members and a special committee to pick the outstanding engineering achievements in Pittsburgh and Allegheny County. This community, we selected as the number one member was Mayor Caliguiri of Pittsburgh. We also had Paul McDermott, the Engineering Director of Pittsburgh; John Fred Graham, Jr., the Engineering Director of Allegheny County; Y.T. Shaw, the Dean of Engineering at Pitt; Colonel Rockbloom of the Court of Engineers; Henry Nutbrown with PennDOT; Robert Peace of Allegheny Conference; the History and Landmarks Society; Lisle Williams of our Chapter; Ruth Ann Armour, President of the Women's Engineers. We formed this committee and they picked also.

It's very interesting, the picks of both groups. Number one was the design of Shippensburg which was the first atomic power station generating commercial power in the United States and the first in the world for explosive use of commercial power. Of the special group, their second pick was the subway. Their third pick was the design of the Nautilus which was the first atomic powered submarine. Our records picked second the Civic Arena which was the first retractable roof of it's kind and the third choice was the subway.

So, you can see that Pittsburgh and Allegheny County engineers are really at the front of engineering technology and we have a number of firsts. Both Westinghouse and Duquesne Light are Pittsburgh-based corporations and I think we literally have turned ideas into reality.

Thank you for permitting us to come here today.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to know where your convention is going to be this year?

Mr. McCabe:

The engineering banquet is going to be at the Edgewood Country Club on Saturday.

Michelle Madoff:

Don't you have an Engineers' Association, a National Association, that has its convention sometimes in Pittsburgh but usually in Cleveland or somewhere? It's one of the largest conventions in the country.

Mr. Williams:

We just had it in Fort Worth, Texas.

Michelle Madoff:

How about it in Pittsburgh next year? We need the business.

Mr. Givens:

These four resolutions, if you could take them back to your various engineering firms and contracting firms and again, from the Council and from the President of Council who introduced this bill, if we could in fact send our heartfelt gratitude towards those people who have done this for the City of Pittsburgh and it goes even beyond that. Our space shuttle, we know that Rockwell which is based here in Pittsburgh, and that's a different type of engineering, aero-space engineering, but we are endowed and blessed with both engineers engineering schools, and people who have that adaptability to go out there and change the face of our community and other communities throughout the country. For that, we will pass out these resolutions. Please take them back and hang them in an appropriate space. Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you very much, gentlemen.

Mr. Givens presents

No. 288 WHEREAS, Lee Iacocca has served the nation in an outstanding patriotic fashion for the past four years by volunteering his leadership in the national campaign to raise funds to restore the Statue of Liberty; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Iacocca was unreasonably removed from his position on the Federal Advisory Commission on the future of the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island by Interior Secretary Donald P. Hodel over the potential appearance of a conflict of interest with his Chairmanship of the private foundation through which he has raised over $233 million dollars for this restoration project; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Iacocca has also distinguished himself as Chairman of the Chrysler Corporation and epitomizes the fulfillment of the American dream for the millions of men and women whose immigrant parents entered this country through Ellis Island and for whom the Statue of Liberty is the symbol of hope, opportunity and renewal; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Iacocca's public leadership, professional experience and patriotic guidance are needed to complete the restoration of the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island in the unified spirit in which the project began.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh urges Interior Secretary

Donald P. Hodel to reappoint Lee Iacocca to the Federal Advisory Commission to insure that this outstanding American's work will bring to fruition and splendor the nation's dream for the full restoration of the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island, national symbols of our common immigrant heritage.

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Opposed. Discussion. The reason I would like to make the comment is that if people have been reading what is happening, there's no question that Mr. Iacocca has done an outstanding job but there seems to be a dichotomy between the two factions. One wants to build something like a Disneyland next to it and the other wants to build an ethnic park and there are people who are saying there should be nothing built next to the Statue of Liberty, it should stand alone, and I think that Mr. Iacocca who is certainly respected and has been complimented regarding the due respect due him and I don't think this resolution is in order. It's like taking sides in a private battle.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, I have a motion that the President and the Chairman of the Committee on Public Hearings set a public hearing on the question of the starting time of the 1986 Pittsburgh Marathon because of the enormous amount of public interest in this and the apparently irreconcilable differences, that there should be a public airing of the different sides so that the Pittsburgh Marathon Committee can be better informed.

The Chair:

Mark, I would like if you would not make that motion just now. I've talked to Larry Kuzmanko --

Mr. Pollock:

I spoke to him today.

The Chair:

I talked to him just before the meeting and he asked me not to do it today because they think they can work it out. Let's give him another week or so. Would that be okay?

Mr. Pollock:

Fine.

Michelle Madoff:

You're taking the words out of my mouth again. I was going to say let's not rush it because I think reasonable people can work out a reasonable solution and I think there's been enough said in the media that I think they will, the association of churches and the people running the marathon are going to sit down and try to work out the differences.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, as all of you probably have heard, Friday was a very joyous day in that the Clark Candy Company decided to change their original position and stay in the Pittsburgh area. I'd just like to mention this for the record and I'd like to compliment some people that had been involved in this negotiation that has gone on since November of last year when Clark made a public announcement on November 13th that they were relocating their Pittsburgh operation to Chicago.

Since that time, there has been a tremendous amount of effort put forth to save that company here in the Pittsburgh area. I mention the Pittsburgh area because they did not decide to relocate in Pittsburgh. They were given approximately ten alternative locations to look at. Out of that ten, six or seven were Pittsburgh locations. They chose a location in O'Hara Township at the RIDC park. What it came down to was, O'Hara Township versus the City of Chicago and, obviously, the task force, the unions, and all that were part of it, favored that location.

We have considered all along the Clark Candy Company to be as important to Pittsburgh as the Pittsburgh Pirates. Both have been in existence for almost as long; over the last 15 years they have been actual neighbors over on the North Side and there has been a tremendous amount that has gone in to save that company.

Primarily, I'd like to recognize the two unions that operate out of Clark Candy; the Bakery Confectionary and Tobacco Workers, which are headed up by Sam Pappa and Larry Turner, and the Operating Engineers, which are headed up by Gerald McCaffery and Mark Duffy. Those two unions took wage concessions; they even took a temporary cutback in personnel to move to the new location and they've bent as much as they could bend to save those jobs here in Pittsburgh. I think there's something very positive to be said for that in that this town is traditionally known as a strong union town that doesn't bend much when it comes to negotiations. I think these two unions in particular have sent a very positive message out, country-wide, that labor in Pittsburgh is the type of labor today in this modern era that is willing to understand the total economic picture of the company to keep it competitive. They have certainly showed that in the Clark negotiations. Even though there's going to be some cutbacks in jobs, hopefully, those jobs will be regained.

A couple other people I'd like to mention in particular that really took the ball and ran with it and this individual more than anyone in the whole Clark Candy situation, I know you saw the media announcements and you saw various people involved in it, if it wasn't for Brooks Robinson, the head of RIDC, the Clark Candy would not have stayed in Pittsburgh. He is the person that really got down to the particulars of how to keep a company here, made several trips to Chicago, one trip I was with him on, and others, he has met with that company, Clark, and their parent company, continuously for the last two months. He played an extremely important part in saving Clark Candy Company in Pittsburgh. In addition to him, Jay Aldridge of Penn Southwest played a critical part also. Both Brooks and Jay, I was very impressed with. I know Mark sat in on the first meeting when we talked with these people here in Pittsburgh and those two can really speak with authority, can be innovative, and know how to talk the language of the corporate leaders.

The last group I'd like to compliment, and this is very important because many of the people watching this program were part of it, are the union members and the public. If you recall, Clark Candy put on a drive for letters, phone calls, postcards, to be sent to their corporate executive, Mr. Irky Reilo, back in November, December and January. As a matter of fact, this Council declared the month of January, 1986 as Save Clark Candy Month. But the estimated number of phone calls, letters, and postcards, was 10,000 that came from the people of Pittsburgh. All were sent directly to the Chairman of the Board and President of Leaf, Inc. If there was any one area that I think made them realize that the people of this City do not want to see that company leave, it was that message. They initially started to send back individual letters to respond to the cards and the letters and found out that it was an impossible task. They couldn't even do that.

So, I would just like to thank anyone and everyone and all of you for the resolution that passed here in Council to save Clark Candy and the people who did the little extra that the people of Pittsburgh are so commonly associated with doing in terms of saving this company.

The only sad note, well, the sad note is a result of this, besides the cutback of jobs is that we found out realistically that this City cannot compare when it comes to industrial locations with the suburbs. The RIDC parks that are located in the suburban areas have much more to offer than what any location in this City has. That was the message that we got from the Clark Candy people and that's the reason why they chose O'Hara Township. I think that message should tell us something about what I think we have to do in this City. We have to begin to find large parcels of property where we can put companies of this size and give them an opportunity to relocate out of these older plants that exist. We can't afford to lose the companies like Clark Candy that employ 100 or 200 people. So, I'm hoping that the efforts of this Council in the future will go towards determining locations where we can relocate these plants so that we don't not only have to lose them to other cities but even to suburbs.

That concludes my part on Clark Candy. I have another issue I'd like to discuss but just finally I'd like to thank everyone that was involved.

Michelle Madoff:

On Clark Candy. I would think it would be in order if you would make a motion, Mr. Wagner, to send a letter of thank you from this Council to Mr. Brooks Robinson and Mr. Jay Aldridge, in particular, and essentially summarizing what was said today. Rick is very good at that and we'll get a letter out to the unions so it's not just some words that were said here with nobody listening.

I would also personally like to thank Mr. Jack Wagner. I did not know that Mr. Pollock sat in at one of the meetings but it really is sad. You know, one of the services that Councilmembers offer when they get elected is scapegoating but we very seldom get recognized for things that we do that are positive. It serves more papers to get the negatives than the positives and I think the outstanding job that Mr. Wagner did, he was not here one week and he was out of town trying to do what he could to save Clark Candy.

I know that very frequently the incumbency, the power to incumbency, whoever is in office gets all the credit and maybe that's the way it should be if they're lucky enough to get elected or if people feel they should be the elected parties. It would be nice if that kind of honor were shared with the people who helped make it possible. It would be nice, and I would urge the Mayor, and I think he would be willing to do it and you might be willing to talk to him, Mr. President, to have that kind of letter duplicated coming from the Mayor to thank them. We'll send out letter and ask the Mayor to do likewise.

The Chair:

I think that Mike can send a letter to all the parties involved, the whole task force.

Mr. Pollock:

I think we would be remiss if we did not thank and acknowledge one person who had the desire and commitment to see that Clark Candy stay in this area and who was the person that put this task force together and that is, of course, Mayor Caliguiri, who had the insight and the foresight to bring together some of the greatest minds in the whole region in Jay Aldridge and Brooks Robinson and Jack Wagner. It was a very unselfish thing for the Mayor to have Clark Candy stay in the area when not staying in the City of Pittsburgh. He was able to see that it was more important to save the jobs for these people, even if he didn't benefit from it.

I would like to second what Michelle said about Jack because a lot of people go involved in this after Clark Candy announced that it was leaving but this was an issue that Jack was concerned with far before Clark Candy announced that they were leaving. He spent a great deal of time and effort finding locations for Clark to relocate to, personal time before the task force was ever composed and I think all of Council should send a special debt of gratitude to Jack. I think it was his energy and his desire to see that the Clark Candy stay that was the incentive to get this task force saved. So, I think a special debt of gratitude and to Jack.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, one other comment on the subject. Obviously our greatest concern with Clark Candy leaving was the loss of jobs. If I read correctly, they're moving to O'Hara Township and they're going from 140 jobs to 80 which is still a loss of 60 jobs. I was curious as to why they're eliminating 60 jobs. Are they streamlining or modernizing out there or what?

The Chair:

I think he stated that. It's just in the transition then they'll go back up once they get in operation. I think that was stated. Correct?

Mr. Wagner:

Well, it's partially that. It's the streamlining of the operation to make them more competitive. The present building they're in they are multi-story. There is a lot of materials handling; it's not a continuous flow of the process. By making it more of a continuous flow by bringing in more modern equipment, they actually are going to cut labor costs. But by cutting labor costs they can become more competitive. Their hopes are, by cutting labor costs to put more money into marketing the product to sell more product and produce more product; therefore, need more employees. So, they're hoping to get back to the original number.

Michelle Madoff:

This may be silly but I would love to see that Clark Bar sign remain exactly where it is. Can we do something to keep it there? Because it is a landmark.

Mr. Pollock:

They're working on that.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, this is a sensitive area to bring up but I think it's very important that we do it.

Council has one of our colleagues, and I thought Councilman O'Malley was here today — He was earlier —

Michelle Madoff:

He's here; he's just out in the hall.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, if I might. If Mr. O'Malley is present and we're going to talk about some very sensitive issues, I think Mr. O'Malley ought to be called forward.

The Chair:

I want to see where Mr. Wagner is going before we do anything.

Mr. Wagner:

First of all, I don't really want to talk about Mr. O'Malley; I want to talk about Council. I think it's important that publicly if the media in particular is making certain accusations about a Councilmember or Council in general, we must take a look at ourselves as to how we respond to situations like this and how it's done in a public fashion and whether or not we need to create any procedures by which we respond to it.

Continually, questions are being asked of me of which I can't answer, both by the media and by individuals. I think it's important that if those questions are going to happen, if they're going to continue whether they're about me or about any one of us, that we must have a procedure by which we can properly respond and send assurance back to the public that we are investigating our own situations with our own people.

I'm only bringing this issue up for comment because I know two weeks ago the issue initially came up and then we said that we were going to mention it the next week and we did not and since that time I have even had reporters ask me about that.

I think that we are creating an environment where the public will begin to question us as a body. I'm only throwing that out for discussion because we must have some procedure by which we respond to these situations and I think we need to initiate something like that.

The Chair:

Mr. Wagner, I'd be more than happy to discuss this at our meeting that will be on the 3rd. If you want to set up some kind of rules or if Council does, whatever, but I believe the issue that has been in the paper the last few weeks has gone way beyond Council doing anything or any type of investigating. It's now in other people's hands far more powerful than we are. I think that any one of us, no matter what we're accused of or what kind of accusations are made upon us, we have to defend, I don't know how we can do it, as a body, to defend one of our colleagues. But, I believe that if you want to discuss a procedure of what type of actions we make, I think that we can do it on Monday. If we want to change some kind of Council rule or something like that it would be perhaps at, I think our next meeting is March 3rd, the first Monday of the month. We'll make sure — Linda, would you please put that on the agenda and we can discuss it at that time.

Mr. Wagner:

Fine and I think we should do that. But I think we need to clearly define what a conflict of interest is to better protect each and every one of us. I think we need to define some things that have been mentioned in the media, various things, and if we don't, I think we are subjecting ourselves to public scrutiny as a body and not just individuals.

The Chair:

Jack, I totally agree with you but unfortunately, none of us here write for the papers. I've been interviewed, you've been interviewed, Ms. Madoff has been interviewed, and we stated that that wasn't the case, this was the case. But the media didn't print that. They printed what they wanted to print and we have no control over that. But I think the proper place for us, if we're going to set up procedures, let's discuss it on March 3rd and kick it around.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't have any problem with discussing it at a meeting and going into amendments to rules of Council. But I think it's a public issue and I think what Mr. Wagner is saying is well painted with the same brush. I think that what needs to be done is really very simple. Any one of us at any time can be accused by anybody of anything and we're going to have to defend ourselves as best we can, justly and unjustly. It happens to me very frequently. It used to happen a great deal by my colleagues and I had a lawsuit going; so, you handle it a one on one basis. However, on the premise that we're all painted with the same brush, I think it's incumbent that we do have some ground rules. For example, if anybody saw the news this week or read the newspapers, the Insituform started their project which I had a major hand in, probably orchestrated the whole thing, arranged for the company that is doing the public relations. You know that I got a letter from the Ethics Commission saying that it was absolutely ethical and you know it, Mr. Woods, because you and I have discussed it. I got a letter from the Law Department. But I felt that it was a conflict of interest because the Water and Sewer Department were leasing back their workers which were workers that I looked at their budget every year which is the Water Department, Public Works Department, and Construction and Engineering. And I felt that despite what was said, it would be perceived as a conflict of interest and that was $10,000 a year that I gave up. And that's a fact, folks.

There was in the newspapers a zinger that when I did KDKA that I had said the most important thing was my credibility and my honor and that I would never do anything that was a conflict of interest by doing the show. And I think that when I was on that show with KDKA, I invited every one of my colleagues, and everybody will tell you that I had you on, anybody could say what they wanted to, and I said nothing on the air that I wouldn't say here in Council. I did not abuse the situation and I also got a letter from the Ethics Commission to see if, indeed, there was a conflict because we had the Pirates vote and KDKA had that contract. As a matter of fact, it was Councilman O'Malley who questions whether I had a conflict of interest and it cost the City I think about $1,000, I don't know how much it was, to get a ruling because I had to hire an attorney.

So, what I'm saying basically, is let's not say we're going to discuss it in the back room where people are listening. Let's say that we're going to get a ruling from the Ethics Commission on items that we may want to do. I personally have a consulting firm. My consulting firm says, "Michelle Madoff - Consultant". It doesn't say Councilwoman Madoff - Consultant. But I am still a Councilwoman, the same way that Mr. O'Malley says he's not a lawyer. I think maybe some of the things he did were not the smartest but they may not have been --

The Chair:

Let's leave names out of this.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay. But the point I'm making, and I hope the message is getting across, that we can't put our heads in the sand and pretend that the public isn't looking at us. We cannot be ostriches. We cannot say, "Well, we can't help what the paper is writing" because we can put out a statement.

We should sit down with Mr. O'Malley and we should find out what happened. On the issues I know, I can speak. Some of the things I read in the paper I had no knowledge of. None. And some of the people doing the accusing have got a few skeletons in their own closets. I think that this Council ought to come together and review it. We should have a little inquiry and find out where the status is, and come out with a statement because until we start to do that and stop being the ostrich, we will be painted with the same brush and we will be considered the buffoons of the City.

The Chair:

My statement is that we discuss this, not in the back room, but in the Conference Room, at our monthly

Monday meeting and perhaps, as you say, we ask the Ethics Commission to define what is a conflict of interest, what isn't a conflict of interest, and then go from there, for all of our sakes.

Michelle Madoff:

That is the back room.

Mr. Givens:

I'd just like to make one comment. We have a conference room, I think it says Conference Room on the door. It doesn't say back room. That's the notion I don't particularly like.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. If it's not open to the public it's the back room.

Mr. DePasquale:

Very simply, Mr. President, I believe the Home Rule Charter outlines the conflict of interest or violations on the part of each Councilperson and, obviously, if there is a violation then it's the Ethics Commission's job or priority to do the investigating.

I feel, as I did in the past, that Council has a job to do in regards to legislation and other things other than investigating, not only our Council colleagues but anybody. All we can do is tend to muddying the water if we decide to have our own investigation, our own conversation on the matter. It's bad enough the way it is now, people out there, as soon as they read something in the paper they assume somebody is guilty. I don't care who it is; you, me, or anyone else. If we go any further, we're only making it worse, not any better.

I just say, let it go as it is. Let the Ethics Commission decide whether a violation of the Home Rule Charter has been made or not.

Mr. Wagner:

Can I make one last comment? I just want all my colleagues to realize that my desire on this issue is simply to create a procedure of clarification as to where we stand and not in any way to get involved in anyone's personal affairs. That's my whole intent. It could be any one of us involved in something that the public perceives or the media perceives to be a conflict of interest. And if we don't begin to respond to it, the public and the media is going to think that the entire Council is a conflict of interest.

The Chair:

I understand where you're coming from and that's why I suggest that we can discuss it more openly and I think when we tend to meet in the Conference Room we get things off our chests much better, as you're all aware from our first meeting, and I think it's healthier.

Mr. Pollock:

I'd like to say that I agree with you that we should discuss it in the Conference Room. But I think that after having done so, that you should either meet with the media to give them a statement or that we issue a statement as a result of our deliberations on the subject, but that we not remain silent on the issue.

Michelle Madoff:

You'll be happy to know that that's exactly what I was going to say. I just want to add one thing that when you call it the Conference Room, Mr. Givens, if the media isn't there, which is the guardian of the public's right to know, it's the back room.

The Chair:

I disagree with you. It's a Conference Room.

Michelle Madoff:

It's your right to disagree.

The Chair:

And the media is not permitted in there when we're having our own discussions.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, if I might. On the resolution I had adopted into the Council on Lee Iacocca, you know, it was very sad that that issue had to be confronted because they had picked the son of an immigrant to go up there and to head a fund-raising campaign or tear down the old Statue of Liberty. I took my hat off to Lee Iacocca when he went out there to raise some money, not knowing how much.

The resolution indicated the exact money that's in the Treasury right now, some $233 million. When I called up to Detroit to get the exact figures, it was more like $250 million already in the hopper and Lee himself indicated that it would be somewhere in the neighborhood of $300 million. As a Chairman of that particular committee, I take my hat off to him.

And the fact that the City of Pittsburgh has a part in that July 4th unveiling of the new Statue of Liberty, and the fact that all of us, most of us in this room anyway, have come in, our parents, our grandparents, etc., have come in through that immigration process — In fact, even one in this Council who did not vote for it, in fact, came into this country by the immigration way. It was very sad to me to hear a vote cast against this particular resolution that was put out here today by a son, an Italian son of, I think, a person that emulates the whole attitude of the American people and to people that are in foreign countries, especially many of our people from Europe, who come into this country with the beauty of wanting the dream of getting ahead. Our people have done that. Lee Iacocca has done that.

This 4th of July is supposed to be a tribute to our parents and our grandparents and others who have come into this country, to take their hat off and say to the rest of the world -- The people that are coming in from Haiti, the people who have come in from Cambodia and Thailand, and now they're coming up from Mexico because of the economic problems they're having down there. They're coming in from El Salvador; they have come in from Columbia and other countries when they have been under a strife down there, where they have been persecuted. We are, in fact, the beacon. That light on top of the Statue of Liberty stands for something; it means, come here people, and we will give you that freedom that you so desire. Any of us that have ever had that freedom taken away from us even for a minute, a second, an hour, a day, a year, two, five, ten years, you appreciate, truly appreciate, what that beacon stands for and what was driving Lee Iacocca, with all the other responsibilities he has of running a major corporation, to go out there and raise some $300 million. I tip my hat to him. And not only do I tip my hat to him, I feel so strongly about this particular issue that I'm going to start a petition here in the City of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, Southwestern Regional Planning, and I'm hoping that everyone else is going to jump on the bandwagon and let the Department of Interior know where this City stands when it comes down to Lee Iacocca and what he is trying to do for our forefathers.

Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. Pollock:

I'm going out and buy a Chevrolet this afternoon.

Michelle Madoff moved to excuse Mrs. Masloff for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Wagner moved to approve the Minutes of Monday, January 27, 1986 and Monday, February 3, 1986.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. DePasquale

PRESENTATIONS

The Chair:

We're going to change the order of business for today. We have two resolutions and we have a lot of people in here for these resolutions so I'd like to do them first, if we may. Mr. Wagner?

Mr. Wagner:

Thank you, Mr. President and members of Council. I'd like to ask the Gualtieri family, of which there are five members here, to please step forward for this resolution.

With us are Ginny Fiorilli, the late Fred Gualtieri's sister, John and Nich Gualtieri, Fred's brothers, and two sons, Michael and Ricky.

Mr. Wagner presents

No. 336 WHEREAS, the late Fred G. Gualtieri was one of the Pittsburgh area's strongest and most accomplished labor officials, a devout man of faith, a loving husband and father, and a dedicated community leader; and

WHEREAS, Fred G. Gualtieri, who raised his family in the Beechview neighborhood of Pittsburgh, was Business Manager of Boilermakers Local Union No. 154 for 23 years until his untimely death in 1983, and provided wise and creative leadership for the entire 36 years that he was active in organized labor; and

WHEREAS, though his union work was demanding and time-consuming, he still found time to assist numerous religious, social, charitable, and governmental organizations including the Correctional Industries Advisory Board of Pennsylvania, Assistance to Families of Crime, St. Anthony School for the Handicapped, Variety Club, Three Rivers Regatta, Port Authority Transit, Pittsburgh Housing Authority, Airport Advisory, and numerous Veterans groups, as well as raising funds for Children's Hospital, the Cerebral Palsy Foundation, Multiple Sclerosis, and the United Way; and,

WHEREAS, Mr. Gualtieri's legacy to our community includes his long-hoped-for dream of effective cooperation between the labor, business, and government sectors.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh recalls and honors the remarkable career and exemplary life of Fred G. Gualtieri on the occasion of the opening of the Fred G. Gualtieri Manor in Beechview Senior Citizens by the Housing Authority of the City of Pittsburgh, which will stand as a lasting memorial and tribute to the Gualtieri family.

Mr. Wagner moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Wagner:

Members of Council, prior to introducing the Gualtieri family, I'd just like to say, as all of you know, tomorrow is the opening of the Gualtieri Manor in Beechview, the first senior citizen housing building in Pittsburgh. Fred was a member of the Housing Authority; he was very instrumental in getting that building to move forward, and tomorrow we will be dedicating that. For that reason, the resolution today.

I knew Fred for a number of years; I've known the Gualtieri family for a number of years, and they've been a tremendous attribute, not only to our City but to our county and to this region.

I'd like to ask John, Fred's brother, to say a few words and introduce the family.

John Gualtieri:

I would like to personally thank the Housing Authority, members of Council, the Mayor. It's a privilege and honor to accept this for my brother. If he was here, he would be real overwhelmed.

On behalf of Fred's wife, Ruth, who could not be here today, his oldest son, Frederick, Jr., to the far right, his son, Michael, and his daughter, Mary Beth, my sister, Virginia, my brother, Nick, who came all the way from Boston for the dedication, it's both a privilege and an honor to accept this on behalf of my brother.

I want to thank you very much. It means very much to us.

The Chair:

Thank you. We'll see you tomorrow.

Michelle Madoff:

Ladies and gentlemen, members of Council, Mr. President and esteemed guests, I'd like to point out that the folder on my desk is the work, just the paperwork, that has gone into bringing about these statistics which we have before you today.

There were three resolutions introduced, actually, a fourth which is not significant in that it exempted those garages where cars were being parked by the owner so the rules did not apply but there were actually three bills. The first one which resulted in a hearing in June of 1983, a second one where Mr. Grabowski gutted the bill somewhere about June of 1984, and a final bill that took place October 8, 1984 and the laws governing the lighting of garages really went into effect in 1985.

We at the point where really these are giant step forward awards; they are not necessarily perfection awards. They're like the carrot and the stick. But I think you have to reward people for spending millions of dollars and thank them for the security that it has offered to all of us.

One of the things I'd like to point out in particular to the President of our Council because he's very effective in getting things done is that if you'll notice on our chart, these were figures given to us by the Police Department. They're having problems and have had problems in computing their own figures. For example, a police officer will turn in theft and another will say theft from auto. So, if you look at the bottom numbers, what you're getting is really a combination and I'll try to go through it.

You do know, of course, that rapes are generally not reported because of the stigma to women and therefore our rapes started off in 1983 at 8, 1984 - nothing, and we have 3 in 1985.

Robbery, that means somebody who was robbed, 29, 25, 16.

Simple assault, meaning where somebody didn't have to go to the hospital, we had nothing in 1983, 8 in 1984 and, again, we went down to 6 in 1985. Supposing we had no lighting there, supposing it had been a dark garage, that could have been 60 instead of 6.

In aggravated assault, we went 2, 2

and 0.

In burglaries, there's never been a tremendous problem from structure; that means, perhaps, the cashier's desk or going into a cash box.

But the big drop, and that is the one the Mayor has been very concerned about, and that's theft from autos. You've got to combine the two figures, the 6 and the 402, the 95, the 196 and the 60 and 79.

But what we're really looking at today is the bottom line. The bottom line, starting at '83, '84 and '85, we went 447 times, 326 to 166.

Now my resolution.

Michelle Madoff presents

No. 335 WHEREAS, the majority of downtown parking garages in the City of Pittsburgh are now well lit and have security guards and escort services; and

WHEREAS, the crime statistics for these garages show a significant decrease over the past few years as a result of the institution of the City's tougher garage security legislation; and

WHEREAS, a considerable number of dollars have been allocated for garage improvements through the Pittsburgh Parking Authority and the owners, managers and lessors, of parking garages in Downtown Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, these improvements have greatly enhanced both the physical and mental security of individuals who express delight in seeing these improvements; and

WHEREAS, the decrease in theft from automobiles, rapes, robberies and assaults has resulted in a general reduction of fear for the patrons using parking garages;

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh recognize the below-listed representatives from the downtown garages and the Mayor's Task Force on Women for their efforts in bringing about this compliance for improved lighting, alarm systems, security guards and surveillance, and present them with a GIANT STEP FORWARD award:

Mike Rodgers of Oliver Realty for PPG Tower
Thomas A. Streigel for USW Building
John Shakespeare and Tom McKeown of APCOA, Inc. for Gateway Center #4
Jack Brennan of Stanwix Parking on Stanwix Street
Norman Rockwell of Realty Operating Co. for One Mellon Bank Center
John Cominos of Liberty Parking for the Convention Center
Amos Orner, Jr. of Oxford Development for One Oxford Center
John Angel for U.S. Steel Building
Herbert Connor, Esq. of Chartiers Valley Industrial Community for the Manor Garage
Arthur P. Ziegler, Jr. for the Station Square Garage
Sister M. Rosita Wellinger for Saint Frances General Hospital
Michael J. Faix for Shadyside Hospital
William B. Turbert for West Penn Hospital
Robert Wunderley and Ernest Darby of Meyers Parking for Chatham Center
Meryl Stabile for Manor Garage, Westinghouse Building, U.S. Steel

Building,
One Mellon Bank Center, and Oxford Center
George Charlton for the Pittsburgh Parking Authority
The Mayor's Task Force on Women - Safety Committee
Carla Gedman
Brian Hill, Bureau of Building Inspection
Carmen Guenther
Mark White and J. Gary Kosinski for Allegheny Center

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Pollock seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

Meryl Stabile, would you say a few hundred words? I'm going to call on you to tell me the secret you told me about the saving on lighting.

Mr. Stabile:

Your parking pass is in the mail.

I don't really have much to say except that I would like to express to you, Michelle, that I do, and I think I speak on behalf of a lot of people here, really appreciate the positive attention that you're giving to the industry at this point. I thank you very much for it.

Michelle Madoff:

Would you tell them about the lighting; make me very happy. My birthday is in August but give me an early present. The money it saves on lighting by changing the lights.

Mr. Stabile:

Well, as I have said before, there are many situations where changing from fluorescent to high pressure sodium vapor lighting which was brighter lighting also cost less. There were many instances where we did save on utilities and there's no question about it.

Michelle Madoff:

You're a good man. Thank you.

I also want to point out that Gateway - is there someone here from Gateway? Would you please step forward? I spoke to somebody at Gateway who told me that in the process of ripping up the cement to get the lights, the wiring, they put in a mixture with the cement which would make the garages better so that they would not deteriorate from salt. Is that correct? So, we've got some positives, right.

I also want to thank everybody who fought me tooth and nail for turning around and being super, super people. The public thanks you which is much more important than my thanks for you. I really think you ought to give yourselves a round of applause.

Mr. Pollock:

I think first of all we owe all these ladies and gentlemen an apology for making them wait so long when we had the Committee Meeting continued today. It's nice of them to stick around to go forth with this.

I would also like to personally thank Michelle for the courage and initiative that she displayed in this legislation. I don't know how many people know it but this lighting bill was the first bill in the country. It's not perfect legislation; Meryl Stabile has informed me of some of the flaws in it and he's probably right, and probably Michelle would admit that he's right. But whenever you go first and you don't have other bills and legislation from around the country on which to base your own legislation, it takes a lot of guts and it takes a lot of initiative and you're going to have mistakes. But, right now, Michelle has a lot to be proud of. And I'd like to also thank and commend the Mayor's Task Force on Women with Jean Sickle as it's Executive Director who did so much of the work.

I think that Michelle should also point out, because she didn't, maybe in her humility of which we all know, that our legislation is being sent all over the country to other cities who are putting in similar garage lighting ordinances. And all the work that Jean Sickle and the Mayor's Task Force on Women did, and Michelle did, and Carmen Guenther did, is now being of benefit to citizens all over this country because the homework and the groundwork that they laid and did is being used all over the country for legislation. So, not only do the people of Pittsburgh owe Michelle and Jean Sickle and all of the garage operators who put this in a debt of gratitude, but the people of America owe them a debt of gratitude. So, I'd like to point that out and thank you again.

Michelle Madoff:

I just want to indulge just for one moment. Mr. Brian Hill, would you please come forward? He's very shy and he really had brought the amount of work, the success, to where it is today. Brian Hill is the Inspector, take a good look, folks, you'll be seeing lots of him, because nothing's perfect yet. As I said, it's the carrot and the stick and if you want to light it to ten foot candles, I won't cry.

Mr. Hill:

The only thing I want to tell you is that Michelle said we'll be out there keeping an eye on you and that's what we'll be doing. Thank you, Michelle.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, who is managing these garages today?

The Chair:

We'd like to thank you all very much for coming. Thank you.

Seybold for the sum of $3,000.00. The reason for the above Amendment is that the purchaser thought he was purchasing the building at 7044 Idlewild Street, Block 174-E, Lot 158 A, which is the adjoining building, and fronts on Idlewild Street, while 7044-1/2 Idlewild, the building that the City of Pittsburgh owns, should be listed as Rear Idlewild, or Fielding Way.

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Pollock

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant to Harold Shuler, Executor of the Estate of Barbara Shuler, Deceased, in the amount of $100,000.00 in full settlement of claim for personal injury, resulting in wrongful death of Plaintiff's decedent, and providing for the payment thereof."

Which was read.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, on Bill No. 263, which is the settlement of a lawsuit for the wrongful death action, I would ask that guidelines be set forth from the Department of Public Safety, Director Norton, and/or City Solicitor Dante Pellegrini concerning the proper action that the City Police should institute in chasing in hot pursuit of an alleged criminal so that incidents like this would not occur again. I would ask that these guidelines be set forth.

I realize that there is other litigation involving these types of action right now. Besides this lawsuit, there are other lawsuits and I know that because of that, Mr. Pellegrini and/or Mr. Norton would not want any statements of theirs put forth so that it might affect those lawsuits.

But I would like to have guidelines, if they're not already in place, be put in place so that occurrences like this would not happen in the future. What I'm talking about is that there should be a City policy regarding hot pursuit of cars so that other wrongful deaths or accidents do not occur and if these guidelines are not in place that they be immediately studied and be put in place.

The Chair:

If I could just add, since this incident they have been implemented and now we do have guidelines concerning that subject among other things.

Mr. Pollock:

Okay, if that's the case I would like that members of Council be sent copies of those guidelines so that we all know them.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Pollock

Also,

Bill No. 331

Report of the Committee on Finance for February 24, 1986 transmitting two resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 261

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution authorizing the Mayor and the City of Solicitor to enter into an Agreement or Agreements for the hiring of counsel to assist in the representation of the City of Pittsburgh, Richard S. Caliguiri, Eugene P. DePasquale, Ben Woods, Mark Pollock, Sophie Masloff, Michelle Madoff, Richard Givens, Stephen Grabowski, Jack Wagner and James O'Malley in the case of Metropolitan Pittsburgh Crusade for Voters, et. al. v. City of Pittsburgh, et. al., filed in the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania at C.A. No. 86-173, at a cost not to exceed $75,000.00, payable from Code Account No. 1075, Miscellaneous Services, Department of Law, Index Code No. 107508."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill 261 which is the filing of the voting for the $75,000 for defending ourselves in a lawsuit, I would like to point out that there is money available to hire two more attorneys in the Law Department. Subsequently, that same money, which is already budgeted, could be used to get us into position so that we could negotiate with the people who filed the lawsuit and not have to incur an additional $75,000 worth of debt.

Further, I'd like my comments, though I don't want to go through them again, brought forward from, and I think probably all of us want our comments brought forward, from the meeting that took place earlier today.

I think Mr. Pollock can speak for himself but I would like to support his position that we better get together as a body with the Administration, with the Mayor, who has told me that he has already gone public, as you know, that he supports the concept of combination. And let's find out where we stand before we start voting for monies of any substance to defend ourselves against what we don't even know as yet.

As I said, my greatest fear is defending ourselves and winning the lawsuit because if we win the lawsuit, we stay at large and then the issue becomes a black-white issue and that is very frightening.

The Chair:

If I may, and this is just - please, this is just a suggestion so don't anyone misunderstand me - if we're going to repeat what we just said at the Committee Meeting 15 minutes ago, I would please ask that you just ask that your remarks be brought forward. It's just a suggestion.

Mr. Pollock:

That's all I was going to say, that my remarks be brought forward.

Mr. Wagner:

I'd like my remarks brought forward.

The Chair:

Could I ask this? Could all of the remarks be brought forward into today's record from the Committee Meeting. Thank you.

(BEGINNING - COUNCIL'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 261 - MONDAY, 2/24/86)

Mr. Pollock:

Can Dan please come to the table?

Dan, are you aware of all the public opposition to this expenditure and, as I expressed when you were appearing before us at the public hearing, I would hate to see us spend money that you wouldn't have to spend if it becomes moot and the state legislative action proceeds. I understand everything you said and I appreciate it and I'm glad you made the points you did at the public hearing, on your personnel and staff, and the bitterness and possible permanent damage to the ambience and the cooperation between the public and the City Solicitor's Office might be permanently damaged — I'm aware of all of that.

I would like to see us bide time until we know which way the state legislature is going to proceed and that's why I was trying to see if the Law Department could file the answer which I'm sure you're capable of doing yourself, and more or less just trying to delay the legal action as long as possible until we know — we should know within some time what the state is going to do because they can't sit on it forever.

Dante Pellegrini
City Solicitor
City of Pittsburgh:

Unfortunately, as you know with federal court — first of all I don't know when it's going to come out of the state. You're not on an indefinite time period. They have definite rules as all discovery must be closed within 240 days and so on. The amount of hurs that will be spent, some of it will be spent in drafting the answer. A lot of it will be spent just in preparation. Now you make all of your preparations — no matter what you think may occur because if what you think will occur and in the state legislature it doesn't occur and you're not ready to go to trial then you're in serious trouble.

The other thing is, the $75,000 now, it's a lot of money and it sounds like a lot of money but in the overall scheme of things that is not a lot of money for this type of action and for the amount of work that needs to be done initially. I mean, we're going to eat up that $75,000 with just the discovery because when you're talking in terms of discovery you're talking in terms of hundreds of documents. This case is going to be the political history of Pittsburgh.

I don't think we can hold off but I think everyone has to realize, what are we doing in a lawsuit. Well, we have been sued — we did not pick the timing of this particular lawsuit. When you get a complaint, you must answer and you do your initial work and you stabilize the situation and other events in it and it doesn't foreclose anything and all it does is that you're initially trying to stabilize that situation and be prepared to go forward. So, we're not foreclosing anything, we're not foreclosing anything that the individuals had discussed on Friday, we're just trying to get ready and get it in a state that we can represent everyone here and everyone's informed. I think that's one of the crucial points. No one is ill-served by getting the best advice possible in this type of litigation and this is a specialized field. Plaintiff's counsel is out of Washington, D.C., but my understanding is that the person that's actually going to try it is out of Florida. So this is a specialized area and everyone should get the best advice possible and that advice has cost a lot of money. The plaintiff's are going to pay a lot of money also.

Mr. Pollock:

Dan, I agree with you totally that if in fact the case has to proceed that we do obtain the best counsel possible and I have no doubt that law firm who you found is the best counsel available and we should in fact use them. My purpose is to try and see if we can forestall the action, and I think what we have to do is get the plaintiffs involved in this and after the public hearing on Friday, Michelle had some discussions as did I and we both feel that there's a possibility of speaking with the plaintiffs and having them forestall the action while discussions are being held. I'm sure that they're not in any desire to spend money needlessly any more than the City is and that maybe by having discussions, obviously if both parties agree to delay the discovery time then you can go into court and get a consent order to delay the discovery and I think we should really pursue that at this time.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't have any problem with pursuing that and all that does is it means that the initial number of hours that we use goes way down. My own feeling on that, and I haven't talked to any of the people involved, everyone knew that there was a go in the state legislature and they timed this lawsuit knowing full well that the bill would have come out, but I don't have any problems in discussing it and as you know in federal court we just can't say we're not going to put this issue on top of Judge Ziegler, but I think it's important that we get Council on right away and that he does the initial preparation. I don't know if you've had a chance to read the complaint but there was a number of hours invested in this complaint. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if they have $10,000 to $15,000 invested in the complaint on their side. So, what we want to do is get to the same stage that they are. They seem to have a lot of ideas about what they want to do, where they want to go and we should be at the same stage and they shouldn't expect us to do anything now or consider anything now because we're not at a stage where we can do that. My guess is that there is about 30 different defendants in this action. This is a rough book and there's a whole sheet. That all has to be sorted out, that all has to be coordinated. Some of them want out, some of them are going to have to be out, but before we know whether we can do anything we have to know what the preliminary status of this lawsuit is and that's why we need the money now.

Mr. Pollock:

Okay, you stated that this complaint was very similar as the one filed in California. You can easily obtain a copy of the answer that was filed — I assume by the same firm that we're talking to here, and what I'm asking is for you to consider, and what I would advise is that the City Law Department file an answer, obtain a copy of the answer filed by the law firm, the same law firm we're talking to in the California case, file an answer which puts you in the same position as the plaintiffs are in, start talking to the plaintiffs about trying to amicably resolve this or delay it until the state determines whether or not it will put in an act that would make this whole case moot, and just have both parties stop. As I said, they're not in any hurry to spend money and if we just have the Law Department start to have the discussions, then we wouldn't have to spend any money at all.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't have any problem with discussing that but what I would suggest — first of all I think it's easier to go and get an answer — there's two problems with it. This was tailored for Pittsburgh but more importantly it would be somewhat ironic that the law firm that we're requesting to use we go out and steal their work product and bring it back. It's done all the time and I know that, but if for whatever reason the legislature doesn't do what it's supposed to do and we have to go forward with the litigation, this firm should be in place, they should at least have the basic preparation done and so if we have to spend that money now it's well worth it being spent now. It doesn't foreclose any of the options that you're suggesting and I will call plaintiff's counsel and see if they want to do a standstill agreement until they see what the State Legislature does, that's fine, but I think this law firm should be in place, that we should have some of the basic work done because you should get -- and the City should have the best advice available when it comes the time that there's no standstill, number one, if there's no standstill we still must go forward, and number two, if the State Legislature doesn't pass it for whatever reason, they have to be in preparation to advise everyone. So, it costs money and I hate to spend taxpayers' money but sometimes that's necessary for an important issue like this. This is an important issue and I think that this is money well spent. Even if we get a standstill agreement and even if we put it on the ballot.

Michelle Madoff:

As you recall, Dan, I met with the leadership of the umbrella group that is -- I didn't really meet with them, they sort of approached me after my statement about let's try to get together and resolve this without litigation, without going to court, and I think there's one statement that I should correct; I think you're right, Dan, I think they are very eager to go to court; they're not waiting for the legislation. And the reason that they're not waiting for the legislation is they feel -- this esteemed body, this Council membership and the Mayor want it to get out of committee it would get out of committee, that's what they've said to me repeatedly. If we wanted to put the heat on and -- because the Republicans also have an interest in this and I believe it's in the Republican Committee's hand that this could get out of committee and the reason that they're taking the legal action is to say, "Alright, we're holding the cards, now you move", and they don't necessarily care if we move through litigation or they move to litigation. They are going back today to talk to their respective people under their group, there are two or three different groups that represent many other groups. As you say, there are one-half dozen people in the case. You've explained to us that until the class action is certified we can still do some kind of negotiation except that we'd be -- in other words if I talked to the group they can quote what I say and that puts me at a point where I can be subpoenaed.

Mr. Pellegrini:

More importantly than that, I think you misunderstood what I said on Friday. You're a defendant.

Michelle Madoff:

Not if I don't want to be.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Well, as of today you're defendants. I mean, you don't have any choice.

Michelle Madoff:

But if I become an amicus to the other side --

Mr. Pellegrini:

You're a defendant. As of this date you cannot talk to any of the named plaintiffs in this action. You cannot.

I saw in this morning's paper where you said that Mr. Plato offered to make his house available. Mr. Plato is not authorized to talk to you. Don't talk to anyone, don't do anything --

Michelle Madoff:

What happens if I do? What can happen to me? I mean it's advisable not to, but what are the legal ramifications if I wish to try and bring this thing to a resolution by meeting the parties?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I'm not going to do anything to you.

Michelle Madoff:

What's going to happen if I want to meet with the people and try and resolve it without litigation?

Mr. Pellegrini:

If Council gets upset they can get a court order barring it.

Michelle Madoff:

To do what, to say don't --

Mr. Pellegrini:

Don't talk to anyone.

Michelle Madoff:

Meaning our group?

Mr. Pellegrini:

You're the defendants and you can speak to anyone that you want. It's always advisable in this type of a situation, and I know it's hard for anyone involved in political life not to say anything about this because you are in litigation as individuals. Now we can discuss other things at other times.

Michelle Madoff:

What is to prevent me other than the fact that you prefer that I don't talk to anybody? If I want to sit down and meet with all the parties or Mark wants to sit down and meet with all of the parties, what are the ramifications?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I can't say anything about you but I can say something about Mr. Plato meeting with you.

Michelle Madoff:

What happens if I meet with Mr. Plato?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I can ask the court for Mr. Plato not to meet with you.

Michelle Madoff:

Then my next question, I met the Mayor outside of the building on Friday and we had a chat and he would like to resolve it by having a group of the parties together because he has publicly stated that he's --

Mr. Givens:

Mr. Chairman, we are being sued as a body, not as individuals and I would say that anything that we say here --

Michelle Madoff:

He's out of order, he's interrupting me.

Mr. Givens:

Anything we say here will be held against us in a court of law and I would like personally to have this particular discussion terminated right here.

Michelle Madoff:

He's out of order because I'm on the subject.

I'm telling you that the Mayor has stated that his position which is public information and is not secret information, he has said so in all of the media, is that he would support a combination form of government and he would be happy to meet with all of the parties and he particularly would like to see a 7-4. Now I subsequently spoke to the leadership of this Council who has stated that they would prefer to have either all at large or all by-district and my feedback was that they don't want to have four elitist Councilmembers. Now my feelings are that there are no elitist Councilmembers because if Mr. Woods represents the Northside and Sophie Masloff represents people at large, Mr. Woods' vote is just as important as Sophie Masloff's vote because if you don't get a majority of votes nothing passes, so there is no such thing as elitist votes.

I have a gut -- I'm not sure but I have a gut feeling that the majority of this Council would support a combination as opposed to the status quo which is all at-large or going to an all by-district for various selfish and very altruistic reasons. Now the worst thing that could happen -- I want everybody to listen to this -- the worst thing that could happen if we defend ourselves and we win, the worst thing that could happen is if we win, if we win the lawsuit, that's the worst thing that could happen to us. Do you know what it becomes? We stay at-large and it becomes a black and white issue and I am terrified of that happening. So I'm saying in our own best interests, let's sit down, let's sit down with the other parties, let's get a waiver from them saying that we can sit down because the Mayor is willing to interact and see if we can come up with a compromise position.

I tried to talk to you the other day and we missed each other and I wanted to relate just what I'm relating now but I don't do anything in secret anyway.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Can I answer that? I think what you raise is a good reason why we should do nothing at this particular point in time. One thing about litigation provides structures, it provides time for reflection. What you indicated is that there is, even if we could do what you are suggesting at this time, that there is nothing to agree on, there's differences of positions throughout. A lawsuit is an opportunity and that is essentially what you're saying but sometimes the opportunity only comes after a time. The worst time to discuss anything is when a lawsuit is first filed because that's when the positions are just starting to get sorted out and all we're asking now is for the ability with this money to sort out the case and get into a position where all of you can sort out the litigation. We are not forestalling anything. We are not saying that there should not be discussions with the plaintiffs, we're not saying that there should not be a standout agreement until the legislature meets. We're not saying any of that but what we're saying is that we have an obligation to file an answer to this complaint and to do the necessary things to give you the advice. So, by voting for the $75,000 you are not saying you're going to the map and we're going to defend it to death. What you are saying is that we are going to start this litigation and we're going to sort it out and we're going to get into a position where we can do what we want to do and that's what lawyers are here to do, to do what you want to do but I don't think anybody today, with the filing of the lawsuit knows what you want to do or is in a position to tell me what you want to do and so I need that assistance to go out and get counsel. Now is not the time to discuss settlement.

Michelle Madoff:

I think you're wrong, Danny.

Mr. Pellegrini:

And here and now is not the time. This is litigation and under the Open Meeting Act we can get in a meeting and we can sit down and I can explain all the options, I can explain what is involved in this litigation, where we are going to go and I can bring in the person from New York who's tried seven or eight of these cases and have had much more experience. What I'm asking you to do is have the same advantage that the plaintiffs had. They called in people from Washington, D.C. and from Florida who has as many if not more than these cases. So before everyone goes off and says that we should do this and let's file the answer, let's get in a position where we're able to do what we want to do.

Michelle Madoff:

To do what I want to do.

The Chair:

Let me ask you a question. Since they've already filed the lawsuit and we are the defendants in this case, it is proper that as a body that's going to defend itself that we should be discussing this issue at this table?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't think the specifics of what the issue is should be discussed at this table. I think the $75,000 and what I intend to do with it is proper but when we get involved and what Council wants to do, whatever way you want to do it is not for discussion at this table. All those options should be presented to you and you should discuss it. That's good counsel and that's what plaintiffs had and they're entitled to it and that's what you're entitled to also and that's what the $75,000 —

The Chair:

So what you're saying is that we should discuss the $75,000 but not the body of the case.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, I don't want to discuss the body of the case.

Michelle Madoff:

Dan, do you need the entire $75,000?

Mr. Pellegrini:

We will encumber $75,000 —

Michelle Madoff:

How much would you actually need right now just to get it to a point where parties could get together and discuss options?

Mr. Pellegrini:

The answer is that we encumber the $75,000 and we'll spend what we need —

Michelle Madoff:

How much do you think it will be?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't know and I'd have to go back and talk to him and the question is, we have to decide in a meeting exactly what you want to know at this particular time, and we also have to get ready in case — I need the $75,000 — if I call up and I say, "Will you agree to put the lawsuit on a complete hold until the state legislature moves?", and they say no, then I'm going to need a lot of money real quick.

Michelle Madoff:

Can't you come back to us?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I have eight or nine pages of information that I already have to get to them.

Michelle Madoff:

You don't need $75,000 right now. Could you use $15,000?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't want to keep coming back.

Michelle Madoff:

I would rather you keep coming back.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I want the $75,000.

Mr. DePasquale:

Dan, perhaps my question is out of order and maybe I should be asking the plaintiffs but in regards to the complaint, I just grazed over it and maybe I shouldn't say this but I'm not quite sure what this Council is being sued about. Am I correct and can I ask you, are they suing the Council for their actions in 1985 for not passing a referendum; is this what we're being sued about?

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, it's more general than that. Under the voting rights amendment of 1982, what they're saying is they're being denied access to the political system essentially.

Mr. DePasquale:

Because we were elected?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Because there are not blacks on City Council. There are certain defenses to that, and then there is a second count. There is a 14th and 15th amendment which alleges intentional discrimination to keep blacks off.

Mr. DePasquale:

Well, would you say that most of the action goes back to the 1985 Council? I'm not trying to put the illness on Council in 1985. What I'm trying to find out is how in God's world could they sue Mark Pollock and I. We were elected in November. Were we supposed to go out and campaign for somebody else? I mean, is this what they are telling me?

Mr. Pellegrini:

They have also sued the Democratic party. That's part of the — they're alleging.

Mr. DePasquale:

I'm not a lawyer, but I seem to think it's rather frivolous to be suing anybody unless it's Mark Pollock and I.

Mr. Pollock:

Danny, many times when a client comes into my office and is either being sued or wants to sue and doesn't have the money to even pay my small retainer or my small hourly rate, do you know what I tell them? I say, "Talk to the other party and try to settle it yourself, and then come back to me and I'll draw up the agreement." So, I think if Michelle and/or the Mayor, especially the Mayor, wants to talk to the parties, I think that's good advice, not bad advice.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I didn't say that.

Mr. Pollock:

You seemed to say that that was bad advice. I mean you talked about both attorneys going into court to get injunctions from preventing the parties from talking.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No. I said that the normal practice is they don't —

Mr. Pollock:

I agree. But when the parties don't have money, and I think we should all be considered as if we don't have money, because we really don't, and the same with the other side. They don't have any money to start throwing around. If the parties can resolve the issue themselves, that should be encouraged as much as possible, and if the Mayor wants to get involved in these discussions, we should find out if in fact he does, and he should be encouraged to involve himself in discussions, and maybe if the Mayor does get involved in these discussion, if he so desires, then this case can be settled without any money being spent.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Well, I'm sure families have some into your office feuding, and what you just want to do is tell everybody to see another attorney, and essentially what we have is a family feud in this situation, and what we have to do is we have to — we don't even know what our position is. We're not even at that point. And litigation offers the opportunity to sort out exactly what everyone wants to do, but that's going to be expensive. The plaintiffs did not — they are paying these people. They're committed for large amounts of money. While $75,000 is a lot of money, for an issue this big, that Council has the best advice possible, it is not a lot of money.

Mr. Pollock:

I agree. But their attorney worked for them. Let's call them Reginald Plato, okay, because he seems to be the lead of the plaintiffs. Reginald Plato calls the shots on this case. He tells his attorney what to do, and he tells his attorney what not to do. So, he controls everything. If we can get Reginald Plato to sit down, whether it be with the Mayor or with you or whoever, and say this is crazy, you don't want to spend money, the City doesn't want to spend money, and you don't want the City to spend money, let's stop everything. Tell your attorney to stop. Don't go into court. Don't get any injunctions. Don't get any sanctions, let's try and resolve it. And we don't need an attorney, and he doesn't have to spend any more money. I would ask that we at least pursue that. Let's talk to Reginald Plato.

Mr. Pellegrini:

I will call Mr. Henderson, and I will ask him if they will do a standdown agreement.

Mr. Pollock:

Fine.

Mr. Pellegrini:

But the whole problem in asking if he wants to stop going forward until the State Legislature —

Mr. Pollock:

Not just the State Legislature, because we don't know. Let's see if the parties can settle it.

Mr. Pellegrini:

As a practical matter, you can't settle it now.

Mr. Pollock:

How do you know that? What is the basis of that?

Mr. Pellegrini:

I don't want to — from a very good legal reason, you cannot settle the case now.

Mr. Pollock:

Even if the Mayor were to get involved?

Mr. Pellegrini:

There are a couple of reasons. Number one — I'll discuss — they are valid reasons. A settlement now, if we can settle, and that's a whole different issue, but if we can, we can't do it now, and it relates to the nature of class actions.

Mr. Pollock:

But we can get the action stopped so that the plaintiffs don't go further with anything, and it's just on hold.

Mr. Pellegrini:

We can request that they stop the proceedings, but I would not recommend that we — we filed it. We can at least get into the position of filing an answer and do some of the basic research because assuming that you can him doing what you want to do, you should still have the best advice possible.

What we are really — what is really before you is do you want to have the best advice possible to do what you want to do; whatever you want to do. I don't make a decision about what you want to do, but you should at least give yourself the best opportunity to get the best advice possible. The plaintiffs did it, and I think in this situation, with that issue as the basic structure of the government of the City of Pittsburgh, you owe the citizens that. All of the citizens. And $75,000 is not a lot of money.

Mr. Pollock:

We don't need $75,000 to get the advice to put ourselves in the same position that the plaintiffs are in.

Mr. Pellegrini:

If we decide — if they say go ahead and I don't have to spend — I have to spend some money, but not the amount of $75,000 and I can tell everybody to stop discovery and do everything. It's not a retainer. It's on an hourly basis. It's not a retainer. It's on an hourly basis. I tell them to go out and prepare an answer and do some basic work and tell them to wait for a call. We may want to call them up during the course of this and we may want to ask questions. That will cost money. But I think that money is money well spent in this type of situation.

Mr. Pollock:

I agree. If would ask that we either hold this legislation or that you lower the request. If you need more money, you can get an interim approval like this, Danny. You can write a letter and get more money in two minutes.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The answer is that we need a significant — when I called the attorney in New York. We need a significant amount of money that we have in the account, and I need enough money to begin discovery, and I don't want to keep coming back and forth on this issue. If we need it, it's there. If we don't need it, we won't spend it. All I'm asking is that you get the best advice available to fight it or do anything else you want, or to wait for the General Assembly.

Mrs. Masloff:

My question is if we start this proceeding, somewhere along the line, maybe two or three weeks and we settle or something happens and you have blown the whole $75,000.

Mr. Pellegrini:

We are only going to pay what we spend; the hourly rate.

Mrs. Masloff:

But you said that from the start it would cost that much.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No. What I'm saying is after three weeks, we will file an answer to the complaint. Just the initial outline of discovery will be done. But in all honesty, if we can settle, we would not settle within three weeks for reasons — you cannot settle a class action until the class has been certified. It is absolutely foolish because you can be sued the next day, so we would have at least had to go through that process to get to that point. So, those are some basic things that would have to be done. There is a lot of house keeping that would have to be done just to get to the point, if you all agreed, that we could settle. There is a lot of house keeping work.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm going to be very brief. I would suggest that you take the route that Mr. Pollock has suggested, and that you try to put it on hold. I suggest further that the President of this Council or any other member of this Council convene a meeting with Councilmembers because the President of Council may not share the same viewpoint, but all of us that wish to get together and decide what our position is. We have never discussed that. At least let's know where we stand on it. And I think we ought to meet with the Mayor and have a united form as to what we want.

We may not be unanimous, but we may be a majority and I got, from a little bit of feeling and talking that I have done to this Council, I think we will have a majority position as to what we want to do because I repeat again, if we continue with this lawsuit, and we win it, we are in worse shape than if we had lost it. And I think we have to just circumvent going to court at all.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Even if you want to go through with that process, and even if that process is available, you will still need money to get to the position in court to do the normal house keeping matters and during those discussions, you should have the best legal advice possible because the decision that you're asking to make is something that should not — again. You changed the form of government. You should only make those decisions with the best advice available.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. May I disagree, Mr. Chairman. It's not with the best advice available. It's the will of this Council and the will of the Administration. If we will that we should change the format to a different structure, and we can convince the people suing us that it's in the best interest of everybody, that they also feel the same way, we don't need a lawsuit, and I don't think you want to put two people who are at heads with each other, namely Mr. Plato and the Mayor in the same room together. I think what we need to do, and as you used that name of the person, and you don't know the history, what we really need is an independent group that was here the other day to convene a meeting of all parties as soon as you can get us position legally to do that.

Mr. Pellegrini:

My own feeling is outside of a class action, if that is available outside of a class, once the class is certified that those discussions — while they may be useful, are not beneficial to the goal that you're advancing.

Michelle Madoff:

Can't we have a meeting before the class action is certified? Isn't that what you told me before?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Until a class is certified —

Michelle Madoff:

We can do anything.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Let me finish. Until a class is certified, whatever you agree to really doesn't have a lot of relevance.

Michelle Madoff:

Except that if we can all agree, if both parties can agree, then it's relevant, and we don't have to go to court, and that's the point both of us are trying to make.

The Chair:

Danny, hold on. We're starting to go around in circles. Mr. Wagner, then Mr. Pollock and I'm going to cut off debate.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Pellegrini, the question I asked you earlier I must pose publicly. You indicated you have 15 full-time attorneys working for you. Council has budgeted 17, so, therefore, there are two vacancies. Is it possible for us to hire two full-time attorneys to put them on this case, and reduce that figure of $75,000 to a lesser figure?

Mr. Pellegrini:

The answer is no. I need those two attorneys to handle the load I have. Number two, we are not specialists in the Voting Rights Act; and, number three, I don't think it's in anyone's best interest here for me to go out and hire two attorneys. It will take me 30 days to interview, to get them up to speed. It's just impractical.

Mr. Wagner:

In other words, you are saying you cannot do it. That that's really not a —

Mr. Pellegrini:

I'm saying we could do it, but a lot of other work would suffer.

This is not the type of case that it's what would be in the best interest for my office to try. I think that you should have people come in who are specialists in this and say to you, these are your options, this is what the law is, this is what we did in California, this is what we did in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and this is the law that's developing. And this law is moving rapidly, because these -- it's not like a settled area of the law where you just go to the books, the leading cases are now in the circuits. We don't even have circuit decisions on the '82 amendment yet.

Mr. Wagner:

I'm not necessarily suggesting to have no outside legal assistance. I guess what I'm doing is suggesting that the figure could be cut and devote a full-time or two full-time people on the case.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The answer here is that you need somebody to be involved from outside the department. We could put people on, but by the time they geared up we would be at a disadvantage. We're at a disadvantage now. I mean, if you talk in terms of the plaintiffs, when you try these cases you get whole sets of interrogatories that are developed. The defendants have those sets developed also. We're sharing in hundreds of hours of other work that they've done in other cities. It would take us an enormous effort to gear up. If Council said no, they're not giving me the money, we would have to gear up to do it, but there would be enormous amounts of other things that wouldn't get done, tax collections wouldn't be done, other lawsuits wouldn't be defended.

Mr. Wagner:

One last question.

Mr. Woods:

Point of order. We have to start the other meeting at 2:00 o'clock. I'd like to ask the Chairman if he'd recess so we can call the roll, recess, we don't have to move, and come right back here.

The Chair:

I'm going to recess. I'm going to recess Standing Committee of Council until ten minutes.

BRIEF RECESS

The Chair:

Council will now come to order.
Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Wagner:

My final question, if the $75,000 is approved by Council, will Council as defendants meet periodically with our legal advisors in regard to this?

Mr. Pellegrini:

Yes. Each one of your depositions, in all likelihood, will be taken in this action.

Mr. Wagner:

So the guidance as to what our position is individually, whether we favor district elections, whether we favor at-large elections, whether we favor a combination of both, that opinion will be given individually from each one of us and I guess collectively some opinion will be given to these people.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No. I think what will happen is that he will give you an over-all assessment of the lawsuit. What you're talking about is remedies, and when you talk in terms of remedy and what your particular position is, that doesn't really go to the merits. You're talking about merits as opposed to remedy.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, the point I want to ask you is this. Obviously the plaintiffs favor district elections. Correct?

Mr. Pellegrini:

At this point we don't know.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, isn't that part of the lawsuit that they favor?

Mr. Pellegrini:

There's a lot of things in lawsuits that you don't know until you sit down and you discuss them. Part of the lawsuit — lawyers understand this — part of the lawsuit is a sorting out, and it's a sorting out both on the parts of the plaintiffs and on the parts of defendants, and while this is such an important issue that, you know, $75,000 is a lot of money, but it's not a lot of money in relation to this particular issue.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, I strongly think that they favor district elections.

Mr. Pellegrini:

They may favor a combination.

Mr. Wagner:

Okay, that's possible.

Mr. Pellegrini:

They may be as divided as we are.

Mr. Wagner:

That's possible. All right. Is it a conflict of interest, if that is the case, for a Councilmember at this table that favors district elections to vote for this legislation? I publicly have said that myself in the past, and I'm trying to determine specifically where I stand in relation to this legislation, as it relates to my opinion on the issue.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The answer is no, and the answer quite succinctly is the law of the City of Pittsburgh today is at large, and unless there's a change this Council, through the legal process, this Council has to defend that position, unless other events occur, and until then that's all we're asking, is to defend, and get the best legal advice available. Plaintiffs did that. That's your right and that's your obligation. I mean that's really your obligation.

The Chair:

Okay, Mr. Pollock and then we're going to cut off debate and go to the podium.

Mr. Pollock:

Danny, this is a very fundamental question that we have to address, and that is, we were sued, the City was sued, the Mayor was sued, and nine members of Council. Your clients, as the City Solicitor, are those plaintiffs, the City, the Mayor and the nine members of Council.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Uh huh.

Mr. Pollock:

How can we sit here and talk about retaining outside counsel when we have never sat down as a group with or without you and decided whether or not we want to defend this suit? Now, let me finish. This is a very esoteric subject, rather technical. to put it in as simple terms as possible so that everyone can understand it, if we were sued, the nine of us and the City and the Mayor because we owed a bill to somebody, okay, if we said, hey, we owe the money, let's pay it, why should you presume that we should want to defend the lawsuit and incur additional expenses above and beyond what the actual debt is and then have to pay — let me finish, Danny, — and then still have to pay the debt? If we as a body feel we don't want to defend the lawsuit, then we don't want to have an attorney. We as a body can decide they're right, we agree. You filed the lawsuit, but we agree. We don't want to defend. So the first thing that has to be done is that we do have to sit down, with or without you, but with the Mayor, and decide, hey, do we want to defend this lawsuit or do we want to agree with them and take a default judgment or consent order, which we have never done. And that should be the preliminary thing the preliminary procedure to follow. I'll be done in a second. You're presuming that we want to defend the lawsuit. You're presuming by retaining counsel that we don't agree with the plaintiffs.

Mr. Pellegrini:

No, I'm not.

Mr. Pollock:

Well, by hiring an attorney —

Mr. Pellegrini:

How many times have people come into your office and said, here's a lawsuit, you defend, and you end up doing something later after you answer the complaint? Every answer does not mean that you're going to fight to the death. And, if you want to sit down and you want to discuss it, you should have that advice available. All I'm saying is that you should be in a position to get that advice. This is not something in the overall scheme of things that we should say here, we give up, because there are people that like at large, there are people that like combination, there are people that like district. That has to be sorted out.

Mr. Pollock:

Right.

Mr. Pellegrini:

Unfortunately, that is not something that can be sorted out in 48 hours or three weeks or a month, it's going to take longer, and what we have to do is, we have to file an answer and we have to get into a position to, one, to defend, or do what you want to do, or do what anybody wants to do.

Mr. Pollock:

Danny, you're our attorney, okay, you do not know if all nine of us feel that we want it to be all district. Maybe we don't even know. We have never sat down and decided. You talk about the analogy of doing different actions once the client walks into my office. Well, the minute that client walks into my office, he or she is already in worse shape than if he or she was to eventually to agree with the lawsuit. They have to pay me something, so they're already tacking on more to what they bill is. If somebody gets sued and they know they have the debt and that they're going to eventually have to pay, then why walk into my office. If they agree, they don't have to tell me to pay the bill, because they'll have to pay me something extra.

Mr. Pellegrini:

The answer to that question is simple. You are not making a decision here to say yes or no, you are being asked to say that the law of the City of Pittsburgh is being administered legally, that we are going to change the basic form of government that we had since 1901. If you can do that and if you want to do that, I don't think that that decision can be made in two weeks. I think in all honesty there's enough disagreement among you in this room that it's going to take longer than several weeks to sort out. Now if we spend the money to go out and get in a position to do your will, that is not money well spent. Even if you decide whatever you want to decide, but you should not foreclose any opportunities. And to say that you want to give up today is just — I mean, you're right, you could do that, but I think that would be irresponsible because you don't have the best advice. Now the plaintiffs would agree with that. Every plaintiff would like to have everybody give up, but you could only make a decision as well-informed —

Michelle Madoff:

Dan, you have the money to pay for them. The $75,000 could be used to hire two attorneys. Don't hire them but use it for whatever legal counsel you need. We don't need to vote another $75,000.

(END OF REMARKS)

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Wagner
Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Woods
	(Pres't)

AYES 6

NOES 3

(MICHELLE MADOFF, MRS. MASLOFF AND MR. POLLOCK VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Also,

Bill No. 262

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant in the amount of $15,956.21 in favor of Titus Marcus & Shapira for legal services rendered to Ronald C. Schmeiser, Director of Finance, in conjunction with Civil Action No. 85-1525, filed in the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania."

Which was read.

Mr. Pollock:

On Bill No. 262 which is the payment of the attorney's fees for Ronald Schmeiser. I agree that these bills should be paid. I will be voting for it but Mr. Flaherty, in his public hearing that he requested last week, did put forth one good point that I agree with and that is the question of should a person who is put in the position that Mr. Schmeiser was in this case, in the future, should he or she not have to come before City Council to seek approval to obtain private counsel in the future as we do on so many other bills. In this case, it wasn't done; I think it's what is known as harmless error because we would have approved it. He did obtain one of the best attorneys that he could obtain so, as I say, it was harmless error. But there could be instances in the future where we might not agree with what was done, there might have been attorney's fees attained that we might not support, that might be excessive, and so forth.

I would ask then that the City Law Department study this question and that we have guidelines for the attainment of private counsel for City employees when the City Law Department cannot defend them. We shouldn't have to re-invent the wheel every time. There should be a City policy regarding City employees obtaining private counsel. When are they allowed to obtain private counsel? What type of actions necessitate private counsel as opposed to the City Law Department, and maybe, whether or not City Council should not approve who the counsel is or if, in fact, there should be City counsel.

So, rather than just vote on this and let it be cast aside, this could come up again and if there are guidelines we wouldn't have a problem.

The Chair:

I'd like to make this suggestion. I'd like to know what the guidelines are also and perhaps we can call a post agenda with Mr. Pellegrini to go over this whole issue with us about outside legal attorneys concerning other employees.

We, ourselves, as elected officials, we do have our own fund that we can get to defend ourselves here in Council.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Mr. Givens presented

Bill No. 332

Report of the Committee on Public Works for February 19, 1986 transmitting sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 245

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution urging Duquesne Light Company to replace their faulty lighting system in the vicinity of Panther Hollow Bridge and nearby ramps in Schenley Park and stating intention to take serious action if this safety hazard is not remedied in 30 days." —(SPONSORED BY MICHELLE MADOFF)

Which was read.

Mr. Givens:

On Bill 245, today all of us received an opinion from the Law Department regarding that and I think Danny Pellegrini's letter to the Council depicts what this bill is really all about.

On the other hand, I think the bill along with Danny's legal opinion should go to the Governmental Relations Officer of Duquesne Light Company and that of the Chairman of the Board to so indicate that this Council has, in fact, great concern in what's happening in Panther Hollow.

I think one of the unique problems here is that this is along our park corridors, Panther Hollow. I had another example, the same situation at Duquesne Light several years ago, and that was along the Bigelow Corridor coming into the City of Pittsburgh which is a park-like environment. In fact, I even stopped for many months Duquesne Light putting overhead lighting and to put the lighting up on that particular facility. This is a park area. Traditionally, when Duquesne Light had the contracts and the initial lights were put in in our scenic park areas, they were all put in underground. Now, that system was put in some 50 years ago; it's deteriorating and Duquesne Light must maintain it. They cannot maintain these underground lighting systems any longer.

Between the City of Pittsburgh and the Duquesne Light, I think someone must sit down, and I'm willing to do that, Mr. President, to find out how much Duquesne Light wants to put into this system to keep it underground. I think it should be. When you have overhead lights it detracts from the park beauty that we're all trying to look for and there's not that many trips back and forth that we make that we don't have that beautiful beauty that when we go through the Highland and the Schenley Parks and the Frick Parks of the City of Pittsburgh, to and from the City of Pittsburgh. It lends a lot, I think.

I don't think, on the other hand, that Duquesne Light should bore all the expense of putting new underground cable in. I think it should be a shared venture between Duquesne Light and the City of Pittsburgh. Duquesne Light has always been a very cooperative corporation that serves the Southwestern Region of Pennsylvania and I think their corporate leaders and their board that have the opportunity of driving through these parks feel the same way this Council feels.

So, as a result, I'd like to pass on this bill and at the same time sit down and have a meeting with Duquesne Light, with the Department of Public Works, with our City Planning, and possibly even the Urban Redevelopment Authority, to find out where we can get mutual funds, maybe even governmental funds, from the federal government and state government, to try to rewire not only this system, this is throughout the whole park system and certain boulevards within the City of Pittsburgh.

This is only the tip of the iceberg, is what I'm trying to say, Mr. President, and I'd like to continue further on this with Michelle's help or anybody else who would like to join in.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like to have the letter from Mr. Pellegrini entered as part of the record.

(LETTER FROM THE CITY SOLICITOR REQUESTED BY MICHELLE MADOFF)

February 24, 1986

Honorable President and Members
City Council
City of Pittsburgh

RE: Council Bill No. 245 - Lighting at Panther Hollow Bridge

Dear Mr. President and Members:

You have requested an opinion as to whether or not Council Bill 245 which urges Duquesne Light Company to replace a faulty light system in the vicinity of the Panther Hollow Bridge has the force of law and are there any other legislative remedies to correct the problem?

Initially it should be pointed out that the body of the ordinance does not propose any legislative action but merely declares the strong displeasure on the failure of Duquesne Light to remedy a safety hazard. Insofar as the bill is merely a sense of Council resolution, it would not have any force of law.

With regard to your question as to whether or not there are any legislative remedies available to Council, this area has been pre-empted by the Public Utility Commission of Pennsylvania.

Very truly yours,

D.R. Pellegrini
City Solicitor

DRP:rms

(END OF LETTER)

Michelle Madoff:

He essentially says that this is not legislation that we can deal with in Council, that it's a matter of PUC.

However, I will tell Mr. John Arthur, who is a dear friend, and others at Duquesne Light that when I'm going through the park at night and it's raining and I go up on the sidewalk and ruin the under part of my car, I will send them the bill. And I will encourage everyone else in that park that might be involved in an accident to know who is to blame and whose responsibility it is.

It is a nightmare. You cannot see the dividing of the road. The two roads are very close together where one goes to the Boulevard of the Allies and one goes back to Squirrel Hill. There are no lights on the bridge, no lights in the park and on a rainy, dark, night it is death and an accident waiting to happen.

Now, while we cannot pass it as legislation in this Council, we can, thanks to Mr. Givens, pursue the matter and I certainly hope that he will do that in his committee, and I would support him in any other way, but I would also like to have a letter go back to the Mayor and to Mr. Pellegrini asking them to pursue it, as Mr. Pellegrini says we must, through the PUC, and that it is the will of Council that we pursue it. I don't think anyone is against having the lighting in that area.

The Chair:

Can we have a motion to recommit Bill 245?

Michelle Madoff:

We can't; we have to table it. You cannot recommit it.

The Chair:

You have to recommit today and table it on Wednesday.

Can I have a motion?

Michelle Madoff:

So moved.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Also,

Bill No. 212

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements between the City of Pittsburgh and the Steel Valley Council of Governments for a Hydrolic Study of the West Run Creek and providing for the payment of the cost thereof."

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 213

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 605 effective July 20, 1984, entitled: 'Providing for the letting of a Contract or Contracts for the use of existing Contract for equipment, services, and supplies for the installation of a Lighting and Audio System for City Council Chambers and providing for the payment of the cost thereof to include the purchase and installation of a lighting and audio system for City Council Chamber."

Which was read.

The Chair:

Is there any discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Pollock
Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Wagner
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	(Pres't)

AYES 9 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

Michelle Madoff presented

Bill No. 333

Report of the Committee on Water for February 19, 1986 transmitting one resolution to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 217

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements for a State-of-the Art Electronic Leak Detection/Location Training Program for the benefit of the Department of Water personnel and providing for the payment thereof at a cost not to exceed $4,100.00."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

First of all, I'd like all my comments with Mr. Daryl Smith brought forward as part of the record. I particularly wanted the comments where I asked Mr. Daryl Smith what Mr. John McNamara's qualifications are and he said he didn't know and whether he was an engineer and he didn't know, and why he has not filled the position of engineer that we voted into the budget for the year. Mr. Daryl Smith may be a wonderful administrator but what he knows about running water could be put into a thimble. The question I'd like to know is why did Mr. McNamara get a $1000 bonus? I just heard about it today.

(BEGINNING - MICHELLE MADOFF'S
REMARKS ON BILL NO. 217 - 2/19/86)

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Smith, I think that the program is excellent. Is it going to help us detect some of the leaks, because as you know, under the Tort Immunity Act, if you don't have leaks that are detectable before our Law Department refuses to pay any claims even if we wipe out foundations. Fortunately, the people in Lincoln Place and Hays are covered because they're not with the municipality, meaning West Penn Water. Which brings me to the next item. We're going to train people. Who are these people we're going to train? The entire staff?

Mr. Smith:

No. The training program will be open for sixty —

Michelle Madoff:

Who are they, please? You can give me a list.

Mr. Smith:

I don't have them right now.

Michelle Madoff:

You don't have to give them today.

Mr. Smith:

They will be selected by two collective bargaining agreements.

Michelle Madoff:

And who would those people — what office would they be in? I don't need their names. What department would they form, a Leak Department?

Mr. Smith:

No, they're going to be assigned to one of our operating sections. It will be Distribution Division and they will report back.

Michelle Madoff:

And who's head of Distribution?

Mr. Smith:

Jim McNamarra.

Michelle Madoff:

Yippeel And he is trained, of course, as an engineer?

Mr. Smith:

I'm not sure what he's trained as.

Michelle Madoff:

And you are the head of the department and you hired him — or maybe you didn't hire him, he was assigned to you — and you don't know if he's an engineer.

Mr. Smith:

I don't know that it's important that he is an engineer.

Michelle Madoff:

Well, I know from years that I've spent in the Water Department, in dealing with the Air Pollution Bureau and dealing with environmental issues that it's important to know whether he has the background and training and is an engineer.

Mr. Smith:

He does a very good job; I can tell you that.

Michelle Madoff:

We disagree, but that's a point of contention. Now we agreed in the budget last year to put in a position for engineer, because one of the biggest problems we have with water is the valve shutoffs and then when we put the valves on and off the water pressure. How that pressure is applied becomes very, very important because that is tied to leaks. I'm on the bill. You get leaks if you put the water through too quickly. If you have an embolus, you put the blood back in the body you blow the embolus from the body. It's the same principle, where we had five hospitals out. Mr. Daryl Smith will argue that I have private sources and if there was ever a federal investigation it would be proven that I am correct.

We put into the budget the assistant to the Administrator. I have no problem — Mr. Smith may find this surprising — with him as an Administrative Director. My problem is he doesn't have a backup person who has the kind of expertise and knowledge in water as an engineer, with the complete understanding of water pressure and water flow. Have you done anything about hiring that person?

Mr. Smith:

No, ma'am.

Michelle Madoff:

Why not? Why have you not hired somebody? It would help us prevent leaks.

Mr. Smith:

We have not because I don't know what that person is supposed to do.

Michelle Madoff:

Why don't you know what that person is supposed to do?

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

I want to prevent leaks.

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

What good is training somebody if there's not somebody there who's going to supervise the program, that understands it. This is $4,000 of the public's money.

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

I have tried dealing with Mr. Smith, post agenda, pre-agenda, in the street, leaving messages in his office. The man's impossible.

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

I would like the same indulgence, Mr. Chairman, that you would give Mr. Woods or other members of this Council if they asked a question as to when he's going to hire an engineer that we put in the budget. That's the only question I want an answer to. May I get that answer or not?

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

I ask it all the time. I want the public to hear it. I want the public to know what the answer is.

THE CHAIR COMMENTS.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you.

Mr. Smith:

That particular position was put in the budget by City Council. I did not request that position. I do not know what that person in that position is supposed to do. Before I can even attempt to fill a position I have to have a job description, I have to have duties and responsibilities for that position. At this point in time, I see no need for an engineer or I would have requested one in my budget. When someone clearly defines what that person is supposed to do, provides me with a job description, I'll be willing to consider it at that point in time.

THE CHAIR COMMENT

Michelle Madoff:

Yes. I have been trying to have a post agenda with the right people here. Unfortunately, at that devastating post agenda I don't think everybody was here where they showed the film of the havoc that was caused in the community, wiping out hundreds of thousands of --

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Roddey had the flu.

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to set another post agenda with Mr. Roddey and Mr. McNamara. Did you not request that we have people who are hired submit resumes of qualifications? Wasn't that requested at some point?

MR. DEPASQUALE COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

I would hope so too. It would be nice. We'd like to know for Alcosan whether they're qualified.

I reluctantly am going to vote for it because it's so desperately needed. I'm also going to move Heaven and earth to try to have Mr. Daryl Smith removed.

(END OF REMARKS)

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, point of order. That's not the legislation in front of us.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm curious. Why did he get a $1000 bonus?

The Chair:

Mrs. Madoff, you are out of order with that question.

Michelle Madoff:

Could somebody find out for me? Would you send a letter to Mr. Daryl Smith as to why Mr. McNamara got a $1000 — Is it true that he got a bonus and what for? I think it was part of the budget —

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. Chairman, she's discussing a personal matter.

The Chair:

Come on, Michelle. Let's get back to the subject, please.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay, back to the subject. We're voting $4000 for training on water leaks and we don't have anyone really who knows what they're doing to supervise water pressure, water leaks, and that's why five hospitals were without water at one time. I know this because I had at least a dozen informants call me privately and tell me what was going on.

This couldn't happen in Mexico City. It wouldn't happen in a Third World nation, that six days you have problems with water out in East End and have hospitals without water for three days. We're living in an enlightened era but we are not running an enlightened Water Department.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Wagner, on Public Safety, on Bill 277, the purchase of office equipment. Will that be portable or moveable or stationary dividers? So that if we decide to rent somewhere and do something else with the Public Safety Building, will they be able to take the stuff and move it over?

Mr. Wagner:

All of that equipment is moveable and will not be a permanent part of the Public Safety Building.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay, I don't want to run into the same thing at the Water Department where we're going to design it specially, ha ha, for the Water Department with built-in modular and then you can't move the modular. This is absolutely, you're telling me it's modular, or whatever; it can be moved?

Mr. Wagner:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

What about using some of the furniture that is located around the City in other offices? I have some very good chairs in my office; they're like new.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, the Narcotics Section needs some --

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. They're going to Sophie and Pollock.

Mr. Wagner:

If I may, the Narcotics Section has been attempting to get some new furniture now for quite some time and really, what they're working with just isn't sufficient and they have intentions of getting certain types of furniture and that isn't available in terms of used furniture. So, I suggest that we go out and purchase new.

Michelle Madoff:

Why don't we but repossessed? It doesn't have to be new.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, the Public Safety Department has been getting repossessed equipment for years and I think it's about time we but them something new and something of quality.

Michelle Madoff:

When you get a brand new corporation that opens in one week and closes two months later, and I know of one, they have very elegant furniture and it's very expensive furniture, you do better buying it ten cents on the dollar and you get better quality than we're going to buy new.

I think that applies to our office as well and I'd like to expand that. One of the things that we don't do when we buy furniture — Sometimes you use more efficient furniture if the space is designed well. Probably the best designed Council space is that of the former Councilman, Mr. Robinson, I don't know who's in that office now, but you come in, there's a reception room, there is a place to put the file cabinets, and you have a place for your secretarial-type person to be there. Then you have the other space divided into a place for your administrative research person and a place for the Councilmember.

I have my room because it was pre-existing; two cubby-holes, one for the computer and secretary, one for my administrative assistant who has no room, and I have this huge room that I don't need.

So, I just don't want to have inefficient space and inefficient furniture again because, you know, when we come back and say rearrange the rooms, everybody screams that we're spending money. I don't need furniture; I just need my space rearranged.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to amend the bill to include used.

The Chair:

Michelle.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. Chairman —

The Chair:

Let me do something here.

Michelle Madoff:

I think it's already in the law. I'm sorry; I'm wrong. I think it says when they go out on bid —

The Chair:

He has the authority to buy new or used.

Michelle Madoff:

Right. Okay.

Point of order. Would it be in order, Mr. President, to have a letter go to Mr. Jacoby reminding him of the fact that we do have the right to go out on repossessed.

The Chair:

Are you putting that in the form of a motion?

Michelle Madoff:

No, I'm just asking Mike to send a letter to remind him.

The Chair:

Okay, if you wish a letter to go out then you do it. Ask Mike to direct it from yourself, from Ms. Madoff.

Michelle Madoff:

Just reminding him that that is the rule of Council.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Pollock:

I'd like to call upon Chris Niebrzydowski the Vice President of the Pennsylvania State National Organization For Women.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I have a point of order before the proclamation is read and I would push that the young lady would not proceed any further until this discussion and my point of order is so indicated.

The Chair:

What is your point.

Mr. Givens:

According to our own Council's rules, and I refer to Page Three, Rule 2-D. "No bill shall be introduced in Council unless deposited with the Clerk of Council 48 hours prior to the time of the regular meeting of Council but by any member may present any bill or paper notwithstanding such rule with the consent of the majority of the members present at any meeting of Council"

I challenge this particular bill that's coming in here. I did not receive it until I walked in here today. I talke to the Chief Clerk; he received it sometime apparently this morning so we are in violation of our own Councilmatic rules and do not give certain people here that dislike this particular bill the opportunity to properly debate that particular issue.

For that reason, I ask that this bill not be read and not be introduced because it is in violation and if that rule is to be challenged, which it can be challenged, then so put that to a vote. I'm asking for a vote. If the author of the bill wants to proceed with it then I'll ask for a vote in this Council to deny that particular bill to be introduced at this time and I would ask for a second on that motion.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Mr. Pollock:

What was the motion?

The Chair:

Not to permit the bill to be introduced.

Mr. Pollock:

Well, I think that's not the way he made his motion. He raised the rule so I'm making the motion to suspend the rule. That's the proper motion. I think his motion is out of order.

The Chair:

In other words, you want to make the motion to suspend the rule, Mr. Pollock.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

There is a motion on the floor to deny right now.

The Chair:

You have your right, it's denied. Without even a motion, it's denied. Now, Mr. Pollock is making the motion to suspend the rules and it was seconded by Ms. Madoff.

Mr. Pollock:

There's no doubt about Mr. Givens' being accurate. There was a time problem and we weren't able to get it prepared on Friday, but my motion to suspend the rules is based purely on the fact that if it's not presented now it will be presented next Monday and the party is here so, out of convenience and courtesy to a citizen, I would ask that the rule be suspended to save us the problem of having to reintroduce it next Monday.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. Chairman, I seconded the motion for the purpose of discussion. It seems to me that all of the resolutions that come in here come in in the same form. I'm curious as to why this one is out of order and not all of the resolutions we've received in the past. The only notice that I ever get on a resolution is the afternoon of Monday when we vote.

The Chair:

Mr. Perry is right; no one has really made an issue out of it. Sometimes there is an issue made out of it; other times, a majority of the times, no one ever, on a resolution of this type, a read and adopted, no one usually makes an issue. But there have been times that it has been done.

Michelle Madoff:

What do we do now, Mr. Chairman?

The Chair:

We're going to vote to suspend the rule.

Michelle Madoff:

We're voting strictly on the issue of suspending the rule, not on the bill.

May I address that? I think that whether you're for the bill or against the bill, common courtesy would dictate that, as Mr. Pollock has said, the bill would only be introduced again next week. Frequently, we don't get bills, most of us don't get to see these resolutions until the Monday that we're here and it's been the ruling of the President of Council that if something has been done a certain way for a very long time, precedent has been set; therefore, we should not discriminate against one member of Council and a bill because somebody doesn't like a bill. When we get to voting on the bill itself, then the person can express their wishes.

I would urge my colleagues not to single out something they're opposed to and not hold it today but we'll talk about that when we get to the substance of the bill.

The Chair:

I would just like to make one statement. Maybe Mr. Givens is opposed to this resolution but, like I said, it's been brought up on this floor many, many times before by even yourself that you didn't receive it 48 hours prior. I can look at almost everyone to bring up that issue, including myself. Maybe Mr. Givens is against this bill but it has been brought up before.

Mr. Givens:

Well, it's our rule and you're right, Mr. President, until one within this body wants to challenge anyone that introduces anything, then we have that prerogative and that right. I think this particular that will possibly be introduced is so offensive to many people in the City of Pittsburgh and for that reason I don't even want to discuss even to introduce that particular bill into this Council. For that reason, and that reason only, if it's introduced properly the fine, we must debate that particular subject. But I would like to cut off debate and I think all of us have read the bill by now and know what the contents are. If you want to go forward on the debate of this particular bill right now, then introduce it into this Council and I'll debate it, I'll debate it here all afternoon, believe me. But I think a lot of us have great feelings on this and let's put our feelings forward right now. Let's not put it up for that type of scrutiny for this type of action to happen in this country.

The Chair:

No matter what my own personal beliefs and no matter how I'm going to vote on this bill, I would like to ask my colleagues to vote in favor of having it be presented, this resolution today, and then we can vote it up or down.

If you recall, we discussed this just a month ago about this 48 hours system. We just did this last week; resolutions came in and we let them come in the same day. From this point on, if you vote and let this one come in, at least to vote on it, it will never happen again, Mr. Perry. And that's all my colleagues.

Michelle Madoff:

We have a problem with that sir. A floor motion can be made according to rules from the floor without 24 hours notice. A floor motion.

The Chair:

Ms. Madoff, this is not a floor motion; this is a resolution.

Michelle Madoff:

I understand that; I'm just saying that a floor motion can be made that day.

The Chair:

Any floor motion is now put in writing.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you.

The Chair:

All in favor of letting this resolution be introduced, let Mr. Pollock introduce this resolution today, please signify by saying aye. Opposed.

Mr. Pollock:

Roll call vote, please.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. Pollock
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Wagner
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Woods
	(Pres't)

AYES 6 NOES 3

(MR. GIVENS, MR. GRABOWSKI AND MR. O'MALLEY VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion passed finally.

Mr. Pollock:

Ms. Niebrzydowski, sorry for the inconvenience.

Mr. Pollock presents

No. 406 WHEREAS, on Sunday, March 9, 1986, women and supporters of women's rights from throughout the nation, including the City of Pittsburgh, will travel to Washington, D.C. to participate in the "March for Women's Lives"; and

WHEREAS, the central purpose of this event is to recognize that a woman's right to reproductive choice is constitutionally guaranteed by the Supreme Court's decision in Roe v. Wade, and, furthermore, that this right is fundamental for the physical and economic well-being of American women and their families; and

WHEREAS, this event initiates a weeklong, nationwide observance in honor of International Women's Day;

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby recognizes March 9 through March 16, 1986, as "March for Women's Lives" Week in the City of Pittsburgh, to show its support for women and its concern for the health, safety, and well-being of women.

Mr. Pollock moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Givens:

I think the most serious thing in this resolution is not just women's rights because that covers a broad area, many of which I agree to many women's rights. But when we put in there what this is going to really, what the gut issue here, and that is the abortion issue itself and Roe v. Wade, and when I look back when that particular bill was passed in January, 1973, when I see the horrendous cost of human life and human suffering, and just not only to the aborted fetus but to those women who have subjected themselves through that abortion procedure, and the fact that some 20 million children have been aborted in this country.

There was a picture last night on television talking about Cambodia and the awful horrors of war and many of us in this room here have been in the war-time zone, and I have a little postcard in my office and on it I have little crosses. It's very unique when I look at all the wars that we have had in this particular country that we have been involved into, it has a very small significant, small little cross for every million men and women who have been lost fighting for the democracy that we have in this particular country. Then I look at the unborn children just since this awful Supreme Court decision has been put before the people of this country and I see almost 20 million children that were denied the opportunity to live a full life. That weighs very very heavily upon this Councilman. I put a rose on my lapel to let people know where I'm coming from because the rose signifies life.

Being a combatant for most of my life and being a soldier, when this bill was first trying to be introduced, I heard the fire engines passing by the Council Chambers here on the outside of Grant Street, and if those firemen are going to risk their life for another human being, and the medal of honors and the highest award that can ever be given in this country is generally given to that person who risked their life for their fellow human being.

We have a great fight upon our hands to change that Supreme Court decision and for that reason, I cannot vote for this resolution, Bill No. 151, because it strikes horrors and I read the accounts of what happens in the various operating rooms. It's unique to know that there's about 300,000 medical doctors in this particular country of ours and there's only around 9,000 medical doctors who subject themselves to this type of an operation. It gives a little bit of even credence to what's happening within the medical profession. It was almost a prayerful note when some of the hospitals within the Allegheny County area, for the first time, are putting in to their insurances that abortions are not covered under the general Blue Shield and Blue Cross because to those people who have to live and work in those hospitals, they cannot tolerate any longer what is happening among those hospitals.

To me, and I've always been schooled in this particular area, that to lay your life down for another human being is the greatest sacrifice, the greatest sacrifice, any other human being can make for one another and these children in the womb of a woman, is in fact life, and to abort that life is in fact killing. And for any of us in this room that will pass on this resolution is saying to the people that we are elected by in the City of Pittsburgh, to say, in fact, that we are for killing. And you can't call it any other way. If you do, you're not facing the issue straight out. I'd rather have a person vote against it or for it straight out and not abstain his vote but call it for what it is; it's the killing of a human life.

I don't think there's a greater battle on this earth that we're having today than that particular issue. It's the most damaging thing that will ever happen. I think all of us are probably God-fearing in this room and I think if the wrath of World War III will ever come upon us, it will be because of what is happening and what this bill stands for.

For that reason, I ask the good Lord to give all of you people the wisdom and the strength to stand up to what we're going to vote on here because never has a vote ever come before this Council with such significance and indication of where our society as a body and as a whole. As the elected people of the City of Pittsburgh, as the grass roots organization of all of our communities, I ask all of you, please, vote this thing down, once and for all, and set the tone here in the City of Pittsburgh.

Thank you, Mr. President.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to point out that I have a daughter that is now 25 years old. I am a member of NOW; I am a proud member of NOW. I am one of the founders of the Squirrel Hill NOW, and I speak as a founder. The position of NOW is not a proponent of abortion; that is a misconception. The position of NOW is the right to choose and there are Nuns of the Catholic Church who have taken a position of the right to choose.

If you want to talk about the Cambodian babies and the death of people who are dying of malnutrition, I would like to see people who are opposing the abortion adopting some of these children.

What we need is education. What we need is support systems. What we need is jobs, so we don't see the rites of passage among black, particularly minority, young women, at the age of 14 and 15 being accepted in their community because they've had an illegitimate child. We're having children having children and if you want to talk about a serious problem in this country, it's children having children.

I want to close on a note, and it is not a funny note but it is funny. I happened to go to a lecture not too long ago where there was about 1200 women in attendance. The guest speaker was Sally Jesse Raphael and she swears that there is now technical data substantiating the fact that men can carry babies to full term. They implant some kind of a sac, the man nurtures the baby and the baby can be brought to term. I thought she was joking but this is absolutely medical, documented fact. You can call Sally Jesse Raphael; I have her number, or her husband's number.

Now, when the men start carrying babies, and I notice our President, Mr. Woods, is hysterical, but when Mr. Woods is walking around, I'm making a supposition funny, perhaps Mr. DePasquale can help me out because I forget the name of the Legislator in Harrisburg who took the lead against abortions and he said, "I didn't know that when my girlfriend asked me for money for an abortion, I thought she needed the money to go see her sick mother, and if I'm wrong, may God strike me dead." And God did; in two weeks he was dead. And that is a true story about one of our State Legislators, I've just forgotten the name, a reporter told me the name last week.

When men have their girlfriend's baby implanted in them and they have to walk around with them and support them, then they will have the right to make the decision because we are not, I repeat, not supporting abortion. We are saying, people have the right to choose.

Mr. Pollock:

I'm sorry that my colleagues are turning this resolution into a confrontational debate on the issue of abortion. If you read the language, this is a City Council resolution supporting women. It is a City Council resolution which is coordinated with the nationwide, week-long observance of International Women's Day and all it does is say that it recognizes what the law of the land is. We are a nation of laws, I would hope we are a City Council of laws. And the law of the land is Roe v. Wade. It doesn't say it supports it, it doesn't say it advocates it, it doesn't say it wants it affirmed; it says it recognizes it. That's the only mention of the question.

I would hope that the City Council and my colleagues would take that language which says that the City Council of the City of Pittsburgh shows its support for women and its concern for the health, safety and well-being of women and would pass this resolution unanimously.

Mrs. Masloff:

I take a stand that this resolution says that we're supporting March for Women's Lives Week. That's all. That's all we're supporting. We support everything else, every other march and every other civic organization in the City. That's my stand.

Mr. Wagner:

In reading the resolution, it does say "March for Women's Lives" and I would support this resolution if it didn't include the second paragraph, Roe v. Wade. I know I proposed a resolution several weeks ago that basically talked about respect for life and I support all of the principles that women have been supporting except the one pertaining to abortion. It's a conflict when you think of a nation, even though a Supreme Court made a decision back 10 or so years ago, that we have a law in this land where we fine someone $1000 if the egg of an eagle has been killed. And basically, that same principle doesn't apply to human beings. So, for that reason, I can't support it.

Mr. Givens:

I'd just like to make one last and final comment. The central purpose of this event is to recognize that the woman's right to the reproductive choice, that doesn't say abortion, it says reproductive choice, is constitutionally granted by the Supreme Court decision of Roe v. Wade. That was the exact point that I was bringing out. That was the Supreme Court decision, and of course, that is trying to be overturned right now. People did not appreciate the significance of what the impact this was going to have on our own society. When they can take your money and my money and use it for their purpose of destruction, that is the greatest thing that I have in the Roe v. Wade. They're using my money and my faith does not accept that nor do I accept that as a human being.

Some of the remarks that were made about the Catholic Church and nuns here, is something that is out of character and those people have to deal with themselves independently. They can be anybody but they have to be judged by the good Lord themselves and in the eyes of the various denominations that they're in. Let those people speak for themselves.

Michelle Madoff:

When this bill came up, the opposition to this bill presented a bill. I stated at that time, Mr. Wagner's bill, that this bill did not belong in this form because indeed we are a land of laws and whatever the law of the land is, I will obey that law. I think Mr. Pollock stated it more eloquently.

The fact remains that this Council deemed it proper to produce a bill of that nature and allow a woman to get up and actually single people out in this Council and clear implication we're going to get that person because they didn't agree with somebody's philosophy. I don't care whether anybody is black, yellow, striped, what their religious, sexual preference is; I don't want anybody inflicting it on me and I don't inflict my beliefs on anybody else. But since this Council took a position to support Pro Life, I think I have the right to support this bill and I think that, again, the issue is one of the laws of the land.

Mr. Pollock:

As is so often the case, Mrs. Masloff said a few words but they were very astute and wise. This is merely a resolution supporting March for Women's Lives Week and by passing this resolution, City Council is again not taking any position on Roe v. Wade or any position on abortion. It is merely supporting our fellow Pittsburghers who will be marching to Washington as we have supported many other Pittsburghers in many other marches on many other days. I would ask that we join our fellow Pittsburghers by showing our passage of this resolution in support of it.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Michelle Madoff	Mr. O'Malley
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Pollock

AYES 4	NOES 5
--------	--------

VOTING NO:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. Wagner
Mr. Givens	Mr. Woods
Mr. Grabowski	(Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Michelle Madoff:

I have another item. There's a very serious issue before this City; that is, what is going to happen to the Stadium. I'm sure all members of Council have been inundated at home by the media asking them what they know.

I'm unhappy to tell you that all my information is second hand, third hand, speculation, and unfortunately, when we do media coverage, no matter what is said, they don't have the time, especially in the electronic media, they take one little quote out.

I'd like to go on record as saying that I think Mayor Caliguiri deserves a gold medal for his efforts in trying to get the Pirates to stay here and in his efforts to do the job. But I don't think we can wait five minutes. I would like to meet with the Mayor today and find out whether he plans to introduce a bill next Monday; obviously it was not introduced today. You cannot introduce it unless you're planning to recess this meeting, and I don't think you are, are you, Mr. President?

The facts remain that what we're hearing is that, indeed, several corporations who were pending to buy the Pirates are saying no on the basis of the reason we were stampeded into voting at the end of '85 which was grandfathering an IRS ruling which would make it very appealing and very attractive for someone to have a tax shelter. It was creative financing, highly technical, Einstein-has-to-understand-it kind of bill. We hired a consultant. Mr. Woods was a true leader in helping to work with the consulting firms. I think you were very please with them, were you not, Mr. Woods, and the job they performed, and we voted our conscience and we voted to support the Mayor.

Here we are now into the first of March. There's no reason to believe, although it is true and I believe it to be true, there are two more companies who are indeed seriously interested in still negotiating, that if the IRS ruling was not appealing to four other corporations, why would it have an appeal for the other two?

We are going to be asked very shortly to go out on a short term note or on a bond. If we go out on that bond and if we do not find a buyer — this was not planned, Mr. Woods — what do we do? Where do we find the money when everybody sat here, as Finance Chairman, Mr. Woods, and told us how bad things were. Our City employees didn't get a raise, cost of living increase. We had no money, we circumvented it with thousand dollar bonuses to people I don't believe should have gotten it. And here we're being asked to go out on a bond and if we don't find a permanent buyer that $2-1/2 to 3 million is out of the taxpayers' pocket. That should have been the main issue on today's agenda, even though we go by a pro forma, what our items are. We are elected officials, we represent the constituency of the City. Let's talk about the most important issue of this City. The most important issue is not the Stadium, is not the Pirates, but the bigger picture of bringing jobs to this community. And the Pirates and the Stadium is just a small segment of that. There is a blue ribbon task force, Mr. Wagner serves on it, I serve on it, and that committee has to immediately look at this whole picture.

I want information and I want it now and I think every member of this Council wants it. If anybody has any information, would you please share it with us. Do you have any, Mr. Woods?

The Chair:

I only know what I read in the newspaper.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Woods, that is a sad but true commentary. It's sad but true.

The Chair:

And I watched you and I learned a little off of you last night.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you. Do you know why? Because I made several phone calls to informed sources who let me know what was happening. I don't want to be put in the position of being quoted out of context and not saying that the Mayor has done a tremendous job because he has. And I don't want him to get so committed to the position that he has to live up to that commitment that he'll be condemned for it and we're putting his feet to the fire. But he's going to do something irresponsible or irrational because he wants to keep his word. He tried. He tried the best he could. That's all you can say. The Mayor did a yeoman's job and a terrific job of trying. Let's not condemn him but certainly let's get some information.

The Chair:

Fine.

Michelle Madoff:

Now. When? Tomorrow? We have a task force meeting of this body. Can we meet tomorrow right after the task force?

The Chair:

We have a public hearing tomorrow. Ms. Madoff, I don't know. When the Mayor calls, he'll fill us in. He still thinks there's a buyer. You know, I've said all that before. I think everyone else has said it; I think he has said it. I can't speak for him; I cannot speak for the Mayor.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I'd just formally like to make a motion that this Council meet with the Mayor sometime within this week to discuss the Stadium issue. Really, the purpose behind it is simply to find out what is happening, what options are available to the City, and to keep us all informed because obviously that is the topic of the day and I think all of us should be as up on it as anyone is up on it seeing that we may be back to square one and we may have another situation developing where other legislation may have to come in front of Council. I would like to have input prior to that legislation coming in front of us.

The Chair:

Mr. Wagner, I don't think you have to put that in the form of a motion. I guarantee you a meeting before the week is out.

Mr. Wagner:

Good. Terrific.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, we have some problems on that. Two members on this Council, myself and Mr. Wagner, are on what I believe the greater picture, and we are being briefed this week because they want to get something happening. We're going to get sort of the gut of the proposals of the three different entities tomorrow at 8:30 until about 3:00 and then I think it's Friday as well and then we have a session on Monday and a session on Wednesday. The only free day I see as of now is Thursday.

I also want to make a point. The Mayor, not Councilmembers, said that I have set my own deadline, which was 24 hours. My information is that they have three weeks. I believe that the Galbreaths have set that three weeks. I do not know whether that's true but my gut tells me it's the Galbreaths.

The Chair:

I just said that I guarantee a meeting with the Mayor before the week is out and whenever that meeting is, I'm sure that we can all re-arrange our schedules on an important issue like this to make sure we are there.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm just pointing out that this is part of a greater issue which is bringing the tourists and the business to the area so they will support the team. So, Tuesday and Friday we are out. I just wanted to mention that.

Mr. DePasquale:

On the same subject. Mr. Chairman, I'm led to believe that the task force that Michelle refers to and that Mr. Wagner also serves on, someday in the near future is to make a decision or give an opinion on in which area in the City of Pittsburgh should be developed first. I believe there are four or five there under discussion. One I believe is Herr's Island, Armstrong Court, the Strip area, and the North Shore of the Stadium. What happens if the task force recommends that we develop one of those other areas rather than the North Shore of the Stadium, in lieu of the fact that nobody is coming forth to buy the Stadium at the present time?

Michelle Madoff:

May I respond to that? May I correct that terrible erroneous impression that is circulating around town, that the task force is charged with prioritizing; in other words, coming up with a project to go on, first of all. That would be the worst thing that could happen to this community because, first of all, the rumors around town is that it's already wired and it's going to be the North Shore. That's not true.

We agreed there would be one spokesperson for the committee and it would be Joe Mistick who is chairing the committee, but I do not believe there would be any objection of that committee for my sharing information with this Council and with the public.

There was a letter received from the Buhl people on the North Shore, Buhl Planetarium, wanting to build a Buhl Science Center. They were afraid that indeed that was our rule, that we were going to be picking a priority and what if it wasn't theirs? They were ready to get their money. Michelle Madoff made a motion that we send a letter immediately in support of the Buhl Science Center and that we all support it so we don't endanger that project so they could get their funding, but in exchange, that Mr. Josh Wetzel and the Buhl people support all projects, and whatever project is ready to go first, if the Buncher project has people ready with contracts, they go first. If we're going to build the concept that Mr. Wagner has, which is brilliant, to have a tram, the air-way thing going from Mount Washington over to the Stadium comes first and we have that ready and in place — We want to do all of it. We went out on a $100 million on a Water and Sewer Authority; we need $150 million to do all the infrastructure for all the projects. And all three projects would equal one Baltimore Harbor.

That's what I meant, Mr.

DePasquale, that the Stadium is a piece of the problem. It is really not the major problem. We've got to bring tourism; we've got to bring people to this community because the same dollar that we had is being spent in the same place and we don't have any new dollars. That's the problem.

Now, on another matter. When we adjourn at this time, we are to go into the back room and discuss our ethics. I resent, first of all, I resent, and I'm going to tell Mr. Musick personally, although I think he's a delightful writer and he amuses me, that he reported that all of us voted unanimously for a law suit on the $75,000. It happens that three minorities on this Council voted in opposition because we understand what it's like to be discriminated against, perhaps more than most people. That was an incorrect reporting.

Secondly, in his recent column he stated that going in the back room to discuss ethics is a big joke. If we're going to discuss ethics, let's do it here; let's do what is a conflict of interest and what isn't. I've talked to Councilman O'Malley and he says he has no objections to it. Let's do it right here and now.

The Chair:

Wait a minute; let me straighten this out. We're not going to discuss ethics; we are already governed by a state law that says ethics.

Ms. Madoff, I'm going to say this one more time and I hope everybody is listening. It's not a back room; it's a conference room. And if you want to paint it and try to ridicule this Council with that statement, that is your business. But I want everyone to know that every other colleagues of mine considers it a conference room and if any of you object to me saying that please stand up and be counted and call it a back room. You are the people who asked to have these meetings once a month so that we could discuss this type of behavior in Council, how we act, how we treat each other, so we can get rid some of our frustrations instead of doing it here in Council. If you object to doing it, please, tell me now and we will not have any meetings. It is you who wished this, not Councilman Ben Woods. And there is one individual here that is ruining that and that is Ms. Madoff.

Michelle Madoff:

May I respond?

The Chair:

No, you may not until I'm finished. And please sit down.

Now, if there's anyone here who objects to us meeting in our conference room to discuss Council rules or any of our behavior, anything but legislation, please let me know and we will not have any meetings. But, we are governed, for everyone to understand this, there is a state law that governs ethics of every elected official and public official in this state. That's what we are governed by.

Michelle Madoff:

May I respond?

The Chair:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Take a deep breath.

I agree, Mr. Woods, that when we want to talk about routine procedural situations, we can meet in a board room. But when we have a Councilmember out of town who couldn't defend himself, who is being pictured as having taken certain actions, you and I discussed it and you said that you were trying to reach him, he was not here, we go in the back room and discuss what is considered ethical and what is not, the media is not going to here what we're saying on that subject. I am not saying on every subject. I think it's only fair to Councilman O'Malley that we discuss that particular subject and have him have a chance to air it in the room because we are discussing what is considered ethical and what is not considered ethical. Frankly, I'm going to start a business and I don't care if everybody knows about it and we talk about it in this room.

I am not -- perhaps you're misunderstanding and we have a communication gap here -- saying that we should not go in the room and say, well, we ought to this on Monday, we ought to do this, we ought to talk about this, and maybe Michelle, you said something I didn't like -- I don't object to that. I'm talking about in this particular instance of going to discuss and the subject today on the agenda is what constitutes a conflict of interest. Can we please discuss that item here in this room?

The Chair:

We are not going to discuss anything in the conference room that constitutes a conflict of interest because we do not know -- That's why the individual went to the Ethics Commission. There is a law that tells you what it is; it is governed by state law.

And whatever reporter says it's a back room, because they got that terminology from you, we don't discuss anything there but what we talked about, behavior of Council, parking spaces, anything like that, behavior. But if you people do not wish to do it, that's fine with me.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, since my name has been brought up and Michelle says that we're going to discuss this in the back room, it's not like this topic hasn't been discussed to death. We were on the front pages of the Press and Post Gazette 19 out of 21 days.

She's right, Mr. Flaherty did attack me when I was out of town. My thoughts on Mr. Flaherty's allegations are that they're lies. I know they're lies, Mr. Flaherty knows they're lies. Mr. Flaherty also knows that I wrote to the Ethics Committee, I put all his charges down, his allegations down, I put my answers down and we're waiting for an opinion from the Ethics Committee. Now, when Mr. Flaherty knew that I was asking for an opinion from the Ethics Committee, Mr. Flaherty filed charges. The only reason he made the accusations against me was to get his name on the front pages of the Pittsburgh Press and the Post Gazette. And he did succeed very well in doing that.

Hopefully I'll have an answer from the Ethics Committee this week.

The Chair:

Fine. Don't you agree that, since it is there, we should not discuss your problems?

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, one, there are no problems. All the realities, everybody knows there's never been any business with the City of Pittsburgh prior to my employment with them, that Oliver Realty certainly hasn't done any business with the City of Pittsburgh during my employment with them. A conflict of interest states when a person uses his power or his elected office for a gain either for his company or for himself and I certainly would never do that and I don't think any member of this Council would do something like that.

I agree with you that the conduct of this Council, the conduct of the Mayor, the State Senate, the State Legislature, and every elected official and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is governed by the Ethics Committee. I think it should be taken out of the hands of this Council. I think it would be very difficult for us to judge each other. I think it belongs to a non-partisan body like the Ethics Commission.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, with all due respect, I understand why you're angry and I would ask you if you wish to take the time, and I don't think you will, we can get the transcript, verbatim of what you said, and I have a pretty good memory. You said, and that's why the media picked up on it and why I said what I did, we will discuss -- somebody made a motion that we would meet in, if you want to call it the conference room, the conference room to discuss what constitutes a conflict of interest and what doesn't, as we perceive it. That should not be done in the room. Do you want to get the verbatim comment that was made in this room? That's what I understood, that's what the media understood, we were going to do in the conference room. The conference room, when we discussed that kind of item and the media isn't public, does become the back room. That's what I'm saying. Now, if you would like to wait, I'm sure that the City Clerk can get us the exact quote of why we were meeting and we were going to meet in the "conference room" and we were going to discuss what everybody here understood a conflict of interest to be. Why can't the media be there for that? So let's do it here. Do you understand where I'm coming from?

The Chair:

Mr. Wagner, last Monday, said he wanted to talk about ethics of this Council. Am I correct, Mr. Wagner?

Mr. Wagner:

Yes.

The Chair:

I said that we can discuss that along with other things when we have our next Monday meeting in the conference room. What I mean by ethics of this Council, to me, it means behavior and other types of things, which we discussed last month. It's not what is a conflict of interest; that's not what he asked that day. He said ethics of this Council.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm sorry but he did.

Mr. Wagner:

I mentioned both the ethics and the conflict of interest. Really, my purpose behind it, Mr. President and members of Council, was that if there is going to be public speculation of Council, I think we have to adopt within our own rules certain rules that identify what a conflict of interest is. If a conflict of interest does exist, then we, I think, as a body, have to look at it ourselves rather than letting other bodies evaluate where we stand. I think we are subject too much to other opinions, public opinions, and the opinions of other governing bodies and we should take control of that situation ourselves. So, that's what I'm suggesting we do.

The Chair:

Let me ask you this. What binding authority would we have if we said that no one could have an outside job?

Mr. Wagner:

As written into the Charter, we have the ability to investigate ourselves and we have the ability to establish rules and regulations. And if, in fact, we violated those, I think somehow we could be subject to whether or not we would even sit at this table. Council can, in and of itself, act upon itself. What I'm saying is that we should clearly identify when and how we can do that.

Mr. Pollock:

Everyone has been speaking about the State Ethics Act by which all elected officials in the state of Pennsylvania, as well as other people besides elected officials are governed, and that is accurate. But I might also point out to this body that in addition to the State Ethics Act, numerous governmental bodies within this Commonwealth have their own code of ethics and I point out to one that was recently enacted in our larger encompassing body which is the County of Allegheny which instituted its own code of ethics within the last year or two.

In addition, I would point out that there are numerous state ethics codes. There is one for different departments of the state. I think the Welfare Department has their own code of ethics; I think the Governor has his own code of ethics. I have obtained all of these different ethics codes and I am presently drafting a model City ethics code which I will be submitting to this body to be enacted into legislation which would then give us the exact authority of which you're speaking, which would define the different terms you're speaking of and which would put us in the same situation as the County of Allegheny, as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and as numerous other municipalities in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so that there are no cracks through which certain things can fall, by which we do not have to wait for the Ethics Commission to act, which has a backlog, which does not act unless a complaint is filed or unless an opinion is requested.

Let us govern ourselves and by having what I consider to be a tighter, more encompassing, more rigid code of ethics by which we should all be governed, I think all the people of the City of Pittsburgh will be in better condition.

The Chair:

I totally agree with you and I think it should start right in this room, from all of us.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Woods, I think you owe me an apology because Mr. Wagner just restated that he indeed did say that he wanted to discuss the issue of conflict of interest. And you did indeed say we'll discuss that as part of our private meeting. All I said was that I think we ought to discuss it here and you immediately attacked me. I react to your attack and then I am the one that is branded as being the disruptive person. You see, most females would say, and hide under the table. Well, I'm not going to let you do that to me. I like you, I respect you, I think you do a good job; but that has nothing to do with when I think you're wrong. I'm going to fight for what I believe to be right in the same way that you are. And you may apologize to me. If you're a gentleman you will.

The Chair:

Ms. Madoff, you better believe one thing. I didn't attack you. If I ever attacked you, you'd know it.

Michelle Madoff:

You attacked me and by attacking me you attack my constituency and certainly all women and I think you owe me an apology and you should be big enough to do it.

The Chair:

I don't feel I do.

Michelle Madoff:

I think you're wrong.

And on the motion of Mr. Pollock

Council adjourned.

First of all, I'd like my comments brought forward from the Committee Meeting of last Wednesday.

Mr. Pollock:

I also would like my comments brought forward.

(MR. WAGNER & MR. POLLOCK'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 222 FROM MARCH 5, 1986)

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Chairman, Members of Council, the issue of Greyhound Racing and wagering on Greyhound Racing has been before the State Legislatures for about the last five or six years. There have been at least one half dozen of bills in Harrisburg for various reasons those bills have not moved out of committee due to lobbying efforts against them; however, there have been many legislatures and as a matter of fact the most recent bill was sponsored by about 20 State Legislatures and there needs to be some means in which public opinion is obtained on this issue. Basically, that is what I am suggesting with Bill 222, that we have a referendum question in the City of Pittsburgh to find out what the people think in regard to Greyhound racing and whether or not it should be legalized within the boundaries of the City of Pittsburgh or possibly beyond that.

As you all know, this has come up in the committee before; last week we had a lengthy meeting, public hearing pertaining to this issue. The public hearing pertained to mostly some of the problems that the speakers have indicated that existed in Greyhound Racing Industry in the past and to some degree in other states even today. The problems that they spoke about was the mistreatment of animals, the wagering problems and the impact that it can have on society.

Gaging from the public hearing, there were approximately three people opposed to every person in favor in terms of the number of speakers. All of you have probably had responses in your office whether it be by telephone or whether it be by written letters or even comments made on the street in regard to this issue. I personally think that we have not truly heard the majority speak on the issue and that's the reason for me requesting an advisory referendum question to be put on the ballot, hopefully, this coming May if it passes this Council and if it passes the Board of Elections.

I would just like to state very briefly, we have talked about -- I have talked about the advantages of this potential industry in the City of Pittsburgh. It exists in many areas throughout the country, 15 states, there are 45 tracks, it's the sixth largest spectator sport and what advantages can it have, to the City of Pittsburgh? Well, the number one advantage is jobs; it can create anywhere between three and four hundred jobs. It can have a tremendous spin-off impact on other industries such as what some of the people at the public hearing spoke about, the bus industry, transporting people to and from, the restaurant industry and many others; it can be a new revenue source. Not only can it be a new revenue source, it can keep us from losing revenue in the City. What I mean is that many people including possibly many of us and many of the people here in this room have been to Greyhound Racing Tracks and probably the one you have been to is Wheeling West Virginia. We have actually left our City, left our county, left our state and spent dollars in other states that should have remained here. Not only should they have remained there but we could be soliciting that revenue from other areas that could be coming into Pittsburgh.

I believe that this potential industry also has another benefit which is entertainment. We can generate a new entertainment in the City of Pittsburgh, something that can help our convention business, something that can help our tourism industry. We have a very well known family in this City, possibly the most respected family in the City that owns Greyhound Racing Tracks in this country, the Rooney family. I have even spoke with them personally, they have indicated to me that in order to properly administer this sport all it takes is to have the proper state laws to govern the sport.

The two bills that are presently in front of the House in Harrisburg have incorporated proper protection of the animals. It has indicated the elimination of live lures in training in the use of Greyhounds and it has also indicated some of the training procedures that must be incorporated is this sport were to be legalized in the City of Pittsburgh.

Getting back to the purpose of this resolution, it is a referendum, request for a referendum and as part of this referendum, I am suggesting that if it be legalized, that a portion of the revenue gained be equally divided between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the City of Pittsburgh. As for that revenue to be earmarked towards reduction of the Wag Tax. Now, if this were legalized, ultimately, that decision would be left up to the State Legislatures. However, we could cast our opinion and the public could through a referendum question. The referendum itself probably is the greatest form of participation in democracy. There is nothing bad about a referendum question especially if it pertains to a new area that needs to be explored in government. When it talks about the ordinary everyday questions that we can vote on here at this table in which we were elected to vote on, I don't think a referendum question is proper, but when we are talking about potentially a new industry; when we are talking about something that has not been done in this City in the past, I think that warrants public opinion; and the greatest way to get public opinion is through a referendum.

In addition, a referendum it has been proven increases the number in percent of people that actually vote on Election Day. It is a way to get people to participate more in government. We have asked for an opinion, I believe Councilman Givens asked for an opinion from our Law Department whether or not it is legal to ask for an advisory referendum? That opinion has been given back and I don't know if all of you have seen it? It indicates that even though it has not been customary for advisory referendums to be placed on the ballot. I tend to believe that because it is an unusual item that they would think favorably upon this resolution.

I just want to share a couple of other quick items with you. It was provided to me some information pertaining to whether or not Greyhound Racing if legalized in the City of Pittsburgh would cause a criminal problem or criminal element in our City? Our Public Safety Department did a study within the last week and they surveyed at least ten cities in the country where Greyhound Racing exist and they indicated and I will state out of the findings in a letter to Mr. Louis DeNardo. "In overview of 12 law enforcement agencies contacted indicates that the sport of dog racing has produce minimal problems for police. None of the police agencies contacted indicated any involvement on the part of organized crime in the sport within their particular jurisdiction." "This is one of the cleanest sports in terms of wagering that exist in America, with no indications of criminal element involved in it." I would like to just briefly sum up that dog racing is legal in the State of Pennsylvania and that is something that a lot of people really are not aware of it and many participants at our public hearing are not aware of. Dog racing is legal and just recently there was a dog race in the Allegheny National Forest with Siberian Huskies, a 50 mile race just a month or six weeks ago. The only thing that is not legal is the wagering on dog racing and that's basically the question that is being asked here on the referendum question that is being proposed.

The other item that I want to indicate is that the major opponents to dog racing in this state are as follows: Number one, the Horse Racing Industry. The Horse Racing Industry does not want to see dog racing legalized because obviously it is competition to another industry. The number two opponent is dog racing trackowners in adjoining states and adjoining states; the reason being obvious, that we would be taking some of their revenue. In the situation with Wheeling West Virginia, 70 percent of those that go the Wheeling are Pennsylvania residents. The third are the Humane Society and the protection of animals who object to it and the fourth are those that are against wagering in general. Those against wagering in general, I don't think there is anyone in our society that doesn't wager on something, whether it be a Bingo, whether be betting on a football game, whether it be playing the lottery and we all know that the benefits of the Lottery, what it has done to our state. Every senior citizen in our state has benefited from the Lobby. I think every citizen in this city can benefit with the legalization of Greyhound Racing.

Finally, just to wrap up, I would just like to say that if in fact this Council approved this resolution, if it goes on the ballot, if it is not approved overwhelming by a margin of two to one in a referendum question, I personally will stop lobbying in behalf of Greyhound Racing. If the Public does not approve it two to one, I will backoff on the issue, that's how positive I feel that the public will support this issue and I am simply requesting your support on this resolution.

(MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS)

Mr. Pollock:

I share Michelle's concerns about referendum of Government. We were elected by the people to represent and we have a representative democracy. The other concern that I have is on referendums, is that often times especially when there is an issue concerning big money and obviously there is when you have a racing question is that outside interests can come in and by media time and by leaflet and so forth to effect a vote on the referendum which might not otherwise be a representative vote; so that is a concern that I have.

The other concern I have is that while Jack is to be commended for trying to come up with new ways to create jobs and produce revenue for the City of Pittsburgh, I don't think that racing is the way to go and I think that Council should look for other ways to create jobs and produce revenue and the amount of jobs that would be created would be insignificant compared to the lost of prestige to the City and the loss of esteem to the city. The character of the jobs, I think would be minimum wage jobs, ticket sellers, vendors and so forth. I think we could spend our efforts and try to find other ways and I would be opposed to the referendum for that reason.

(MR. GIVENS COMMENTS)

(MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS)

(MR. GIVENS COMMENTS)

Mr. Wagner:

Members of Council, just a couple final comments raised by you in regard to the referendum question. True our state law is different from other states in that a referendum in our state is not a binding referendum. I think that is to our advantage in this state; and I think it is good that we have advisory referendum rather than binding referendums. However, there are some very important issue that warrant advisory referendums. We have heard throughout the country and we have heard even in the State of Pennsylvania the nuclear waste disposal issue. If nuclear wates were to be disposed in the City of Pittsburgh, I personally think because that has never been done here, that's an issue that warrants an advisory referendum to find out what the public thinks. What we are talking about here is a new tax, really, that's the issue here. The issue here is a new tax, a new source of revenue, it's a tax on wagering. Does a new tax deserve public opinion? Absolutely, there is no doubt about it because those that wager on dog racing would be required to pay a portion to the municipality, possibly to the county and to the Commonwealth.

Another comment was mentioned about minimum wage of employees at these facilities, absolutely false. These are union workers, similar to the union workers that we employ at our Three Rivers Stadium, they make a very decent wage, true many are part-time, they work four hours a day in the evening during the events only, but they make a very good buck for those four hours. In terms of economic development, all of you know that I will vote yes on any project as it relates to economic development, I don't care what public pressure is placed upon me. If the project creates jobs, I will vote for it and that is the number one problem in our city. We are not going to attract large companies to this City that employ three, four hundred people in heavy industry. We have to start with smaller companies, the hi-technology field, we can't expect all studies indicate that you cannot expect the number of employees in hi-technology to be any greater than one sixth of your work force. We need to have other people working in other service industries as related to that.

Again, finally, I would just like to state this is nothing more than asking the public for their opinion, I see nothing wrong with that, it's a new idea, new ideas deserve public opinion, it is not approved two to one, I will back off on the issue.

I vote aye.

(END OF REMARKS ON BILL NO. 222)

Mr. Wagner:

I'd just like to say very quickly that I would, as indicated in this bill, what we are simply doing is asking for an advisory referendum question and we're asking for public opinion. This is a potential new source of revenue; it's potentially a new tax that City residents would pay in terms of wagering on greyhound racing if it were legalized within the boundaries of the City of Pittsburgh, as indicated here.

Because it would be a new source of revenue and a new tax, and because this industry does not exist now, and because there is proposed state legislation, I feel it's appropriate up front to ask for an advisory referendum to determine what public opinion is. If public opinion, as a result of a referendum, is not in favor of it, I would strongly suggest that we would not support those House Bills that exist. I personally would not support it if the referendum did not pass by a margin of 2-1 because it is a controversial issue.

I'd just like to say that the House Bills that are proposed have included in them some very strict laws as it relates to the treatment of animals and there's no reason why that can't be amended to make it even stricter and to protect the animals even further.

So, I would appreciate your support for this bill which, again, is simply and only asking for true public opinion through a referendum question.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, I appreciate Councilman Wagner's sentiments. However, we know full well that our vote for the referendum isn't the aye vote in favor of dog racing, or a no vote opposed. Yet the public seems to have the feeling that this is the way we're voting; if we vote for it, for the referendum, we're voting for dog racing and if we vote against it, we're voting against dog racing.

I've been deluged with calls from people over the weekend; in fact, they came to my home and church yesterday, just everywhere I went. Everybody that I talked to or talked to me was vehemently opposed to dog racing, cruelty to animals, or whatever reason. I haven't had one person call me to tell me they're for it, or would like to see dog racing or would like to put it on the referendum.

I doubt that the revenue and the jobs that are projected are there. Due to that fact, even though I voted last Wednesday in the Finance Meeting to put it on the referendum, I have the prerogative today, as all of my colleagues do, to vote for or against and I've decided to change my mind and I'm going to vote against it.

Mr. Pollock:

I would just like to point out that for those people who feel that the public hearings are a waste of time or that we've all decided how we're going to vote ahead of time, I want it to be known that, frankly, I was leaning toward voting for this for the simple reason that the argument that Jack has made about letting the public express its view on the issue and so forth was very important. This was merely an advisory referendum.

But having listened to all of the people at the public hearing, I decided to change my mind. The most telling testimony, the most significant testimony, was that this issue, if it were placed on the ballot as a referendum, would really not put the parties on different sides in the same bargaining position. People who would be opposed to dog racing would have to rely upon word of mouth or leafletting or something like that whereas those supporting dog racing would be able to come in and have the funds necessary to make a high media campaign, heavy media campaign supporting it. We saw the one film in Council that they put together which, of course, portrayed dog racing in a very favorable light.

So, I think the parties would not be on equal grounds and I don't think we'd really be able to get a fair referendum and for that reason I am voting against it. I do not feel necessarily that all referendums are bad but I think that the parties should have equal bargaining power.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm still going to vote against it but I do want to share with my colleagues that I did get one more call at my house and that was from some senior citizens who claim they take the bus to West Virginia to go to the dog races. I had to think about that and then I started thinking about these poor senior citizens losing their money at the dog races.

I still maintain that if we're going to have government by referendum, I'd like to see the issue of the Stadium bond issue put on a referendum. I'd like to see every important issue like Warner, the steam heat plant, everything, put on referendum. We can't have government by referendum so I'm going to vote against it.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, Wednesday I happened to be out of the room when the vote was taken; therefore, I was unable to cast my vote, but had I been here Wednesday it would have been in the affirmative. Today I am voting in the affirmative.

It seems, though, that if you're voting in the affirmative, somehow the connotation is that you're in support of cruelty to animals. I don't know, I think that's a misrepresentation of the facts here. I'm probably the only Councilmember here that has a 30 x 20 picture of his dog hanging on the wall in his office. I love my dog and I probably love my dog just as much as anyone out there loves their pet. But I think that this is a great way to bolster the economy of the City and I think that's what Councilman Wagner is after here. But I think, Jack, the way this is worded, I think you're being unrealistic if you think that we're going to get half of the tax revenues. I mean, the General Assembly often times works in mysterious ways but I don't think they're going to be generous enough to give the City of Pittsburgh 50 percent but, nevertheless, I think the spinoffs from this, if it would happen to come along, we would happen to realize the dog track or what is desirable.

I intent to vote for this and I would encourage all members of Council to do likewise.

Mr. Givens:

I had abstained my vote on Wednesday trying to give it great thought and that legal opinion was given to us right before we came into the Council at that particular time. Referendum questions, as far as the City of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County, there's no requirement, it's a referendum that we're just wishing and hoping that things will come our way and that's not the way it's done in the real world. In fact, the County Commissioners have a policy against referendum questions. And, yes, there have been one or two that have gone in but most of them have been Allegheny County in scope, not just one of 130 municipalities.

We have to watch, and if Jack had approached me on this legislation prior to its getting this public publicity, I would have told him of my experience of several years ago, three or four years ago, when I had the same thought in mind not knowing the embattlement of the dog treatment. That was not an issue that even surfaced at that particular time. But it's a state regulated and state controlled and the taxes go to the state. Even then, as recently as now, talking to our local state legislator, our local state legislators, they would love to give this to all local municipalities but in reality, they have a budget up there; they're being cut very drastically on their revenues and their revenues tie into education, it ties into the helping of people who are in need in this particular state, things that we do not address in this City government. So, they're not going to be relinquishing one penny to any municipality because they need it for their particular endeavors and rightfully so.

When the public hearing came about and the dog treatment issue came up, that almost startled me to know that the care of these animals and I didn't hear controversial testimony that left me feel that this dog treatment was going to be any different than what was depicted in that public briefing to us and hopefully, it will change and hopefully, the state law, if it does get passed, has strong binding legislation in it that will control these animals wherever they're trained, and I say wherever. What happens so many times, when we can't do it in this country or we put bites on people in this country, then they go overseas into our island kingdom out there and they train them out there and they'll bring them in from the islands where there's no regulations and we have no absolute control on them. So, until something of a national type of law that prohibits the type of training that was depicted to us at that public hearing, I'd have to vote for it just on that reason alone.

Maybe the most gravitating one of all my objections is the social cost when it comes down to the gambling aspects of it. Jeep indicated he went to church, I went to church too, and that's what I heard from many church-going people in this City, that we don't need any form of gambling within our local community, and they were very strong in that opinion and I respect that opinion.

Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm also against the legislation but for different reasons. One, it is a county referendum, and two, if the referendum did pass and greyhound racing was allowed by law by the State Legislature, because of the limited land use in the City of Pittsburgh, it would be very unlikely that the dog track would be located within the limits of the City of Pittsburgh. More likely, the dog track would be located in the county and therefore, the City of Pittsburgh would probably realize no tax benefits from it at all.

The second reason, I think, the statistics show that the people that can least afford it would probably utilize the facilities more than anyone else, and that would be more of a drain on their limited income. I don't see any benefit for the City of Pittsburgh passing this bill and I don't see any benefit for the City or for the residents if this bill was to pass.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, in response to some of your concerns. Councilman Grabowski, you're right, this is a very idealistic percent to hope that the State Legislators would send 50 percent of the tax revenue generated back to the City. Of course, it's a start and even if we ended up getting half of that, I would be ecstatic about it. But, as you know, being a State Legislator, what's important is to let them know that we do want a local option. If this is legalized in the state and if the track is located within the boundaries of any municipality, that municipality should profit by that.

Councilman Givens, the training and the breeding, I have indicated and I will support, the training and the breeding of greyhound dogs within the state limits, within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, where you can regulate that entirely, totally, and if the state of Texas does not have strict laws, the state of Pennsylvania will have strict laws and will become a frontrunner in the greyhound industry for the proper treatment of animals.

In regard to the gambling aspects voiced by you and Councilman O'Malley, the local church that you go to sponsors gambling. Whether or not you want to accept that, bingos and the lottery, and gambling touches everyone in our society's life. It's a gamble to run for office, believe it or not, because you can lose and you can spend a lot of money in the process. You can talk about gambling and who gambles and who doesn't gamble but everyone in society gambles; they gamble every day of their existence. It's been legalized in many fashions by government; the one we're most familiar with is the lottery. There's not a senior citizen in this commonwealth that doesn't benefit from the lottery. Everyone thought that the lottery was such a bad idea but, as it turned out, there's very few people that think it's a bad idea today.

This proposal is the only proposal recently that can generate a new tax revenue when this City is faced with losing 10 to 15 million in federal revenue sharing, when we're talking about subsidizing a professional major league franchise, baseball, in this City with a proposal that has been presented to us. We're talking about going into the pockets of the taxpayers for an additional $2 million a year. What I'm suggesting here is a new source of revenue that can supplement the loss of federal revenue sharing, that can supplement the money that we're spending to support a major league franchise that can't support itself. There's no greyhound racing track in the country that doesn't make money. It's a very profitable operation, something that will reduce the wage tax if we can gain the revenue, as suggested in this referendum, something that will create 300 or 400 jobs. What's wrong with 300 or 400 jobs in our City, something that will have a spin-off impact on other industries?

The idea here basically, though, is and only is, public opinion. It's an advisory referendum of an appropriate way to go. Statistics indicate that the best form of participatory democracy is the referendum question. If you really want to know public opinion, as Councilwoman Madoff indicated, with a question that everyone's concerned about in the public eye, go to a referendum. A lot of people say if you go to a referendum you're taking away your responsibility. No. By law, we are given the opportunity to go to referendum for a purpose; not to take away our responsibility but to ask for public opinion. There's nothing wrong with asking for public opinion, especially before the fact on a controversial issue, especially if it involves a new industry, especially if it involves a new form of tax, a new revenue-generating source. Public opinion is healthy and for this Council to not permit public opinion is not democracy. For that reason, I strongly suggest there is nothing wrong with the referendum question as long as it's a question that's appropriate at the time and I think this question is. I would appreciate your support.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm going to be very brief. Mr. Chairman, after we have all our other business done, before we adjourn for today, I would like to address one of the subjects that was touched on by my colleague, and I will give further reasons why I don't think you could go to referendum. If it were possible to put a question on a referendum, first of all, it is very costly, it's taxpayers' dollars, to put a question on the referendum. But if it was possible to put a referendum on that wasn't a three-pronged monster that really asked the question and gave the information —

Can you say in a referendum the dogs that are going to be racing would be from out of the state and that we cannot control out-of-state dogs and their abuse and treatment? Can we say for sure that dollars would be coming to the City? And isn't it really part of a much greater package which is bringing new tourist dollars to this area? We're really taking it out of sinc and I'm digressing from my own statement. But, when we get to the issue of the — For example, if we're going to have a referendum on dog racing, why don't we have a referendum on the Pirates? I'm going to tell you why we can't have a referendum on the Pirates later because people can't get all the facts in a referendum question that we have access to and that's why we're elected. I'm going to touch on those later. But I don't think in a referendum question on dog racing we could give them enough facts to get an intelligent response by vote. You can't say in that referendum, as I mentioned earlier, all the variables. You can only say do you want dog racing or don't you. I think that is not sufficient information from which to get an accurate opinion.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, Bill No. 265. I don't know how many of you are aware of this but Bill No. 265 is a revamping of the budget. Go to page S-1; it lists members of Council and their salary. In the year 1985, it's listed as $33,800 and in the year 1986, it's $34,476. The following page is a pay increase for the Mayor. And in here is, I suspect, I can't find it, is another pay increase for the Controller.

As you know, we're about ready to vote on this bill and Council suggested very strongly back at the budget hearings, and the Mayor suggested very strongly, that there would not be pay increases for as many City employees as possible. Under the Home Rule Charter as amended, 11 elected officials can receive pay increases up to and equal the average increase for City employees. Due to the fact that police received a four percent increase in their negotiations this year, due to the fact that firefighters, in a two year agreement, last year received a four percent increase during both years, and due to the fact that there were some other minor increases in the City budget for pays, approximately one-half of the City workforce received a four percent raise. Because of that, the average overall increase for all City employees is approximately two percent.

As proposed in Bill No. 265, we are to receive a two percent increase which leads me to my motion. I do not think that this Council can justifiably, and the Mayor can justifiably, and the Controller can justifiably accept a pay increase when we suggested very strongly that various departments in the City, various employees, do not receive anything.

For that reason, I am making a motion that all elected officials, the Controller, the Mayor, and all members of Council, that their salary remain the same for 1986.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Mr. Pollock:

I wanted to take strong exception and express my great dissatisfaction with the way in which this bill was presented to Council. It came through the Finance Committee; I don't think Mr. O'Malley drafted it but at no time, either in our Committee Meeting or in discussions, were we told that this was, in fact, a pay raise for the elected officials. The language of the bill itself specifically excludes elected officials by referring only to officers and employees of the City of Pittsburgh.

In looking through the bill, it has a draft of the proposed '86 versus '85 appropriations on Exhibit 1, Page S-1, and the salaries for the elected officials remain the same. You have to look into the Appendix in the back under Exhibit 2, Page S-1, and it's there that you find that the salaries for the elected officials are being increased.

You know, you hear about these things being ramrodded through at all kinds of levels of federal, state and local government, and you wonder how they happen. If it weren't for Jack picking up on this, it might have happened here.

So, I would just like to express my great dissatisfaction with the way in which this legislation was drafted, with the manner in which it was put through the Committee. I'm not saying Mr. O'Malley was involved in this but, as I said, it's through his committee and I think that we should have been warned about this before it came up for a vote. A lot of us have asked about the pay raise issue and we're always told that we have to vote on it but we were never told that this legislation was the legislation that in fact we would be voting on.

So, I join Jack in his motion. I don't think a pay raise is due for any of us elected officials, including the City Controller and the Mayor. I urge all of us to defeat this legislation or to send it back to Committee and exclude the elected officials from the pay raise.

Mrs. Masloff:

As the only person who voted against a pay raise some three years ago,

I strongly urge that we vote against it again.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, correct me if I'm wrong. I believe this pay raise is mandatory. If I recall, one of the last parts of legislation that I took part in in City Council was when they had the great cry over the $10,000 increase that was to go to the incoming Councilmembers and incumbents. I was not to be one of them but I voted for $10,000. And then there was an amendment in the legislation put through that said that the Councilpeople, as Councilman Wagner brought out, would get an increase based on 50 percent of the increase to City employees. I understand that the increase to the firemen and police be construed as an increase to City employees and therefore mandatory two percent to Councilpersons.

If we were to turn this down now, and I'm not saying I'm greatly in favor of a pay raise, what's to stop somebody at next Council budget hearings wanting a $5000 or $10,000 increase again? We're saying we're not going to take what we've mandated yet what's to stop us from asking for a higher increase? It's almost automatic. I don't think you can entertain that motion.

The Chair:

Let me explain something. If you recall here a number of weeks ago there was some discussion on that particular item and I said that it was not in the budget at the time. Under law, we have to present that; it would be in the upcoming budget. In fact, Mr. Pollock, you made the statement, by law, you have to take it and give it back or do whatever you want with it. You made that statement to Ms. Madoff.

Mr. Pollock:

I thought that's what the law was.

The Chair:

I'm just saying, you made the statement. If I recall, this bill was introduced two weeks ago, and it was held over for another week so that everyone could look at it. Am I correct? Yes. Believe me, I know what I'm talking about.

I believe why no one discussed it on Wednesday and that's because every member of this Council go so tied up debating dog racing because that was the bill previous to this bill, if I recall.

I resent when someone says you tried to sneak something through or that no one had the chance to look at it or anything like that. I think that statement is not called for, Mr. Pollock.

Mr. Pollock:

It's my statement.

The Chair:

It's your statement but I think that perhaps you're saying that some other member of Council or somebody else tried to do that and I think that's uncalled for.

Mr. Pollock:

Well the language in the bill refers to officers and employees and we are in neither one of those categories.

The Chair:

If we're not an officer of the City, what are we?

Mr. Pollock:

We're elected officials. If you read the Home Rule Charter --

The Chair:

Let me tell you something, Mr. Pollock, I didn't read the whole thing either so I'm just as to blame as you and every other Councilmember here. But that's not my point.

Mr. Pollock:

It's my point, though.

The Chair:

Wait a minute. I have the floor and you're not going to debate me just like I'm not debating you. You'll let me finish and if you wish to say something, I will give you ample opportunity.

All I'm saying is that that reference that some member of this Council or some committee tried to run something through Council is completely uncalled for and you know it and every other member of this Council knows it.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to get some clarification, if I may, and I want to speak for myself. A couple of weeks ago, and if you go back to the records, Mr. Woods, and take your statement to me, I think you were out of line. I came to this Council assuming, because I had spoken to you earlier about the pay raises and we talked about it just in general terms about I didn't need it but a lot of people here had families and we talked about things in general and I understood where you were coming from but in these times what were we going to do and we couldn't vote on it because there were no negotiations -- Excuse me, the negotiations had not been completed with the fire and the police officers, and I assumed that by law we were automatically going to get a raise. So, I made a motion that we shouldn't get that raise. Is that correct? And you said no, I didn't understand -- go back and get the transcript and you'll see -- I didn't understand, we weren't getting it anyway and it was already taken care of.

If you look at the first page that Councilman Pollock pointed out to me, what you said is essentially right. We were not going to get it. But if you look on another page in the back, we're getting it.

Now, I think we ought to resubmit this to Committee and we ought to look at the issues that were presented today by Mr. Wagner and Mr. Pollock and anybody else, and certainly meet with our Finance Chairman.

This gets back to something I think needs to be said. Mr. Pollock comes on this Council and he's an attorney and he's gone out already in the short time he's been here, and negotiated some consent agreements between two parties and has been a great help to this Council. I've been trying to get legal counsel for this Council and I've been trying to get a fiscal advisor for this Council --

The Chair:

Michelle, if you don't address yourself to this bill and to this subject, I will rule you out of order.

Michelle Madoff:

On this subject. If we had a fiscal analyst, we wouldn't be in this embarrassing situation right now of not know what our own financial bill had buried within it. I've been trying to get that for eight years.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm going to agree with Mr. Pollock on one issue, that this is not my legislation. These amendments were submitted by the Administration and sent over to Council. I think ramrod is a little too strong of a word. All Councilmembers had this piece of legislation a week ago Tuesday. At Wednesday's session, Mr. Wagner indicated that he didn't have enough time to review the amendments to the budget, that he would like to have another week. Every member of Council had this budget on their desk for eight days. Every member of Council had an abbreviated copy or version of this budget. At no time in the past eight days did Mr. Pollock come into my office or do I know that Mr. Pollock sat down with my staff, the budget staff, and asked any questions. So, I think ramrod is a little strong. I don't think anybody is trying to ramrod this through. Certainly, if there's a question that I have pertaining to anybody else's committee, I'll go in to that Councilman's office and sit down and express my concerns and have some dialogue on the issues. At no time did anybody try to ramrod this budget through. We had eight days to discuss it; I have a staff and the people are welcome to sit down and discuss it.

My opinion here is that fixing the number of officers and employees, the officers, as I see it, also pertain to the elected officials. As I see it, my definition of officers is elected officials.

So, nobody is trying to hide anything. Everybody has had eight days to review this budget and share any concerns they had with my staff or myself.

The Chair:

I'd like to add one thing. It's not eight days, Mr. O'Malley; it's more like 20 or 22 days. It was introduced in Council February 7th.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well from the time I personally had this budget hand delivered to every Councilmember it was eight days, to my knowledge. It might have been 22 days since Mr. Perry had it hand delivered.

The Chair:

I'd just like to say one more thing. We on Council do not negotiate wages for anybody. We did not stress that anybody in this City do not take a pay raise; we as a Council did not do that because we have no right to do that. In fact, if you'll recall, we wanted to give our own employees pay raises of three percent in this new budget.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, if you recall back at that Committee Meeting, I made the motion to hold this bill for a purpose and the purpose was clearly that I didn't have time to look at it and review it. The bill was introduced in Council a week and a half prior to that but the meat of the bill, the actual amendments to be made, were not presented to Council until the Tuesday prior to the Wednesday meeting. The bill itself, the two paragraph statement, was in our hand a week and a half prior. I did take the time to review it. Mr. O'Malley, you indicated that no one came into your office. Well, I had to review this personally and I did personally and I think that's the responsibility of every member of Council to do that. The bill is in the Finance Committee; however, it's still of interest to me because I know there are departments that are in here that are Public Safety and obviously the City Council department is of interest to me also.

I guess all I'm really trying to say is that this piece of legislation is much more in depth than you think it is until you dig into it and begin to look at it. I think it would be very embarrassing to this Council, to the Mayor and to the Controller, for this legislation to pass and for elected officials to have a two percent increase when half the City of Pittsburgh receives nothing.

For that reason, I strongly suggest that we amend it so it does not include that two percent increase.

The Chair:

No, there's a proper way we're going to have to do it; not amend, delete.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, my intentions are to go by the letter of the law. I want to tell you a little story to show you why I mean that.

Not too long ago when I returned to Council, it was debatable whether I could continue on pension to the City of Pittsburgh or not. I went to the Solicitor of the Pension Fund and I said, "Look, whatever the law calls for, I'll agree to it." I fully intended, if I was allowed to stay on pension, to donate that to some scholarship fund or what have you. I was told that as an official or officer of the City of Pittsburgh that I must be part of the Pension Fund and I must contribute to the Pension Fund; so, therefore, I froze my pension.

Now, here you have legislation mandating a two percent increase. I don't think we can vote aye or no on it; it's automatic. I would defer it to the Parliamentarian as to his opinion. I feel that we have to receive that increase. Now, if we want to give it away or throw it away or whatever, donate it to charity, that's our business. But I don't think we can refuse to accept that increase or else we're going back to day one and someone's going to say they want a $5000 or $10,000 increase. I don't accept the two percent but I feel it's mandated.

Mr. Givens:

I have to agree with Jeep on this. We started with the idea that whatever the average City employee would receive that in fact we would then receive that particular increase or decrease, whichever the case might have been. I agreed with that because in the past it's been historical that Council has always been tougher on itself than it is any other employee within the City of Pittsburgh and that's commendable.

On the other hand, there was an inequity in this particular budget. We have not funded for the increases that are before us right now. That was supposed to be put into an escrow account and we never did that during the budget deliberations. If you can recall, I fought very hard to put extra money into the budget for these particular increases that we knew would probably come about. And they did come about. As has been indicated, better than half the City employees received a substantial raise while the municipal employees did not.

History kind of repeats itself. Eleven years ago when I got on this Council, the municipal employees, again, were not receiving what I felt was adequate compensation for the work they were doing, compared to other City employees. Over the years, we rectified that, and now we're going back into the same scenario where municipal employees, other than public safety, are being downgraded for whatever level. I felt that was very unfair during the budget deliberation. I pleaded upon this Council to put certain monies in the budget to take care of that. That was not done; it was voted down. And here we are today now having to fund what binding arbitration and normal labor negotiations, hard labor negotiations, settled for in some of their labor agreements. But now we have, again, half of the people of the City of Pittsburgh not being compensated with anything. And, again, not to be repetitive, but to be repetitive, you must go according to the law. If we start messing around with what has already been put upon this Council because of, perceived by the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh, pay dragging out there, pay grabbing, then I submit to you that we leave this the way it is and let it fall the way it should, the way the law dictates.

It's been indicated that if we start messing around with this, then it's all in fairness and everything else. You can come back out and say give me a bigger increase when everyone else gets a bigger increase and for some reason, depending upon that magical formula, however it comes out, the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, Councilmembers, and other elected officials of the City of Pittsburgh, receive something less than what the law so dictates. You're getting into a most gray and serious area and I beg you to back off on it and leave the law dictate itself. If the law wants to be changed, then let's change the law. Let's not change each particular entity that happens each year within this Council. I think it would be very damaging to us both politically and I think it's also damaging to us just as individuals working with our City employees to make sure each and every one gets a fair deal and I don't think that happened, very sadly, over this last budget and it's the first time it has not happened in the 11 years that I have been here.

Mr. Pollocks:

Point of order, Mr. President. I think if we're talking about the law, we should at least all know what we're talking about. So, if you'll permit me, I'd like to read how the Home Rule Charter was amended so we all know what we're talking about.

"City Council has the right and in fact the power to fix by resolution the salary of all elected City officials but no elected City official shall receive a salary increase that exceeds the average percentage of increase in salaries and wages paid to all City employees as based on the previous year's salary. Further, the salary paid to elected City officers shall not be diminished during the term in office."

This means very clearly that we still have the right to set our own and the Mayor's and the City Controller's salaries. All the law says is that we cannot increase our salary greater than what the average increase is for all City employees. It does not mean that we get it automatically. It means that we can only get up to that amount but still set by us. I think that the Parliamentarian will confirm this if he's asked, but I think that if you want to continue discussion, we should at least all be discussing what is in fact the law.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Pollock, you're right on the button because when I introduced the bill a couple of weeks ago, I assumed that by law we were going to be forced to take it and I thought with the times the way they were, and I once did a very foolish thing and voted for a salary increase because I was pressured and I should never have voted for it, it was stupid and

I deserved everything that happened to me at that time, I thought we should set an example because of the times as a token that we would reject, and really, we're talking about peanuts, we're talking about $676 for each Councilmember. But we would say that we are in sympathy with those who are not getting raises and most of the City raises were indeed frozen and that we wouldn't take our little $676 in these tough times.

I understand where Mr. DePasquale and Mr. Givens are coming from because I was one of the victims of the "$10,000 grabs" while the Mayor was giving $10,000 increases to all his department heads. But the issue today is really not one of whether we're going to get the two percent increase which was mandated by law, I guess, and that whether we don't have to take it because we can set our own salaries as you just pointed out and say we don't want it. The issue is that I have a budget before me that on one page indicates we're not getting a raise and somewhere buried under many, many sheets of accounting is the indication that we are getting a raise.

I'm going to tell you, as a member of this Council, I am not a computer. On Monday and Wednesday of last week, we had sessions here. On Thursday, the Mayor called an emergency meeting which was requested by this Council on the Pirates. On Tuesday and Friday, we had meetings that started at 8:30 in the morning that were on the task force to bring new industry and tourism to this City. On Sunday, I was home, sick in bed with the flu and I was on the phone almost all day about a water leak down here in front of Chatham. I will tell you that I am not a fiscal expert but if I were in a position to be able to control the funds of this Council or if I were the Mayor or if I were the President of this Council, you bet your tootsie I would see that there was a fiscal analyst on this Council who would go through all these bills and say, "When you're not here, I am an analyst, I'm a fiscal person and, hey, you better take a look, Michelle, while it's not on page one, it's on page fourteen."

Based on that information that has come to light, I would like the bill to be recommitted because I want to know whether it's just the two percent for us or whether there are any discrepancies other than that.

The Chair:

Wait a minute. So there's no bullcrap, here's what was handed out to every member of Council. Forget this, you just got this today. This is final resolution. The very first page you got, the very first page, ten days ago or whenever it was, the very first one, Members of Council, $33,800 to $34,476. The very first page. That's why we had them for a week. Now, if anyone can't read that, this is your worksheet and you were handed that, every member of this Council was handed that. That was it. Not in all this stuff, in this. And that's very plain to see and I know that we all know how to read our worksheets. So there's no one pushing anything through.

Mrs. Masloff:

One question, Mr. President. Can he delete from this bill Council's and the Mayor's and the Controller's pay raise and then pass the rest of the bill?

The Chair:

Yes you can.

Mrs. Masloff

Is a motion in order to delete our raises from this bill and go on with the rest of the bill?

Mr. Wagner:

That motion is already on the floor.

The Chair:

I think that's what Mr. Wagner has already done. Instead of amend, you have to use the word delete.

Mr. Pollock:

The worksheets, though, are not the legislation. The legislation is the resolution. The language of the resolution set pay raises for only City employees and City officers. We are none of those categories.

The Chair:

You know, Mr. Pollock, if you can't read what this says —

Mr. Pollock:

Absolutely, but that doesn't mean that we're voting on that because it's before us.

The Chair:

What comes before us if this isn't it?

Mr. Pollock:

What we vote on is the actual bill itself and the language of the bill did not get through to Councilmembers.

The Chair:

Mr. Pollock, I have never been so right in my life as I am today. This was before you; you didn't care to look at it for a week and a half. That is a fact. And every other member of this Council did not care to look at this sheet for a week and a half. No one can say anything different. That was presented to us.

Mr. Pollock:

So you did look at it?

The Chair:

No one can say that we didn't have the opportunity —

Mr. Pollock:

Had you looked at it?

The Chair:

No, I didn't.

Mr. Pollock:

Oh, you didn't look at it.

The Chair:

But I'll tell you what, don't say that this isn't what was before us on a Wednesday and we didn't know what we were doing.

Michelle Madoff:

We didn't know what we were doing.

The Chair:

Because no one cared to take the time.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't think it was a matter of that we didn't care to take the time. I asked the question in this Council, is this the budget as we've agreed to date, and I was told yes so I didn't take the time and I was extremely busy last week. That's why I need some back-up person in this Council as a fiscal analyst and I think it would be helpful to Mr. O'Malley. He won't be embarrassed.

Mr. O'Malley:

I understand the budget. I reviewed the whole budget and I understand the whole budget. Any member of Council was free to come into my room and ask any questions they might have.

Mr. Wagner:

I don't think we need a fiscal analyst. You're right, Mr. Woods, it's plain and clear and I don't need anyone's opinion to see what's happening here. I know what the Charter reads, Mr. Pollock just re-read it for us all, and we have the opportunity to take up to and equal the average. We do not have to take it and that's the reason for my amendment.

The Chair:

Jack, if you want to read the Charter properly, it says from the previous year; not what we budgeted for '86, it's from the previous year, '85. So, that would be 4some percent.

Anyway, we're going to call the question on the deletion.

Michelle Madoff:

We're deleting not only our salaries but everybody else's?

Mrs. Masloff:

Just the elected officials.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, point of order. I believe the rules state that any amendments have to be in writing. We got into this last week with Mr. Pollock's bill and that's why the issue was raised.

Mr. Wagner:

Not an amendment.

Mr. DePasquale:

That was a resolution, Steve; not an amendment.

The Chair:

We did discuss this, about how we would conduct ourselves by the Rules of Council. The Rules of Council say that all amendments must be in writing.

Michelle Madoff:

Or we can challenge it and make an exemption. I would like to move that we exempt it today with the concurrence of members of Council —

The Chair:

Let me make it easy for you. The Chair does not recommend the motion to delete because it was not an amendment in writing. Now you wish to challenge the Chair.

Michelle Madoff:

I wish to challenge the Chair.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Let's explain what that means. It means we can vote on it today.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Michelle Madoff	Mr. Pollock
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Wagner

AYES 4	NOES 5
--------	--------

VOTING NO:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Woods
Mr. Grabowski	(Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, I make a motion to suspend the rules.

The Chair:

That's what he just did.

Mr. Pollock:

No, they're two separate motions.

The Chair:

I will not accept your motion.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I'd like to make a motion that this Council recess for ten minutes until I have time to put it in writing.

Mr. Pollock seconded the motion.

The Chair:

I don't accept that motion, Mr. Wagner. It should have been here before we discussed it; 24 hours ahead of time and 48 hours ahead of time. I don't accept that motion.

Michelle Madoff:

I had a motion —

The Chair:

Wait a minute. I'm trying to rule this thing properly.

If you would just make a motion to recommit the bill —

Michelle Madoff:

I said that 20 minutes ago. I made a motion to recommit the bill 20 minutes ago.

Mr. Pollock:

It doesn't require that it be 24 or 48 hours submitted, it just means that it has to be in writing. If you wanted to write it down right now and pass it out to all of us, that would be sufficient.

The Chair:

In writing, 24 hours and 48 hours. That's what we discussed. Rules of Council.

Mr. Pollock:

Not for amendments. Amendments don't come under that category.

Michelle Madoff:

My motion was to send it back to Committee.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I would like for you to bear with me on these amendments to the rules and Mr. Grabowski's original comment. I think the Parliamentarian can clarify that an amendment to the language can be done at the table.

The Chair:

I will ask the Parliamentarian.

Mr. Pollock:

If I can point something out, Vince, if you look at Paragraph A of Rule 8 —

The Chair:

Wait a minute. Let's get this back to order. We have one question. The next question anyone asks will be recognized and directed to me. We're getting way out of order. No, we have one question going now, Mr. Pollock, and we will wait until we have that answered and then I'll get yours answered.

Mr. Pollock:

This is on that question.

The Chair:

Just wait.

Parliamentarian:

You're talking about amendments?

The Chair:

Yes.

Parliamentarian:

All amendments opposing an ordinance or resolution shall be printed for the use of members before the final vote is taken on the bill.

The Chair:

Before the final vote is taken on the bill. We're in the process of taking a final vote so what do we do now?

Mr. Pollock:

He has a motion to recess.

Michelle Madoff:

And I second it.

The Chair:

And I don't accept it.

Now, Mr. Pollock, what is your question?

Mr. Pollock:

I was just saying that it does not have to be submitted 24 or 48 hours ahead of time. It can be done right here.

The Chair:

And I already ruled on that.

Mr. Pollock:

No, you referred it to him for a ruling. I don't think you make rulings like that, as much as you might like to. I think that's why we have him here.

The Chair:

And as much as you want to go by the rules of Council, you've been out of order I don't know how many different times today and how many times during this whole process for the last couple weeks. I'll ask you this one time; please stay in order because if you get out of order again, I'm going to fine you.

Now, is there any other discussion on this bill?

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, I would simply request from the Chair that we delay vote on this bill for five minutes and move on the other legislation. I think that's a fair request.

Mr. Pollock seconded the motion.

The Chair:

I would ask you not to do that and I would ask my colleagues not to do that. I think we discussed this long enough so if we're going to keep discussing it, fine, let's discuss it and get it over with.

All in favor of voting on everything else and coming back to this, signify by saying aye.

Michelle Madoff:

I want you to clarify that. I'm sorry; I didn't hear what you just said.

The Chair:

Mr. Wagner made a motion and it was seconded by Mr. Pollock that we hold this legislation until we vote on the other legislation in the Finance Committee. I said if we haven't discussed everything, let's keep discussing it and vote on it. That's my opinion; I'm asking you to vote against Mr. Wagner's motion.

Mr. Pollock:

On this motion. I think it should be said out very clearly what we're doing. If this motion by Mr. Wagner is defeated, then it's my understanding we will then go right into a vote on the bill as it stands without the deletion or amendment. Is that accurate?

The Chair:

Yes.

Mr. Pollock:

Alright, so, if that's the case, then you are then asking us to vote on a bill which would include in it a category of persons receiving a pay raise that I sense from the members of Council do not want to have included in that bill. So, you're forcing us to vote on the bill as it stands and either give us a pay raise along with all the other City employees or deny all the City employees a raise by desiring to withhold a raise for ourselves, which I don't think is fair, which I don't think the rest of us want to do. I don't think you want us to do that.

The Chair:

No, I am trying to ask you to keep discussing this bill.

Mr. Pollock:

That's what I'm talking about. I don't see why it's unreasonable to delete a category of persons that most of us do not want to vote on at this time.

Michelle Madoff:

I want you to explain something to us, if you will, and perhaps to our audience. As I understand it right now, I moved to put the bill back in Committee and that was defeated earlier. Yes? Well, you never let me vote on it. Anyway, I made a motion and you never asked for a second; we never voted on it. There was a motion made to delete, or even prior to my motion, there was a motion made to delete the categories and we were told the body has to vote on this deletion, that no, we couldn't do it unless it was in writing 24 to 48 hours ahead. Is that correct? Then we voted to challenge the Chair so that we could vote on it today and that was defeated.

I'm trying to figure out how we can resolve this. I still think perhaps the best way is to take a five minute break, get our wits together so we don't look like boobs which is what I think we're looking like to the public right now. Everybody misunderstands what is happening; let's just talk to ourselves for a few minutes, or among ourselves, and come up with an answer to this problem because, very frankly, nobody, as you admitted yourself, looked at those figures because when I made the motion two weeks ago, I was told it wasn't necessary, that we weren't getting it anyway. I took your word; I never looked for it.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, everything we're going to discuss on this bill is going to be discussed right before us, right here, right now. I am not going to go into any caucus and talk about any bills before us because that's backroom politics and I resent that.

Furthermore, Mr. President, we have rules in this Council and it seems like every week they begin to change. I think you've tried to give some credence to our own Council rules and if Councilpeople at the last minute or hour find that they haven't read their correspondence or haven't read or researched a bill, or haven't gone back to our Finance and try to come up and change government at the last second, that's not the way I want to operate. That's not the way the people of the City of Pittsburgh want us to operate and that's the way we're talking here right now. Discussion of the bill, the pros and cons for it and everything else, fine and dandy; but let's vote on the bill. You can vote yes or you can vote no. In fact, much of this bill, I don't think we can even vote on for one mere reason; we don't have any say so, as you indicated, Mr. President, on how people get a pay raise in this City. We don't get into the bargaining negotiations within the City of Pittsburgh. This is mandated to us by law. We're just fulfilling an official obligation by saying yes, to give sanction to it. Otherwise, our whole system of law and order and bargaining negotiations would just go right out the window and I think they'd have us all down the Allegheny County Jail very quickly. They might even put us in the new jail because it's nice.

The Chair:

Let me just say something. I think the reason Mr. Wagner wanted to take a five minute recess is so he could just put it all in writing and hand it out to go by the rules of Council. It wasn't to discuss it in any other place.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. Would you please say that again because I heard you very clearly and I think it bears repeating.

The Chair:

The next person I rule out of order will be fined.

The reason Mr. Wagner wanted to have the recess is not to discuss the bill; it was so that he could put his deletion in writing.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, if I may, let Mr. Wagner have his five or ten minutes, whatever, to put it in writing. We have members of the family of the late Sarah Madigan here and they've been here quite a while. So, while Mr. Wagner is putting this in writing, I wonder if we could read Resolution 180 honoring Mrs. Sarah Madigan.

I would like to also say that on this resolution, I didn't know it was coming up and I'm very happy and proud to have known Sarah; I knew her all my life. I just see four names on here and I think that it should be unanimous, that every member of Council should be on this resolution.

The Chair:

Mr. DePasquale, I can't honor that until we dispose of this business. I'm sorry.

Mr. Pollock:

I think that the time is not necessary now; Mr. Wagner has been able to submit his motion in writing to all of us. I think the motion he made is now timely and we can vote on his motion to amend, which has been made and seconded.

The Chair:

No.

Mr. Pollock:

What do you mean no?

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, according to our Parliamentarian, the motion is now in writing. I've passed out a copy to all of you and I would hope that it is appropriate and that we could vote on it because it has met the rules of Council.

The Chair:

I don't feel that it has met the rules of Council. It says prior to final action; that meant before we got into all this lengthy discussion. Now, we can stand here and circumvent rules all day long. This part of it I'm not going to debate anymore. You've challenged the Chair; the Chair was upheld.

Michelle Madoff:

Where are we now, Mr. Woods?

The Chair:

I don't know. Please, let's try to go by some kind of rules.

Mr. Pollock:

Well, if we're going to go by the Council rules, I would like to have the Parliamentarian state whether or not we can now vote on the motion to delete since it has been submitted to each of us in writing.

Parliamentarian:

I can only state Council's rules. I can only give advice to the Chair but he doesn't have to follow it.

Mr. Pollock:

What is your advice?

The Chair:

Will you let me run this meeting?
Or at least try?

After we got into discussion on final action, now comes the deletion. Is that proper, yes or no?

Parliamentarian:

Your rule says all amendments may go in the bill proposed. The Ordinance or Resolution shall be printed for the use of members before the final vote is taken. It would appear to be in order.

The Chair:

You say that it would appear to be in order. Okay, now without discussion, we're going to take a vote on the deletion.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, sir, on the deletion; to delete the three segments which are the Controller, Mayor and City Council?

The Chair:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Now I think we all understand it. Let's vote.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, regarding Councilman Wagner's motion, I don't believe that it's in order. The amendment should have been drafted by our Budget department. You may recall last year or two years ago, whenever it was that I included the five tow truck drivers, I had to adjust the entire budget, all the facts and figures, accordingly so that the budget would balance. Just by merely putting this language together at the last minute does not meet that criteria and I suggest we don't even entertain this.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, may I address you? The Parliamentarian has ruled that it is in order. I don't think that anybody is going to object to having more money in the budget, if it passes that way. We haven't changed anything if it doesn't pass. So, I don't think that becomes an issue, with all due respect.

Mr. Pollock:

The Parliamentarian ruled it in order. You started to call for the vote without any discussion and so I would determine that because you ruled to take a vote that you too have affirmed that Parliamentarian that it's time for the vote.

The Chair:

We have another problem. The budget must be balanced.

I'll tell you what. Why doesn't someone make it easy and make a motion to recommit —

Michelle Madoff:

I did that a half hour ago.

Could we please recommit this bill?

Mr. O'Malley:

The entire bill?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes, the whole ball of wax.

The Chair:

Is there a second?

Mr. Pollock:

You have a motion on the floor.

The Chair:

Okay, there's a motion on the floor. Call the question. You're right, Mr. Pollock.

Mr. DePasquale:

We've voting on Mr. Wagner's motion to delete, right? Okay.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

Bill No. 395

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with a Consultant or Consultants to conduct an Aerial Tramway Feasibility Study at a cost not to exceed $50,000.00."

Which was read.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I'd like my comments brought forward for the record from last Wednesday's meeting on Bill No. 395 which pertains to aerial tramways.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I would also like to have my remarks brought forward.

(BEGINNING - MR. WAGNER'S AND MR. GIVENS' REMARKS ON BILL NO.
395 - WEDNESDAY, 3/5/86)

Mr. Givens:

Well, this is a feasibility study for $50,000 and I read the newspaper article to possibly get into a $10 million purchase on different aerial tramway feasibility. I don't know a thing about it and I would like to be briefed on it before I make comment. Otherwise, my recommendation would be to hold it for one week until the Planning Department can come up and speak to some of us on it because I don't know too much about this particular bill.

Mr. Wagner:

Hopefully, I can answer some of the questions that Council may have in regard to this legislation. I have been working on it for about six months and the Mayor has supported it and Director Lurcott has supported it. There has been discussions in the City of Pittsburgh for probably the last five to ten years about looking at an aerial tramway system to see whether or not it would be applicable in our City.

The reason behind that is basically our City has very difficult terrain over short distances meaning particularly our rivers. In order to get from one side of the river to the other side of the river, it is very costly in terms of building bridges, building people mover systems which this Council has talked about at length. What this study is is nothing more than another alternative way of looking at a form of transportation that has been in existence literally for hundreds of years. An aerial tramway is nothing more than an elevator in a horizontal position rather than a vertical position. What could it do for Pittsburgh? Well, hopefully that's what the study will determine. It could hopefully solve the transportation need meaning crossing of our river between critical points such as the Stadium and the Downtown area or possibly Station Square and the Downtown or possibly from the base of the Duquesne Incline over to Three Rivers Stadium or any other potential area such as Civic Arena to Downtown, Convention Center to the Point, wherever. This proposed study can look at any of those locations; three locations have been identified so far. The other potential impact is to stimulate development; we all know we haven't had development in certain areas such as the North Shore like we want to have it. If you solve a transportation problem, you can stimulate the development. It could also in of itself be a tourist attraction. An aerial tramway is a very exciting form of transportation; the only way there is only one actually in existence for transportation purposes on in America, it is on Roosevelt Island in New York. The other forms of aerial tramways are at various resorts such as Disney World and also ski resorts. They vary in capacity from carrying anywhere from four in a car to 120 in a car. They can carry up to 4000 people in one direction. There is a slide up of one that was in operation at the World's Fair and that is in the City of New Orleans.

The real advantages of an aerial tramway in comparison to other forms of transportation are, number one and foremost, cost. Cost has been stated for the City of Pittsburgh, what would it cost to build one from say the Hilton across the Stadium? The projected figure would be $2.5 million which is approximately one eighth or one ninth of what a people mover would cost. Construction time is approximately one third, one construction season, it can be built. Aerial tramways are extremely safe; the safest form of transportation in the world is the elevator and an aerial tramway is nothing more than elevator. Statistics proved that.

In regard to this study various private concerns in the City have requested that the City participate or to finance a consultant study to see whether or not it would be applicable. Those interested are the people at Station Square, Pittsburgh History and Landmarks, the people in Mount Washington, the Duquesne Incline people, the owners of the ball teams, the Steelers and the Pirates, the Pittsburgh Convention and Tourist Bureau, the Golden Triangle Association, Jack Kahn is very interested in seeing a study of this type, the Allegheny Conference, and many other important groups. The reason behind it is all of those people feel, all those groups feel that something like this may be such — may have such a significant impact that it could almost have the impact that the cablecars had in San Francisco with this in Pittsburgh. It would not be operated by the City as proposed. All forms of transportation come under the jurisdiction of the Port Authority. The Port Authority must relinquish any operating responsibility if anyone else were to operate it. The intention were if this were to move forward, is for it to be privately financed by possibly owners of Station Square, people that own property on the North Shore and possibly in the Downtown. There has been extreme difficulty in terms of getting private financing for the people mover system; that was the intention of City government going back a couple of years ago, we have not found anyone to come up with $15 or $20 million to build a people mover across the river. The thought is that it more likely that private funding is available in the area is $2-3 million for something like this. What this is basically is simply a study to determine if it is applicable in Pittsburgh to determine whether or not the design, engineering the economics fit into Pittsburgh.

There has been about four, five months ago when former Councilman Robinson sat in the meeting as Chairman of Planning, Housing and Development, a presentation put on by a private consultant to all of those that I indicated plus others at Station Square describing what this system could do for Pittsburgh. If this Council desires, I think it is possible to get that consultant to come free of charge to put on the same presentation here in Council Chambers during a meeting, during a post agenda or even during a public hearing. So, if there are any questions that I have not answered, I am sure they could be answered, I am sure they could be answered with people that work full-time in this profession.

Mr. Givens:

My original emphasis of before I spend $50,000 I want to be sure of what this feasibility study meant and some of that was described. However, I feel Pittsburgh is now like New York, Pittsburgh is Pittsburgh. We worked for about 25-30 years to get a skyline on our rivers and our Downtown area. I mean, we have openness, we tore down bridges and everything else just from the exact point that I can see right there so we'd have a beautiful Point State Park, an openness, people riding on the rivers. It gives a certain advantage and you have to be on the river to find out. Now we are going to put a car system, the river system itself.

These are just some of my concerns. In the City of Pittsburgh I can walk anyplace in the Golden Triangle in 20 minutes and depending upon where I am at, I can walk right from here over to the Market Square in 15 minutes. So why do I or anyone else that is in the Downtown Pittsburgh need this type of thing. These are just some of the questions that just perked right into my mind immediately and I want to digest them before I vote on the thing. That is why I had asked the author of this particular bill, be it the Administration or not, to give us a little thought and a little bit more in-depth briefing and get some information back so we can digest that. Some of the points that Jim O'Malley brought up are very, some of the great problems that we have and it is just not insurance on that particular thing and I can go anywhere in the City of Pittsburgh right now and tell you that people are having a hard time getting insurance and tell you that people are having a hard time getting insurance for their own buildings because of the risk involved and someplace, somewhere, government is going to have to step in because the insurance industry is giving it to everybody right now, so why go forward with anything until we get those things settled first? Please, just hold it until we get some of those facts back and see where we stand.

I am sure you have done a lot of work, Jack has done a lot of work, and everyone else has done a lot of work. This bill came in Monday, this is the first time I am viewing it and I had one day and I read one article in the newspaper. I am not going to act that quick.

Mr. Wagner:

Members of Council, the diagram behind you, Councilwoman Sophie Masloff indicated what are the proposed sites to look at and three have been suggested so far. They have been suggested basically by people that represent organizations in Pittsburgh. The first is the actual one that everyone is most concerned with is Downtown to Three Rivers Stadium. The second one is Station Square to Downtown and the third is Duquesne Incline to Three Rivers Stadium. Now that can be expanded upon. There is nothing to say that if this were expected in the City that three locations, four or five would be excepted, maybe only one would be excepted, but this study wants to take a look at whether or not they would be applicable at least in those three locations or possibly others.

Some of the concerns that all of you have mentioned, I think are very genuine. One point made by Councilman Givens in regard to the aesthetics there is no transportation system in existence unless you go under the river with the subway that does not harm the environment anymore than tramways. If you cross the river with the tramway, all you have is a cable, that's all that goes across the river is the cable. You never have to put an abutment in the river. All you do is anchor it at both sides of the river and all you see is a cable. It does not break the aesthetics, it does not harm the aesthetics. As a matter of fact, those riding it will probably get the best view that anyone could ever see of the City on an aerial tramway.

The one final point I would like to make is in regard to the Stadium. This is the only transportation system that can be funded and built within a five year time span that we have given to keep professional baseball in Pittsburgh. One of the number one problems at Three Rivers Stadium is excessibility. This system could be built and in operation at Three Rivers Stadium within two years. A people mover system with the price tag of in excess of $20 million to build a bridge across the river, it's not realistic to think that that could be built in less than four or five years. So this is one of the reasons why I think looking at this system is very practical to Pittsburgh and very practical to Three Rivers and I would just like to note that if the majority of you want to hold the legislation, we could bring in a consultant that could put on a presentation within the next week and answer any and all questions in regard to it.

Mr. Givens:

One thing, in and around the Stadium and everything, we know that I-279 is coming in there and hopefully we are going to build the parking garage so the Stadium is going to be solved. I have a hard time when people can't walk a ten, fifteen minute walk in Downtown Pittsburgh and we have to build them a tramway to go over our rivers. We are noted for the City of Bridges. If you look at the Northside, we have three, four bridges going over there right now. You can come out anyplace you want to, just in case you want to park Downtown Pittsburgh. I think by the time the new I-279 is completed, by the time the new parking lot is put in over there and there is one other thing. I heard public money, private money, et cetera, and I have to go back, everything is Downtown Pittsburgh. I want to see directions into our neighborhoods right now. I am up there in that Bloomfield/Garfield area and we are hanging on by our fingernails and I don't see that amount of money going into our neighborhoods in the Southside, West End, Northside, and all over the City of Pittsburgh. And as a result, any money that comes in here and our money is going to be damn tight and we know that, I want to see it go into our businesses within our neighborhoods because if we can't give a viable good business, restaurants included, in our neighborhoods and I have to say we are not doing our jobs here in Council, so anything new that comes across here, it is going to have to be held up against all the other requirements that we have in our neighborhoods and if it can't be justified for the expenditure of $10 or $20 million, this Councilman can't go forth.

Mr. Wagner presented

Bill No. 456

Report of the Committee on Public Safety for March 5, 1986 transmitting one ordinance and two resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 324

An Ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance amending the Pittsburgh Code, Title Seven - Business Licensing, Article IX - Amusement Businesses, Chapter 777 - Mechanical Amusement Devices, by requiring that a business establishment with mechanical/electronic amusement devices on the premises must obtain a license for such mechanical/electronic amusement devices."

Which was read.

Mr. DePasquale:

In regards to Bill 324, I can't help but feel that this is an added burden to the owners of establishments that have these licensed machines. The very fact that they are licensed now, I just think they're muddying a situation further by saying that the establishments should also have a license and they should put a license on the machine. They're saying they're going to come after the owner of the machine, not the establishment, unless they can't find the owner of the machine. If they're paying that license, and most of the machines are licensed, it's up to the certain department, Building Inspection, what have you, to see that they're all licensed and they collect for all those licenses. I don't think an added burden should be put on the establishment.

Michelle Madoff:

With all due respect to my colleague, I think we ought to clarify that. What we're doing is simplifying it for the people who have the machines in their establishment. No longer do they have to be fined because somebody removed a sticker, it's underneath, and they have to account for when a machine has been moved out because someone is bored and they swapped the machine. All they have to account for is what they paid for, four machines. We don't care what those four machines are, and it simplifies it and takes the burden off the owner who got the machines and the machines aren't licensed by the vendors in any case. It's never the person who's got the machines in the place. It's really just a bookkeeping simplification that will save the City hundreds and hundreds of dollars.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, I would like to have all of the discussion involving Mr. Imhoff at the Committee Meeting brought forward and included in the Minutes.

(BEGINNING - DISCUSSION INVOLVING MR. IMHOFF ON BILL NO. 324 - WEDNESDAY, 3/5/86)

The Chair:

I would like to have Paul Imhoff come up to the table. If I am correct on this piece of legislation, Jack, what Mr. Imhoff is asking is not permission for the owners of the establishment to license the individual machines, but the owners of the establishment to license the number of machines permitted in that establishment; in other words, this would eliminate stickering each individual machine with a number that would enable you to issue a license for Joe's Bar and Grill for five machines, am I correct, Mr. Imhoff?

Mr. Imhoff:

That is correct. It doesn't change the responsibility in any way. What it does is the right now with the sticker problem that we have, they are hard to keep control of and that was the complaint of the audit in our office and the accusations that were made that we weren't raising the proper amount of money and that is hard to do. This gives us a better inspection process. The burden today is on either the owner of that store or the vendor who has the machines and it isn't changing under the new system. The new system is just to take the stickers off of the new machines individual machines where we have a difficult time keeping track of and putting a sticker on the business place and that could be either the owner of the business or the vendor buying the sticker and putting on the business place; it will enable our Inspector to go in and see a sticker that says X number of machines, we don't have to worry about numbers, we can just go in and count and then we have a problem then.

The Chair:

Would this piece of legislation make it easier to transfer or to move one machine from one place to another place?

Mr. Imhoff:

There would be restrictions on moving the machines around.

The Chair:

What is the restriction we have now?

Mr. Imhoff:

There is no restriction on that now; there is a restriction to a sense that we get the serial number of the machine, the vendor location and whenever the audit is done and if that machine isn't there, they are saying we are not collecting the fee, but that machine is still someplace else in operation and another one has just taken its place and its just that we haven't got the renewal sticker on there.

Michelle Madoff:

It seems to me that this is what I suggested originally and was voted down and we come full cycle and the only logical way to proceed; you shouldn't have to do all the paperwork and all the extra inspection and crawl under the machine and look at the back and cross — when you go in you just go in and count and it makes it easier for you and saves the taxpayers a lot of money and we get our money and you are to be commended for finally perhaps winning this Council over.

Mr. Pollock:

Can you give me a ballpark figure as to about how many different establishments would be effected by this?

Mr. Imhoff:

About five or six hundred.

Mr. Pollock:

And this would be one annual permit that they would buy at the beginning of the year for upj to a certain number of machines and then if they wanted to go past that, they can come back in and get an additional zoning?

Mr. Imhoff:

Yes, the Zoning Ordinance controls whether it's an arcade or whether it is just a place with a couple of machines in it and the number is five; so if you go over five, you can take it out for any number that you want, we really don't care then it's an arcade anyhow and we collect another fee for that, but the people that have the small shaop with one, two, three machines instead of buying stickers, they will just buy one sticker and it will say three machines. If the Inspector goes in and sees four, we know we got an extra machine that wasn't paid for. If he says two, we don't care because he paid for three.

Mr. DePasquale:

Paul, a few times and perhaps I don't follow you, but if there are four machines in a regular bar or restaurant or whatever, and the owner of the machines has a sticker or lincese for each one, what else is required? You are saying the owner has to do what?

Mr. Imhoff:

Today there is a sticker required for each machines and it's got to gave the serial number and everything on it. The problem with that is they get picked off the machine by the kids who play them they get put underneath the machine, they get put on the back of the machine. When the audit was done last year, the accusation was made on an audit that they did that we were not collecting the proper amounts of money and we challanged that opinion; we put our people back out the second time and went around, we had a sheet for every machine in the City at that time and I guaranteed at that time that the figure could change the next day because they moved the machines around so much. So it is difficult to keep track of where they are moving the machines to. The sticker on each machine — some of hte vendors would come in and get a stack of stickers like five and they would put them in a cash register drawer rather than put them on any until something comes up we would go out and find that they didn't have anything on the machine.

Mr. DePasquale:

The average small bars today are getting racked with all kinds of stickers and inspections and here we go again, we hit them again.

Mr. Imhoff:

They are doing it now; we already make them but stickers and we charge them $135.00 per machine.

Mr. DePasquale:

The owner of the establishment even though he is just renting the machine?

Mr. Imhoff:

In some cases it might be the owner, but in most cases it is the vendors, the people who supply the machines and we are not changing the price structure although we have a lot of the vendors are in support of it. I have to be very honest about it, a lot of them don't like the price structure that we have, but they are in favor of the one sticker.

Mr. Givens:

I own a bar, cocktail lounge or something like that, and I have four machiens in there; but hte four machines are pinball, jukebox, one of these computer type new hi-tech playgame and of course of these to know that we note the new games that they have on there, the poker games that they have on there, is a high drawing card. If I am that owner and I have three or four different types of machines in there and I have my permit that says I have these three or four different machines and I change — I still keep my four machiens, but the combination, now I have two playing machines, games versus maybe a pinball machine, how then can you in collecting the taxes becaue the taxes do vary I believe on each of those machiens. When does that owner then have to go Downtown and refile?

Mr. Imhoff:

You are talking one machines converted into —

Mr. Givens:

Converted into something that they did not have previously?

Mr. Imhoff:

We have not attacked that problem yet; that's a different problem altogether. There are certain line ups in there that if you change a chip or something in there and it changes the whole game; we have just been charging the one fee for the machines.

Mr. Givens:

Do the machines vary as far as your taxes, is it not? Does the City get the same amount of tax off of a pinball —

Mr. Imhoff:

The machines are the same, the same price on each machine.

Mr. Givens:

The City gets the same whether it's a pinball machine or some type of poker game?

Mr. Imhoff:

The only machine that has a different price right now is the jukebox, they are $85.00.

Mr. Givens:

All other machines --

Mr. Imhoff:

All other machines are $135.00 apiece.

Mr. Givens:

That's not bad. If I have a machine that is making $1,000.00 and I have a machine that is making $300.00, then I am going to get rid of the $300.00 machine.

Mr. Imhoff:

That's exactly what they will be able to do. They will be able to take the machines out that don't bring in the money and bring in a machine that does bring in the money.

Mr. Givens:

I think then we should look at a different tax structure because taxation should be based upon profit and if they are making a great profit then I think we should try to -- this is just a technical point that I wondered if this particular ordinance addressed.

Mr. Pollock:

How many different licenses do your people have to check? I know that you get involved with the arcade licenses, the antique licenses, how many different ones are there and if you know and you feel you have enough personnel to enforce all the different ordinances that require licenses in different types of establishments?

Mr. Imhoff:

The way it is done right now is all our inspectors handle -- we don't have any particular inspector that handles different licenses. If we have a license that is due, we send all of our inspectors that are in different territories to go through the establishment and check them. And the number of licenses?

Mr. Pollock:

Different types.

Mr. Imhoff:

There must be 20 of them, not as much as 500 or 600 establishments; some of them are stationary engineers which are done as a matter of mailing and it's just a matter of they mail it in and we mail out the license.

Mr. Pollock:

Our Code provides for approximately 20 different licenses?

Mr. Imhoff:

Yes. When I get down there, I will send you a copy of what we do license.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Imhoff, under this proposed legislation if one of your people go into a business and find a license is not present, who is fined?

Mr. Imhoff:

It could be either the owner or the vendor of the machine.

Mr. Wagner:

Who would it probably be?

Mr. Imhoff:

In cases we have done so far, it has been the vendor. I don't see that that would change.

Mr. Wagner:

Then why does it indicate that it is the responsibility of the business establishment who much obtain a license for such mechanical electronic amusement equipment? That is stated right in the legislation.

Mr. Imhoff:

It doesn't mention a vendor?

Mr. Wagner:

No.

The Chair:

That could be amended if you would like to amend it, the owner/vendor.

Mr. Imhoff:

The owner of each device shall properly display a decal of their company name --

Mr. Perry:

What section is that?

Mr. Wagner:

It's in the body of the bill.

Mr. Imhoff:

Under 777.06(a) under Responsibility. It says the responsibility to insure each premise containing such devices, license shall be joint inseparable where the owner of the premises or the proprietor of the business establishment fails to acquire the proper license, the owner of the device shall bear the responsibility to either acquire the proper license or remove the device. So it is either one or the other, it's the same way the seals are today.

Mr. Wagner:

Which is it, I mean if one of your people -- if this legislation is effective, the way I read the legislation it says that the business owner must obtain a license. Who would be fined and how much would they be fined?

Mr. Imhoff:

The fine is $300.00?

Mr. Wagner:

$300.00?

Mr. Imhoff:

Yes, and the wording hasn't changed at all in that paragraph of responsibility and today we have had all the vendors in before the Housing Court Magistrate, not the owners of the property.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, in the future, would you have the owners of the property in?

Mr. Imhoff:

Only if we can't find the vendor.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, isn't the purpose of this legislation to put more responsibility on the licensing of the machine on the business owner and not the vendor?

Mr. Imhoff:

Yes, and the problem that we have had with that is the vendor up to this time have been very difficult to track and we have had difficulty bringing them into court. They are hidden in various ways the ownerships of various machines.

Mr. Wagner:

Why don't we then initiate legislation to require proper identification on any and all machines by the owners of the machines or else they are fined?

Mr. Imhoff:

We have that now and still we have had problems with it. They have to identify their machines right now and under this they would still have to identify them as being the owner, mailing address. We have a few people that really cause us all kinds of problems with the machine. In fact, Mr. Bruce is being sued for how many thousands of dollars by one of the vendors now.

Mr. Wagner:

For what purpose?

Mr. Imhoff:

For harassment, he says because he made him come in and take out stickers for all of these machines.

Mr. Wagner:

Who would be fined under this proposed legislation?

Mr. Imhoff:

Under this proposal right here, we would go after the vendor.

Mr. Wagner:

But if you still couldn't find the vendor, who are you going to fine?

Mr. Imhoff:

If we can't find the vendor then we would ask the owner to remove the machine and if they didn't do it, then we would go after the owner.

Mr. Wagner:

So, if you are having problems now finding out who the vendors are and consequently the business owner would be fined?

Mr. Imhoff:

If we couldn't get the machines taken care of by the vendor, yes.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, now without this law, you cannot fine the business owner?

Mr. Imhoff:

Yes, we still can.

Mr. Wagner:

Have you?

Mr. Imhoff:

The way it is now, no.

Mr. Wagner:

Why not?

Mr. Imhoff:

Very few times, well for the same reason that you are saying, the vendors have put these machines in there and if we can catch them, we are going to go after them and the owner would be the last resort; the same as any other violations we have. The code always states it is the owner/tenant, owner/occupant or the agent of them and we try to go after whoever is responsible.

Mr. Wagner:

Does your information indicate that the majority of the large vendors are not City residents? Do not the businesses in the City, they are located outside the City?

Mr. Imhoff:

Some of the ones we had the most problem with have been outside the City.

Mr. Wagner:

Again, I appeal to Council, I think the responsibility is on the owner of the equipment and in far majority of instances, those owners don't even have businesses in the City and we are placing the responsibility now on the business within the City that has been loaned the equipment of someone else and that's the way I read the legislation.

Mr. Pollock:

Let me see if I am interrupting the same thing, Paul. If one of your inspectors comes into an establishment and the person had a sticker for three and there are four machines there, so there is one machine that is not licensed, you will issue a fine to the vendor?

Mr. Imhoff:

That's correct.

Mr. Pollock:

If you are unable to fine the vendor, you will say to the owner get that machine out of there. Now the vendor is going to be coming around to empty the machines for money so the owner of the establishment has to have contact with the vendor and the next time the vendor comes in, the owner is going to say look, I have been fined or I am going to be fined and you have to get this machine out of here. If you don't take it out now, I am going to put it out on the street because I am going to be fined and I don't want to go Downtown and get a $300 fine or whatever it is. Is that the right fact situation?

Mr. Imhoff:

Yes. What has happened before is a few of the vendors have had multiple companies and you go to the owner of the establishment and say your machines are illegal you don't have a sticker on them, who did you get your machine from? They will give you name that this fellow has a dummy company of some sort that you can never find and then we have a difficult time trying to find out who owns the machine. Quite frankly, one of the gentlemen has really had us round and round for months and Joe James has, I forget how many lawsuits that we filed down there against the vendors. Joe wants a resolution of it too because he can't get anymore — any further ahead than we have with the resolution that we have now.

Mr. Pollock:

But the point is the only one who has contact is the actual store owner because they do come in and empty the machines for money.

Mr. Imhoff:

As a last resort, that is the person that we would go to but we would go after the vendor and try to get him as much as we can, the same as we do now.

Mr. Pollock:

But if the owner is looking at a fine, he is going to say get that machine out of here, right?

Mr. Imhoff:

It has happened.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. O'Malley:

At this time, I'd like to ask the Madigan family if they could step up here please, and Mr. Talarico representing the Mayor's Office.

This is an honor for me to be able to present this resolution for Sarah Madigan and for members of her family to designate March 15, 1986, the day of the parade, as Sarah Madigan Day in Pittsburgh. The Madigan family has been very close to me for the last 10 or 12 years and it was Sarah Madigan who was responsible for me getting involved in politics back in 1974. I feel like the Madigan family is an extension of my own family.

In the past 10 years, 9 out of 10 years, Sarah Madigan and the Ladies from the Ancient Order of Hibernians have ridden in my car in the St. Patrick's Day Parade; every year except for last year. And every year, except for this year, for the past 10 years, I had the privilege of sharing St. Patrick's Day with Sarah Madigan and members of her own family. Sarah is going to be missed very, very much come Saturday, the day of the parade, as she's missed all year long.

Council presents

No. 461 WHEREAS, the late Sarah Madigan will be in the minds and hearts of Pittsburghers this coming Saturday, March 15, 1986, as the City hosts its annual St. Patrick's Day Parade;

AND, as many Pittsburghers will fondly recall the tireless civic and community projects that Mrs. Madigan gave so much time and effort to;

AND, as the keynote to her community involvement, Mrs. Madigan served in a distinguished manner as a Democratic District Committeewoman for 37 years and as the Fourth Ward Chairwoman for twelve years; and

WHEREAS, Mrs. Madigan was prominently active in numerous Irish organizations and affairs, including serving as Pennsylvania State President of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and presiding for many years as Chairwoman of the "Miss Smiling Eyes Contest"; and

ALTHOUGH, Sarah Madigan was a native of County Galway, Ireland, she will long be remembered as a strong and loyal Pittsburgher;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Members of Pittsburgh City Council do hereby proclaim Saturday, March 15, 1986 as Sarah Madigan Memorial Day in Pittsburgh so as to pay tribute to the memory of this kind and gentle woman and to honor her family.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Marty Madigan:

First of all, I'd just like to express the gratitude of the entire family for this resolution here today. I know my mother would have been very proud of it as she was friends with most of the Councilpeople in this room today. A lifelong resident of Oakland, she and Mr. DePasquale went way back.

Once again, I just want to say thank you very much.

Mr. Givens:

Before the Madigan family leaves here, I'd just like to give some personal thoughts. Sarah was a very dear friend of mine; I remember the first time that I met her, it was an awful wintery day, and I went knocking on the door, being the fact that she was a Committeeperson for some 30 odd years. That's when I first met Sarah and from there on in, between myself and especially my wife, Ethel, there were many, many long conversations.

I can put one label on Sarah; she was a wealth of knowledge and knew more about what was going on, both in the political community as well as the Irish community, and any person within Allegheny County and probably Southwestern Pennsylvania — And the fact, you know, she was the national leader of the A.O.H. women's organization gives emphasis to that particular point.

It's interesting to note that when she went over to Ireland to see her old county over there, there were about 15 some people waiting for her when she got off the aircraft, people that Sarah had helped, both within the total political committee and within the Irish community.

That is our good lady Sarah and all of us missed her tremendously when she had to depart us. And I know to you, the members of the family, you have that family unity that one is jealous of in this day and age where you don't have that family unity. The Madigan family has it and has been carrying that tradition throughout Allegheny County and throughout the Irish community and we'll all be thinking of you this St. Patrick's Day.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, we all love Sarah Madigan, especially myself; I went back to grade school with Sarah Madigan. I will also forgive her for talking Mr. O'Malley into running for office.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Givens:

If I might ask Michelle Madoff to come forward right here and while she's doing so, I'd like to make one or two comments on this resolution.

Michelle did not ask for this nor did I tell her that I was putting this in other than if she read her basket Friday afternoon she would have seen it in there 48 hours prior to it being introduced in Council.

On a very serious note, when any person does something above and beyond the duty that a normal citizen would perform — You hear of so many instances where people have turned their backs on other people who are in need, a lot of it coming from the major cities of Chicago, New York, Los Angeles, etc. Never have I heard it here in the City of Pittsburgh, thank God. And I think this particular presentation here today so indicates that.

Being a military person and seeing people work in areas of great stress and bravery, there is something that is there. There's a reward if you make it back, so to speak. There's a reward if everything goes well. But what a lot of people don't understand is that people make an attempt to do something and have to live with it the rest of their lives, the fact that they made an attempt to do something and they failed. That person lives with that for the rest of their lives. If this individual that I'm about to name right here had leaped over, we would have had one person here who would think about that for the rest of her life.

That's the reason that I am submitting the resolution, Mr. President.

Mr. Givens presents

No. 458 WHEREAS, Councilmember Michelle Madoff did risk her own life in the pursuit of saving the life of a total stranger; and,

WHEREAS, Councilmember Michelle Madoff, en route home, encountered several police cars on the Boulevard of the Allies, and stopped to render assistance; and,

WHEREAS Councilmember Michelle Madoff gave unselfishly of her time, her courage and her utmost inner feelings in the rescue of David Upshur; and

WHEREAS Councilmember Madoff gallantly was able to reach the mind and heart of David Upshur and convince him to return to the safety of the Boulevard and the personal caring of her own arms;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Members of the City Council of the City of Pittsburgh join with the citizens of Pittsburgh to honor Michelle Madoff for the fortitude and courage she displayed in the gallant rescue of David Upshur, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that we express gratitude to Michelle for upholding, by this brave act, the dignity and worth of each fellow human being.

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

Thank you, fellow Councilmembers.

At this time, I'm sure Michelle has not been without words, at that particular incident, and we give it all the dignity that we should. I would ask that Michelle at least accept this particular resolution and, Michelle, please hang it someplace in your trophy room up there and hopefully, Mr. Upshaw, with your help, will continue on and hopefully get gainful employment or anything he needs within this City in order to help his plight.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you, Mr. Givens.

I want to tell you, very seriously, this is a little bit of an embarrassment, and I don't embarrass easily. But I'm going to try to turn an embarrassment into a positive, and that is that I do want to report that I've talked to the young man, David Upshaw, almost daily. He is in very good care at Western Psych. He's getting the best help available and they're looking into long-term help for him because this is not an isolated incident. The greatest danger was not so much that he might jump but it was wet and slippery and he could have slipped anyway. You're right, if he had fallen they would have said, "What's Madoff doing there?", and they would have crucified me.

It was a very traumatic experience but I've learned about mental health and done some inquiries with people than probably I even want to know or than anybody here wants to know, but basically the bottom line is that long-term care we have available and there are dollars for it, somewhat, and the immediate evaluation there is money for that. But what there is no money for is what we all say, not in our neighborhood, and that is to put people into the community, to give them help so that they can be under supervision where they can go into the psychiatric centers to get counseling and treatment. There is much havoc in homes today because of mental health and we're only seeing the tip of the iceberg when we see someone threatening to jump. Sometimes it's a chemical imbalance; I don't know what it is in this young man's case but we did read about Mr. Platt who I happen to know personally and I respected enormously.

What I'm saying is that this Council can turn what you consider a meaningful act and what I consider what any one of us would have done, hopefully, into some kind of legislation when mental health agencies come before us and ask us for help in establishing some funds or leading the way in getting funds to help other people who need the help.

Thank you.

The Chair:

Thank you, Michelle.

Mr. Grabowski presents

No. 459 WHEREAS, The City of Pittsburgh is a legal tax collecting entity in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and,

WHEREAS, The City of Pittsburgh collects taxes in excess of the amount due and is obligated to return the sum in excess of the taxpayer's actual obligation; and,

WHEREAS, The City is adamant in assessing interest on late taxes; and,

WHEREAS, The City should be equally vigilant in recognizing tax collections that have been made in error or ordered returned by order of a court; and,

WHEREAS, The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is considering legislation that would mandate the payment of interest on "tax money to which the political subdivision is not legally entitled";

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the Pittsburgh City Council that:

- 1) This Municipality go on record endorsing the objective of House Bill 1792, calling for the granting of interest on tax monies collected in error by any political subdivision in Pennsylvania; and,
- 2) Chief Sponsor Ivan Itkin, a Representative from the City of Pittsburgh, be congratulated for his efforts on behalf of taxpayers.

Mr. Grabowski moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, I'd just like to give a little background regarding this legislation. Last summer a citizen contacted me and he had two complaints. One was that the refund he was entitled to from the City was taking an enormous amount of time to process and secondly, he determined that there would be no interest paid on the amount of money the City owed him. I guess the second complaint sort of compounds the first.

There is no incentive for the City to process these returns in a timely fashion since every day they keep the money the City is drawing interest on it in our bank accounts. I think that's sort of unfair, especially in light of the fact that, annually, the City appropriates roughly, well, I think in the 1986 budget there is $4.7 million for refunds. If you consider that amount of money held in a bank account for a year or so, that's an awful lot of money. Since the federal government and the state government all pay refunds or pay interest on the refunds due a taxpayer, I think this is an injustice that should be corrected. The City has an easy answer in that we can't do it because of a state prohibition. Well, this bill was introduced, at my request, by Representative Itkin to change this problem. This Thursday I'm going to Harrisburg to testify in front of the House Finance Committee as to why we need this and I am delighted that Council approved this bill unanimously because I'll take it with me and say not only am I in favor of this but the entire Council of Pittsburgh as well.

Mr. Pollock:

Steve, did you say there's something that prohibits the City from giving interest on its own?

Mr. Grabowski:

Yes. That's what this is designed to do, to change the state statute that prohibits the City from paying interest on refunds.

Michelle Madoff:

Comment very quickly on the same bill. You're absolutely 1000 percent right, Mr. Grabowski, because I mentioned giving interest to people whose money we were holding and I was told that we can't do it because of legislation. So, now you've corrected the bottleneck and you're really to be commended if you get that through.

Mr. Grabowski:

I've not corrected it yet but we're working on it.

Michelle Madoff:

But you're getting to the source where the correction can be made and the bottleneck can be removed. I think it's good work.

The Chair presents

No. 462 WHEREAS, Mrs. Ethel Parker has served the people of Manchester for over 25 years as an outstanding citizen, active in all aspects of her community's life; and, They're not here so could we vote on them separately? They were handed to us separately.

The Chair:

We are voting on all bills at the same time. He just told you the numbers he's going to discuss. Mr. Pollock?

Mr. Pollock:

Before stating my position on these extremely controversial and vitally important pieces of legislation, I'd like to set for several points that were not discussed at the Committee Meeting.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. Pollock. Point of order. Could we have the numbers of the bills?

Mr. Pollock:

Bills 419, 420 and 431.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you very much.

The Chair:

Wait a minute. We're going to have some order so from now on, everyone address their questions to me. Mr. Pollock, you have the floor. No more interruptions, please.

Mr. Pollock:

Before stating my position to these controversial bills, I wanted to set forth several points that I didn't discuss at the Committee Meeting.

There has been much discussion centering on the issue of whether this bond issue is a good investment for the City and, if it is, then why don't parties from the private sector come forward and scoff the deal up.

I for one, feel that it is not a good investment in terms of the factors that private financial investors consider. The property investor's major concern is returned on the dollar, and clearly, the Pittsburgh Pirates have not, and probably will not, in the near future provide a very good return on the dollar.

But the public sector has far more different criteria to consider and determine what investments to make. We in government are charged with the responsibility of maintaining employment, of developing the local economy, of providing job opportunities and workplaces for our residents and our citizens.

More significantly, we must consider human cost. The tragedies of lost employment, of the loss of a home, of the break-up of families, these are hardships that are real that elected officials must consider and those in the private sector do not. The frustration and anger that has resulted in the activity of the Denominational Ministry in the Steel Valley Unemployed workers results from this type of human tragedy.

I would next like to discuss the issue of this Council's response to the proposed legislation. There have been accusations of rubber-stamping and these should be addressed. To state that a member of this Council would vote for this bill as an act of self-interest is inaccuracy at best and empty-headed rhetoric or rabble-rousing demagoguery at worst. It does not take a professional pollster to see that the public sentiment is clearly against this. Some estimates range as high as nine to one.

Most of us who vote positively on this bill will be doing so for reasons of conscience and, actually, at great personal sacrifice to our political fortunes. Indeed, those of us who have to run for re-election next year and who vote favorably for this bill will be doing so at great risk. But that is the risk that we bear.

I, for one, have never advocated government by referendum; it's the coward's way out, as the Post Gazette said last week. We must make the tough decisions; that's why we're here.

It is extremely significant that one of the most outspoken and ardent opponents to this legislation, our City Controller, has had the wisdom to state publicly that he does not favor the Pirates leaving. In fact, he said that he totally favors and realizes the importance of having the Pirates in the City. His major concern was with the City's interest in providing the loan. He favors greater contribution from the private sector. He feels that if this is such a good investment for the City, then the private sector should grab it as well.

As I stated previously, this is not a good investment for a private investor and if Mr. Flaherty's wish were consummated and the private investors would totally take the burden of purchasing this team from the taxpayers' shoulders, then indeed, this baseball team would be gone from the City of Pittsburgh within a very short time, along with the significant economic benefit to our area, along with the 1000 or 2000 jobs.

I have to point out because it has not been mentioned throughout all this time that those who state that we have a lease, we can keep them here, as many at the public hearing stated, has a very significant flaw in it, as was recently demonstrated last week. For those who do not know, the Meadowlands in New Jersey have offered the New York Yankees their stadium to relocate to and the question of an existing lease for the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium came up and part of the arrangements and offer from the Meadowlands to the New York Yankees was to buy off the final years of their lease at Yankee Stadium. So, I am sure this same offer would be forthcoming to a group of private investors who would own the Pirates; that is, come to the Meadowlands and we will pay off your lease until the year 2011 as a cost of the purchase. So, we in Pittsburgh would have the rent for Three Rivers Stadium from these private people until the year 2011 to collect every year, but where would the Pirates be, and where would the jobs be, and where would our major league image be? In New Jersey.

There were many United States Senators several years ago who spoke far more articulately than I and far more passionately than those at the public hearing last week in opposition to the what they termed bail-out of the Chrysler Corporation. They stated that it was not the interest of the public sector to bail out a floundering private company and that indeed any bail that they did give would be lost, that Chrysler was going down the tubes, and we were just throwing good money after bad. Well, I'd like to know why those Senators have been so quiet today, now that Chrysler has turned around, and that all the hundreds and thousands of jobs that Chrysler provides across this country have been saved. Why is the cry against the Chrysler bail-out not equalled by the ardent support of this bail-out? We on City Council find ourselves in the same position as the United States Senate did in considering the support and loan to Chrysler which, by the way, was paid back prior to the terms of the loan agreement provided for it to be paid.

I do not share my colleague, Michelle Madoff's pessimism about the future of the Pirates in Pittsburgh. I think that they are going to be here for a long time. They've cut their payroll significantly, eliminating many high-priced players. They are going to be providing a young, dynamic, exciting product. The City is going to rally around them. The opponents to this legislation that speak or warn that if this goes through they will boycott the team remind me of a little boy who states that they're going to cut off their nose to spite their face. Once the deal goes through, it makes no sense to then boycott what we as taxpayers have an interest in is to guarantee a loss of our money. I, for one, am willing to put my own money where my mouth is and have bought, for the first time in my life, season tickets to the Pirates, only because I'm excited about this coming year.

Finally, I am perfectly satisfied that I as a taxpayer and we as a City and this body as City Council is totally protected by the terms of the agreements and by the provisions that those agreements provide. We have an asset that at the very, very worst case scenario, if, God forbid, the Pirates do not draw and five years from now the team must be sold, we still have an equity participation which, when these different cities come bidding for our franchise, Tampa, Meadowlands, Denver, Indianapolis, we will still have the open market to offer this team to these cities which will result in considerable funds. In 1991, maybe $100 million. This actually could be a good investment. I, for one, hope it never turns out to be that kind of investment, that we get a return on our dollar. I hope the Pirates stay here forever. But at this worst case scenario, we are protected.

Additionally, if the Pirates do stay and turn a profit, we have the additional advantage of receiving 43 percent of that profit over and above what the loan terms are. We're protected either way.

For all of these reasons, and despite the number of calls I've received, despite the threats of political retaliation, of impeachment and ardent efforts against my re-election, I am going to vote in favor of these three pieces of legislation and urge all of my colleagues to join me.

Thank you for the time.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, I think it's our responsibility to keep this team in the City in the cheapest way possible and we can have, I think, public hearings and generally speaking, we hear that from one group keep the team and the other group is don't keep the team, let the team go. I've tried to present today a potential scenario of how to keep the team in Pittsburgh with greater participation from the public through a public stock offering, share participation, whatever it may be, whatever you may classify it as. My presentation at the previous meeting I would like brought forward for the record.

(MR. WAGNER'S REMARKS ON BILL NOS. 419, 420 & 431 FROM MARCH 17, 1986)

Mr. Wagner:

I agree we need professional baseball in Pittsburgh; however, I am still not convinced we are going about this in the cheapest way possible, and prior to getting into some discussion about an alternative way, of which I have talked about, and everyone surely understands and knows what I am going to talk about, I'd like to clarify a couple items.

Number one, I think everybody would agree that baseball in the future, and the key to the future in baseball in Pittsburgh, is dependent upon what? In terms of the Pirates success financially? Attendance, is that correct?

Mr. Donahoe:

Attendance, cost control, I think the league's ability to properly share. I'm not so sure it is just as simple as attendance, but attendance is a major factor.

Mr. Wagner:

Can't we -- you will agree that the major problems with professional baseball as relates to Pittsburgh has related to the declining attendance.

Mr. Donahoe:

Yes.

Mr. Wagner:

The reason for the sale of the team, the reason for the financial projections is that we are talking about the need to raise $45 or $50 million to be able to financially support not only the purchase of the team, but the projected losses over the next five years, until we can turn the team around, so I believe, and I believe the majority of people believe, that attendance is the major concern if, in fact, we can turn this thing around.

Last week at the public hearing we requested some information, and one piece of information was a Chamber of Commerce study, and I'd just like to bring to everyone's attention, and I was under the impression that the figures that have been thrown around are reflective of the atmosphere financially today in the City of Pittsburgh as it relates to attendance, and I found out that basically that is not the case with the Chamber's study. The Chamber of Commerce study indicates that approximately $36 million in revenue is generated per year as a result of Pirate baseball. However, that study is based on projections made in 1980 when they were projecting the attendance to $1.8 million. We all know factually that the attendance of Pirate games has not been anywhere near that. As a matter of fact, the last two years it has been $750,000.00, so what that figure is I don't know, but I believe a gentleman by the name of Mr. Smith last week brought that out at the hearing, and he waved the red flag in my mind, and in looking at it I tend to believe that we are not under the projected attendance for this year, which is, hopefully, going to be a million or slightly more than that, which would probably generate anywhere from $20 to $25 million in the economy and not $36 to $40 million.

Michelle Madoff:

What was that figure, please?

Mr. Wagner:

The protection of the Chamber was $36 million.

Michelle Madoff:

And you think it would be what?

Mr. Wagner:

I think it is probably $20 to $22 million.

Michelle Madoff:

A little more realistic.

Mr. Wagner:

It is based on projected attendance at the games, basically.

One very important question -- I'm not sure if it has been asked in the last two hours, what is the position of County Government? Have we had discussions with them? Is there any commitment to any larger degree of participation other than the $426,000?

Mr. Donahoe:

This is the same information I gave at the public hearing last week. The Mayor did discuss with all three Commissioners the situation concerning the sale lease-back. The two Commissioners who supported the grant for the City indicated that they will continue to support the initial grant, and he plans to meet with them to discuss any increase that might result from this financing, if this becomes the final way that the Stadium matter is resolved. But the specific answer is there is not a commitment to date beyond the $426,000.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Wagner, may I ask a question?

The Chair:

Michelle, please.

Mr. Wagner:

Let me follow up on that particular topic. Is there a meeting planned and, if so, when and when could this Council expect an answer to that?

Mr. Donahoe:

The Mayor does plan to have a meeting. I don't know that it has been specifically scheduled, and I'm sure as soon as the meeting takes place you will be informed.

Mr. Schmeiser:

The reason it hadn't been scheduled, it would be premature to discuss this, because we may still have the sale lease-back.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you want to say that again loudly so the public can have it?

Mr. Schmeiser:

We may still have the same lease-back, so the final form of the financing is not yet determined.

Mr. Donahoe:

As we pointed out, the cost of the loan is a little less than the sale lease-back, so the County is defraying at least half of the cost, and what the Director is really pointing out is we don't know what the final way of the financing is to be; therefore, is might be premature.

Mr. Wagner:

Are we then saying that we are holding back discussions with the Commissioners until we finally determine whether or not there is going to be a sale lease-back?

Mr. Schmeiser:

Sure.

Mr. Wagner:

So, in other words, that could be six months down the road?

Mr. Schmeiser:

Could be.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, this Council was under the impression that there was going to be discussions in the very near future to determine specifically is there would be any increased contribution.

Michelle Madoff:

There should be discussion.

Mr. Donahoe:

I think there will be discussion. I think the only problem is that we don't exactly know what that final amount might be, because you don't know whether this becomes the final solution, or whether the sale lease-back enters into it to defray some of the cost.

Mr. Wagner:

Can we then -- at least I have to -- assume, and I suspect every Member of Council does, that we are moving forward on the premise that the County is not participating in any greater degree than they have so far?

Mr. Donahoe:

They have committed to the $426,000 participation.

Mr. Wagner:

But we cannot assume that it will be anything greater than $426,000.

Mr. Donahoe:

I have nothing to give you that would indicate that.

Mr. Wagner:

So we are assuming, we are moving forward on the premise that it will be that, whether or not we continue with the bond or we go to, eventually, the sale lease-back, correct?

Mr. Donahoe:

Correct.

Mr. Wagner:

One other item that hasn't been cleared publicly, and I'm asking this question basically for the sake of the public, is the lease agreement of the team at the Stadium, it is still a little hazy as to if the team does not succeed after five years with this agreement, with this bond issue the lease agreement can be broken and the team can move?

Mr. Gariti:

The lease agreement has been modified to reflect the deal we now have with the new Pirate owners, which breaks down to what we said before, that if at any time the cash flow and cash requirements are such that the expenses are going to exceed the cash flow on a one-year projection, then the leasehold can be broken.

The second would be that after the fifth year if in fact they still have some monies left but based on two preceding years and projections of a third year they show an aggregate loss of $10 million, then they would have the right to notify the City and Stadium Authority relating to their leasehold..

Mr. Wagner:

And the City and Stadium Authority would then have the option to purchase or the lease would be --

Mr. Gariti:

At that point in time that would make the option agreement life for which we would then have an assignable option to find another buyer to purchase the Pirates at a set price in the option agreement.

Mr. Wagner:

But, in comparison to the lease agreement, which runs to the year 2011, in essence the lease can be broken after a five-year period.

Mr. Gariti:

If those conditions are met.

Mr. Wagner:

If those condition are met. Okay. Based on my earlier statement I'd like to take a minute also to use the easel, even though I didn't intend to, but it appears as if that is what everyone is doing, and I'd like to clarify a point that I think could save the City money if we pursued it.

There is some disagreement as to whether or not is it possible, but at the same time I think until it is tried we don't know if it is possible, and at this point in time the potential for a stock offering continues, I think, to be a realistic option to reduce the public debt that is being suggested.

Correct me if I'm wrong on this, suggesting this scenario. Under the sale lease back the public subsidy would be City, $426,000, County, $426,000, for a total of $852,000; is that correct? That would be the total public subsidy if we were to sell the stadium and lease it back.

Mr. Donahoe:

That is what you approved in November.

Mr. Wagner:

Now under the bond issue, as has been suggested, a $21 million bond issue with an approximate annual debt service of $2 million, the County subsidy would be $426,000 still the same as the lease back, correct?

Mr. Donahoe:

As of today.

Mr. Wagner:

Unless they agree to additional funds and the City contribution would be as proposed $1,574,000 for a total of $2 million, approximately, correct?

Mr. Donahoe:

Yes.

Mr. Wagner:

So the total public subsidy would be $2 million in comparison with the lease back which would be $852,000, correct?

Mr. Donahoe:

Right.

Mr. Wagner:

Which means that the City contribution in comparison to the lease back agreement would be approximately $426,000 — it would be approximately $1,150,000 greater. So that's a point that I think it's important to clear the air with I think it's important to clear the air with and under the worst case scenario as suggested with the bond issue in comparison to the lease back, the public subsidy for the City would be an additional $1,150,000.

Now, I have been saying all along that the need exists to pursue a public stock offering and I believe that if we're capable of putting together a limited partnership which would purchase $25 million in ownership of the Pirates consisting of 12 or 13 companies and/or individuals for a total of $25 million, it's very conceivable that we could go out and sell $10 million in a public stock offering to all of the other companies, all of the other wealthy individuals, all the unions, anyone that would be interested in the entire region in participating in ownership of the Pirates. Now, I'm using the $10 million to go out and we only needed a $10 million bond issue, the subsidy for that bond issue would be approximately $1 million a year, correct?

Mr. Donahoe:

That's correct.

Mr. Wagner:

Under that scenario we could assume that the County would continue to participate with the $426,000 subsidy, correct?

Mr. Donahoe:

Yes.

Mr. Wagner:

For a $10 million bond issue, or a $20 million bond issue at the present and a further attempt to go to a public stock offering which would reduce the 20 to approximately 10 million. If we were to do that, the real public debt would be a $10 million debt with a bond issue, the public subsidy being $1 million per year. If that were to occur and the County continues to subsidize at the tune of $426,000, then the City's debt would be the balance or $574,000 which is approximately no more than $100,000 in comparison to the sale lease back agreement. Can we agree on that in principal? If we were able to sell $10 million in public stock --

Mr. Donahoe:

If we were able --

Mr. Wagner:

Yes, then in essence the public debt would be very little more than was proposed with the sale lease back agreement for approximately $100,000 more.

Mr. Donahoe:

That's what the number demonstrates.

Mr. Wagner:

The reason why I thought it was important to show that is that I firmly think that we are missing a golden opportunity and however we can pursue this I believe that there is enough public interest out there to get people, to get companies, to get unions to participate in the purchasing of ownership of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

At the public hearing which occurred last Wednesday, I did my own personal survey and I asked people that were in favor and opposed to the Pittsburgh Pirates and the bond issue, and my survey was done publicly for a purpose so that everyone could see and could hear. In that survey, 12 people, even those opposed, out of 14 people said yes that they would purchase stock or the groups that I represent would purchase stock. One said that they would not and one did not have an answer.

I have also pursued over the weekend asking companies and asking individuals and they have indicated that they would participate in ownership. Several members of Council have indicated that they would participate in ownership. All of that leads to what I think again, I'm stating, a golden opportunity to do the most important thing which is what I started my presentation with: to increase attendance and public participation in the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The reasons why I believe that a public stock offering are to the advantage to everyone in this city, everyone in this county and everyone in this region and particularly those in this city are as follows: By buying stock we could reduce the public subsidy by approximately $10 million and I demonstrated that up there on the board. Number Two, we could generate greater community interest in the ball team, therefore increasing attendance and hopefully assuring long-term stability of the franchise. Number Three, the City could, and I don't believe that this has been discussed much. I'm sure it has been considered by all of you though. The City could retain ownership of Three Rivers Stadium which may not be such a bad idea and along with it the development rights of the property which the stadium sits on.

We have all said all along well let's sell the stadium. I personally am not so sure that that's a great idea to sell the stadium because when we sell the stadium, we are also relinquishing to a certain degree that facility along with development rights of some of the prime property in the City of Pittsburgh.

Number Four, the financial burden of maintaining the franchise would be more representative of those that invest in the team and those that attend ball games. What I mean by that is, we all know statistically that two-thirds to three-fourths of those that attend Pirate games are not city residents. So by suggesting to have a public stock offering, we are opening up ownership participation in the team, not only to those in the city that are carrying the financial burden, but to those in the County and the region that would be participating in ownership.

For those reasons I firmly believe that we have to explore this. I mean, we absolutely have to explore it. We have talked about it and I know all of you realize that there are difficulties, Mr. Donahoe, you had sent a letter to all members of Council this morning I went through a list of companies in our area and it's absolutely incredible the resources that we haven't yet tapped for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Companies that I'm absolutely certain would participate in ownership such as, just to name a few — H.K. Porter, Consolidated Gas Company, Joy Manufacturing, Kppers, Dravo, Equibank, Price-Waterhouse, the various law firms in our city, the various insurance companies in our city, the Pittsburgh Press, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Mine Safety Appliances, U.S. Air, Ketchum Advertising, First Federal Savings, Allegheny International, Rockwell, H.H. Robertson, savings and loan associations, the realty companies in the city, all the construction companies, all the labor unions, all the computer companies, the ball players themselves. The ball players that are averaging $300,000 a year in salary, why couldn't they purchase $10,000 in stock? That's probably the real problem with the Pirates. And 2.8 million people that live in the region, 2.8 million people of which is projected that well over one-quarter of a million people in our region are considered to be wealthy people with incomes far greater than $50,000 a year, probably exceeding $100,000 a year.

Mr. Pollock:

Let's assume that everything you say is totally accurate. How do you deal with the time factor? What you're talking about is a very time-consuming process. How do you come up with the money up front to start the season and still pursue this avenue that you're talking about because to do it right you're talking a year or more.

Mr. Wagner:

Last July the time factor was a problem also. When everyone said that the team had to be sold, ownership had to take place quickly and it's nine months later and we're sitting in the same scenario.

I am not suggesting that we do not move forward on the bond issue. I firmly believe that we should because it is the only scenario at this point in time that still meets the commitments with the private partnership and government, but what I am suggesting is that we make a commitment up front publicly to go out and explore and pursue a public stock offering for the debt that exists for the City of Pittsburgh and by doing so reducing the debt to the public to something that is almost a wash and equal to the sale lease back agreement plus us retaining ownership of the team.

I see Mr. Roddey in the audience and I've spoken with him about it and he has some very innovative marketing ideas that I think could be applied to it. We've talked about Booster Clubs involving the neighborhoods, discounts for tickets and I thought of a few things such as a reduction in cost possibly for concessions, for parking for ticket price, free membership to the Allegheny Club — I don't know. All of these items I think are very realistic possibilities and would add to the potential of a public stock offering and I firmly believe that the market out there. The market was out there to obtain $25 million with 12 or 13 people. I have to believe that the market's out there for another $10 million and some of the reasons, Mr. Donahoe, I'd just like to discuss this. Maybe you would like to indicate and give you the opportunity to indicate what you consider to be some of the hurdles that exists in terms of pursuing this which you have put to Council in writing in the letter we received. There's four points I believe.

Mr. Donahoe:

I attempted to provide what I understood to be a summary of why this avenue wasn't pursued last year when it first came up. The first and most important point is to understand that the Pittsburgh Athletic Company which owns the Pirates today is in fact a stock company. There are groups and individuals who own stock in that company but it's not publicly traded. The point was made before that you can't go out on the open markets and buy stock and that's by design, by the League. They do not, and as far as I know as of this morning, continue to not permitting the public trading of stock in sports franchises. I believe it's the complexities of the kinds of businesses they are. While they are all independent companies, they must form sort of a collective to deal with things like media rights and pension obligations and player contracts and so on, so that they have limited the approved structures to things like a limited partnership or sole proprietorship.

The structure that was finally arrived at and eventually approved by the League in Pittsburgh and it was after some considerable persuasion was this limited partnership-ownership with the public participation through a loan as is before us now. And as I say, it was acceptable to the League.

Secondly, the funds raised in the private sector as has been mentioned — we're not so much an investment but a civic contribution. They were looking for a dollar-for-dollar match by the public sector — in this case governmental entities. They were satisfied to accept that because of legal problems in the form of a loan rather than through the public sector actually buying stock.

Third, assuming these problems could be overcome, there were substantial hurdles to be overcome in registering the stock. First, finding someone who would form a corporation to issue it and nobody came forth to do that. Last year there were people who would form limited partnerships and so on.

Also, the City was advised at the time that it was not potentially productive. You would have to price to stock so low that it was very unlikely that you could raise the amount of money which were needed through a stock offering. You would therefore have to go back into the private sector and get large commitments from corporations or individuals and frankly that marriage just never took place last year or it might have been the structure that was ultimately recommended.

Now one suggestion was made last week that something short of a formal registered public stock offering be developed where in through some organization, and it could not be the City but through some vehicle, some sort of a share in participation or certificate would be established whereby those people who purchase the certificates would get certain preferences with the ball club and the Pirates have agreed to examine that.

One final point. The list of companies that have not been involved directly in the purchase of the team — you should not assume that they don't support baseball. In fact, through ticket purchases many of them hold lease boxes at the stadium and so on. They are very substantial supporters of not only baseball and football and of course all of that revenue as has been demonstrated accrues to the City's benefit.

The situation we're in now is that we have a limited partnership which has formed who will own the team. I do not believe that they are interested in throwing open to the general market and I don't believe baseball would permit them to throw open to the general market, ownership in the team. In essence, the structure that's before us now has been established. The real question might be, how do we defray this public commitment other than through general tax obligations, and I don't know of any formal vehicle for doing that. As I have discussed, there may be a less formal vehicle for doing that. As I have discussed, there may be a less formal vehicle wherein contributions could be sought and some preference given to people who were willing to make a contribution.

Mr. Wagner:

I believe that the mechanism has been set up between us and the private partnership. However, a shared participation through the economic development loan somehow through the Urban Redevelopment Authority I still believe is possible and whether or not we have to set up a vehicle by which that money passes through to get to the partnership, I don't know, but just as we have come up with innovative financing ideas for the sale lease back agreement, I firmly believe that an innovative idea can be initiated here to permit the public to be a part of this. I agree with you that many of these companies do participate but many also want to participate to a greater degree. To a far greater degree than buying just season tickets or having a box at the stadium. I truly believe that they would invest in a good investment and that's what we've been saying all along. That even though this right now today in Pittsburgh is not a good investment, but if the worst scenario occurs and the team is sold and the franchise leaves, the value of the team will be far greater than what it is being purchased for today; double possibly even triple. So therefore, if the face value right now today is $45 million and as Councilwoman Madoff indicated earlier, the team could be sold for $65 million, than those investing in some type of share and participation, whatever it would be called, a stock offering, they actually over the long haul would have a good investment and the best investment would be to keep the team in Pittsburgh and the best investment would be to get those individuals more involved in participation with the ball club to change the image of the ball club, and basically all I'm asking for from the Administration is a commitment to move forward to explore in very real terms the potential of doing this in the near future, and I firmly believe that if the desire is there to do that, we can do it. And that's all I'm asking the Administration to do and I have heard for nine months that the timing isn't there; we have all the time we need to explore it and we're paying financial advisors on the lease back agreement, we're paying bond counsel, we're paying big dollars to do big things here and I'm saying, why can't we go out and pay someone to create an innovative procedure by which we can establish public participation and ownership. And believe me, the desire is there from the public and that is what is going to assure us, increase the attendance and future success of the team.

We all know in Green Bay, Wisconsin, what it did for the Green Bay Packers and there's no reason, if it happens in a city with 50,000 people, it can happen in a city with 400,000 people to a greater degree and that's all I'm asking for from the Administration is to pursue this earnestly in the future and I believe if we do, it will happen. Will the Administration make that commitment?

Mr. Donahoe:

I think the Mayor has already told Councilmembers that he would explore that. I do not know today, I do not know of any vehicle that exists today to take the loan that's being made and sell it off which is essentially what you're describing. You would sell off shares of that loan to people in the private sector. I do not know the vehicle for doing that today. Will we explore it, the answer is yes.

Mr. Wagner:

Explore it to what degree? If it is — when I say explore I mean explore it as aggressively as we have explored other alternatives. That's what I'm looking for.

Mr. Schmeiser:

Jack, there's two major hurdles. First of all, will Mr. Uberroth allow it? We think not. In fact, I'm told for certain that he said no which means that we can't go any further if that is his decision. He will not allow us to have a franchise as publicly held; that's my understanding. Secondly, these investors have to give their approval. My understanding is that they do not want public ownership because there is a great deal of burden in having a publicly owned company. SEC filings and liabilities and disclosures and everything else. They're not anxious to make this investment. If we put these further burdens on them, they just will move out.

Mr. Wagner:

Why can't this be a further limited partnership for participation in the team without all the formality as is suggested?

Mr. Schmeiser:

Because once you have over 30 investors then you're publicly held, subject to SEC regulation scrutiny.

Mr. Wagner:

I have never heard until you just stated that the Commissioner of baseball has made that statement.

Mr. Schmeiser:

That's my understanding.

Mr. Donahoe:

The understanding is that baseball would not approve a structure that involved publicly held and traded securities. But when I said we would explore Councilman, I want to be clear. I thought what you were asking is would we take the loan that will ultimately result, and will we look to some mechanism to defray the cost of that loan and that we will commit to do. If it means however will that be done so that the way we defer it through finding 10,000 other people, will they have some voting rights in the club, will the technically own the club? The answer to that is no because the people who are forming the limited partnership, I can't commit that they'll do that.

Mr. Wagner:

I can accept that and I think the public could accept that. I don't think the public wants to participate and vote in the operation of the team. I just think the public wants to be a part of the team and we're not giving them the opportunity to do that.

Mr. Schmeiser:

They are. As taxpayers they are certainly involved in the team.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, there's certain notions of the public though that don't want that a huge public subsidy and what I'm saying is, let those that want to invest, and let's reduce the public subsidy and as long as there's a commitment to do that without the formal - with the formal understanding that it cannot be done with a public stock offering, I can accept that but I believe that we must pursue it and if we do we'll find out that there will be rewards financially.

Mrs. Masloff:

One fast question. David, is there anybody seriously interested in buying the stadium? Now you know, don't tell you don't. Is there anybody seriously interested in the team?

Mr. Donahoe:

Yes, the Mayor's advised me that there are still very active groups and it's not just one. There are groups of investors who are interested and those talks are continuing to go on. The Mayor believes that it will be successful.

Mrs. Masloff:

And it is serious.

Mr. Donahoe:

Yes.

Mrs. Masloff:

Okay.

(END OF MR. WAGNER'S REMARKS
FROM BILL NOS. 419, 420, & 431)

Mr. Wagner:

I would just simply like to state once again my reasoning behind that. We can, in fact, through a public stock offering accomplish five things. By selling we could reduce the public subsidy by at least $10 million. This would require $10 million in stock to be sold. That would not be difficult based on the fact that it was not difficult to sell $25 million in limited partnership with 12 company individuals. There are many more companies out there, there are many more individuals, there are many labor groups, that are willing to participate in some form of ownership with the Pittsburgh Pirates. If we can sell $10 million in participation and ownership through stock or through whatever it is classified, we can reduce that public subsidy to be no greater than what was proposed in the sale lease back agreement. That's the first reason; to reduce the public subsidy.

The second would be to generate greater community interest in the ball team, therefore increasing attendance and assuring long-term stability of the franchise. As I indicated before, the number one problem with the Pirates is attendance. It's not a secret why people don't go to the ballgame. There's an accumulation of reasons, one being the economy, the other being transportation to and from, the other being development around the facility. But most recently, I think the public is just downright irritated with what they've seen over the last two years in terms of the free agencies and the million dollar contract with ballplayers. And even more recently than that, the drug problem that existed recently on the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Hopefully, the final problem is solved and I tend to believe it is. I believe with the new management and the new ownership that exists with the Pirates, that problem will no longer exist. By people participating in ownership, greater attendance will occur at that ball park.

The third reason, the City could retain ownership and development rights of Three Rivers Stadium. All of us have pretty much thought that, well, to sell the Stadium is the best idea. It is if it's the cheapest idea. But with the public stock offering, it would not be the cheapest idea. We could retain ownership of the Stadium, we could pay off the bonds, we could own the facility, own the development rights on the property.

The fourth reason being the financial burden of maintaining the franchise would be more representative with those that own stock in the team, meaning those that live outside the City of Pittsburgh. The majority of the people that go to the Stadium are not City residents; therefore, why not give them the opportunity to invest in the team.

This would reduce significantly the bond issue and that's the point I'm getting at and I am hoping and I received a commitment from Mr. Donahoe at our meeting an hour ago that we will look into the possibility of pursuing that and I firmly believe that this Council should continue to check with the Administration to make sure that we do pursue that. If we do, the public debt will be no greater than what was originally anticipated four months ago. I firmly believe that if this City were progressive in terms of marketing, and this Council put in a marketing coordinator into the budget and the Administration, if this City were progressive in terms of marketing itself and marketing was injected into the idea of the sale and the ownership of this team, it could be accomplished.

Therefore, since I have received a commitment from the Administration to pursue the public stock offering, to pursue the share participation in the team, I think it's in the best interest of this City to vote to keep the Pirates in Pittsburgh and that's what I intend to do.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to thank both my colleagues, Mr. Wagner and Mr. Pollock. I think Mr. Pollock particularly was eloquent in his summary because he does that as an attorney and he does it well. I would like to point out to someone who may have just got home from work and are turning on this best matinee in town that between one and four o'clock today members of this Council tried to be sure that we understood all the ramifications of committing ourselves to a bond issue. Mr. Pollock was very clear when he talked about voting your conscience. Those of you with Council who ran and have three more years like our Mayor does are counting on the public to forget how we vote because we've already declared ourselves in the preliminary vote. It's people like myself who run next year being threatened with impeachment and being threatened that if you vote for this, we're not voting for you next year. And since I have, as you know, a rather high visibility, I'll be the name they remember and the one they zero in on.

It's funny how fast or how soon we forget. The fact that these same senior citizens, basically, who are calling my office, and most of them are senior citizens and older people who have lost their jobs, forget that this Council, with my leadership, helped get lighting in garages so that when they go in they feel a little safer. That doesn't count; what have I done for you lately? Bills that have helped pay for their paramedic service so that when they go to the hospital in a 911 or with the paramedics service, they're not charged. It's charged to suburbanites and to third party payees.

It is unfortunate that we conduct our hearings the way we do. I'm looking forward to a change in that procedure. There should be a public hearing after the four hours of dialogue, not before it. The people are angry; they don't really know why they're angry except that they're justifiable in their anger in the sense that they're either underemployed or unemployed, and they were under the misconception that we were going to subsidize the rich, the 13 limited partnership people. I think it's been clarified today that those people are indeed making a contribution. As Mr. Pollock has stated, it is not a good business venture. For $2 million, just drawing interest on it would be substantive. They don't get any interest. It is really a charitable contribution with a misnomer of civic contribution. The way they got that, as I stated earlier, through their boards and past their stockholders was that it was a joint venture with the public and private sector and that they were eager to keep the team in this City and it is indeed a civic, charitable contribution.

The unfortunate thing that has brought us to this charitable moment is a very bad PR explanation to the public by the Administration. The Steelers have two people that I know of who are PR people; the Pirates have at least two people that do their PR. But the City of Pittsburgh that represents something like 400,000 people does not have a public relations department that goes out and explains in detail much of the things that we learned here today. It could have been clarified in simple language to members of Council. Mr. Givens did a tremendous job in the presentation that he put together, but with all due respect to Mr. Givens and to myself and the numbers I put out in my summary, which was rather complicated, it isn't concise, it isn't just dealing on a level where people can say, "Okay, it's the same amount of money if you vote for the bond as it is if you don't, but we're going to save 1000 jobs and we're going to do something. You really don't have a choice; you're between a hard place and a rock."

I hope that in the instance of my evaluation of the Pirate team -- I am not a sports fan, I hope Mr. Pollock is right and I'm wrong, I want to lose this one, I want to lose the bet because I want them to be successful -- I hope that in future dealings we change the method of how we do business so the public doesn't perceive us as the villains that they do perceive us. And I'm hoping that they are watching this and the media reports and that they will report that we spend three hours trying to be sure that we were voting the right way and were not just going along to get along because, as Mr. Pollock said, those of us who run next year who vote for this are really putting our political heads in the guillotine.

With that said, I just want to point out to Mr. Wagner that I had talked to all the parties involved about a certificate of contribution which would be very much like suburbanites giving their $40 to the commuter tax, the check made out to the general fund. They could buy a certificate which would be titled, $50 Certificate, Pittsburgh Pirate, Certificate of Involvement. Hopefully, our suburbanites, particularly our reporters, would raise their hands now and volunteer to buy one. I really believe that people who want to support the team would, and I agree with Mr. Wagner. I think we'll raise $6 million by buying a $50 certificate. I'd settle for 6; I think 6 is reasonable and logical based on my calculations and polling, which was very, very, very expensive polling. It was done every night for weeks on one of the major networks.

With that said, I don't think there's much more to say except that, Mr. Woods, you're a dear, but you really didn't conduct the public hearing after people had the facts summarized so they could understand them, so they could see that we really care. Next time I hope that when we meet in our meeting, I've already talked to Mr. O'Malley, we want to change the public hearing method of operation.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm going to be brief. I think almost everything that could have been said, has been said. I think there were many opponents but I think what members of this Council have to realize is that all the opponents spoke out against helping the Pirates, which surprised me, all the opponents who spoke out against members of this Council trying to save 1000 jobs, none of these opponents offered us an alternative plan, except possibly, real possibly, letting the Pirates leave Pittsburgh.

What the opponents also forgot to point out to the public is that the City of Pittsburgh now owns the Stadium and the City of Pittsburgh is responsible for the debt service on the Stadium and that that City of Pittsburgh is responsible for maintaining the Stadium. If we did lose the Pirates, if this Council did not support this bond issue and there's a possibility that the Pirates filed bankruptcy, broke the lease, left the City of Pittsburgh, we still own the Stadium and we're still responsible for maintenance. Can we afford to maintain that stadium just for nine home Steeler games? I asked that same question back in 1982. Can we afford to own the Stadium, to pay the bond service, and to maintain that stadium for nine home Steeler games and the answer in 1982, during the hearings, was no. So, there's also the very real possibility that if we lost the Pirates that we could also lose the Steelers, the revenue, and the jobs that go with the Steelers. I don't think anybody in their right mind could imagine the City of Pittsburgh without the Pirates and without the Steelers. That's something to consider. If we did lose the Pirates and we did lose the Steelers, we still own the Stadium and we still must maintain limited maintenance on that stadium.

I think on this bond issue that we have, if we don't support it, we have everything to lose and we have nothing to gain. I think this Council is to be proud. I think there's times that we've been ridiculed and I think we're taking a hard stand on a tough issue and I think that the future will prove us right.

Mr. Givens:

I think all the words have been said but some remarks were made at the Wednesday carry-on meeting that we just had a couple hours ago that I felt somewhat amazed about in that getting down to the final markers that I had up before Council, it took many hours to get it down to that particular point. All kinds of bonding issues and issues of this type are very intricate, financial, undertakings. A lot of the people do not understand them but they do understand the bottom line and hopefully that those charts that I did portray indicate the bottom line.

Some people were fearful that this Councilmember did not know what the contract was and there was a void. I submit to all the Councilmembers that this same document was submitted to us by the Grant Liberty Hotel Development of which this Council passed on and which, at the time, I served on the Urban Redevelopment Authority Board and I knew that Mr. Gariti, the counsel for the URA did much work in that particular document and that was the blueprint of which we used in this particular bond issue. I can assure you that it really ties the other side down. I think as people evaluated that, as they looked at it today, realized that the URA people did one heck of a job and that we used that same particular instrument to work this deal which is coming up very quickly. I was very knowledgeable of that particular document. It's sad that some people were not. And to take an hour and forty-five minutes to explain that to the public, I felt, took a lot of our time and a lot of our effort. However, if the public feels that they've been enlightened just one little iota, one second, one inch, then I would say that it was all worthwhile and I think all of us have shown patience and I'm happy in that I have never waived in all the months that have pursued and all the people that I have talked to in trying to convince them that this is the best thing for the taxpayers of the City of Pittsburgh and for that position of Pittsburgh, Number One, and I might take my hat off because today is St. Patrick's Day, to the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh who has never waived in his commitment to this Council to give us the best legislation and the best vehicle possible to keep the Buccos here. Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, in 1982, if you'll recall, we had a more heated issue and that was in regards to whether to terminate Mr. Galbreath's lease at Three Rivers Stadium or to continue it. I think all of us on Council at that time were of the opinion that it was a wrong thing to do but Mr. Galbreath at the time was threatening to leave town unless that lease was terminated so we did what we thought was right or best for the City of Pittsburgh and we terminated that lease and the City took that lease over. We took a lot of heat on it but we had to do it just as we have to do what we're going to do today. The only person that was descendant on Council at that time was the present Controller and I just mention that in passing.

Now, some of my colleagues have said they've taken a lot of heat on the issue at present in regards to whether the City should invest in the Pirates or not. Truthfully, maybe there's something wrong with it or maybe people are starting to say, "Well, I don't want to go near Jeep or I don't want to ask Jeep anything; I don't even talk to him anymore", but I haven't had one person in the City of Pittsburgh in the last three weeks mention the Stadium deal whatsoever. The only deal that they have talked to me about, the only calls I've received, the only mail I've received, was in regards to the dog racing referendum and the wage increase that Council tried to put through a little while ago.

Honestly, I think that the public is saying, whether they're saying it openly or not, but they feel the Pirates should remain, the Pirates should stay, and Council should vote to keep them here. I just want to make that point rather strongly, that for some reason, they're not saying, "Look, don't go for the deal, the heck with the Pirates." I think 90 percent of the people, Mark said 9-1 are opposed to the deal, I honestly think 90 percent of the public, if they were forced to make a vote, would say let's keep the Pirates.

Michelle mentioned about re-elections, what have you. If you recall, in 1982 there were some people who faced running for election the following year and I believe that all of those people won. We had two new people coming in because I left Council at the time and Mr. Flaherty became the Controller. So, if you run the risk of not be re-elected, well then obviously you have one alternative and that's to vote against it.

I say to Michelle and my colleagues, don't be afraid of not being re-elected because the public isn't going to react to that in that respect; they're going to react only if they think you did the right thing or the wrong thing and I think they'll agree, as I said earlier, almost unanimously that we're going to do the right thing this afternoon in voting for it.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, I think the main reason why this has drawn such attention and, often cases, a lot of criticism is the fact that we are trying to help a major corporation, a private firm that is very visible. But this concept is not new. The City for years has been helping industry private concerns, mainly through the URA but I'm sure that years ago the City used to try to do it in other ways itself. So, this is not a new concept but the fact that we're trying to help a major concern here, I think that is the issue. I would just hope that we remain true to form and whenever possible to try to help industries stay here just as we're trying to do today.

Other than that, I have no further comments.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to correct something. Mr. DePasquale, in 1982 we didn't let the Galbreaths out of the contract; we made them stay with it. Maybe if we let them out we would have owned it. We did not relenquish the lease; we made them stay with the lease. We made them adhere to the lease; is that correct? Mr. Chairman, is that correct?

The Chair:

No, we renegotiated their lease for them. Mr. DePasquale is right.

Michelle Madoff:

We let them have a lease of five years?

The Chair:

We let them out of their long-term lease. We renegotiated their lease for them, down so that they had less.

Michelle Madoff:

But it was still more than five years?

The Chair:

The same length of time. We renegotiated their lease.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, but the lease itself had to run to the year 2011 so it was not saleable.

The Chair:

It still runs to that. Right.

Michelle Madoff:

That's what I'm saying. I just wanted to clarify that. The lease was not changed to five years; therefore, it couldn't be sold. So we really locked them in; we did not let them out. We let them out on other things but not on the lease.

I would like to just mention, and I know my colleagues don't want me to do it but I'm going to do it anyway. A note came to the media and not to Councilmembers in the usual style of the Controller saying that it is true to form that City Council is discussing the proposed $21 million bond issue even before a preliminary committee vote. The bonds are being sold at that moment, at 2:30 p.m., March 17th. Hard week at Council be treated with more rubber stamp contempt.

My understanding is that Councilwoman Masloff is leaving from here to go vote at the URA and if they are doing any preliminary work in getting ready, that's their business. But I don't believe that they are selling stock at this point before we voted, and I resent that kind of comment being made about me and about this body.

The Chair:

I agree with you. They're not selling stock.

Clerk, will you please call the roll.

Michelle Madoff:

Now we can get to voting.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Pollock
Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Wagner
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods

AYES 9 NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bills passed finally.

Mr. Pollock presented

Bill No. 490

Report of the Committee on Planning, Housing and Development for March 12, 1986 transmitting two resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 396

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution authorizing the Mayor and the Director of the Department of City Planning to enter into Agreements with the following groups: Greater Pittsburgh Visitors and Convention Bureau of utilize funds for construction of a new building; Hill District Project Area Committee to assist in neighborhood revitalization activities; Mom's House to assist in rehabilitation of building; and Bedford Dwellings Residence Council to assist in food distribution to unemployed persons."

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 432

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the filing of a Community Development statement by the City of Pittsburgh with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for a grant in connection with the 1986 Community Development Block Grant Program; providing for the execution of Grant Contracts and for the filing of other data; providing for required assurances; providing for execution of payment vouchers on Letter of Credit and for certification of authorized signatures; creating a Special Trust Fund in connection with the Project; providing for the deposit of the funds in a bank account and providing for the payment of expenses within categories. This Resolution amends the 1986 Capital Budget as noted in the line items listed in Section 10."

Which was read.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, on Bill No. 432, if my colleagues will recall, this is the bill that concerns the 15 percent CD cuts that are a result of the Graham-Rudman legislation and are a result of the request by the Department of Housing and Urban Development to re-submit our budget application in light of these cuts.

At our Committee Meeting on Wednesday there was discussion that we were voting on this without any public input and/or scrutiny by City Council of these cuts. That evening, I attended a meeting of the working group on community development. For those of you who do not know what that is, it is a group of executive directors of all of the community based organizations in the City of Pittsburgh, the neighborhood groups that get involved with community development. At that meeting, I submitted to them the proposed cuts and asked for input from them as to what their thoughts were on these proposed cuts, and after some time, they raised several issues which I took down and conveyed to Director Lurcott at City Planning, to Rebecca Lee at Urban Redevelopment Authority and to Reggie Young at City Planning. I am satisfied that the questions that the working group raised have been answered satisfactorily.

One item remains to be resolved and that is the question that residents of the Hill District and members of the Hill District Project Area Committee have regarding the proposed cut, proposed budgetary cut, of the Cunnard Pool in the amount of $770,000. I have been informed by Director Lurcott. We have all been assured by Director Brown that this was merely a technical bookkeeping deferral, that the Cunnard Pool was not scheduled to be repaired until 1987 anyway, that the pool was not going to be repaired in 1986. Director Brown assured all of us on Wednesday that the pool would be open for the summer of 1986, that there are repairs that have to be made but she was confident that these repairs would be able to be made and would indeed be made so that the pool would be functionable for 1986.

Despite these assurances, the residents of the Hill District and the members of the Hill District Project Area Committee are concerned that this pool will not be functioning in 1986 and will not be repaired in 1987. Accordingly, they have petitioned this Council for a public hearing, they have come to me through their legal counsel and asked that we hold off on voting on this matter until such time as the public hearing has been held. In discussing this proposal with Director Lurcott, he has informed me that it would be his urgent request that we not withhold final vote on this bill but that we approve the bill so that the application to HUD can be submitted and that we can be in line to receive our federal dollars.

I would concur with Director Lurcott's request, ask that we approve this bill now, and if, after public hearing and if after further discussions with Mr. Stoner, the legal counsel for the Hill District Project Area Committee and with other residents of the Hill District, we are then desirous of amending the budget and submitting another revised application to HUD, then we can do so. Then we can prepare further legislation and further amendments in accordance with our desires but that we not withhold getting in line for these monies and funds while we can.

Accordingly, I would urge that all of us vote affirmatively on this bill.

Mr. O'Malley:

I agree with Mr. Pollock. In my discussions with Mr. Stoner, he was just concerned that if the monies weren't appropriated this year, they might not be appropriated next year. Mr. Lurcott indicated to all of us that Council could rearrange our priorities, if we see fit, once the CD funds became available to this Council. So, I agree with Mr. Pollock that it's important that we vote on this issue and that this Council in the future deems that those priorities should be rearranged and at that time we should rearrange them.

The Chair:

Mr. Pollock, I remember that Ms. Madoff made the issue with Director Brown. She assured us, Ms. Madoff requested, that it would be open for '86 and the repairs and reconstruction would go on for '87.

Mr. Pollock:

If I could just respond to what the President said, and I told Mr. Stoner this in my office, and I took the liberty of speaking on behalf of my colleagues that he was concerned that if it was taken off the budget application for '86, it might again be taken off for '87. I said I'll tell you this, there is no way that our City Council will permit that to be taken on in 1987 and that that pool will have the $770,000 for 1987, from whatever source it takes, that that Cunnard Pool will be repaired and/or replaced for 1987.

Michelle Madoff:

I think Mr. Pollock has summed it up. I'd like to just change one thing if we possibly could. This Council is so busy holding public hearings that we don't have time to work on other issue or get anything done. In this case, there's no way that that pool isn't going to be built and if there's a problem in '86 and that pool disintegrates, we're going to do it in '86.

I would like to see a letter of commitment signed by every member of this Council instead of a public hearing. Would that be acceptable? Thank you. It is acceptable.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, I do not share the same optimism that a number of my colleagues have expressed. I think that once we start deleting projects that were originally intended in this budgetary item, we're going to lose sight of those priorities. I think that we should review this a little more carefully before passing it and I would make a motion that we recommit.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

The Chair:

I would ask both of my colleagues to withdraw their motions to recommit. I spoke to Mr. Lurcott; we have to get this application in. We can always amend further down the line, a few weeks from now, but we have to get the application in. If you recall when Ms. Madoff spoke about the pool being open in '86, Ms. Brown also said that if she had to fix it out of general fund money she would find the money to redo the pool, whether it's out of CD money, and it might come out of general fund money but she would not leave that pool go.

Mr. Pollock:

With all due respect to my colleague, if you all will recall, I think it was Mr. Givens who first red flagged this item and asked that Council address itself to the budgetary items and that Director Lurcott and Reggie Young prepare briefing points and schedule a conference with all of us prior to our final vote today. Director Lurcott and Reggie Young went over all the items, were prepared to justify each and every budgetary cut, scheduled a conference on Friday afternoon to address this issue and discuss it with all of us. I was the only person that showed up for that conference; there was no one else there.

To delay this any further, I think, would be a waste of time and if the interest had been there, then there would have been more Councilmembers at that Friday afternoon conference to get the first hand explanation of what these budgetary cuts were.

Mr. DePasquale:

I would withdraw my second with the exception, we're saying that there's a time limit here; this has to be passed today?

The Chair:

Yes.

Mr. DePasquale:

Well isn't it possible to amend this to include the Cunnard Swimming Pool?

The Chair:

Mr. DePasquale, in all due respect to everybody here, everyone had another commitment --

Mr. DePasquale:

Excuse me, Mr. President, you're saying we can amend down the line. Why can't we amend today?

The Chair:

How do we know what we're going to amend? There was a conference held at Mr. Givens' request on Friday. I didn't attend; I have no excuse. I had prior commitments. A lot of people here didn't attend. Mr. Pollock is the only one that did attend, I know that, and that would have been the time, when we all met, and that's why Mr. Givens asked for that, that we could make some changes or get some suggestions of what we were going to do. No one attended.

Now, if we go and amend this thing right now, what would you suggest taking out? None of us know. So that's why we should have the conference, that we can amend down the line. We can still meet and we can still talk, but we have to get the application and it has to be in, I believe, by the end of this month. We don't have the time.

Mr. Givens:

Like so many things, Mr. President, I did have a representative there to my knowledge, and as a result, I was the one that asked for that particular meeting and from the discussions that went on at that particular meeting, I feel comfortable to go forward with this particular piece of legislation. I've been approached today, as many of us have been approached, and really what this is is kind of a wish list to HUD saying that these are the programs that we want to go forward with if, in case, we have a cut in that particular appropriation.

Congress has not even acted upon this yet and whether they will or won't, I don't know. But HUD put a requirement on the City of Pittsburgh that we must reduce by that $6 million, whatever the case might have been, to other priorities and they just want that there in case it does happen.

This gives a two edge sword. What we're hearing here today gives us the ammunition for Billy Coyne and other local Congressional Delegates in the City of Pittsburgh and around Allegheny County to go forward and tell the people in Washington, D.C. what's going to happen to the City of Pittsburgh if we have to cut back by $6 million. What programs, what projects are going to have to be cut back? Someplace, somewhere, we have to outline those particular problems and I think this, then, gives our Congressmen a little bit of leverage to show what the impact is to our particular neighborhoods. If we don't use this one particular $700,000, almost $800,000 project that was indicated at the Wednesday session, we're going to have to probably go in and get anywhere from 25 to 75 different projects, none of which we'll be able to go forward on because we won't have that 100 percent funding that we're required to have.

So, the Administration, I assume, took this particular one without the idea of cancelling it but with the idea of saying we're going to have to go in there with 25 or 30 different projects and take out 5 or 10 percent of each one of those projects, none of them which will be able to be completed. I think that was more dramatic than taking it out of the one. I don't think it's any idea that we're going to lose this money to start with; Congress hasn't even decided on it. In fact, they gave the budget and now they're going back on their word. That's Reagan administrations, we know that, and that's going to be fought very vigorously in Washington, D.C. in both the House and the Senate, I hope, and reversed and held at it's present level. They cannot abandon the cities of our United States of America. If they do, Mr. Reagan is going to have much greater problems than what he has right now.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, you said that we don't know what projects they're taking out.

The Chair:

No, that's not what I said. I said if you tried to amend it right now, how would you amend it? What would you say? Instead of taking this out, put this in?

Mr. DePasquale:

If I may ask a question of a colleague, Mr. Pollock, what projects did they say they were going to do, Mark? You went to the meeting with them Friday; what projects did they say?

Mr. Pollock:

The sum and substance of the meeting on Friday was going through each and every budgetary item and explaining why one was cut as opposed to why one other one was not cut.

Mr. DePasquale:

But they did tell you which would be cut and which wouldn't be cut.

Mr. Pollock:

Right. Now, what's extremely significant that I learned through not only this meeting but through prior investigation was that a lot of the items that showed significant cuts were from line items where there was a lot of unused money left over from previous years. So what looked like significant cuts were really insignificant because there was so much money in the pool to use that had not been used prior to that.

The Cunnard Pool was a deferral item that they were not going to do for this year anyway, so it would have been unused money to put over to '87 anyway. So why use up that $770,000 for an '86 request when you weren't going to use it until '87 anyway? Put it through for the '87 request.

The Chair:

Do you withdraw your second, Mr. DePasquale?

Mr. Grabowski:

I'm not withdrawing my motion.

Mr. DePasquale:

I withdraw my second.

The Chair:

We need a second.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which was read.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, on Bill No. 441, I would like my comments from last week's Committee Meeting to be brought forward for the record.

Mr. Pollock:

Mine as well, please.

(BEGINNING - MR. WAGNER'S AND MR. POLLOCK'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 441 - WEDNESDAY, 3/12/86)

Mr. Wagner:

Can Mr. Norton come to the table, please?

Director, as you know, Council has been very concerned about the river rescue situation. After the first accident that occurred back in January, we had a post agenda meeting here with numerous Directors from various departments attending. I believe Councilman Pollock attended it. At that post agenda, we discussed in great detail the river rescue situation. A report was put together. I put a report together dated February 3, 1986, and Council approved that report, I believe, by a vote of 8 to 1, with 1 abstention on February 10, 1986.

One of the recommendations was a piece of legislation in front of us, Legislation No. 441, in the event the Public Safety No. 1 rescue boat was down, which is the Boston Whaler, to go out and rent a boat. There were also nine other recommendations as a part of that report.

What is the status? I know there have been — just yesterday or the day before, there was a news conference. I personally have received nothing in writing as a result of this report, indicating what the status of those recommendations are, and if in fact they are going to be implemented, to make sure that the river rescue operations does not have the same situation occur that occurred a week ago and to make sure that proper equipment is available and any other support systems that are necessary.

Director Norton:

The written report will be put together as a result of your talking point and direction from the post agenda. I'll have that back to you in relating to the various items that we have done.

In regards to this specific matter of renting boats, of course, we have Wallace Act abilities to go in an emergency situation and as directed by Council at that time, if we ever need a boat to be rented in emergency situations, we certainly have the authorization to do that.

I don't want to mislead anyone in thinking that the renting of boats or equipment solves the river rescue problem because it really doesn't. We have looked in the various marinas. There are boats that we can rent, but they are not boats that are designed as the number one boat, the Boston Whaler, that has the open side door that you can pull a person from the water into the craft easily.

We don't have a problem with availability of boats. We don't have a problem with availability of rental craft, and we don't have a problem with availability of boats that we can obtain from the county, but we do have a problem with the specific boat that will do the job for us, and according to our conversations at that time, we are pursuing the determination to see what type of craft is going to be the right craft for us to use in rescue operations.

In fact, this Thursday, and any member of Council is certainly welcome to observe on the Monongahela Wharf area at 11:00 on Thursday morning, we are going to observe an airboat, a demonstration, that we are going to take a look at to see if we can use that kind of a boat as a rescue boat.

So, this is a matter that is not going to be solved over night, but I think it will be addressed when we are talking about permanent equipment.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, Director, in regard to the report of which this one item was one of the recommendations, I totally disagree with you in that you just indicated you do not want to mislead anyone that renting and leasing a boat can solve a problem. It's clearly indicated in that report that when the first boat goes down, that the Administration is giving clear approval to move forward and to get another boat. Now, if that means leasing one, if that means renting one, if that means borrowing one or doing whatever, I don't know, but it needs to be done and it must be done, and I don't look at this recommendation as being a recommendation that is unimportant.

I'll get right to the heart of the matter. I quite frankly feel that the 10 recommendations put forth by this Council were never considered.

Director Norton:

Mr. Wagner, those recommendations came from the Department of Public Safety in concert as a discussion item with yourself and the Department of Public Safety and I would say that that is neither one of our recommendations, but in fact was a joint recommendation that these points were items that should be pursued. So, I certainly think that since we bought into the meeting and we bought into the recommendations and made a number of them, that we would try to run from those recommendations at this time. I think it was a joint effort. I think it was a good effort, and I think we have to continue it.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, I agree with you, and I would like to see a joint effort, and I would like to see an effort move forward, but I tend to believe that the effort is not a joint, and a whole lot of work was put into those ten recommendations based on opinion solicited from you, from various people in Public Safety and other departments in the City and a lot of investigation work that my staff did. I personally feel that there must be a boat in the river at all times that is capable of rescuing people.

Director Norton:

I totally concur with that.

Mr. Wagner:

Director, in regard to these recommendations, I have still not been reassured even though I stood through a press conference the other day, and I listened to the recommendations being made by the Administration of which half of them were the recommendations put forth by this Council that we not followed through, to my knowledge, and as a result of sitting through and listening to those recommendations, I am still not reassured that we have solved the problem. I'll get to the heart of the matter. If renting or leasing a boat is not considered to be a way of solving the problem, I'll clarify how it is a way of solving a problem at least in a situation that could be similar to other situations that we had on our rivers.

Right now, we have two boats, the Boston Whaler and we have another boat, plus we have pontoons, that are available right now to respond to any rescue situation. In the event the Boston Whaler goes down again, as it has two times within the last two months, and we had as a backup, what I consider the fishing boat, and not a rescue boat, that wasn't operating properly itself, that was our backup, that is still our backup, and we have pontoons that would be our backup.

In the Pittsburgh rivers this time of year, if ice forms, if high water conditions exist, if debris ends up in the river, the pontoons themselves are a hazardous craft to go out on the river on. We are actually jeopardizing the lives of those in the craft. I want to be reassured based on this legislation that if the Boston Whaler boat goes down, that immediately within an hour or a half hour, that we have a proper rescue boat to replace that. I'm not comfortable that a pontoon boat is the proper river rescue boat in these weather conditions. And, so therefore, I look at this legislation being extremely important and could possibly save the life of someone on one of our rivers, and I'm hoping that the Public Safety Department considers it that way also.

Director Norton:

I'm going to have to go back -- I don't want to mislead you. I think we have to go with the fact that if the Boston Whaler goes down, and with your own words, sir, you're asking us for a proper rescue boat, and I'm here to tell you right now that if the Boston Whaler goes down in this area, there is no proper rescue boat to rent.

Yes, we can rent a boat. Yes, we can rent a cabin cruiser. Yes, we can rent a boat that has an inboard. Yes, sir. And we will have a boat out there. But, with your words, and our conversations before, it is not a proper rescue boat. It will be a stop gap. It will get us from the scene to the scene of a rescue. But, what was the problem this last time. The problem was trying to bring the victim into the boat over the side. That was the problem that was developed in the rescue attempt. We're going to have that same problem no matter what boat we rent. If we rent a cabin cruiser or if we rent any other type of boat unless it has a platform at that water or it has an open side door, and those are the things that we talked about during your meeting that are things that we have to identify, find, buy and supplement our present fleet, and that is part of what we are going to do, but, sure, I hear you loud and clear that we have to have a boat, and as soon as we are advised that the number one boat is down, that's when the backup boat comes. But it is not a proper rescue boat.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, a proper rescue boat is one that can reach the scene in a quick a fashion as possible. The backup boat that we have now isn't even suitable for that because it wasn't running properly two weeks ago when we had a river rescue situation. For that reason, and for the additional reason that the first boat was not in operation either, and we did not move to replace that boat on the river, and for the following reason which you just indicated, that you need a proper type of boat to pull someone into the boat for river rescue purposes. There may not be another Boston Whaler in the Pittsburgh port, that's true, but there are boats that are somewhat comparable boats that can be adapted to the situation and can be utilized to haul someone into the boat, whether it be with a ladder, platform, a hoist, or whatever. I don't know what it is.

The only point I want to make is that I want to be reassured that we do not sit from an equipment point of view, in the same situation that we have been in two previous times in 1986. And I think that if an agreement is made with a local marina company to go out and lease a boat immediately and have one available to lease immediately that is capable of navigating our rivers and rescue operation to use as a backup to our Boston Whaler, we will not be in the same situation we were in before and hopefully on a permanent situation we will have a duplicate boat that we will purchase, and I'm sure this Council will allocate the dollars for it, in the future.

My whole problem is, to be quite frank, is that I'm still not reassured of that. I can sit through news conference after news conference and I'm not reassured because this Council put together a report six weeks ago, and we have still not had a response to it, and I need to be reassured of that.

I represent a different group than you do. You represent the Executive Branch of Government, and I represent the Legislative Branch of Government and you don't report to me, and my only authority is with five members of this Council. And this Council wants to solve the problem just as the Administration wants to solve the problem, but still again, we are not reassured simply by news conferences that the problem has been solved. I have not been reassured.

Director Norton:

And I don't want you to be reassured because the problem has not been solved, but I think this legislation certainly is a right step. We need it. There is no question about it. I guess I'm just waving the flag and saying it isn't going to solve all problems, and we are going to have to continue with the other talking points that we have had; the permanent equipment.

Mr. Wagner:

Well, I would hope so, and I want you to know that this Council fully supports that and that's the reason for the support of those recommendations that were made in the report submitted to various department heads and the Administration itself recently.

I'm hoping that we do have a boat or a contract with a marina company to rent a boat immediately in the event we need one, and that's what this legislation pertains to.

Director Norton:

Thank you. And we need it.

Mr. Pollock:

Okay. Just so we all understand, on the bill, does the Boston Whaler have the entrance at the water level? The Boston Whaler is the ideal boat?

Director Norton:

Well, not every Boston Whaler. Boston Whalers -- there are a lot of Boston Whalers that don't have --

Mr. Pollock:

But ours does?

Director Norton:

Yes.

Mr. Pollock:

What is our backup boat now?

Director Norton:

That boat has been scow, but at the present time, that's being relegated to a fourth boat, the backup boats are two pontoon boats.

Mr. Pollock:

But those aren't able to bring a person in the water into the boat either though, are they?

Director Norton:

More easily than the scow and probably less easier than the Boston Whaler

Mr. Pollock:

And does the scow -- is the scow now the fourth boat, because of that very reason?

Director Norton:

It never has been designed for rescue, and I think that's the whole issue here. These boats, in the direction that have been given to police, they have been river patrol, and what we are trying to do is implement river rescue, and it's a completely different concept.

Mr. Pollock:

Would it be possible to convert the scow into a river rescue boat, by not having an open door, but maybe putting a block and tackle and harness on the boat?

Director Norton:

I think we have some major problems with the motor, putting the maintenance of the engine because of its location, and I think that's a good idea as a stopgap measure, but I think it is something that we could certainly take at look at.

Mr. Pollock:

If the motor is bad, why don't we buy a whole new scow or a good used scow?

Director Norton:

That's what we are looking at right now. We're taking a look Thursday morning at this iceboat. It's only $20,000 and it can go up over ice.

Mr. Pollock:

And would it have an open door?

Director Norton:

It has a place where you can pull people on. It would have to be used in conjunction with a second boat, I'm sure.

Mr. Pollock:

Well, that's no good because —

Director Norton:

Well, you still have your pontoon boat to have your divers.

Mr. Pollock:

If we do buy this other boat, maybe put a block and tackle and harness on that boat.

Mr. Wagner:

It's not as good.

MR. GRABOWSKI COMMENTS

Mr. Pollock:

Just so I understand. Isn't this legislation almost redundant in the sense that you already have the authority by the Wallace Act in the sense that if all of the boats are down, he can go out tomorrow and lease a boat with any kind of Council approval if it's on an emergency basis.

Director Norton:

And Council has already directed me to do that.

Mr. Pollock:

One quick question. If we go out and get the boats that you've talked about today, what function does the pontoon serve?

Director Norton:

The pontoon boats are diving boats.

Mr. Wagner:

Just in response to Mr. Grabowski. I agree with you that it is better to purchase rather than lease. All this legislation is doing is serving as an interim replacement until we can go out and lease a boat. We stand today in the same situation we stood two weeks ago when we did not have an adequate boat for river rescue and very easily our Boston Whaler could break down again and we would be sitting with our fishing boat and pontoons with hazardous water conditions we would risk the life of those in them, our personnel in them, and we would need another boat, and this legislation is simply no more than permitting the Administration to go out and lease a boat during an interim period until we could either buy one or replace the ones that we have.

MR. GRABOWSKI COMMENTS

Mr. Wagner:

I'll respond to that. We don't do enough right now and that's the reason we have had fatalities on the river and we can have more fatalities.

I just sat through a meeting that I had two weeks ago.

What I'm asking is clearly permissible at this table, Mr. Chairman. That is the purpose of the Committee Meeting.

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Parliamentarian:

They should be addressing the issue, the Chair.

Mr. Wagner:

The ruling is, Mr. O'Malley, that I can question anybody at this table.

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Mr. Wagner:

I don't think you understand the rules of procedure.

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Mr. Wagner:

I am well aware of Council procedure and what the purpose is of a Finance Meeting and I will continue to do what I have been doing.

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Mr. Wagner:

In regards to the boat issue, we do have a responsibility and what is most important is that we have a responsibility and hopefully this legislation is just one of the small ways in which to designate whose responsibility it is. The overall plan must be to purchase boats -- I agree with you that it must be to properly patrol and hopefully we can convince the Coast Guard to move from the part below the Emsworth Dam to the Pittsburgh Port and we can get them more involved and the Fish Commission more involved and others like the County move involved, but first of all I think it's our responsibility and we should continue to solicit the help of other municipalities and other bridges of government until we are absolutely certain that we have the river patrol safeguarded.

MR. GRABOWSKI COMMENTS

Mr. Wagner:

Well, we have a responsibility to our residents and that responsibility is to protect them.

Mr. Pollock:

Just so I leave the table understanding, you are currently looking to buy a boat now? Is that definite, or are you just --

Director Norton:

Yes. Thursday morning we are taking a look at the airboat. We are also looking at where we can find an additional Boston Whaler so that we have two Boston Whalers. We're looking to see if we can find it in stock somewhere without having to wait for it to be built.

Mr. Pollock:

What if you do find it, will you buy a second Boston Whaler?

Director Norton:

We have to come to Council.

Mr. Pollock:

You propose to buy it?

Director Norton:

Yes.

Mr. Pollock:

So, we'll have two Boston Whalers and then a third scow?

Director Norton:

That boat is really a bottom dragging boat. If you have a body in the river, we will probably always use that boat to drag the river. It will be fourth or fifth in line.

Mr. Pollock:

Someone brought up the problem of there not being adequate river fire protection. Is there any way, as long as we are buying a boat, that we make the new Boston Whaler you are buying, make it a Boston Fire boat so it may have fire equipment on it?

Director Norton:

The Boston Whaler we have now has a pump, and I would anticipate that the second boat would also have a pump.

Mr. Pollock:

Okay.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Grabowski presents

No. 494 WHEREAS, on August 6, 1984, the Council of the City of Pittsburgh passed Resolution No. 676 requesting the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Resources to create an adjunct to their mine subsidence insurance program which would give the City of Pittsburgh the option to purchase, at a discount, group insurance for all properties within their jurisdiction that are affected; and,

WHEREAS, to date, the Council of the City of Pittsburgh has only received an acknowledgment of this novel concept but no further report of action from the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Resources; and

WHEREAS, last week the homes of several residents of Bryn Mawr Road in the City's Hill District were seriously damaged by mine subsidence, causing ruin to the properties and suffering to the displaced residents.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby requests that the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Resources seriously reconsider this novel concept of group mine subsidence insurance.

Mr. Grabowski moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Pollock:

Discussion. Steve always comes up with the most educational bills and I always like to know a little bit of history about it since this was before I got here.

What happened? Did they say no to this? Could my colleague, Mr. Grabowski, give us some history of this for those of us who weren't here at the time?

Mr. Grabowski:

Councilman Pollock, back in August of 1984, I made a presentation to City Council and in fact to the citizens of Pittsburgh dealing with the potential danger of mine subsidence insurance throughout the City of Pittsburgh. The fact of the matter is that one third of this City is undermined. It's not a question of if it will subside, but when it will subside.

It was my desire at that time not only to make, well, it was my intent to make people aware of this problem but also I came up with an idea. Realizing how human nature is, many people, even though they may realize that their home is over a mine, they may not think too seriously about purchasing the private insurance that the State offered just by the fact that human nature being what it is. It was my idea that perhaps the State could formulate some type of group mine subsidence insurance to protect all of those homes that are above the mines.

Council passed that resolution unanimously and we forwarded it to the Department of Environmental Resources and the only response that I'm aware of was that the secretary wrote back and said that it's a very novel concept. It may require an act of the General Assembly. We'll keep you posted. That was the last that we heard of that.

Well, now I think that the recent occurrences up in Schenley Heights that it's time to resurrect this concept and let's ask the Department to give it further consideration and possibly come up with some sort of group policy and if they do in fact come up with a policy, when the specifics are known then we can decide if it's something that we as a city would like to participate in. But right now we don't have that option.

Mr. Pollock:

Could we not pursue this maybe with the Insurance Commission in addition to DER?

Mr. Grabowski:

I don't think it's relevant to the Insurance Commissioner in light of the fact that there are virtually no private companies that will insure against this and the mere reason is because mine subsidence is such a foregone conclusion that these insurance companies don't want to lose their investments. Only the State will offer it and the only reason they offer it is because the private sector will not because, as I say, it's just a matter of when. It's a high risk.

Mr. Pollock:

I'd like to thank Mr. Grabowski for not only educating this Council but also the residents of the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I would just like to compliment Councilman Grabowski on his foresight on the issue. This original resolution was a year and a half ago and sure enough that problem has occurred and it appears as if it's going to continue to appear.

Mr. DePasquale:

I just want to say in regards to what Steve was talking about, back in '84 we discussed the matter. I told him then and I'll tell Council now, it's not a secret, that all of the Oakland business area is mined, all of the University of Pittsburgh is mined, including Pitt Stadium. As Steve said, it's not a matter of if it happens, it's just when. It could happen any day.

Mr. Grabowski:

One further comment I'd like to make and perhaps I'm bringing up a sore subject but it was my intent to make as many people in the City aware of this as possible. About a year ago, you may recall the Grabowski newsletter that aroused such controversy. Well, the main feature in that newsletter was about mine subsidence and I understand that one of those residents up in Schenley Heights had the insurance. That's a rumor, I'm trying to substantiate that. But if that individual purchased that insurance because of that newsletter, that money was well spent.

Mr. Pollock:

I understand the other ones didn't because they never got the newsletter and they're very upset about it.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, before we get into the next resolution, I'd like to follow up on last Monday's session when we passed the resolution dealing with the fact that the City is not permitted by State law to pay interest on property tax or income tax refunds.

I indicated that I was going to Harrisburg on Thursday to testify before the House Finance Committee on a bill that would correct the situation and I just want Council to know that I did attend that meeting and the Committee reported that bill out unanimously and possibly this week it will be considered by the full House.

I just wanted to keep you up to date on that.

The Chair presents

No. 495 WHEREAS, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is presently considering the adoption of Senate Bill No. 1211;

AND, one of the basic principles behind the adoption of the Bill is to encourage the construction of refuse burning plants, thereby replacing an efficient and economically sound system of municipal landfills;

AND, the Bill has been referred to the Environmental Resource and Energy Committee, and 3 public hearings have been convened in Harrisburg, Philadelphia, and Wilkes-Barre to discuss the merits of the Bill;

WHILE, the adoption and construction of a single resource recovery incinerator plant is estimated to cost approximately $100 million, the Commonwealth intends to finance these costs by imposing tonage surcharges on landfill waste management which will effectively double local per-ton costs within a 3 year period;

ADDITIONALLY, the Senate Bill intends to transfer complete responsibility of solid waste management from individual municipalities to the County, encouraging a scenario of taxation without representation. The residents of the Pittsburgh area were never consulted or made aware of these hearings so as to state their feelings for or against the bill.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Members of the City Council of the City of Pittsburgh strongly urge the Senate and the Environmental Resource and Energy Committee to schedule a public hearing on the merits of Senate Bill No. 1211 in Pittsburgh to discuss the merits of the proposed Bill.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that all sponsors of Senate Bill No. 1211 receive a copy of this Resolution along with the Speaker of the House and Senate to draw their attention to this Council's opposition to scheduling of public hearings in the Commonwealth without the interest and input of Western Pennsylvania residents.

Mr. DePasquale moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. This is the business that I consult in. As a matter of fact, if you read today's paper you'll see that the Director of EPA is very frustrated, has a chemical lack of funding and the two major issues of the '80's and '90's are going to be toxic waste, hazardous waste control and converting of garbage into kilowatts.

I personally led the battle as President and founder of GASP to shut down the Chamber's landfill incinerator. So, I can see that there are many of us who feel that incineration that is not done properly is a very bad way to go and landfills in 1969 to about now were probably the only way to go.

The problem is not a regional problem, it's a universal problem. Philadelphia, Mr. Pollock, has a problem right now of having to pay $90 a ton to transport their garbage to areas who don't want it. They have a tremendous problem.

Washington, D.C., the Blue Plains Plant, is producing mountains and mountains of refuse that they have no landfills to put it in. It's a national crisis problem. The material that Washington Blue Plains is producing that looks like mountains is beginning to disintegrate and it is again forming hazardous situations both in the fumes it's giving out and the chemicals and it's heating up to the point where we could have fires and they do have fires going for miles.

There are answers by corporations who are dealing in this solid waste to kilowatt through incineration by recycling, creating the energy to burn the garbage so that we don't have to have high energy cost. One of the problems, for example, the Chamber's landfill was old, it was ineffective, it didn't burn cleanly, but there was a major cost in energy, in the cost of the natural gas, that made it not cost effective. The newer modular conversion plants in garbage to kilowatt provide for the actual garbage to provide the energy.

I would hate to see this Council taking a position in opposition to what is needed desperately around the country because we are fortunate in this area of having landfills that are conveniently located and in some cases, some of our communities in the counties can go to a landfill for $5 a ton. What does our landfill cost right now?

The Chair:

$6.80.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay, so that our landfill costs are not very high. But that doesn't mean that in this area we are going to go to --

The Chair:

Michelle, if I can interrupt you for one minute, the resolution simply states that we would like to have a public hearing concerning this bill in Western Pennsylvania, particularly Pittsburgh, because if this bill passes, we're going to double our cost of tipping fee. $6.80, in three years we'll be paying over $12.80.

That's all it says, that we want a public hearing so that we can voice our opinions as individuals or as a Council, whatever. We're just asking for a public hearing in this area. That's all it's stating. Then we can discuss the merits or non-merits of the bill and it says that in this resolution.

Michelle Madoff:

I understand what you're talking about, the assessment on tonnage to pay for the -- I'm looking at your own paragraph 4 where you didn't just address the issue of should we have a hearing so we could have our input but you also are talking about what it would mean.

It would seem to me that in the areas where you're going to burn the garbage, that area should have the assessment, not necessarily in our areas.

I'm not so sure that ultimately we better not start looking ahead for the days that we don't have landfills and the cost of trucking becomes expensive. I've had calls to my office saying that dumping our garbage sometimes or most of the time takes 45 minutes out and 45 minutes back and that's not talking about stopping for whatever one has to stop for, gas, coffee, or the time to dump the garbage. We're talking about 2 hours of transportation time. Maybe the gasoline is not factored in. In our Pirates we're talking about money coming into the community. We're not talking about all the ramifications. Maybe we'd save money by tonnage assessment if we were saving money on the trucks going as far as they have to go or there are other variables that we don't know about.

Again, before I would want to testify on this hearing, I'd like to know why they're proposing it, what's good about it, and then have some input.

I have no problem and I agree we should have a hearing in this area. But if we don't have a hearing in this area, I personally plan to go either Harrisburg, Philadelphia or Wilkes-Barre to testify.

The Chair:

Those three hearings are over. That's why I introduced this resolution. Those three hearings are over. That's what bothers me, that they're ready to take action on this piece of legislation and it would affect us most because we don't have a problem and they're going to double our tonnage and give it to another --

Michelle Madoff:

But we may have a problem in the near future and I need to look at the stats on this community. Maybe they've looked at our stats.

The Chair:

Ms. Madoff, all I'm asking for is a public hearing.

Michelle Madoff:

Michelle Madoff is the name.

Mr. DePasquale:

I don't intend to debate the issue here and I don't intend to dispute with Councilwoman Michelle Madoff; she's entitled to her opinion as well as I am or anyone else. I just want to bring out a couple of factors as to why the hearing should be held and why it's so important.

Number one, it favors the eastern part of the state, deafen of the west.

Number two, the rates at Alcosan, and you know I'm Chairman of the Board down there, haven't been raised in 11 years. An increase in the surcharge means an automatic increase.

The surcharge you're talking about you brought out awhile ago is going from something like $6 to $12. So, $5 or more a ton which automatically will be put on the taxpayers of Allegheny County and the services of Alcosan.

Now, in regards to the problems, and Michelle pointed it out very well, we went from incineration to landfill at Alcosan because of the poisonous gases incineration sent off and also because of the terrible odor. Those of you on Council who were there at the time remember the complaints at Brighton Heights and other people in the North Side and other parts of the City of Pittsburgh. Some of those odors were so terrible that I recall one incident where I was called on a Saturday. A wedding was cancelled and half the people passed out and they were running all over the place screaming and hollering. I could hear the people in the background and I finally said to the priest who called me, I said, "What does it smell like?" and he said, "I don't want to repeat it over the phone."

So, you see what you're going to get into if this bill goes through and we have to go to incineration again in this area. Obviously, the other areas have different problems. In fact, in the state of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia has received from DER in 10 years $500 million because of their faulty operation. Alcosan in comparison, and other plants throughout, have received practically nothing. Alcosan's amount was $2 million. So, from $500 million to $2 million just because they weren't operating properly and when we were told that you're operating properly so therefore we're not going to give you any money.

Now we're talking about passing a bill to give Philadelphia more aid. I think whatever you do there, as someone stated earlier, is throwing good money after bad. There's a hopeless situation out there.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. Chairman. The technology of 1969 is not the technology of 1986. You can burn garbage, you can burn it cleanly, you can burn it inexpensively and you don't get odors. One of the problems with Alcostench, as we used to refer to it, is that it didn't do it properly.

Mr. O'Malley:

In response to Bill 1211, those of us on the Board of Alcosan oppose this bill 100 percent. We're hard pressed to understand why a Senator, Senator Fisher from Western Pennsylvania who is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, would put up a piece of legislation that primarily would benefit Philadelphia at the expense of all the municipalities of Western Pennsylvania. If this one piece of legislation was to pass, we estimate at Alcosan that our bill would increase a half million dollars a year and we're just one municipality; we're not talking about the rest of the townships in Western Pennsylvania.

It's my understanding that the League of Municipalities is coming out very strongly against Senator Fisher's bill.

The Chair:

The City of Pittsburgh refuse disposable would double if this passed.

All in favor? Opposed?

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Mr. Pollock:

One quick one; it's very short. Can we televise the public hearing on the garbage tomorrow because a lot of the people who own stores and who want to know what's going on — It is televised?

The Chair:

Right.

Mr. Pollock:

Thank you.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, before we adjourn, at the last public hearing which was quite noisy and quite out of hand until you took charge, I understand there was a party in here with a gun.

The Chair:

Yes.

Mr. DePasquale:

Now, as one of the policemen told me, and I know he didn't mean it like he said it, he said he had a permit. There's nothing to stop anybody with a permit or without one if they have a gun to start shooting.

I was just wondering, if it's not too expensive, that we should look into the matter of scanning people at hearings when they come through that door because if one person got in with a gun somebody else can. Fortunately, that person didn't use it but what's to stop somebody from acting up and actually pulling a gun out. It happened in Baltimore, it happened in some other city that I can't recall off hand, where a total of four Councilpeople were killed.

The Chair:

We're going to look into it.

And on the motion of Mr. Grabowski

Council adjourned.

Bill No. 521

Report of the Committee on Finance for March 19, 1986 transmitting sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 407

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant in favor of M. DePasquale (Mario DePasquale, President) in the amount of $5,110.00 in payment of Extra Work, being in addition to the original contract price of $349,151.20 on Controller's Contract No. 27078-F, furnished for the benefit of the City in connection with the Reconstruction of the Stadium Street Wall; and providing for the payment thereof."

Which was read.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, in regards to Bill 407, do all the Councilmembers have a copy of the opinion of Solicitor Pellegrini? I'm referring to the section of the Ethics Act pertaining to voting in favor of a relative.

The Chair:

Yes, everybody has it.

Mr. DePasquale:

Okay.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to comment on that, Mr. President. When Mr. DePasquale was on City Council before his return, for eight years he did what he believed to be proper, which was to abstain from voting on any contract that had the name DePasquale or several other names that he is related to.

I don't know how close Mr. DePasquale is with his cousin DePasquale, and it doesn't matter. If I had a very, very close friend and I was voting on something that — Voting is one thing; it's introducing the bill that bothers me, which is more to the point.

My objection at the time you appointed Mr. DePasquale was simply that he did the correct thing. He was very honorable all those years and did not vote on anybody he had any relationship with, that he was related to. Now comes Mr. DePasquale back to Council, gets appointed to one of the most powerful committees which is Construction and Engineering, from which many of us receive political contributions from the people who do business with the City. I say all of us, I'm not just pointing out Mr. DePasquale.

It is not uncommon for pressure to be put on all Councilmembers when there are contracts solicited by the people who want them, and now Mr. DePasquale says, "I just check and it says, the Law Department says that as long as it isn't my brother or my child, I can vote for it." Well, I think he set the rules by precedent in the honorable way he behaved and I would ask that he ask to have that committee changed. I don't want to pound it to death but I think that I'm making a very valid point. He already established the way it should be when he was President of this Council and now he's changing and saying, "Okay, now I can do it." I don't think that's correct.

I would like my comments on this bill to be brought forward.

(BEGINNING - MICHELLE MADOFF'S
COMMENTS ON BILL NO. 407 -
WEDNESDAY, 3/19/86)

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. Is there any relationship between Mario DePasquale and yourself, Mr. DePasquale?

MR. DEPASQUALE COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

So you're not going to vote on it.

MR. WOODS COMMENTS

MR. DEPASQUALE COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

May I respond, Mr. Chairman? Michelle Madoff could be sitting here earning $10,000 a year on the fact that I got a clearance from the Ethics Commission, the Law Department, the Mayor's Office, the Water and Sewer Authority, saying that I could represent Insituform — Insituform, before you got here, Mr. DePasquale, is a company that replaces sewers with a liner. You go through a manhole —

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

And I am giving you a reason why he shouldn't.

MR. DEPASQUALE COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, the issue is not a legal opinion.

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

I've got a legal opinion that I could make $10,000 a year sitting here but it is not morally, ethically correct when the Water Authority hires --

I think the public ought to know what's going on.

MR. POLLOCK COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

That's not the point. I originally suggested when the Chair appointed Mr. DePasquale to this Committee that it was inappropriate because he would be introducing bills from his own family and friends and relatives and it was inappropriate for him to serve as Chairman of that Committee. I just want to reinforce that.

(END OF REMARKS)

The Chair:

Thank you. Now I let Mr. DePasquale comment; I let Ms. Madoff comment on the letter. We will not discuss the letter or ethics any longer. We will discuss Bill 407 or any other bills that we're going to vote on at this time.

Mr. Pollock:

I would like my comments and all the discussion from the Committee Meeting brought forth.

(BEGINNING - MR. POLLOCK'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 483 - WEDNESDAY, 3/19/86)

Mr. Pollock:

This lot has a long history dating back when Councilman Robinson was here.

The lot in question is an entire City block in the Hill District, on Wylie Avenue. The resolution, the developer wants to build a single-family house on an entire City block in the Hill District and it is my opinion and I would hope that it would be this Council's opinion that this is not the highest and best use for this land. The community has had input into the use of this property and the community has spoken through the Hill District Project Area Committee (PAC) and they too feel that this is not the highest and best use for the property and as such they would like to see constructed there some townhouses and this would be in conjunction with the Hill District Development Plan which was a 1983 study commissioned by the Planning Department, the URA and the Hill District PAC, and accordingly it would be my position that we vote this proposal down and send it back to the URA to make other use of the parcel.

MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS

DIRECTOR BROPHY COMMENTS

MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS

Mr. Pollock:

If I might just so that no one thinks that the URA is trying anything sordid here. I think the URA's recommendation was viewing the proposal in and of itself in a vacuum and somehow or other this was just one out of thousands that slipped through the cracks where there was not community input, after this was approved the community was able to provide input and at that point we concluded that even though the proposal before us is not in and of itself bad, but it is not the highest and best use nor does it have the community input, nor does it concur with the Hill District Development Plan. So that it's very important that we put all those things to light. There's nothing in and of itself wrong with this but there is a better use and something that the community feels is better use.

MR. GIVENS COMMENTS

DIRECTOR BROPHY COMMENTS

Mr. Pollock:

And that piece of work is expensive and so of course the developers would wait until they had site control before they were undertaken.

MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS

Mr. Pollock:

That's why there are professionals that do the core sampling and boring.

MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS

Mr. Pollock:

You have to ask Mr. McDermott.

MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS

DIRECTOR BROPHY COMMENTS

Mr. Pollock:

A quick response to Michelle. I think that if we were sitting here and every time that Engineering and Construction put out a contract that they requested there be core sampling and boring and you saw the bill for what that core sampling and boring would be which would probably quadruple or quintuple every time they put down any kind of work. I don't think you would be in favor of that either.

MR. WAGNER COMMENTS

MR. GRABOWSKI COMMENTS

Mr. Pollock:

With all due respect and you are a member of the URA Board so you can view URA's position maybe better than others, but I think the URA's charge is to provide the highest and best use for property that it owns and so that even though this is a good development, I think the URA should look to — and if not the URA by some reason it might have overlooked a higher and better use than if it gets to Council — then Council should find the highest and best use for any property which is in the government and I think maybe Paul could respond to your statement even better than I.

Director Brophy:

I think your point of procedure is very well put. The way the Redevelopment Authority law was set up was to specifically require two approvals on a disposition of a property — one from the Redevelopment Authority Board and secondly from the City Council. I think that provides City Council with the ability to review the Board of the Redevelopment Authority's actions and further, in the event that in any case a procedural error has been made, it gives the ability for room to be taken and there was at least one procedural error made here in that the Project Area Committee was not consulted before the URA Board took action but was rather consulted after. That's quite an exception to our standard practice and as you put it earlier it happened because it looked like it was a pro forma piece of business. So that City Council action does give the ability to take exception to what are otherwise normal transactions done by the Redevelopment Authority Board and I think the State Legislature was wise in allowing for that exception.

Mr. Pollock:

I think Steve's really in a bind in that having served on the URA Board and either voting or whatever position he took.

I think the bottom line is this: Do we want to take an entire City block and turn it into a single-family house? I don't think anyone would go along with that.

(END OF REMARKS)

Mr. Pollock:

Since our Committee Meeting, Mr. Wagner has requested that all of us receive copies of the past public hearing that was held on this matter which was held on October 31, 1985 and also he asked for the Committee transcripts at which this was discussed on both October 2 and October 9, 1985. We have received copies of all of these documents, transcripts, and I would hope that my colleagues had reviewed these and having done so I would also hope that they would now concur that this should be voted down.

Jack's concerns were that we did not have the public hearing record in front of us, which was a valid concern. I was not on Council at the time and I have reviewed this public hearing. All of the witnesses testified against this bill, against this proposed transfer of the URA property to Miss Alberta Simpson. What it boils down to is basically, do we want to support a misguided URA Board recommendation that a piece of property in the Hill District, an entire City block, be transferred to one person to build a single-family house on, when the community has spoken through the Hill District Project Area Committee and has said that they do not want this, when numerous citizens took the time to come down here and testify that they did not want this, when the Hill District Community Development Corporation has another plan for this property which is in conjunction with the overall development plan for the area which would be to put townhouses on this which is a far better use.

And so, for all of these reasons, and the reason why I said we should vote this down, was that there is a higher and better use for this property; not that Miss Simpson's plan in and of itself is bad but that in comparison to another plan there is a better use. So, I would ask that all of us vote this down and that we put forth a unanimous negative vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, I apologize, Mr. President. What I was hoping is that Mr. Pollock would restate his position because I support it completely and since he was the one that called for the opposition who thought it was inappropriate for me to address it.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, I maintain my position that right here before us we have a proposal to take publicly owned property which is currently tax exempt and put it in private ownership; hence, property taxes will be collected on it. I think that we should go forward with this. The URA owns many parcels of property in the 3rd and the 5th Wards of the City of Pittsburgh, and I would suggest that these other uses could just as well be placed on some other parcel. Right now, we have before us, a proposal to put tax exempt property back on the tax rules and I think we should go forward and do just that.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, with due respect to my colleague, I think that would be bad urban planning. It's like being penny-wise and pound-foolish; you know, regretting later what you do in haste today. It is apparent that the Hill area is going to become very, very valuable in time to come; I hope people listening will appreciate that and hold on to their property. To allow an individual to have a City block and not have townhousing, to better provide income for that community and for the whole City, in tax dollars would be, I believe, not in the best interest of the City of Pittsburgh and I support Mr. Pollock and I urge the rest of our colleagues to support him.

Mr. Pollock:

I would just like to respond to what Mr. Grabowski said. His point is very well-taken about putting tax exempt property back on the tax rules or non-taxable property on tax rules. But I think the over-riding concern for this Council should be what does the neighborhood want, what does the community want. The neighborhood and the community are unanimous in their opinion on this. They have spoken repeatedly before this Council and before the URA that this project that is before us should not go forth. I think that that is what is the over-riding opinion that should matter the most.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, due to the debate, I would urge my colleague, Mark Pollock, to recommit because perhaps in the next two or three weeks we can work something out or else get back to where we are today. There is divided opinion on this Council in regards to this legislation. Some feel it's going to help, some feel it won't.

Mr. Pollock:

With all due respect, this matter has been before Council on several occasions and has previously been recommitted. Mr. Robinson brought this forth when it was first before the Committee Meeting back in the Fall of '85. It was recommitted to hold a public hearing, which public hearing was held. We had it before our Committee this past Wednesday and Jack asked for us to have a copy of that transcript from the hearing which was sent to us. I would see no productive reason to hold it any more.

There is another viable plan that is ready and raring to go and I think that for us to waste any more time would be counter-productive to the community. I think we should vote this one down so that the other plan can go forth right away.

Mr. DePasquale:

You're saying there is another plan?

Mr. Pollock:

Ready to go, Jeep.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, in reviewing some of the testimony and some of the discussion at the previous Committee hearings, then Councilman Robinson, his major complaint was that not necessarily this was a good plan or a bad plan but there was no comprehensive plan for the Hill District. Until there was a comprehensive plan for the Hill District, it was not certain as to whether or not this plan or another plan would fit in properly with what is proposed in the Hill District. The major point that was made at the meeting was that until we know pretty much what is going to happen with the DeBartolo property, the Melody Tent Site, we're really not going to know to any significant degree what is best for the properties that surround it.

So, I think the point is well-taken that I don't think it's been resolved one way or the other, exactly what is appropriate for this site and for other sites in the Hill District.

The Chair:

I'd like to make one comment. I think Mr. DePasquale has a good point. We had a public hearing in 1985; the legislation died because we went into new sessions. You re-introduced it, Mr. Pollock, a week and a half ago. I would like to see it recommitted. There may be a chance that there could be a compromise or maybe even a chance for another public hearing. I hadn't seen the new plan either. Maybe these people wouldn't even want it now and I think it's a good idea to recommit this thing.

Mr. O'Malley:

I share the same concerns that Mr. DePasquale and yourself share. Miss Simpson is asking for 8000 square feet which may be excessive. But there again, Mr. Grabowski is the Councilmember that represents this Council on the URA Board. If this was recommitted, there might be a compromise that might be able to be worked out between Miss Simpson and the URA and this Council, whereas she will not acquire 8000 square feet, maybe she'll about 4000 square feet or 3000 square feet. I think it's important then if we have a proposal in front of us that we do something to expedite that and get as many houses built in the Hill District as possible.

The Chair:

I think you're right. I haven't seen the plan that says that they're going to put 10 townhouses on it or 4 or 20. I don't doubt that someone has seen that plan but I haven't. That's why I'm asking that Mr. DePasquale have it recommitted.

Mrs. Masloff:

I remember that hearing very well without reading it. I remember very, very well and I remember the lady saying that unless she got all of that ground she was going to sue us, she was going to go to court. She was very, very adamant and she was not going to change her plans. I can see nothing else changing by having another public hearing because I don't think anything is going to change.

The Chair:

I'm not suggesting another public hearing, I'm suggesting recommitment so that we can look at it. Mr. Pollock said he saw another plan that's going to have townhouses or something on it; I would like to view that also before I vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President and members of Council, until the land is available for anyone's use, no one can come in with another plan whether it's townhouses or anything else. For one person to have a block or to have that kind of space available against the community's wishes I don't think is the right way for this Council to proceed. We are here to serve the people and I would suggest that we make this land available then proceed to have as you suggested a hearing or perhaps a look-see at what other plans are available for that block, perhaps some townhouses, and if the person who wants it can come in and do better, maybe she's going to build 10 townhouses instead of 6, but if she still persists in wanting to have one private house with lots of land around it, I think we would vote it down at that point anyway. Why should we not allow the opportunity for other developers and we are really stymieing any other developers as long as she has the right to that property. So, the thing to do is to vote on it now, get it out of the way, and then see what other plans come in.

The Chair:

That's not my problem, Ms. Madoff. Mr. Pollock made a statement and if I'm wrong, if I heard you wrong, Mark, I apologize, that there is another plan and there's a developer waiting. That's what I said. I would like, before I vote this thing up or down, if you would share that with Council. I'm asking you to recommit that, that's all.

Mr. DePasquale:

One week wouldn't kill anybody.

Mr. Pollock:

With all due respect, I don't think that it is at all relevant. I mean, I said that just as a way in which we could hang our hat on a hook but it's not relevant to whether or not we approve this plan, if in fact there is another plan out there. There is, but I don't even think it's relevant. The question is, do we as a body feel that an entire City block should be given to a person, sold to a person, to put a single-family house on. Do we want an entire City block in the middle of the Hill District to be used for a single-family house? The URA has said no, the Hill District Community Development Council has said no, and everybody at the public hearing has said no. This Council wants to consider it a little bit further and I don't know what you want to consider.

The Chair:

I want to consider, you said there was a developer ready to go and he has a plan. I want to see that plan. I mean, this woman came in here and there were people, I believe, speaking in favor --

Mr. Pollock:

Nobody spoke in favor.

The Chair:

Well she was in favor of it anyway. But I remember the hearing very distinctly; there was only one hearing as I recall. But I would still like to see it. One week, one way or the other, isn't going to hurt us on an issue like this. It's been sitting there for 7 or 8 months already. In fact, it had to be recommitted for it to even come up at last Wednesday's meeting.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I agree that one week isn't going to make any different or two weeks or three weeks. What I don't understand, and I wish you'd explain to me if you don't mind, why do you want to hold it. What bearing would anything else going on that property have to a valuable piece of property with a magnificent view, up in an area that is adjacent to the development that will take place in that area. How could we even consider giving one person a piece of property? I'll tell you what; I'll pay more and give it to me or to any other member of this Council.

I agree with Mr. Pollock. I'm sorry that he mentioned the other plan because it's irrelevant. It has nothing to do with the issue before us. It's been hanging on and hanging on and we ought to make a decision on it. If you want to put it back into Committee, I'll go along with it, but what's the purpose.

The Chair:

Well, evidently someone thought that they should make an issue of it or we wouldn't even have a piece of legislation in front of us. Somebody thought it was a good idea or the proposed sale wouldn't even have been given to the lady. Somebody did that, am I correct? Either URA, the City Treasurer; somebody offered to sell this lady a $2000 piece of property.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, if memory serves me well, the lady located the property, went to URA and offered to buy it. Anybody has the right to do that. That doesn't mean we sell it. We sell it in the best interest of the public and I don't believe the best interest of the public will be served by giving one person a City block for a private residence.

Mr. DePasquale:

I profess to have very little knowledge about this bill. As a colleague said, it went back to sometime in 1985. My curiosity is if Mark, or any other Councilmember, is aware of another plan, then they should have some of the details on the plan. Do they know anything at all about it? Can't you tell us now? Just a sketch? Something off the top of your head what they're going to do?

Mr. Pollock:

That plan is not before us and is not relevant to this vote.

If I could just respond to what the President said that somebody thought this was a good idea, Mr. Paul Brophy, Executive Director of the URA at the October 31, 1985 hearing stated, "A couple of comments, Council, to provide some background on this. First of all, there was a procedural mistake or foul-up that occurred on the disposition of this property." They acknowledge it was a mistake. I think that says it all right there.

The Chair:

Do you want to hold this for a week, Mark?

Mr. Pollock:

I don't want to hold it.

The Chair:

Was there a motion made to hold this?

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. DePasquale made a motion to hold this. It was never seconded. Is there a motion to recommit?

Mr. DePasquale:

So moved.

The Chair:

Is there a second to recommit? For the lack of a second, the motion dies.

Now, on the bill itself, if you are for selling this piece of property, you will vote aye. If you are opposed to selling this piece of property, you will vote no. Call the roll.

Is there any discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Woods
Mr. O'Malley	(Pres't)

AYES 3	NOES 5
--------	--------

VOTING NO:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. Pollock
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Wagner

Mrs. Masloff

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the bill was defeated.

Mr. Grabowski presented

Bill No. 524

Report of the Committee on General Services for March 19, 1986 transmitting one resolution to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 418

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an agreement of lease with Forbes Street Associates of certain space on the third (3rd) floor of the 441 Smithfield Building effective June 1, 1986, for an initial term of five (5) years but with an option to renew said lease for an additional term of five (5) years, at an annual rent of $96,350.04 for the first year of said lease and at subsequent annual rents equal to the rent actually paid for the previous year plus an adjustment increase not to exceed ten percent (10%) of the rent for the prior year, for the purpose of securing space to be used for administrative functions by the Department of Water, subject to and conditioned upon the annual appropriation of sufficient funds for purposes of said agreement of lease."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, two minutes before Council began I was handed a note, a response to a request that I had made from Mr. Jacoby of General Services who is handling the leasing of this property for the Water Department. As everyone may recall, originally the Lands and Buildings, Mr. Evers was handling it and as you recall, a number of phone calls were made to say what space was available. No one went to look at it. We were offered space at $14 a square foot; we were offered a lease of 2 years at $14 a square foot in the Allegheny Building and when we went back to look we found out that we could rent space at considerably less in a number of buildings. I think we had five or six places that were made available to us. I think the new price, if memory serves me well, is $11 or something a square foot.

But what he handed to me just before we went into session is pertinent to this issue. What I had asked for, I asked for your request listed below, by my department are known figures regarding space rentals. In most cases, each department has a specific need for additional space. In other words, we're going to be going out for a lot of space. We're going to have another bill coming up today on the Public Safety Building and as you may recall that I had suggested —

Let me read this first and I'll get back to my suggestion. Parks and Recreation, no outside rentals, but they are requesting more space. Public Works, at present they have no outside rentals but are requesting more space. Law Department, at present, no outside rentals but are requesting more space. Water Authority, at present, no outside rentals but are requesting more space. Bureau of Building Inspections, no outside rentals but are requesting more space. Personnel and CSC, whatever that stands for, Civil Service Commission, have occasion once a year to rent the Convention Center for mass testing which costs $5000 to $6000 per day; rental at Robert Morris College used two to five times a year at $150 to $200 per day; Brashear High School rental at less than $100 per day and I don't think this is really pertinent on the JPTA Program so I'll skip over it; lease building on South Side, JPTA Program, State funded, leased 1985-1986 with one year option for 7568 square feet at a cost of $7252 per month, includes all utilities and maintenance. So, we're talking about a year's lease at $7000 per month? That's a lot of money.

To go on, URA building jointly owned, which I did not know, by URA and the United Way Agency. Did anybody else know that? So we own that building. Bureau of Fire, no outside rentals; Bureau of Police, no outside rentals; Parking Authority, here's the goody, and I believe they're in the building right over here that used to be the Manor Building, a five year lease renewable with escalating clause at $15 per square foot. I don't see any reason why the Parking Authority has to be Downtown so they can walk to lunch and General Services has no outside rentals.

Should you desire additional assistance, please feel free to contact me.

So, what have we learned from this? We've learned that we have a Parking Authority at $15 a square foot and we're going out now at $11 something with a renewable option and I hope we won't renew that option. There's some space available, incidentally, at $10.25, $10.50, if we go into Micky Berger's building which is just on the fringe of the Penn Avenue right near the bus terminal going down near the Warner Building is also available, Warner Cable, which is being re-rented at about $11 something a square foot.

Here are all these entities needing space. Again I told you that there is a building for sale, I don't know if it's been sold yet, on Fifth Avenue right near Chatham Hotel and it is a five-story building that's been re-appraised. The assessment on it is at $217,000. They're asking $4,600,000; I think it could be bought for $3 million. The City might be better off to take a five-story building and put everything in it and buy a $3 million building. I don't know but we ought to look at it. Perhaps we ought to flatten the Safety Building and put a new building, I think Mr. O'Malley has said so previously.

It's obvious that we're going to be voting today because we have to have some facilities now and it is an inadequate building. What we're doing is the band-aid approach, spit and paste and band-aids and we have all these facilities needing space and I'm personally pleased with the job that Mr. Jacoby did on finding the alternative site Downtown. I don't believe that we need to be Downtown but if that's the determination, I'm going to go along with it. The thing I'm pleased about is that we went from $14 to $11 something a square foot and I think the savings are $123,000. I'm hoping that some of the other buildings, the landlords that offered us space at a lot less money than 15 would be considered by the Parking Authority and I hope that this Council will be instrumental in holding some kind of hearing to look at what we can do to save the taxpayers' money so that we don't go out on these outrageous rentals. Even though the State is paying for it the JPTA Program at $7252 per month?

Mr. Pollock:

I would like my comments from the Committee Meeting regarding my brother's former association with the landlord brought forth.

(BEGINNING - MR. POLLOCK'S
REMARKS ON BILL NO. 418 -
WEDNESDAY, 3/19/86)

Mr. Pollock:

I want to state that my brother worked for Oxford Development Company in their Leasing Department for six or seven years. I want to make that known, number one, and, number two, I want to make it known I was not contacted either by my brother or by anybody else at Oxford Development Company, and I think the mere relationship that my brother had with Oxford -- he is no longer with them -- does not warrant, does not represent a conflict of interest, so I will not abstain, but I do want to make it known that this interest did exist, and I have not been contacted by anybody at Oxford.

(END OF REMARKS)

Mr. Wagner:

I would also like my comments on this bill brought forth and I'd also like for us to send a letter to the Water Department requesting that -- I believe on this issue that the Water Department should have prior to this legislation coming to Council, should have reviewed this information with the Water and Sewer Authority. The Water and Sewer Authority is going to have to pay for this lease and if this is rejected by the Water and Sewer Authority then it's going to have to go back through the entire process with Council again. Therefore, I think that the issue should have been brought forth to that body first and then to this body second.

(BEGINNING - MR. WAGNER'S
REMARKS ON BILL NO. 418 -
WEDNESDAY, 3/19/86)

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Smith, who ultimately will pay for this lease?

Daryl Smith
Director
Department of Water:

The Water and Sewer Authority.

Mr. Wagner:

The Water and Sewer Authority.
Has this information been run by the Water and Sewer Authority as a potential location for the Water Department?

Director Smith:

I don't believe so. I couldn't say for sure.

Mr. Wagner:

Any reason why not?

Director Smith:

No, I can't give you any reason why. I think generally at this point in time they are paying for space for the Water Department. I think we presented to them the fact that we were trying to move, and since this is at a lower rate than what we had considered previously I did not see it that we would have problems with the Water and Sewer Authority. It wasn't a conscious effort, but we did not advise them.

Mr. Wagner:

What is the Water and Sewer Authority now paying to the City for the lease of space that it now has?

Director Smith:

I don't know.

Mr. Wagner:

Can someone here answer that?
Can anyone in the room answer that?
Mr. Jacoby?

Mr. Jacoby:

No, I'm sorry, I don't know.

Mr. Wagner:

I think that is an important factor we have to have in front of us. What is the Water and Sewer Authority now paying? The Water and Sewer Authority will pay for this lease. Ultimately it must be approved by Council and it must be approved by the Water and Sewer Authority also. What I would like to know is, what is the Water and Sewer Authority now paying the City?

Mr. Jacoby:

For the property that is leased?
Well, within various City buildings --

Mr. Wagner:

I would like that information sometime in the near future, prior to final vote on the bill.

Mr. Jacoby:

All right.

Mr. Wagner:

This particular lease that is proposed, it is a five-year with another five-year option, correct?

Mr. Jacoby:

That is correct.

Mr. Wagner:

We just received the lease this morning. What is the primary criteria by which we have suggested 441 Smithfield Street as a location, arriving at that decision?

Mr. Jacoby:

Primary criteria?

Mr. Wagner:

Yes.

Mr. Jacoby:

That it is the least expensive, but best useful, most useful space for the department, meaning that it be located conveniently to the City-County Building, that it be very usable space as opposed to broken-up or hard to use space, and, certainly we are looking at cost and other features such as the ability to put an antennae for the radio system on the roof of the building.

Mr. Wagner:

So the first criteria is the least expensive, second is convenience, then third is, I believe you said, versatility, or

Mr. Jacoby:

Usefulness of the space. They are not independent criteria.

Mr. Wagner:

In other words, all three apply. Which is most important?

Mr. Jacoby:

Which is most important?

Mr. Wagner:

Yes. Is it the actual cost or is it the accessibility, or are they equally important?

Mr. Jacoby:

I would say they are equally important.

Mr. Wagner:

Under this lease, and I haven't had time to read it, but I've just been glancing through it, through the entire meeting, it is my understanding that there is an option to increase the rent by ten percent each year as part of the lease?

Mr. Jacoby:

No. I believe that section is misleading. What it is doing is permitting the rent to be increased pro rata throughout the building based on the increase in the cost of operating the building, meaning the maintenance staff, the utilities and taxes and insurance, and that the rent cannot exceed ten percent, or the increase cannot exceed ten percent, even if the cost of operating the building exceeds that, so that is the most they can raise it.

Mr. Wagner:

Okay. In the letter from you to us, President and Members of Council, it states, at an amount not to exceed $96,350 a year for the first year's lease, with subsequent annual rent equal to the rent actually paid for the previous year plus an adjustment increase not to exceed ten percent of the rent for the prior year.

Mr. Jacoby:

Yes.

Mr. Wagner:

Is it conceivable that after the first year our rent could be increased ten percent?

Mr. Jacoby:

It is legally possible; it is not probable.

Mr. Wagner:

Would that percent increase, ten percent increase, apply to — could it conceivable apply to every year in the first five years and every year if we renewed after the five years for an additional five years?

Mr. Jacoby:

Yes, legally it could; probably it will not.

Mr. Wagner:

Have we figured out what those costs would be if that were to occur?

Mr. Jacoby:

I do not have it available. I have looked at it. However, I might say that the same escalation clauses are standard in every other building, so that the same possibility exists with every other building we looked at.

Mr. Wagner:

All right. Now in comparison to the other lease option we have with the

Mr. Jacoby:

Allegheny.

Mr. Wagner:

Allegheny Building.

Mr. Jacoby:

Some clauses are there.

Mr. Wagner:

Was it a ten percent increase?

Mr. Jacoby:

I don't believe there was a maximum. It was an increase based on the cost of operating the building.

Mr. Wagner:

That is where I'm confused. I was under the original impression with meetings or discussions at this table that that figure was frozen for five years.

Mr. Jacoby:

No. It has the same escalation clause in there.

Mr. Wagner:

Do you have it available?

Mr. Jacoby:

I am looking for it right now.

MR. POLLOCK COMMENTS

Mr. Wagner:

I received the lease in my mailbox this morning. I believe every other member got it.

Mr. Jacoby:

I have a lease from the owner of the Allegheny Building outlining the terms of his proposal, and the fourth item was escalation, which says, leasee agrees to pay the lessor on demand, as additional rent, an amount which shall bear the same proportion to the amount of increase in any year in operating cost and taxes over such specific costs for the base calendar year.

THE CHAIR COMMENTS

Mr. Wagner:

Well, the reason I'm bringing up the point is I want to know both as a member of Council and member of the Water and Sewer Authority what ultimately we can pay for this lease. Sometimes up front the dollar value can be misleading, and, consequently, if you carry out the potential cost of the lease over the ten-year period, which Mr. Vaughn has recently done for me, and if the lease were to increase ten percent every year, in the first year, as we know, it would be $96,350, second year it could potentially be $105,000, third year $161,000, fourth year $128,000, fifth year $141,000, sixth year $155,000, eighth year $187,000, ninth year $206,000, tenth year $227,000, and $227,000 is well over a 100 percent increase over a ten-year period.

What I would like from both of you is to know potentially what the lease could increase with the other companies or individuals that have submitted proposals also.

Mr. Jacoby:

The other proposals do not have a cap, therefore, the leases that could be increased are unlimited, but they are based on an increase in taxes and the increase in operating the building.

Mr. Wagner:

That's true, and the cost of taxes could fluctuate, I suspect, slightly depending on the building.

Mr. Jacoby:

That is sort of up to you, too.

Mr. Wagner:

That's true. And operating costs certainly could fluctuate.

Mr. Jacoby:

Yes.

Mr. Wagner:

And to what degree I don't know, because I don't know enough about each of the proposals, but, obviously, there is a far greater cost involved here than what meets the eye, and I would like to know up front, prior to a final vote, exactly what those projections are over a ten-year period of time.

Mr. Jacoby:

I think given this lease you are in a position to know that, and you read off the numbers which I understand you calculated. With any other space without a cap you would not know. You would be exposed to unlimited increases, depending on the cost of operating the building, and taxes and insurance.

Mr. Wagner:

Just let me finish up. I am certain that the three proposed leases are not identical.

Mr. Jacoby:

They are not identical, but they are very similar.

Mr. Wagner:

I would like to know what the differences are and how that relates to the dollar figure, not only in the first year but also along each year up to ten years. My fear is this, and I'm getting to my point, my point is that we lock into a lease in the first year, and before we know it in the fourth year we're up to $160,000 and/or $140,000, and I don't want to see that happen if in fact we can choose another lease.

If we could lock into a figure over a five-year period of time which would be guaranteed cheaper for five years, in comparison to the potential escalation clause each year, I would prefer to do that, and so in order for me to know what I am voting on here I want to see what the potential projected cost can be with those that have submitted proposals to the City.

(END OF REMARKS)

Mr. O'Malley:

Just to bring Michelle an update, some members of Council did meet with the Mayor's staff and members of the Public Safety Department, John Norton, in particular, and Dave Donahoe to discuss the Public Safety Building and my concerns, Michelle's concerns, and Mr. Wagner's concerns. They indicated to us that they were going to go out on a study, a need study for the entire City of Pittsburgh, that should be completed in approximately three months. Once we have that study, then I think this Council can better make a determination of our space needs. Hopefully, I'm in favor of building a separate building just for our Public Safety Department, Police, Fire and EMS, and that will free up a number of floors over in the Public Safety Building for our other needs, the Water Department or Civil Service Commission, whatever my need it. But hopefully, that study should be done in approximately three months.

The Chair:

I know that's a very important issue, Michelle and Jim, but let's stick as close as we can to this particular issue we're on.

Michelle Madoff:

I would just like permission to ask my colleague a question.

Mr. O'Malley, do you think the information just supplied by Mr. Jacoby is pertinent to what you met on the other day?

The Chair:

That's what I'm saying. Let's not discuss that; it's another issue. I agree, it's very important but that's an issue for another time, not this piece of legislation.

Mr. DePasquale:

I also want my comments brought forward from the last meeting.

(BEGINNING - MR. DEPASQUALE'S
REMARKS ON BILL 418 - WEDNESDAY,
3/19/86)

Mr. DePasquale:

Discussion. in regard to this bill, I understand that there were some bids that were less than three years and had better facilities to offer than the one at Smithfield Street. I believe my colleague, Michelle Madoff, has facts and figures to back me up on that.

I'm sure that the Buncher Building down on Penn Avenue, which is in the greater Golden Triangle area -- their price is lower and they have much better facilities and as I said, my colleague has some other facts and figures to back me up.

I also failed to realize that the facilities of the Water Department in the Public Safety Building will be occupied by the Public Safety Department and I don't want to hold that up but at the same time if we're talking about a five-year rental and a five-year option which is quite a few years obviously, I think we ought to look a little more closely at this and certainly I think we ought to have all of those figures out on the floor here and we should compare them with the one that they accepted and I think we should get some answers as to why they decided to go to the Smithfield Street. I don't buy the argument that it's closeness in traffic. It would take you almost as long to get down to Smithfield Street than it would take you to go to the Buncher Building on Penn Avenue and I'm pretty sure that a couple of other buildings may be as close or is available as the Smithfield Street Building.

Mr. Chairman, I respect the opinions of Mr. Jacoby and Mr. Smith, yet I would like to call for a hold action here for two weeks to look at these sites that have never been seen before and the ones that had offered proposals such as the Warner Building or whatever. I think that we could do that in a matter of a week and if we hold this for two weeks, by then the Committee could go back with their opinion. After all, Council is going to have to vote on this and Council should have a say as to exactly what's going on down there and there's no way we can know other than what we are being told and I think if we see it firsthand, we can make an opinion for ourselves as to which is the best site to approve.

I don't want to debate with Mr. Jacoby but he claims that there are better facilities down there and it's more securable. Am I wrong when I say that the Buncher Building, the rental property would be located on the first floor as opposed to the third floor on Smithfield Street?

Mr. Jacoby:

The space is available on both the first and second floors in the Buncher Building. As I understand it there are some 70,000 square feet available.

Mr. DePasquale:

And wouldn't you say that's less of a fire hazard than Smithfield Street?

Mr. Jacoby:

No. I think that the Smithfield Street Building meets all of the fire codes and it has a sprinkler system.

Mr. DePasquale:

I'm saying as opposed to the third floor or the first floor and you conceivable tell me that's less of a fire hazard?

Mr. Jacoby:

Obviously if you are on the first floor, it's different than being on the third floor but in my opinion the Smithfield Street Building is a safe building. It meets the codes and it is all newly remodeled space.

(END OF REMARKS)

Michelle Madoff:

I want my comments from the other meeting brought forward also.

(BEGINNING - MICHELLE MADOFF'S
REMARKS ON BILL NO. 418 -
WEDNESDAY, 3/19/86)

Michelle Madoff:

I would just like to reiterate the history of this fiasco and for which a number of my colleagues including the Chairman were blamed and had absolutely nothing to do with.

The Water Department requested space to relocate in a rental outside of the City building for additional space. Mr. Evers of Lands and Buildings came to this Council and wanted to go into the Allegheny Building at $14.00 a square foot. When Mr. Evers was questioned as to the $14.00 a square foot and when I asked him whether it was conceivable that he could go into another building because some of the buildings that are vacant Downtown are giving a year's free rent in order to get people into the building, I have been offered for a business a year's free rent on a long-term contract, and I said, "How did you find out about these properties?" and he informed me that he made a telephone call. So I had asked him if he had ever seen these properties and he said no and I subsequently asked him to go look at the property. For some obscure reason that I do not fully understand, that job was taken away from him or the information was taken away and turned over to Mr. Jacoby which may be the proper avenue because he would be signing the contract but if Mr. Evers of Lands and Buildings has a great and extensive experience with real estate, which I question whether Mr. Jacoby has, his recommendations should be valid.

My understanding, and I would like to have it confirmed, is that Mr. Smith's objections is that he didn't want to walk that far, that it was too far for citizens to come down and that transportation was a problem and it's all poppycock.

Just to give you some figures and perhaps you could substantiate them for me, Mr. Jacoby. You have some buildings here. The Warner Building which you didn't even bother to list, the one down in the Strip District which is a ten-minute stroll --

MR. POLLOCK COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

May I just point out, Mr. Pollock, that when you've been here eight years and you've been subjected to this kind of hanky-panky, you won't be as tolerant, but I will endeavor to accommodate you. I would like to get the facts on the table. I asked for these to be submitted to me today. They should have been there long before today and the Warner Building is not even on here.

MR. POLLOCK COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

It's very difficult, Mr. Pollock, when you have a Water Department head, when you ask him to report on the water leaks and he doesn't call you.

The question would be -- I'd like Mr. Jacoby to answer the question. What was the least expensive building that you looked at?

Director Jacoby:

The least expensive building?

Michelle Madoff:

And best quality for the money.

Director Jacoby:

The Smithfield Street Building.

Michelle Madoff:

The one that you're recommending.

Director Jacoby:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Why would you object to the Warner Building? Wait a minute. How much is the price of the Smithfield Building?

Director Jacoby:

The 441 Smithfield Street Building has a base rent for the first five years of $11.75 per square foot, and $13.25 per square foot for the second five years.

Michelle Madoff:

Are there any escalation clauses on that?

Director Jacoby:

Yes, there are and I'll tell you.

Michelle Madoff:

Are they the same?

Director Jacoby:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

The escalation clause on the Buncher Building is also the same?

Director Jacoby:

The escalation clause is uniformed throughout and it includes the cost of operating the building, utilities in the building and the taxes on it.

Michelle Madoff:

And they're identical?

Director Jacoby:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Which is cheaper, $11.75 or $11.50?

Director Jacoby:

It depends on how you view the operating costs of the building. You asked me which is cheaper and the best for the money and I told you 441 Smithfield Street Building. The building in the Strip District is $11.50 per square foot and 25 cents per square foot cheaper. However, it is already spaced and it is now set up and the offer that they made to me was that the space would be taken as is. The carpets have been in there for several years now, the building is farther away from this building and in my opinion, this 441 Smithfield Street Building is a better bargain for the City than the Buncher Building in the Strip District. It's not that Mr. Buncher's building is not a very good building; it is, but it is simply very close to the same cost and not as conveniently located as the other one. Furthermore, the space available to us in 441 Smithfield Building is entirely encloseable, meaning that it does not have fire escapes coming into it, it does not have elevators opening into it — it is entirely securable whereas the space in the Buncher Building is not as easily securable.

Michelle Madoff:

I have no problem but I just want to have it justified. Now the problem I have Mr. Pollock is that I had to fight and thank God some of my colleagues supported me to delay the $14.00 which would have been railroaded through here to go to the Allegheny Building. Now if the Allegheny Building was $10.00 then we would consider it but it is $14.00 and I want to point out to my colleague a little bit of my hostility.

One of the problems that was presented to me, and actually almost got Mr. O'Malley and I in a jam was that they would be willing to go to two years -- do you remember that on the bid -- that we would have a two-year lease with an option and Mr. O'Malley at that time for the record said to go with it. He was not pushing any particular company but it sounded like a good deal and it was not in his best interest. As it turns out that once the Water Department moves in its microfiche, its electronic equipment, its telephones to any building it can't go because you're locked into that facility so that what has happened because of -- perhaps you might call it my adversary role, we did not go into the Allegheny Building at $14.00 a square foot and we're now going to go into another building at --

Director Jacoby:

At $11.75.

Michelle Madoff:

And you feel that that is a better building because it is closer and the space is more secure.

Director Jacoby:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Is it true that you looked at both places you saw?

Director Jacoby:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

And you would consider using the other space for other entities because you're going to be looking for other rental spaces I understand.

Director Jacoby:

You mean the Strip District space?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes.

Director Jacoby:

I think it has great possibilities for us.

Michelle Madoff:

Because I understand that your quote was, "this is the best place I've seen so far" when you saw it.

Director Jacoby:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

So that because we don't go in there with the Water Department doesn't mean that we would not go in with other entities as we need to expand and move out departments.

Director Jacoby:

Absolutely not.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to thank you personally for going out and looking at the other buildings and considering them and you and I had some dialogue about the $14.00 building and our concerns about the building in general and I want to thank you for that.

There are some questions that I don't quite understand that were presented to me and perhaps you can help me with it. What is a 5-A Executive Package? Is that available in this building?

Director Jacoby:

In which building?

Michelle Madoff:

In the building that you're going into. I understand that the Buncher Building does have it.

Director Jacoby:

There are two Buncher Buildings. The one is where Warner Cable used to be and there is another one called Liberty-Commons which is out at 28th Street. The executive conference rooms? I'm not familiar with what you are saying. I know there are meeting rooms available in the Buncher property.

Michelle Madoff:

Are those the concerns that we ought to be looking at?

Director Jacoby:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you know what they mean?

Director Jacoby:

He's talking about parking spaces.

Michelle Madoff:

Could you tell me how that would provide parking for people going to the building that you pick. Is that not a major factor?

Director Jacoby:

The parking spaces available in the building that Mr. Buncher owns in the Strip District would have been reserved spaces for the staff. By keeping the staff Downtown, we do not need the security and additional parking for them.

Michelle Madoff:

Where would they park?

Director Jacoby:

They would park where they are assigned now.

Michelle Madoff:

You mean they wouldn't have to be assigned parking, they could park there?

Director Jacoby:

Pardon me? If they were parking out at the Buncher Building, there are approximately five spaces available. Having them Downtown we already have the spaces available.

Michelle Madoff:

No you don't have them. We're taking them away from somebody else, people that could use them to give them to these department heads or these people that run the department. They would have free spaces and it would be a part of the release. Those five spaces have a monetary value, don't they? Where are the spaces presently?

Director Jacoby:

The Director parks in the parking lot at the Public Safety Building and his staff parks on First Avenue.

Michelle Madoff:

What are those spaces worth to us?

Director Jacoby:

We don't put a dollar value on them.

Michelle Madoff:

But there is a dollar value; there is a monetary value attached to those spaces including my space on the street.

Director Jacoby:

Certainly.

Michelle Madoff:

So that what we'd be getting is a monetary value for that building and the fact that there would be five spaces; is that a factor? How do you rationalize that?

Director Jacoby:

I don't count it as a factor at all. I don't find it as an applicable factor merely because if you were to have the staff come Downtown, either the Director would walk or he would need a space.

Michelle Madoff:

Walking is healthy. He is a nice, healthy young man and wants to keep his figure in shape and he'd love to walk those 15 minutes at a leisurely pace.

Director Jacoby:

I don't view the parking space as a critical situation.

Michelle Madoff:

Where do the people park when they come Downtown? Mr. Smith complained that people come in all the time and they need to pay their bills.

Director Jacoby:

The primary focus for having the building Downtown because of customers' needing and taxpayers needing to get service, is that in many cases it's necessary for a taxpayer to go both to the Finance Department and to the Water Department to resolve your water billing problem.

Michelle Madoff:

How many times a year since that's my committee and I deal with it all the time? And you have to document it because I can document it.

Director Smith:

Do they have to go to the Water Department? I'd say we get maybe in the neighborhood of 1000 to 2000 walk-in customers.

Michelle Madoff:

In the Water Department.

So now we want to make it convenient for builders to be able to be Downtown.

I really don't have a great deal of a problem. The thing that I'm concerned about is that we didn't go with $14.00 in a building just because somebody made some phone calls and we're now going to a building as you recommended at $11.75?

Director Jacoby:

Yes. And the fact of the matter is, no two buildings are identical. And it simply becomes a matter of which one you believe is the best building for the best price.

Michelle Madoff:

I don't have a problem with your choice. What kind of money are we saving between $11.75 and the $14.00 over the ten-year --

Director Jacoby:

I believe it comes out to $123,000 over ten years.

Michelle Madoff:

Can I get a part of that for a vacation? I'll move for approval.

MR. DEPASQUALE COMMENTS

Michelle Madoff:

May I respond with your permission? I understand where Mr. DePasquale is coming from and we had exactly the same concerns Mr. DePasquale, but if Mr. Jacoby has gone out and reviewed the properties and feels that the building is more secure, I'm not going to put the City in a position of outguessing Mr. Jacoby and as he said, there is going to be a lot of departments that we're going to need space for and he thinks that that particular site is an excellent one and it will be used for other facilities. I think it would be not productive to belabor the point.

(END OF REMARKS)

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Pollock
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Wagner
Mrs. Masloff	Mr. Woods

AYES 8

NOES none

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the bill passed finally.

Mr. DePasquale presented

Bill No. 525

Report of the Committee on Engineering and Construction for March 19, 1986 transmitting sundry resolutions to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 237

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for a Contract or Contracts or use of existing Contracts for Renovations to a portion of the third floor, Public Safety Building, Police Administration Offices; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof."

Which was read.

Mr. Wagner:

In regard to Bill No. 237 and the meeting that we had last week, I would just like to suggest that the Police offices in the Public Safety Building are in deplorable condition, to the point where sometimes you wonder how they function in that building, especially in comparison to many other City offices. There is a need to revamp that building, several floors of that building, so that we can give them suitable headquarters.

In order for people to do a professional job which I believe they do do a professional job, however, they do need their surroundings to be professional. The Communications area in the Public Safety Building and also the various areas where the Detectives branch are located, are simply not suitable and that is the reason for the need for this legislation.

I would like my comments brought forward on Bill 237.

(MR. WAGNER'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 237 - WEDNESDAY, 3/19/86)

Mr. Wagner:

Members of Council that attended the meeting yesterday, Mr. McDermott and many members of the Administration clarified to us what their proposal is for the renovations of the Public Safety Building for the Public Safety Department and any other department which may be a part of it. I know they satisfied my concerns and a suggestion has been made by Mr. Donahoe to relocate some of the offices in the building so that the public is not as accessible throughout the building which I think is an excellent idea and for that reason I support the legislation.

(END OF REMARKS)

Also,

Bill No. 377

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 158, effective February 28, 1985, entitled: 'Providing for a Contract or Contracts, or use of existing Contracts, for the Rehabilitation of the Public Safety Building Cooling Tower; and providing for the payment of the costs thereof,' by increasing the total project allocation by $45,000.00."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

On Bills 237 and 377, while I realize that the Public Safety Building has got to function in the interim, nevertheless, I think it's time that we started to say no, stop the band-aid approach and let's get on with doing the right thing. I'm delighted there's a study underway but I'm going to put my protest in so it's on the record that we better start doing something about making space available and not going out and renting it at exorbitant prices and not giving the Police the very best building they could possibly have.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

Hunt Company (Daniel V. Blank, P.E., General Manager) for Professional Engineering Services in connection with the Steel Inspection for the Bloomfield Bridge, Phase III; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof,' by increasing the total project allocation by $65,000.00."

Which was read.

Also,

Bill No. 410

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution amending Resolution No. 900, effective October 3, 1985, entitled: 'Providing for an Agreement or Agreements with a Consultant or Consultants for Professional Engineering Services in connection with Phase I of the City of Pittsburgh's Program for updating the City Survey Control System; and

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with a Consultant or Consultants for Architectural/Engineering Services in connection with the Rehabilitation of Roofs of Various Buildings; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof."

Which was read.

Mr. Wagner:

I would like to strongly suggest to my colleagues that Bill No. 411, that my comments be brought forward on that

also.

(MR. WAGNER'S REMARKS ON BILL
NO. 411 - WEDNESDAY, 3/19/86)

Mr. Wagner:

Discussion. Members of Council, I don't know if all of you have a copy of the legislation showing the six locations where we are going to do roof replacement, but this legislation as it pertains to those locations was in front of Council last year and at that time I motioned to table the legislation and Council supported me on it. I firmly believe that we do not need consultants to tell us what type of work needs to be done, to put a new roof on a building. As a matter of fact, those that quote on these jobs, meaning the roofing companies themselves, clearly define what the needs are for that roof, meaning the number and sheets of built-up roof, insulation, sheeting, metal work, etc., that's necessary to correct it. We are duplicating the efforts of the roofing companies themselves that are bidding on the project. I do not believe that we need to spend this money. In addition, I understand we have two full-time roofers that are employed by the City of Pittsburgh and I am sure they are very competent and are knowledgeable about what needs to be done when a new roof is put on a building. Generally all it involves is tearing off the old roof and putting on a new roof with very little and in most times no structural work to be done.

In addition to the two full-time roofers, I firmly believe that if we need someone with engineering expertise to do that work, all we would have to do is send someone from our Engineering Department to a seminar to bring them up to date on the modern technology involved in roofing. So therefore, I cannot support this legislation and I have not supported it in the past in regard to consulting contracts for new roofs. These are not new structural roofs. They are simply re-roofing a building just as you would re-roof your home in terms of putting new shingles on, new flashing and other types of work so therefore, I can't support the legislation.

(END OF REMARKS)

Mr. Wagner:

We do not need consultant contracts to tell us how to put a new roof on a building. I know I've talked about this every time this legislation comes up in Council. We should have someone on staff and I believe we do have two people on staff, two roofers that work for the City that are very competent people and the roofing contractors themselves actually provide this service free of charge.

So, I personally don't think we need to go out and spend good money to tell us how to take an old roof off and put a new one on. I would strongly suggest that we not vote in favor of Bill No. 411.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, correct me if I'm wrong, if it is not for the roofers it is for the handling of the bids, the preparation of the bids. Now, I don't know why we don't have anybody in-house that does it anyway so I'm inclined to agree with my colleague.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff:

I have two items I would like to bring to the attention of Council.

The first item is one I think of terribly, absolutely, unbelievable significance. On a Sunday I got a call from No. 3 Police Station about a water leak that was taking place across from the Chatham Hotel, in that general area of Fifth Avenue. I tried to call the emergency number of the Water Department. For 20 minutes or so there was no answer, for about a half hour it was ringing busy.

Because there had been no answer for a period of time and then they didn't answer after that, I thought perhaps the line was out of order. So, I called the Telephone Company and said could you please verify the emergency number for the Water Department. They came back and told me they could not do that. The reason they could not verify the line is that the line has a mandatory no interrupt, the premise being that if there's an emergency going on you don't want to interrupt with another emergency. It would seem logical to me if there's an emergency you would not take an interruption, you'd say not now, please call back. More important than that is the fact that the line can't be verified. If that line were out of order and you can't verify it, somebody could be calling about the kind of leak we had at Hays area and the Lincoln Place area where there was havoc created. Fortunately, we don't have to pay that bill, West Penn Water is going to pay it. But we're talking about hundreds of thousands of dollars. There was no way to get through.

When we have a leak in the City such as the one that put the five hospitals out of commission, that leak or that waterline break creates havoc not only at the major break but the pressure of the water exacerbates other potential leaks that are just starting and may not have shown up for another year or two and those leaks occur and sometimes they are half a mile, certainly blocks from each other.

I would agree that if a line is busy you can't call in. Perhaps there needs to be two lines, you say hold the line a moment, please. But more importantly, we have to be able to verify if that line is out of order.

I brought that to the attention of the Water and Sewer Authority, that's Mr. Richard Cosentino, and I don't know if that's being taken care of. I have no communication with Mr. Smith simply because he doesn't return calls, not only to me but to the media. He just doesn't return calls; it's against his religion. I cannot get to work with him under any circumstances. As you know, he sat here in Council and when I asked him why he didn't fill the position that this Council put in for an engineer who would have particular expertise in water pressure, he told me that if I would write out the description he'll hire him. He doesn't need anybody, he doesn't know what the person is needed for. When I asked what Mr. Jim McNamara was doing, what his credentials were, he said he didn't know. I asked him if he was an engineer and he said he didn't know. That's a matter of record; he did it on camera.

We are having some very significant water problems. Presently there are studies being done, borings being done to see if the subsidence, mine subsidence, were impacted at all by Herron Hill Reservoir water leaks, if there were any water leaks in addition to the fact that we had a waterline break. As you know, they've stopped the demolition of that area and we're awaiting some kind of response. I understand that Mr. McDermott has been assigned to do the overview for that situation. We've been trying to get him on the line. The Mayor was meeting today with Mr. Smith and Mr. McDermott and we're waiting for the State and the Feds to come back with their testing and we should have a report to this Council.

I am very concerned with how the Water Department is run. I'm going to do an investigation of that department from the ground up, every single department, because I'm tired of having everybody call me at home that works in the Water Department to tell me their own little personal problem with the Water Department. I know that there have been people who believe that it's just people being put upon to work and produce a day's work that are complaining. I don't believe that is the situation at all. I believe the morale in that department is disheartening, that we are not doing the kind of job that we should be doing and I'm really distressed, Mr. Wagner, as a member of the Water and Sewer Authority if you would take a message back that I just left for Mr. Roddey with his secretary. I really believe that the Water and Sewer Department is a beard, a beard meaning if you're married and you're having a date with another man and you bring another woman along to say that's who he's really going out with, that's the beard. The Water and Sewer Authority are a beard. All they are is a leasing authority in the sense that they borrow money. They borrowed the money, they put it in a bank for two years to get arbitrage, which is legal but will not be legal anymore; under the new federal laws it will be six months. But for two years they draw interest, they do very little work except some studies. Then they can say to people they're going to lower the senior citizen rates which I'm all for, but use that money so we don't have to use the taxpayers' money. But they have had really no responsibility to the rate payers for the functioning of a proper, efficient, Water and Sewer Department. That's done by Public Works, Department of Engineering and Construction, and by the Water Department so that those people can retain their bennies, so they can be on our staff and have their benefits and so it should be, providing the job is done.

I repeat, there's an old Irish proverb, or a Jewish proverb, that when a fish stinks it stinks from the head. I am absolutely incensed at the way our Water Department is functioning. The Water and Sewer Authority had better pick up its responsibility and they do have the authority if the Department of Water is not running properly to take over that department and see that they clean up their act.

As I said, I'm going to be monitoring that. I'm going to spend the rest of this year going through every inch of that department. I'll report back on the Water Department.

On another item. Some time ago, not too long ago, I was not present, I was a little late for Council and a gentleman, I use the term loosely, Mr. Ferlo was carried out of this room. As I said before, Mr. Ferlo wants on this Council so badly that his tactic is to be carried out of it as often as possible so that he could get elected. That doesn't bother me but what does bother me is the infringement on the First Amendment. I do not believe that Brother Richard gave the satisfactory response of turning off the sound.

This Council, and any thing that happens in this Council, people have a right to know. Taxpayers elect us, they should know what actions we take. It is unconscionable to me that the sound was turned off. It would have been worse if the action had not been filmed but I think we are really not coming across in a good light when we encourage that kind of thing and I would like to have someone second a motion from me that a letter go to Brother Richard that we never have that kind of thing happen again. I make that in the form of a motion and I hope one of my colleagues would second it.

Mr. Pollock seconded the motion.

Mr. O'Malley:

What was that motion?

Michelle Madoff:

The motion is that when anything happens in this Council that is on camera that we do not cut off the sound or vice-versa.

The Chair:

It was on camera. The only thing that wasn't on camera was Mr. Ferlo's antics or anyone else that was there, their antics were not on camera. It was on that table where all members were sitting and that's why the voices were cut off. And I completely agree with Brother Emenecker. I don't agree with what the editorial writers say; I agree that we cover the people that are speaking and that's what this Council is all about and that's what these cameras are for, for the people that are speaking and doing Council business.

Michelle Madoff:

May I respond?

The Chair:

No you may not because there's a couple other speakers ahead of you.

Michelle Madoff:

When you're through I'd like to respond to you.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mr. Emenecker operates on orderly meetings. The camera is on the person that was recognized by the Chair. That is the purpose of the proceedings so that the meeting, Council regularly organized meetings will be televised, not anybody that's acting up in the audience. Mr. Emenecker tries very hard to record the meeting and just the meeting and the camera is on the person that is recognized. That's the purpose of televising the meetings, not what's going on in the audience and people being carried out and screaming and carrying on.

Mr. O'Malley:

I also support Brother Emenecker's position. If James Ferlo's antics were recorded, I feel all that would do is encourage other people to come to Council sessions and disrupt them. The public hearings that we hold are, one, for the benefit of Councilmembers but they're also, two, they're for the benefit of the public. They let the public come in front of this Council, they let the public speak their minds to give us different viewpoints, and they have some input on the decisions that this Council make.

The people that come to speak in front of this Council I am sure do not want the James Ferlos of the world disrupting their testimony in front of this Council no more than this Council wants that testimony interrupted.

The public hearings are for the people; they're not for grandstanding tactics by people like Mr. Ferlo. If we would encourage, if we would permit Brother Emenecker to film these type of antics, all that would do would be to encourage Jim Ferlo and other people to do the same stunts on a constant basis. So, I agree with Brother Emenecker on this point.

Mr. Wagner:

In regard to both issues, the second issue first, the Council public hearing. I don't think the issue is an individual that was here and was ruled out of order and taken from the Chambers. I think the issue really is what and where should things be said in this Council. The microphones are set up at that table and at the podium. What went on that day did not take place at the podium or at that table, both what was said and the actions that went along with it, and I believe Brother Richard has every right to set standards for his employees that work here to televise certain areas of Council, both for audio and for visual and that's what he did that day.

We all know in advance whenever we have a presentation that we want to put on here like we did last week on the Pirate issue where we have some type of visual that we have to let Cable Communications know in advance where those cameras have to be directed, where the microphones have to be. We cannot expect them to be able to televise all areas of this Council and to also record all areas of this Council.

That's exactly what took place that day. That individual was not recognized by the Chair, that individual was not at the podium; therefore, there was no need, according to their procedures, to record that information and I fully agree with it.

The second issue, in regard to the Water and Sewer Authority, being a member of that, I believe that the Water and Sewer Authority has done a good job. Certainly we're not perfect and we don't do everything right but we are trying to make a new authority run in the proper fashion. Any recommendations can be brought up at the Water and Sewer Authority meetings. I'm sure that the Board of Directors will look into them.

In regard to the Water Department, my colleague is the Chair of that Department and they are your responsibilities, moreso than any member of this Council.

Michelle Madoff:

That's what I said earlier.

The Chair:

Wait a minute, we're off the Water issue. Now we're on the Cable issue.

Mr. DePasquale:

In regard to the Cable issue, I just want to echo the sentiments of Councilman O'Malley and I would add an old proverb, "Monkey see, monkey do".

Mr. Pollock:

I would just like to say that I thought a great deal about this matter. There were editorials and there were newspaper articles about it. I think it's a very, very close call. I don't think it's a black and white issue and I think that Brother Richard acted totally in good faith. I don't think that he was acting malignantly at all.

I do feel, however, that the bottom line is that it's a balancing test and that while admitting that it's a close call, I must disagree with Brother Richard's actions in this case. I balanced the test and feel the weight goes toward leaving the camera and the microphone sound on for one basic reason, and that is, whether for better or worse, I do not feel that any party who is unable to come Downtown should be deprived of anything that happens once the public hearing starts simply because he or she is unable to come to the public hearing. The actions that take place away from the microphones, whether for better or for worse, are obviously available for listening and observing by everybody who is here; so in turn should everybody who is unable to get here because of health or work or physical inability, they should not be deprived of that.

So, it's a close call and I have to side with leaving it on for that reason.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Pollock said it very eloquently but let me just summarize two issues. Number one, the cameras were on. If we're going to follow the logic that was stated by everybody here defending Brother Richard, and I happen to think Brother Richard does a phenomenal job; one mistake doesn't make him a bad guy. But I think it was a bad mistake because, if everybody's statement here was correct, then you shouldn't have had the camera on. If he had the camera on he should have had the sound on. That was discretionary, it was discriminatory, and it was wrong. That's my opinion; you're entitled to your opinions.

The Chair:

I want to correct you on one thing if I can. The camera was not on that individual or that incident. The cameras were not on that. The cameras were on the table.

Michelle Madoff:

But he was on camera being carried out of here.

The Chair:

Not on these TV cameras, on Channel 2 or Channel 11 or Channel 4, on their TV cameras, and these reporters reported it. I'm sorry that the Press and the Post Gazette did not have their photographers to take pictures. Maybe that's what the editorial writers wanted; they wanted to see it on TV, on this Channel 17, if they didn't get a chance to watch the 6:00 or 11:00 news, they wanted to watch it at 7:00. I say shame on them. It was not on Channel 17. The table was shown on Channel 17. We, all of us conducting public business was shown on Channel 17.

Michelle Madoff:

May I continue?

The Chair:

Yes. I'm sorry for interrupting you.

Michelle Madoff:

I thank you for correcting me, Mr. President. I must tell you that I don't choose to live through this meeting twice. I don't watch it on Cable. I must tell you that I was not aware that it was not on our cable and I think that's a gross injustice. I think that the media is absolutely entitled to represent this Council because the media is the guardian of the public's right to know.

I think as I said before, Mr. Pollock said it far more eloquently than I can, I think his law training has put him light years ahead of me, that people who were here saw what was happening and the people at home should have the same opportunity and the same right and he should not be discriminatory in what he shows. Once the meeting starts, everything should be shown.

I want to take it a step further. One of the positions that my colleagues other than myself have taken, I think Mr. Wagner is a supporter, I'm not quite sure, I know that Mr. O'Malley is and other members, that we should show everything on Council. I don't mean a little zoning hearing with nobody objecting that takes up time, but almost every public hearing and particularly post agendas when they are significant and not the ravings and rantings of one person who could go ahead and get the information somewhere else, but a post agenda where most of us wish to attend because it's of significant importance should be on camera because, folks, if you're listening, you're not getting what's happening here. The only time we find out what's going on is if you're watching the Monday meeting we're allowed to speak and if a hearing is on camera, cable. Otherwise, you really don't know what's going on here because that's where the action takes place. I think that's unfortunate.

I would like to see more of our public hearings televised. There are times when I'm not here and people say, "Madoff isn't at the meeting, shame on her". So be it, let the cards fall where they may. Sometimes I think another meeting is more important that I have to be at. And if I'm not here, I'm going to have to take my licks for that. But I believe that all substantive hearings and all post agendas should be on camera. I've said that many times and I would hope my colleagues support me.

Mr. Pollock:

One other thing I wanted to add as to why I do support Michelle's motion for a letter, in addition to my feelings that those at home should not be deprived of anything that does occur once the hearing starts, I think also there is the desire to avoid even the appearance of any type of avoidance of anything that goes on or the hiding of anything. I think that we have to be very, very careful about the way in which these types of matters are conducted in our friends who are in the societies that are more totalitarian than our, where cameras are turned off and sound turned down when something occurs that they do not want the public to know.

Again, I am not stating at all that this was Brother Richard's intent nor, if he were to continue to do this would that be his intent in the future. But I take it from the standpoint that we have to avoid even the appearance of that type of activity and if I'm sitting at home and a public hearing starts and all of a sudden the sight and/or the sound is gone, I have to wonder what are they hiding from me. Being a civil libertarian, being concerned about avoiding the appearance of this type of totalitarian action, I have to side on the issue of leaving it on no matter how inconvenient or how undesirable it may be, and Jeep's comments is very well taken that we might be leaving ourselves open to other people coming in and doing this type of activity. But, again, I think that's the lesser of two evils.

The Chair:

Okay. Discussion is over. Roll call vote as to whether to send Brother Emenecker a letter asking him —

Michelle Madoff:

No sensorship.

The Chair:

No, that's not what you asked. Anyway, roll call vote on Michelle Madoff's letter to Brother Emenecker to keep the cameras on for the disturbance, try to focus the cameras on the disturbance and keep the sound up.

Mr. DePasquale:

I want to be sure of the motion because sensorship was brought up by Ms. Madoff. Let her word her own motion so I know what I'm voting on. I don't want the newspapers or the news media saying that I'm for sensorship. I don't want to get in to that.

The Chair:

That's what I said, that's not what we're voting on. We're voting on a motion to send Brother Emenecker a letter --

Mr. Pollock:

Point of order. Let her draft her own motion so we all know exactly voting on.

The Chair:

Say it right now, Ms. Madoff.

Michelle Madoff:

A letter to go to Brother Richard urging him to keep the camera and the sound on all activities of importance going on during a hearing once the hearing has started so there would be no impression of sensorship.

The Chair:

I would ask that no one vote on this issue at all for the simple reason that Ms. Madoff is using the terminology sensorship and it's going to embarrass every one of you. These people who are sitting here are going to write down that Council votes on sensorship.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you want me to take the word out?

The Chair:

That's exactly what I want you to do.

Mr. O'Malley:

I move to have the motion or resolution in written form before we vote on it.

The Chair:

There's already a motion on the floor. Ms. Madoff made a motion and Mr. Pollock seconded it.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm doing an editorial comment when I said sensorship. I would be happy to take it out. I think everybody understands that a letter would go to Brother Richard from this Council urging him, once a meeting has started, to cover any disturbances, anything that the commercial televisions or media would be subject to so those people at home would have the opportunity to know what has happened the same as the people in the room, as stated by Mr. Pollock.

Mr. O'Malley:

I have a question on the letter. In other words, what you're asking, Michelle, is that if this Council is conducting a public hearing, and even if there is a speaker at the podium discussing his point of view, that if people like Mr. Ferlo were in the back jumping up and down and trying to intentionally disrupt a public hearing, trying to intentionally disrupt a speaker at the podium, that the camera should focus off of public business and focus onto the antics of the individual that is intentionally trying to disrupt a public hearing. Is that what your letter is stating?

Michelle Madoff:

First of all, the camera would not be on the person if there is a disturbance because the person would no longer be speaking. So, that's a contradiction in terms.

Mr. O'Malley:

No it's not.

Michelle Madoff:

The camera would focus on what was going on of significance in the room, the same as the commercial televisions do to keep the public informed. Why are we afraid of keeping the public informed? What's going on here, this nitpicking on my words? What are you afraid of?

When Michelle Madoff was erroneously charged with disrupting a meeting because we had some foreign dignitaries here and the former President of Council did not want me to explain the three-pronged monster and gavelled me out of order and I had to take an ad to say that we have a copy of that tape. I was filmed, I was reported. I'm willing to stand up for what I say and what I believe and if I'm wrong, I'm wrong; let the public judge me. We are not going to judge what happens in this room; let the public judge. And they can't judge if they don't know what's happening.

Mr. O'Malley:

I just wanted to understand that that was the intent of the letter, that if we're in a public speaker and if there's a speaker or one of us is speaking and somebody is doing some clown antics and jumping up in the room like a little child to get some attention, that we would expect Brother Emenecker to focus the camera on the clown.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Michelle Madoff Mr. Pollock

AYES 2 NOES 6

VOTING NO:

Mr. DePasquale Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Grabowski Mr. Wagner
Mrs. Masloff Mr. Woods
 (Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, when I was President of Council, I would close by saying, Motions, Resolutions and Suggestions. This is more or less in the form of a suggestion.

All of us over the weekend obviously read the Press and the Post Gazette in regards to the Mayor's Task Force's comments on the five developments that they had in front of them and I believe they resoundly said that they favor the Riverside Project or are leaning that way, anyway.

My only concern is that due to the fact that the Task Force is leaning that way, I would urge my colleague, the Chairman of the Planning and Development Department, Mr. Pollock, to talk to the Mayor and urge the Mayor to make Riverside a priority. I believe two of our members serve on that task force, Michelle Madoff and Jack Wagner, and according to the comments in the paper, they also leaned that way although they are only two votes on that task force.

Michelle Madoff:

May I respond? We were asked on the task force not to go public with any of the information. However, since that material belongs to the individual corporations and everybody is pushing for their own project, Art Ziegler who is a very good friend of mine, History and Landmarks, is pushing for Station Square and saying mine is the only one, we don't need anything else. Armstrong Clark is pushing for their project, the North Side people of the of the City is pushing for the North Side to develop it to save the Pirates and there are a lot of us who believe before you came back to Council, Mr. DePasquale, I think this Council, including Mr. Stone, are taking a very strong position in support of the festival, the Riverside Festival Center.

My own personal gut before I went on the task force is that that is probably the most single most important thing that we should be addressing. If we have $21 million to go out on a bond for the Pirates, we have $26 million to create jobs in this community. The security on the Pirates is the franchise, if it's sold we get our money back. In the case of any of the developments, be it Station Square or the North Shore or whether it's the Festival Center, the security of the people that are coming in saying, "Right now, I'll put my money where my mouth is" and we'll put in projects which gives us the tax base to justify going out on a bond.

The Committee is made up of very heavy hitters, people who really understand the business. I believe that they will come up with recommendations that will be very positive. Personally, I'd like to see us go out on all of them because the only hope of Western Pennsylvania turning around and having jobs is to really do all three projects at once. I do want you to know that I agree that that is a very important project.

Mr. Wagner:

May I make one comment, Mr. President? In reference to my colleague's comment about the task force and the article that appeared in the paper, the task force has not yet made any type of opinion as to what project is moving along or should be considered first over the others. The reasoning behind it is that all information is not yet in for all projects. Hopefully, that conclusion will be made probably within a three or four month period of time.

I think everyone knows where I stand and the fact that I'm on the task force and the fact that I have campaigned for the Convention Center site project for about a year and a half, since Councilman Grabowski and I put a resolution in front of Council, and probably have literally thousands of hours in lobbying for it. However, I think the Mayor made the intelligent decision by putting together a task force and hopefully that task force will properly represent all the people of the City and will make a decision as to which project benefits the City the most. I don't think the Mayor will make a decision and I don't want to speak for him at this point in time. I think he's simply waiting to see what the final decision is from the task force and hopefully that will be forthcoming and hopefully that will be the decision which all of us will move forward with and hopefully it will be the right decision.

Mr. Grabowski moved to excuse Mr. Givens for absence from the meeting.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Grabowski

Council adjourned.

Mr. O'Malley presented

No. 549 Resolution Repealing

Resolutions, approved on various dates, for sale of properties in various Wards of the City of Pittsburgh, in accordance with Act No. 514 of 1947, as amended.

Also,

No. 550 Resolution providing for the filing of a petition for the sale of property acquired at a tax sale in accordance with Act No. 171 of 1984, effective December 11, 1984.

Also,

No. 551 Resolution providing for the filing of a petition or petitions for sale of properties acquired at tax sales in accordance with Act No. 514 of 1947, as amended.

Also,

No. 552 Resolution Repealing Res. No. 959, Item M, approved October 1, 1981, which authorized the sale of property in the 19th Ward, being a vacant lot, located on Southern Avenue, designated as Block 4-K, Lot 231, to Robert J. Luttig and Nicoletta L. Luttig, his wife, for the sum of $450.00. The reason for the above Repealing Resolution is that the Title Search revealed that the City of Pittsburgh does not have a marketable Title for this property, as it was taken incorrectly.

Also,

No. 553 Resolution amending Res. No. 36, Item L, approved February 4, 1986, which authorized the sale of property in the 21st Ward, being a vacant lot at 1323 Adams Street, to James Glascoe & Evelyn A. Glascoe, his wife, for the sum of $600.00. The reason for the above Amendment is to make the following corrections: The Block No. should be 22-F, not 23-F; the correct lot size is 22 X 128.75 - not 22 X 129; the former owner's name was Pearl Kirk. All of these corrections are to be made on both the Proposal and the Resolution.

Also,

No. 554 Resolution amending Res. No. 36, Item J, approved February 4, 1986, which authorized the sale of property in the 19th Ward, being vacant land, located on Coast Avenue and Cagwin Street, designated as Block 35-J, Lots 96-98, 157, to John R. Kilkeary and Mary G. Kilkeary, his wife, for the sum of $975.00. The reason for the above Amendment is that it was discovered that there is a sanitary sewer line built on the Coast Avenue properties. This renders the properties unusable, and the purchaser no longer is interested in them. However, he is willing to continue the sale with the remaining property on Cagwin Street.

Also,

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. O'Malley presents

No. 576 WHEREAS, as in previous years the Reagan Administration budget proposals continues to assault federal housing and community development programs; and

WHEREAS, in addition to last year's Community Development Block Grant funds reduction of 15%, the Reagan Administration proposes to defer another $500 million dollars of FY (Fiscal Year) 1986 appropriated funds, which if not disapproved by Congress would mean an overall reduction in excess of 30 percent from the FY 1985 levels; and

WHEREAS, because of this proposed deferral, the Mayor's Capital Budget Committee has cut our project funding an additional 15%, bringing the expected amount of 1986 CDBG Funds to 13.9 million, a loss of 2.5 million dollars; and

WHEREAS, the CDBG Program works in an innovative and effective way to create jobs, stimulate home ownership, and improve the standard of living in our communities; and

WHEREAS, on April 15, 1986, Congress will vote on HR 4380, which is a supplemental appropriations bill containing an amendment to disapprove the $500 million CDBG deferral and would restore our funding level to 16.4 million dollars.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh strongly opposes the Reagan Administration's deferrals, rescissions and budget cuts for housing and community development and hereby urges the United States Congress to support HR 4380, which would disapprove the deferral of 500 million dollars in CD funds and preserve effective community development programs in our nation's cities.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I'd just like to make a comment and have an inquiry from Council to the Planning Department.

About a month ago an article appeared in the paper and I just got around to bringing it up in front of Council. It's about expansion of the Convention Center to the southerly side of the Convention Center where the PNB Office Building is located and also where the Trailway Bus Building is located.

The Planning Department has made a proposal to build a hotel in place of the PNB Building which houses several hundred or possibly one thousand workers in that building. Where this plan came from, I don't know; it's the first time I ever heard about it. But I would like to see a letter sent to the Director of City Planning and would like to know if PNB and all the workers that are in that building had made a commitment to relocate to some other location in the City prior to this suggestion. I certainly don't think that we should be proposing the relocation of buildings unless there's been a commitment to keep those jobs in Pittsburgh and my fear is that that has not yet been done. So, I would like to know formally in a letter if it has been done.

The Chair:

You want that letter sent from you, Mr. Wagner?

Mr. Wagner:

Yes, please.

The Chair:

Okay.

Mr. DePasquale moved to excuse Mr. Givens and Michelle Madoff for absence from the meeting.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. DePasquale

Council adjourned.

PRESENTATIONS

The Chair:

We have some people waiting here today so we're going to deviate from our regular order of business.

Mrs. Masloff presents

No. 610 WHEREAS, on Saturday evening, April 12, 1986, the 1935 graduating class of Taylor Allderdice High School will hold a special "50th-plus-1" reunion to help celebrate Pittsburgh's number one rating as the most livable city in the nation; and

BECAUSE Mr. Taylor Allderdice was one of the original appointees to the Pittsburgh Board of Education when it was formed in 1911, serving as Vice President for eleven years, and was subsequently honored in 1927 with the naming of this school after him; and,

SINCE Taylor Allderdice High School has maintained a reputation as being one of the highest achieving scholastic schools in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania while graduating more than 50,000 students since the first class graduated in 1930 and as recently as 1982, was cited by the Ford Foundation as one of the nation's outstanding public schools; and,

WHEREAS, Allderdice also boasts an outstanding athletic program with a full range of interscholastic competition for the boys and girls of the Squirrel Hill, Greenfield, Lincoln Place, Lemington, Regent Square, Swisshelm Park, Point Breeze and East Hills communities of our City.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby congratulates the 1935 graduates of Taylor Allderdice High School for upholding the tradition of leadership, excellence and responsible citizenship so indicative of this public school;

AND, BE IT FUTHER RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council wishes the class of 1935 joy in their reunion and continued success in all of their endeavors.

Mrs. Masloff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd like to have Bob Coll come up, please. This is an honor for me; I wanted to be the one to honor Mr. Coll because I had the opportunity to work with him for the past six year as Chairman of Public Safety.

Mr. O'Malley presents

No. 611 WHEREAS, Superintendent Robert Coll has given twenty-six years of dedicated service to the City of Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, as a member of the Vice Detective Squad, he received numerous awards for superior police work; and

WHEREAS, Superintendent Robert Coll has led the Pittsburgh Police force with courage, determination and distinction for the past eleven years; and

WHEREAS, under his command; the Pittsburgh Police have successfully lowered the rate of crime in the City, making our neighborhoods safer for all citizens; and

WHEREAS, Superintendent Coll dramatically increased the faith of the citizens of Pittsburgh in their police officers; and

WHEREAS, Superintendent Coll has provided top-flight protection for the City of Pittsburgh in the face of severe competition for public dollars; and

WHEREAS, the fruits of Superintendent Robert Coll's work are certainly one of the reasons Pittsburgh was named the Most Livable City in the Nation.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Mayor and the City Council of the City of Pittsburgh do hereby thank Superintendent Robert Coll for his tireless service to the City of Pittsburgh and wish him well in his future endeavors.

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. O'Malley:

I'd like to say that Bob's professionalism is outstanding. In the six years that I've worked with him, the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh are much better off with Bob Coll having been the Superintendent of Police.

I personally would like to wish Bob and his family all the best and if there's anything I can do to help you from this time on, I'm certainly available.

Michelle Madoff:

I do want to apologize, Bob, you did tickle my foot. I had surgery so I want everybody to know that I am not treating this room in an undignified manner but, in order to be here, my foot must be elevated. And there's nobody to after to arrest because I did it myself.

I do want to say that I have had many, many dealings with Mr. Coll in the eight years I've been here. He's one of the finest employees we've ever had. I personally am going to miss him tremendously. I think it's unfortunate that he's leaving us but I think he's going on to, I believe, bigger and better things for himself. It's his decision.

The thing that I do want to point out is that the opportunities available to Mr. Norton, who I respect enormously and voted for, were never available to Mr. Coll. Mr. Coll couldn't do studies. Mr. Coll offered the service that we as Councilmembers offer and that is of scapegoating. He had to go along. If you're going to be an employee of the Administration, you're loyal. Mr. Coll would come here and whatever the Administration said about the number of Police, he just shifted people around.

I don't ever want any taint of our going after, and I believe we honestly need more police officers, to ever reflect on Mr. Coll because I think he did a job above and beyond the call of duty and I personally thank him.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Coll, I'd like to say publicly what I said to you privately on Friday when I found out that you were leaving and you had made a public notice that you were, that I have thoroughly enjoyed working with you, meaning prior to having the Chairmanship of Public Safety and after the Chairmanship. I know we've spent days out in the field going around to precincts, meeting different officers and you have certainly helped to educate me in the area of police work.

I don't think the public realizes how difficult that job is, to run a police department, well, previously a police department, now a police bureau. It's probably the most controversial of all departments in the City. We all know that since you've been the Chief, past Director and Chief, that there have been no major scandals of any type in the Police Department under your direction and that in itself says something. I think the public is well aware that organized crime does not have any footholds in this City and I think that all directly relates to your leadership and your ability over the years and many of the other things that you've done to the City. You've done Block Watch to the City back in '75; I think that's commendable. I think in general you've done an excellent job and I appreciate it personally and I'm sure the citizens do also.

The Chair:

Bob, there's not much I can add but my five years on Council you've really helped me and I think the City is losing by you leaving.

Michelle Madoff:

May I say one last thing? Promise that you won't leave the City, that we can call on you if we need you.

Superintendent Coll:

I certainly won't leave the City. I'm a resident of the City, I hope to remain a resident of the City. I love the Police Force and I wish nothing but the best for the City and the Police Force and I hope they succeed in everything they're trying to do to make a better service to the public.

I know over the years we all grow in our jobs. Periodically you get tired as being Chief so long but, as I mentioned before, probably you are a better Chief when you leave than when you first took over because you certainly should learn from your mistakes and I have learned from my mistakes. I know I have had disagreements with Councilpersons from time to time but I hope — Reasonable men can disagree. I certainly have never held animosity towards any Councilperson.

I appreciate your remarks; I appreciate the remarks Councilman Wagner made in the papers. Leaving is difficult, it's painful, and these kind remarks and this gesture makes it less painful and I hope to be around whenever you may, by some chance, need an opinion from Bob Coll. I'll be here.

The Chair:

Thank you very much, Bob.

Mr. Pollock:

Would Mary Lou and anyone who wants to come with you, the whole staff or people from the neighborhoods want to come up?

It gives me great pleasure to read this resolution which I am presenting to you now, Mary Lou.

Mr. Pollock and Mr. Wagner present

No. 612 WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh is known as the City of Neighborhoods; and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh has earned this distinction not simply because of the variety of neighborhoods it has, but because of the neighborhood spirit and community pride that is uniquely its own; and

WHEREAS, NeighborFair is a Celebration of Pittsburgh's Neighborhoods; and

WHEREAS, NeighborFair has grown to be the City's foremost event promoting Pittsburgh's livability; and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh is the premier marketplace for the home and garden industry in our region; and

WHEREAS, this year The Home and Garden Show celebrated its fifth anniversary in our city and was the largest and most successful such event in North America;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the City Council of the City of Pittsburgh recognizes and congratulates Mary Lou Daniel, Coordinator of Neighborhoods for Living Center and NeighborFair and John DeSantis, Executive Director of the Home and Garden Show and their staffs for the tremendous effort they put forth in making these two events the great successes they were.

Mr. Pollock moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Pollock:

Before Mary Lou comes up, I'd like to say by way of personal comment that I have been to each and every of the five NeighborFairs and have enjoyed them more each year. I think the number of communities that have participated have grown each year as well; I think there were 46 this year.

People have said to me, "Do you really go to NeighborFair, do you enjoy it?" I would like to say that I do go and what I enjoy about it most is that each community that puts together its own booth, has ten days or two weeks out of the year that they can really hold their heads proud and show what their community has done, to what it's grown, what they're offering the people of the City of Pittsburgh and people moving into the region where to live, and it's just a place where the whole City of Pittsburgh can bask in the glory of being the most livable city.

I'd like to recognize for those that can't see by the cameras that there are significant numbers of the neighborhood residents here. They didn't want to come up but I can see that West End-Elliot is here, Mexican War Streets, Knoxville. So, they're proud of what's happening; I didn't even know that they knew about this presentation today but you should all be proud as well, all the communities that put so much time and voluntary work into this.

So, it gives me great pride to present this to you and also to John DeSantis. And at the risk of alienating about 77 other neighborhoods, I have my Bloomfield painters cap which I bought that day which I'm also going to give to you.

Mr. Wagner:

I would just like to echo what my colleague had to say that that really was the most fantastic NeighborFair and Home and Garden Show that I have ever seen. I was so impressed that I went three times and I could have gone three more times.

I congratulate Mary Lou, John, your staffs, all the people, all the neighborhoods that were involved and it truly was reflective of what Pittsburgh's all about.

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to tell a story about Mary Lou Daniels. Mary Lou Daniels was directly responsible for my being on City Council. You may want to take the award back now. I had just give 9000 bumper stickers that said GASP Michelle Madoff for City Council to Pa Pit.

Mary Lou Daniels had called me and we had talked about the fact that it was an off-year election because of the new Home Rule Charter and she had applied to the appointed nine who were appointed to select a candidate in an off-year election under the Home Rule Charter to run for City Council. She called these representatives and everyone told her, "You are the most eminently qualified candidate for City Council but you have only one problem" and she said, "What is that problem?" They said, "You're female."

So, Mary Lou Daniels did not run that year but I got angry and I ran. I got 14,000 signatures to get on the ballot. But Mary Lou Daniels ran in a subsequent year and did not win and was removed from her job doing an outstanding job and very much the same kind of work she's doing now, absolutely an outstanding employee, because they said she violated the Hatch Act where other people who ran were not removed from their jobs.

I think this is a very fitting time and at least someone is recognizing the kind of work that Mary Lou has done for this City. I thought it was important to give a little history, Mary Lou. I am just really thrilled that someone is honoring you.

Ms. Daniels:

I don't want to allow this to sound like I was the only one that did it so I would like to take a few minutes to recognize the folks that are here, particularly the NeighborFair Advisory Committee who helped us plan this year's NeighborFair. Some of them are here and if you're here, please stand. Ed Ackerman from West End-Elliott; Felix Cocco from Bloomfield; Valerie Dreger from Perry Hilltop; Joyce Kozera from Lawrenceville and the Urban Redevelopment Authority; Beatrice Mahaffey from the Hill District; Pat Stewart from Brighton Heights; Dolly Campbell from Point Breeze and the Mayor's Service Center; Tom Coppola from Knoxville; Colette Hucko from Mount Washington and Mellon Bank; Marge Lubawy from Brookline; Bob Murphy from Shadyside and the Department of General Services; and Randy Zotter from the Mexican War Streets.

I'd also like to recognize the people on the NeighborFair team that are my staff and the staff from the Mayor's Office and Mellon Bank that helped plan this every year and that's Donna Chapman Chernoff from the Neighborhoods for Living Center; Beth Marcello from the Neighborhoods for Living Center; Mina Gerall from the Mayor's Office; Mary Zubrow from Mellon Bank; and Sally Mizerak from Action Housing; and Betsy Fitzpatrick who was a summer intern, a part-time intern in our office for NeighborFair.

Those people really helped make NeighborFair and the representatives of 46 neighborhoods that took part as well as 18 City departments and 5 or 6 non-profit agencies including the Board of Education, Neighborhood Housing Services, and a number of others that I can't list.

Just a little background, NeighborFair now has three children. Cincinnati, Ohio just held their first NeighborFair, Roanoke, Virginia held their first NeighborFair in September, and Cleveland, Ohio held their second NeighborFair. All three were patterned after the Pittsburgh show. All those folks came in here to Pittsburgh to learn about the show and went back and imitated it.

We have more than 2000 volunteers during the 10 days of the show; they volunteer more than 1400 hours. This does not count the time in the neighborhoods that they take before the show opens; this is only the 10 days of the show. The value of time donated is close to $75,000. Incurring services donated by major corporations in the City to the show is over $200,000. We raised private cash donations over $40,000. The neighborhoods themselves raised over $46,000 for their part of the show.

I can't take the credit for that. The folks sitting back there and the neighborhood representatives from the 46 neighborhoods from this City have to take the credit for that. That's why it's the best show in the City, that's why everybody is so proud of it.

Thank you very, very much for honoring us.

Michelle Madoff:

I have a problem with that one. Mr. Donahoe is one of my favorite people in the world so I have no objection to his being on the Leasing Authority. As you know, I was appointed to the Leasing Authority; in eight years it's the first time I've been appointed to any commission or authority. I'm probably the only Councilmember in the history of Pittsburgh that was never appointed to anything until this appointment and my appointment runs out at the end of this year, so it's a real long appointment.

But I understand that we must be sworn in. I have not been sworn in. I've been sworn at but I wonder what is happening with this appointment. How can he be appointed, for what term? Do we vote on it?

The Chair:

No. This is just received and filed. The Mayor has proposed to do all appointments. He's just notifying us.

Michelle Madoff:

This is not one that we vote on.

The Chair:

Right.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm going to abstain on 496 because I do not know, as I've stated previously, if there is any reason why the Chairman might, as he has for 8 or 12 years, abstain from voting, whether this is one that would come under that category.

Bill No. 500

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution providing for a Contract or Contracts, or use of existing Contracts, for the Rehabilitation at the Pittsburgh Zoo, including the North American Paddocks; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof."

Which was read.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, on Bill 500, as you know, for years I voted no on anything for the Zoo because we had talked about having a fee for service charge for non-City residents. Last year it was promised that by this year we would have a fee for service structure in place for the City taxpayers who were picking up the deficits by virtue of debt service for the Zoo, the Aviary and the Conservatory. The debt service, so people have some idea, is something like $4000 for three years, that we shouldn't be paying.

I have not seen the amendment, the change made. If there's a will to do it, we can do it. There is a fee when you go to the Wave Pools in the suburbs. There is a system of people coming from the suburbs to use our tennis courts; they have fake identification cards. It would be relatively simple to have non-City residents pay a slightly higher fee than City residents.

On the basis of that, as a protest, I must vote no on Bill 500, and may I please have a letter to Louise Brown go out asking what the status is on the bill.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Wagner presents

No. 613 WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh now has fueling stations for all city vehicles, including public safety emergency vehicles located at 29th Street in the Strip District. This one fueling station is not geographically in a desirable location for emergency vehicles; and

WHEREAS, excessive time is lost with emergency vehicles having to travel excessive distance to refuel. In addition, other factors such as wear and tear on the vehicles, the use of gasoline to get from various points throughout the city to the present fueling location and the fact that many of our personnel aren't within their respective districts during the time that it takes to refuel these vehicles; and

WHEREAS, in addition, the public safety vehicles are out of their respective districts, therefore creating a void in the availability of service within that particular district; and

WHEREAS, it is estimated that the average time that each vehicle is out of service within that district is approximately 30 minutes.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Members of Pittsburgh City Council do hereby recommend that a minimum of five (5) fueling stations be established throughout the City of Pittsburgh in a desirable, geographical location so that emergency vehicles will remain available to serve the public.

Mr. Wagner moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I'd like to take a moment to point something out.

We have here a map of the City of Pittsburgh and, as everyone can see, we have one fueling location throughout the City. It's at 29th Street in the Strip District. This fueling location is utilized by all City vehicles, not only emergency vehicles, Police, Fire, EMS, but Refuse, Public Works, Parks, Administration, etc.

All vehicles throughout the City operating are here on a daily basis. There are a couple of exceptions; I believe those exceptions are fire trucks and I believe in some instances, refuse trucks.

This map also indicates the nine Police districts throughout the City. The resolution in front of us pertains to specifically emergency vehicles, meaning all Police cars, vans, motorcycles, EMS vans and cars, and jeeps that they utilize, and squad cars and fire trucks. As you can see, at several locations in the City it's very difficult while these vehicles are in service to get refueled without reducing the emergency service in that particular district. At some extreme ends of the City such as Lincoln Place, the distance is approximately 7.5 miles from point to point. The time that it takes for an emergency vehicle to go from here to here and back can be as long as an hour depending on traffic. There are not emergency vehicles replacing these vehicles when they're out of commission.

In addition to the average distance, the average distance is approximately three miles from any point. Other areas are also quite far, Homewood-Brushton, Brighton Heights, Overbrook, Esplan. Depending on the time of day and the traffic, it can even be very difficult to get from West End to 29th Street and back and be back in service in their respective district. Now, it's not to say that the emergency vehicles are out of service. They are not out of service but they are, to a great degree, out of service in their respective district if they are assigned to No. 8 and they're in the Strip District, if they're assigned to No. 5 and they're in the Strip District. This can cause a problem in response of emergency vehicles through the 911 system.

What this resolution is suggesting is that we provide at least five locations geographically suitable throughout the City of Pittsburgh specifically for emergency vehicles. We have at least at any time during the day 100 emergency vehicles that need fueled. Those emergency vehicles need fueled at least twice a day. The Police cars are running 24 hours a day, many times more than that. The emergency vans also need fueled twice a day; they are constantly in operation.

Therefore, what this resolution is suggesting is that if we provide at least five fueling locations, one on the North Side, one somewhere in the West End, one in the South Hills, one in the East End, and one possibly in the Morningside area, we would have fueling locations in desirable geographical spots throughout the City that would reduce the response time of police cars, fire squad vehicles, and also EMS vehicles. In addition to reducing response time, what it could also do is actually reduce the amount of gasoline that is needed. Obviously to get from Brighton Heights to the Strip District, it takes gasoline to get from this point to this point and back again. So, we may be able to reduce the consumption of gasoline by placing a fueling location somewhere in the Northside.

Other possible benefits are the reduction in wear and tear on the vehicle that has to travel this distance that is involved in traffic. It can I think certainly have an impact in that area and in general, I think there can be a financial savings.

But the number one reason why I would like to see Council support this resolution is that the response time of the emergency vehicles is so important and we must keep those emergency in their respective districts. We constantly hear about us not having enough people in terms of police officers, fire fighters, and EMS people. Well, we can actually improve the numbers of people in their respective districts, probably by one-twentieth, if we were to put fueling locations in the right spots around the City.

So, I would strongly suggest that we make a suggestion to the Administration that they support this idea and that we move forward with these fueling locations.

Thank you.

The Chair:

Jack, I have one question and I know a couple of my colleagues do. You're not suggesting building fueling stations because there are existing gas stations and stuff like that where we could have a credit system, where we could have our vehicles refueled in a particular neighborhood, such as we do with the car wash system with some of our vehicles. That's what you're suggesting?

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Woods, you're right on target. What I'm suggesting is that we go out to contract at 24 hour stations that are open and find four or five throughout the City where we can purchase gas at a competitive price and utilize those particular stations for emergency vehicles only.

The Chair:

That's good because then we won't have any employees to hire or anything.

Mr. Wagner:

That's right.

Mr. DePasquale:

Obviously I support the resolution but I just want to state as you did, I know in the past, Jack, that City vehicles were allowed to go to private gas stations when they ran low on fuel. Don't emergency vehicles have that same prerogative today? I realize it costs more than fueling at the City station. But if they're, say, down to a gallon or two of gas and they're going somewhere in a hurry, they're certainly allowed to go into a private station. They used to have Gulf credit cards.

Mr. Wagner:

I think there is some stipulation. What it is specifically, I don't know, but I think they can be reimbursed if they do become low, if they're out on an emergency call, and they find out that the amount of fuel in the vehicle is low and they obviously need the vehicle to respond to the next call.

However, you bring up an excellent point, when you're low on gas it can be any time during the day. It can be a time when a police vehicle is in it's greatest demand, it can be a time when traffic is at it's highest point, and you must then venture to the Strip District. You're leaving your district and you're leaving it for a considerable period of time because, obviously, you have to have fuel to be functional.

Michelle Madoff:

I think this is an excellent proposal, Mr. Wagner, particularly in light of the fact that it's just come to my attention from a number of Police Officers that in the evening some of our stations, some of our busiest and largest stations, have only got four vehicles in operation, some two, sometimes only one, because they are not out on the streets, sometimes the vehicle itself is in for service.

I would wonder whether you would consider expanding your legislation to include two items. We would be buying in bulk, obviously, from these 24 hour stations. We should get a special rate, a competitive bid. They'd be happy to get the business and be very happy to even go below the price, and today's energy costs are considerably lower than they have been. But also, I think we should offer some mechanical support during emergency times because the garages don't do it. We do not have sufficient mechanics in our City garage.

So, I would like to see you expand the bill to include that aspect that if a Police car breaks down at night, if a Paramedic vehicle is out of operation because it's happened to me personally, that you could also go in and get, maybe a flat tire or a blowout patched or something, something perhaps not of a tremendous magnitude where you would need to replace the whole chassis, but to do routine emergency maintenance as well as the fuel.

I think your idea is very, very well taken. It would be cost effective, it would give us better use of vehicles, and I would urge you to follow through as you have been on expediting the study coming to Mr. Norton on what kind of police force we're going to need because when we read in the papers that compared to the rest of the nation we're doing so much better, it's like better than what? Lower prices than ever. Lower than what? Maybe we have 10 less rapes but there's still people getting raped and there's still people getting run over and so on. Would you consider that?

Mr. Wagner:

Yes, I would consider it. As a matter of fact, it is my understanding that for two or three cents more a gallon you can actually receive the basic services of a gasoline station, such as tire repair, windshield being cleaned, radiator service, battery checked, etc.

The problem is in the City, many of the fueling stations open 24 hours a day are not prepared to offer that service. Some are and some are not. So, yes, if it could be obtained through a contract, I certainly think that's an excellent idea and also I should add to my colleagues, I've discussed this with the various management people and union people and the Public Safety Department, and they support it.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

The Chair:

Mr. Wagner, do you have another item.

Mr. Wagner:

Yes. Mr. President, I know I discussed this with you and a couple colleagues earlier and I would like to make a floor motion. I suspect it's in the form of a letter, that would be the appropriate way.

The Council of the City of Pittsburgh requests that a formal investigation be initiated by the Allegheny County Department of Elections of all campaign spending reports for City Councilmembers for calendar year 1985.

I would also like to further suggest that we include a time frame for receiving that report from the Election Department.

The Chair:

I want the letter to go out immediately, Mr. Perry.

I need a second.

Michelle Madoff:

I'll second it if you tell me what it's going to say.

The Chair:

In essence that since there was this article in the paper on Sunday, there's a lot of cloud hanging there, we'd like the Election Bureau to come in and look at all of our campaign expenditures the proper way so that there's no misconception that anybody here did anything wrong.

Michelle Madoff:

May I make a recommendation, Mr. President, that you also include what the parameters are of the existing legislation. My understanding is that anything that you do to enhance or help you get elected does not mean you cannot spend money in an off election year.

As Judge Ellenbogen used to say, "You campaign all the time, you don't campaign at election time." And as Cyril Wecht said, "I go out and speak all the time, not at election time." You are running all the time, not just in the year that you're running.

So, I would like to have it very clearly defined what we spend out money for. For example, if I have a meeting with an aide who comes in at 8:30 in the morning, at 10:00 at night responding to a letter to the editor in the Wall Street Journal about election by district, I will put down on my slip who I met with, what the amount was for, and she's certainly entitled to have dinner and I submit a slip. And I think we need that clarified.

The Chair:

What we are asking, Mike, and we'll help you draft it, we want in this letter that they'll look at all of us, look at everything we spent, to see if we were legal by doing it, where it was grey areas, whatever. That way the cloud is lifted.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. President. Your point is well taken but what I'm saying is, I don't want this to happen again. But what I'm saying is, let us have it clearly defined for our constituents, for the media, and for everybody. What are the rules? I checked on the rules and I thought I was in complete compliance with the rules. If I'm not, I want to know where I was wrong.

The Chair:

That's what we're going to do.

Mr. O'Malley:

I agree with that; I think it's a good idea. I think it was quite a detailed article that was in the Pittsburgh Press Sunday and I think all of us need some explanation from the Election Bureau. I mean I've been turning my receipts in the same way for six years and this is the first time anybody said anything. I had an audit done of my campaign expenses this morning by a CPA firm and he indicated that he was satisfied that they came in compliance with the law.

But I think we ought to extend this to all elected officials, City elected officials. I'd also like to include the Controller in on this. He's the fiscal watchdog of the City of Pittsburgh and I think his expenses and expenditures should be as accountable as City Councilmembers.

The Chair:

I would suggest that since it was Council that appeared in the paper that we ask that Council be reviewed and I'm sure that since the article the Election Bureau will be looking at everybody else also. I think that we should just deal with ourselves.

Mr. Pollock:

I'd like a similar letter to go to the District Attorney's Office as well.

The Chair:

Fine.

Mr. Wagner:

I agree, Mr. President. I think our motion should pertain to us and to us only and if other elected officials want to solicit the same information they should do so.

I would just like to add, if it's in agreement to Council, that we request a time frame, two weeks, three weeks, because if we don't, this report could come back six months from now and I think it's something that we should move on immediately and we should request that the Elections Department do the same.

The Chair:

Let's say if we get the letter in the mail tomorrow, I'd say within 30 days. There's a lot of us to audit here.

Mr. O'Malley:

Are you saying 30 days to start it or 30 days to finish?

The Chair:

No, no, they should start immediately and have result to us within 30 days.

Michelle Madoff:

I disagree with my colleagues. I think it's inappropriate for us to single ourselves out. If the media wishes to single us out that's their prerogative. They're the guardians of the people's right to know. But the people's right to know goes beyond City Councilmembers. I think that we should request that all elected officials be audited because we are representatives of the public at large and it should not just be City Council.

The Chair:

I believe in fairness the individual that wrote that article will probably take the message and go back and do the job that he supposedly can do on the other elected officials. I think we should just deal with us.

Michelle Madoff:

I wish to amend the motion.

Mr. O'Malley:

Second for discussion. Discussion being that according to the election laws, if an audit is going to be conducted it has to be filed and requested within 90 days which would bring it to April 30th. So, if Council can be audited, that's fine; but if it also says the Mayor or the Controller is going to be audited, that has to be requested before April 30th.

The Chair:

I'm sure that the Election Bureau will do that on their own. I mean, they've taken a little bit of heat on this thing also and I think that we should just deal on an issue like this with ourselves. We are interested in ourselves as an elected body and my own personal opinion, I will vote against the amendment.

Michelle Madoff:

With all due respect, I would ask that you keep an open mind. You are an elected official, you are the President of this Council, you have stature in this community and the public is looking to you for leadership and it would seem to me that we should not be saying we're all being painted with the same brush and that Council is being singled out. I think we should address the broader issue, not the personalities. We should say that all elected officials should be audited because I don't think that anybody has behaved any differently and I think that you should be a leader in this instance and I ask you to do that and to change your vote on it, don't be stubborn, and I would ask my colleagues to expand it to all elected officials because otherwise we look like all we're trying to do is protect our own flanks. That's my opinion.

The Chair:

And my opinion is that if we ask that all elected officials in the City of Pittsburgh then we're saying you did it to us and not to them, you're being unfair.

The article was written here; let's settle it here.

Mr. Grabowski:

Just to clarify the amendment that Michelle made, she has indicated that she would like all elected officials to be audited.

The Chair:

In the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Grabowski:

That's not what she said.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you sir, I appreciate it. I mean in the City of Pittsburgh. Thank you.

Mr. DePasquale:

Whenever I filed with the Bureau of Elections, I went over before I filed and talked to the Director, whoever it was, whether it was Will Alton or Kenny Dixon or Scanlon. Anything that I thought in my mind was questionable I would ask them and if they said it was questionable or wasn't right then I would take it out or take care of the matter. Never have I been told by anybody at the Bureau of Elections that any of my expenses, as long as they were incurred in regards to my getting elected, were improper or illegal.

The public record is over there and anyone, Schmidt or anyone else who wants to go look at them can look at them. I think that should be the end of it. If they want to conduct an audit or whatever at the Bureau of Elections, that's their business. But to ask them to do it, to me, is sort of asinine.

The Chair:

I respect your opinion, Mr. DePasquale.

Now, on the amendment to include all elected City officials. Roll call vote.

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion on the issue. May I follow up. I don't know the rules; how do I go about getting legally, how do I go about making a request? Personally, I think they need five citizens. I'm a citizen, four people, to request an audit.

The Chair:

We are going to do that right now.

Michelle Madoff:

No, I'm talking about my defeated motion. I wish to pursue it privately and I don't know what the ground rules are. Does anybody know?

Mr. Pollock:

Michelle raised a question of not knowing what the parameters were of the election expense law and it's not for the body of City Council to give her this. These laws are set forth in the --

Michelle Madoff:

That's not what I just asked.

Mr. Pollock:

This is what you talked about before. I'm talking about her previous question about not knowing what the parameters were for filing expense reports.

These are set forth in state statutes. If she has any questions, she could have consulted an attorney to have these statutes interpreted for her and I think that it's inappropriate for someone to file something and then afterwards not know what he or she was doing or state that she didn't know what he or she was doing.

The law is set forth; we are all given copies of it. Admittedly, it is in the form of a state statute but these can be easily interpreted by either a Legislator or other elected official or an attorney. I think that the time has come that this body start to look at exactly what its members are doing, what it feels is inappropriate activity for its own members. I think the time has come for our President to start examining some of his appointments to chairmanship of committees and reassess those appointments. And I think that it's time that this body realize that the actions and activities of any members of this body reflect on all of us. --

The Chair:

Mark, let me interrupt you here. We are not talking about behavior of any Councilmember. We are talking about a letter that we are sending to the Election Bureau to go over all of our campaign expenditures and receipts for 1985. I'm going to hold to that and rule you out of order.

Is there anything further on that subject?

Mr. O'Malley:

I think Michelle asked a legitimate question and I think Mr. Pollock is being unnecessarily harsh.

The Chair:

I just stopped that so we're not going to continue.

Mr. O'Malley:

Well, to answer Michelle's question, you have 90 days from the time you file, January, February, and March. You have until April 30 to file by five electors in the City of Pittsburgh to file to have any elected official's campaign audited, Michelle.

The Chair:

On this subject only, this letter.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I deeply resent a friend of mine implying that I did not know about the statute nor read it. I did know about the statute and my personal interpretation with my counsel was that any monies spent in the pursuit of being re-elected was legitimate and I stated that's how I handled it and I itemized it. It is not that I am filing after the fact, not knowing what I am doing and I resent that being on the record.

The Chair:

Everybody is getting off the subject. We're on sending the letter. Mr. Grabowski is the last speaker and we're calling the vote.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, earlier we took a vote on the amendment to include all elected officials and I'd like to make a motion that we reconsider that vote.

The Chair:

I will not honor that motion.

Mr. DePasquale:

I'm going to change my vote.

The Chair:

No, that amendment was defeated and I cannot honor that motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, we haven't left the room; they can change their votes.

The Chair:

No. That amendment was defeated. It is out of order.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, I'd like to challenge the Chair.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. O'Malley:

All in favor say aye.

The Chair:

Mr. O'Malley, one more time and I'm going to fine you for doing my job.

Mr. O'Malley:

Sorry.

(MR. DEPASQUALE AND MR.
POLLOCK VOTING NO)

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion passed finally.

Mr. Pollock:

On the legislation you introduced this afternoon, I want to make a motion to hold it until a public hearing is set but before doing that I would also like to ask that before setting the public hearing that the legislation be submitted to the Legal Department so that when we have the public hearing the legislation is in its final form.

The Chair:

Mark, how about just making a motion to set a public hearing and prior to the public hearing that we have the Legal Department look at it? Just like that.

Mr. Pollock:

And if the Legal Department amends it then it will be resubmitted in the amended form and then have a public hearing on the amended form?

The Chair:

No. You're going to ask them to have a legal opinion as it is presently written and that's how we'll have the public hearing. Any amendments can come after that, after the public hearing or whatever.

Mr. Pollock:

But my purpose was trying to save time. If the Legal Department says to amend it and it's resubmitted in amended form, then you might want to have another public hearing on the amended form.

So, I would ask that rather than have two separate public hearings, that let it be presented to us in the final form after the Legal Department amends it and then have the public hearing on the amended form. It makes more sense.

The Chair:

Alright, here's what you do. Make a motion to have a public hearing; I will see that it's sent down prior to that. And before we advertise for the public hearing, that whole amended form will be in the paper.

Mr. Pollock:

Okay.

Also, Mr. President, I'd like to change my vote on the last vote to yes, on the letter.

The Chair:

You can't. I didn't let Mr. —

Mr. Pollock:

I can change my vote.

The Chair:

No. I wouldn't let Mr. DePasquale do it on the amendment. We're off that subject. This is a Monday meeting.

Mr. Pollock:

Alright.

The Chair:

Is there a second to hold this for a public hearing? The bill for testing for drugs.

Mr. Wagner:

I'll second it.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I tried to have discussion on it. I had my hand up for a couple of seconds.

The Chair:

We can't discuss the bill. He's making the motion to having a public hearing, that's all. There's no discussion on it.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. With all due respect, Mr. Pollock made some suggestions and I'd like to add to the suggestion.

The Chair:

And Mr. Pollock was out of order and I said that to him. I said we can discuss that later.

Michelle Madoff:

But you let him make the recommendation. I would like to make a recommendation.

The Chair:

I did and I let you do some other things.

All in favor of setting a public hearing?

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion.

The Chair:

There's no discussion on setting a public hearing.

Is there any other business before this Council?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes. I would like to make a floor motion that we create a line item in the budget for voluntary contributions for victims of the subsidence of the houses where people are going to be wiped out with their entire life savings. They have to pay off their mortgages, they don't have houses. We give to, and I have personally given $200 because I saw the pathos of children dying of starvation in foreign countries. We see the outpouring of generosity in our community where people have come out with food. You yourself have done some outstanding work, Mr. Woods, on giving out food to the needy.

I think there is enough concern and warm-heartedness in our community that people would be willing to equitably give to those people —

The Chair:

I can't even honor your motion to begin with, Ms. Madoff. The only reason I can't, it's not really a floor motion. You're talking about a budgetary item. You're saying, setting up a line item in the budget. Please put it in written form and we can do it next Monday.

Michelle Madoff:

May I respond? When I introduced a floor motion to have voluntary contributions from suburbanites that came to $3000 until the Administration called it the Laughing Tax instead of the Commuter Tax and we were getting money from people who said, "My kid spends $10 a week on Pac Man", my services from the City are worth more than $10. People are giving voluntary contributions to the general fund which are tax write-offs. That does not require anything but a floor motion.

We already have precedent. My precedent establishes the fact that I may legally request, and we can get the Parliamentarian to rule, just a creation of a line item. As a matter of fact, we had an 8 to 1 vote at that time for people who wish to make voluntary contributions to that fund which is tax deductible. That has been established and you are going against precedent if you rule me out of order and make me put it in writing. It is a floor motion and a floor motion does not have to be in writing.

The Chair:

Ms. Madoff, I am going to rule you out of order.

Michelle Madoff:

You always rule me out of order.

The Chair:

Let me finish. I listened very politely to you. We discussed this, I believe in our first meeting in January, that all motions of this type would be in written form 48 hours prior to coming to this meeting. We are going to abide by that. I'm not ruling you out of order; I'm just saying that I do not accept that motion.

Michelle Madoff:

May I have a ruling from the Parliamentarian?

The Chair:

No. We set these rules in Council. The Parliamentarian — I'm not going to accept that.

Michelle Madoff:

You allowed a floor motion the other day.

The Chair:

Mr. Pollock, you have the floor.

Mr. Pollock:

With all due respect to my colleague, I don't think that the City Administration, the City Controller and the Treasurer's Office, need to be getting involved in something like this. These kinds of things are set up all the time with banks as charitable trust funds. You go to the bank and set up a trust fund for mine subsidence victims. The media covers it, the television stations advertise it, and the money gets sent right to the trust fund. I don't think we have to have a budgetary line item that's a permanent budgetary line item.

The Chair:

All I am asking is that if, Ms. Madoff, if you want to do something like that, please put it in writing and we can honor that next Monday, vote it up or down at that time.

Michelle Madoff:

May I have one moment, please? Mr. Woods, recently, and I just can't recall what the item was before this Council, you wanted something to go through and therefore you allowed it to be a floor motion. When you don't want something, you do not allow it to be a floor motion. I think that is terribly unfair and I think you ought to consider how you are being perceived by the public. I think you are singling me out, I think you're wrong, I think you are doing a disservice.

In response to my colleague, the reason I don't want to go to the bank and set up the Michelle Madoff recommendation trust fund to help subsidence, it is wrong. We are elected officials, we are concerned about all the people in the City. It should be a Council issue and it doesn't need a resolution because I think we all agree that we ought to do that.

The Chair:

Fine.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, in regard to a previous issue in the time frame of 30 days, Mr. O'Malley indicated the 90-day time frame and that 90-day time frame would expire at the end of April.

The Chair:

No, no. That's before anyone can file to look is 90 days. So we're doing it tomorrow; we're perfectly alright.

Mr. Wagner:

But my point was that the request for information prior to the expiration of the 90-day time frame, it would not be consistent with that.

The Chair:

No, we want their report back to us within 30 days. We want them to request it right away. Okay?

Mr. Wagner:

Fine.

Mr. DePasquale moved to excuse Mr. Givens for absence from the meeting.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Wagner moved to approve the Minutes of Monday, February 24, 1986 and Monday, March 3, 1986.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. DePasquale

Council adjourned.

Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Wagner
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	(Pres't)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

PRESENTATIONS

The Chair:

We have a number of read and adopted resolutions today and we have some people here in the audience so, with that in mind, we will take the resolutions first and, Mr. Givens and Mr. DePasquale, you are first.

Mr. Givens and Mr. DePasquale present

No. 658 WHEREAS, James B. McMahon will retire from a long and industrious career with city, county and country; and

WHEREAS, James McMahon served his country with the United States Army from 1942 until 1946, achieving the rank of Staff Sergeant; and,

WHEREAS, Jay, after working in the Jones and Laughlin Steel Mills for five years, began a career with the Pittsburgh Fire Department, retiring from the department after 25 years and with the rank of Captain; and,

WHEREAS, Jay then went to work with Allegheny County and later was appointed as personal tip-staff to Judge Robert Kelly; and,

WHEREAS, James has been a member of Holy Angels Roman Catholic Church for 20 years and actively involved in local politics in the city and state levels; and,

WHEREAS, Jay is blessed with a loving marriage of 44 years to Lillian Tanney McMahon, with two children, Geraldine Stephans and James McMahon, and four grandchildren, Christie and Michael Stephans and Jennifer and Kelly McMahon;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT

RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh joins with his many friends in honoring James B. McMahon's distinguished service to family, community, and government and in wishing him a long and happy retirement.

Mr. Givens moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like to say a few kind words to Jay. I first really met Jay as a State Committeeperson for the State of Pennsylvania, one who would have to travel to Harrisburg and on many occasions four, five, six times a year. In knowing Jay from that capacity, knowing him as a Fireman of the City of Pittsburgh and as an old veteran, Jay and I have many fond memories that we have worked with together and it's a tribute to a person of his caliber who has served both his country and the City of Pittsburgh as a fireman for 25 years and all of us know that not too many people within our Fire Department in the City get to enjoy their retirement and full life and full health and, Jay, you have been the one that has been able to do it and I hope that you can go out there and enjoy this with your children and your grandchildren and have just a great, gorgeous time from here on out.

Jay, just a few words, please.

Mr. McMahon:

Thank you very much, members of Council. I appreciate it. There's not much I can say but thank you very much.

The Chair:

Thank you, Jay.

Also,

No. 659 WHEREAS, Mr. Henry Dulemba has announced his retirement from a long unblemished career; and,

WHEREAS, Henry had served his country during World War II in a combat area of the South Pacific with the United States Navy as a Gunner's Mate, 2nd Class; and

WHEREAS, returning home he continued his career in the private sector until 1948 and then entered service with the Pittsburgh Bureau of Fire, culminating 23 years with the rank of Captain; and,

WHEREAS, Mr. Henry Dulemba was then appointed to the position of personal tip staff to Judge Michael J. O'Malley, presently President Judge of Common Pleas Court, where Henry remained for fourteen years; and,

WHEREAS, Henry has been a life long member of Holy Family Roman Catholic Church in Lawrenceville, and has served his neighbors on the local level of democratic politics for 35 years; and,

WHEREAS, Henry has been a loving husband to Clara Gibala Dulemba for thirty years, a devoted father to David, Judith Ann, and Lorraine Mary Lass, and a loving grandfather to Jonathon and Kathy;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, join with his many friends, in honoring Henry Dulemba's dedicated services to family, career, and government and in wishing him a long and happy retirement.

Mr. DePasquale moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Givens:

I'd just like to say about Henry, we go back a long time. In fact, both of us were raised up and reared in the Lawrenceville, 9th Ward, politics of the City of Pittsburgh. Henry has had many battles there and I have enjoined him with many of those endeavors.

But Henry also has made a tremendous contribution. He served as the President of the Arsenal Board of Trade for many, many years down there and if anyone knows what happens there on the 4th of July ceremonies, you'll appreciate what Henry Dulemba, through that Board, has kept the Butler Street area and the Penn Avenue area, along the 9th Ward of the City of Pittsburgh and the 6th Ward of the City of Pittsburgh really up in the high status as it is today. It's a good community area and Henry has done a lot to keep it in that particular fashion. He's a fighter all the way and I'd like to give a welcome to Henry Dulemba.

Mr. Dulemba:

Members of Council, friends, just for one minute, if I may. Jay and I, since we've decided to retire at this particular time, you might be surprised but we have a combined total of over 72 years in the service of the City and County government. That's quite a long time; 72 years.

But since Council has seen it appropriate to honor us in this manner, all we can say is thank you very much, thank you very, very much, thank you.

Mr. DePasquale:

Dick Givens said it all; he didn't leave anything for me to say. But I just want to add that I grew up with Jay McMahon in the Oakland district. We've known each other all our lives. And for Sophie's information, Jay and Henry and I were Schenley High buddies.

Obviously, as Mr. Givens said, it gives us great pleasure, I know all of Council, to honor these two gentlemen as we did today. No one deserves any more. Thank you.

Michelle Madoff and Mr. Grabowski present

No. 660 WHEREAS, a recent case of mine subsidence in the Schenley Heights community ruined properties and revealed the need for some organized system of local assistance for residents who suffer property damage and displacement as a result of this hazard; and,

WHEREAS, during the recent crisis, Mayor Caliguiri personally led the City's effort to help these afflicted people, thereby establishing the City's determination to protect the lives and property of our citizens from the threat of mine subsidence; and,

WHEREAS, the people of Pittsburgh, in the American tradition of charitable generosity to victims of disasters, have always demonstrated their willingness to aid less fortunate people on the local, national, or international levels; and,

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh must take the lead in coalescing these generous public energies and directing them into an effective resource to financially assist Pittsburgh residents faced with the devastating effects of mine subsidence;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, in the spirit of governmental cooperation and humanitarian concern, recommends that the Administration create the appropriate financial mechanism to receive, deposit, and disperse voluntary public donations for the relief and support of Pittsburgh residents victimized by mine subsidence;

AND, BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council recommends that the Administration use the full force of its public relations capability to solicit donations, inform the citizens of the availability of the fund, and urge Pittsburgh residents to purchase mine subsidence insurance for their own protection and welfare.

Mr. Grabowski moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

As you may recall, the reason this was put in a resolution form was that Councilmembers wanted it put in this manner and, as you know, this is a wish list. It is not mandatory. It is a request for the Administration to set up a mechanism. That means they may decide to go to a bank and have people make contributions to a bank. But they're going to have to let the public know which bank, who to send the check to, how to make it out, whatever. And also, of course, to use the public relations department which incidentally doesn't exist and we should have for the City but the Mayor should perhaps have the impetus to create a Public Relations Division to let people know that they should be buying subsidence insurance and we do remember that my colleague, Mr. Grabowski, came up with this issue long before it actually came about in such a dramatic manner. He might want to make some comments.

Mr. Grabowski:

I tend to agree with Michelle that this is something that may help ease the situation somewhat, as if there are some benevolent citizens out there that would like to contribute to a relief fund of some type that would help those that have experienced this problem. I think the big answer is if we can come up with some sort of protection, moreso than what there is right now. That's what this Council has been striving for for a couple years now. Maybe the Department of Environmental Services will finally act on this serious matter.

Michelle Madoff:

May I just add, right at this point I think the most pressing issue is I think what has happened has brought to everybody's attention that there but by the grace of God goes their home. But we're dealing with people. Everybody says, "It isn't going to happen to me" and it happened. These people have lost their homes, still owe their mortgages. They're basically not your wealthy residential areas.

I think when steel workers don't have jobs we pitch in and we find food. Mr. Woods, you yourself work to supply cheese and distributed food to the poor. We send money overseas, we collect money for people who are affected by blight and hunger and famine. Can't we for one time really pitch in and help our own City residents?

What I'm doing, Mr. Grabowski and I are recommending that a mechanism be set up to notify the public that there is such a fund, that people can contribute, and they would disburse the money, whatever mechanism the Administration set up, to help those less fortunate. It isn't just enough to help them get their furniture out and say, "Well, we help you get what you can out." Where are they going to put it? They still have to pay their existing mortgage wherever they go, or their rent, plus their old mortgage.

I think we are a community that is generous enough in spirit to want to help the people who have had this problem and I would urge that a personal letter accompany this from our President of Council asking the Administration to proceed to put this into action.

Mr. Grabowski:

One further comment, Mr. President. I think what we have to do is try to focus attention and make the citizens aware for the most part that this is a very serious problem. Perhaps our Cable Bureau could develop some sort of programming whereby they can inform the citizens where these affected areas are. I'm sure that not many people realize that there are coal mines under Squirrel Hill. I mean, we're talking about some homes out there that probably are in excess of $100,000 and the coal mines are probably 20-25 feet beneath their homes and many of these people don't realize it. But perhaps our Cable Department could come up with some programming whereby we can advertise the communities that are affected and provide some more information and make the public aware and if they should happen to someone, maybe they'll be fortunate enough to have the insurance.

The Chair:

I'll give it to Brother Emenacker because you have all the areas in the City that are undermined and perhaps they could use that.

Mr. Pollock:

In addition to using the cable, I think that a letter should be sent out with the City tax bills or with some other letters that go out to the public with a map saying which areas are affected and who they should contact at the State to acquire mine subsidence insurance. That way we know it actually gets into the individual resident's hands.

Michelle Madoff:

I might also want to point out that when you buy a house, if memory serves me well, it states very clearly that no one owns the mineral rights. When you buy your house you don't own the mineral rights under your house. So people should be aware of that as well.

And I think, Mr. Pollock, the City should do it through Water bills, perhaps, enclose it in an envelope, this notification, through any mechanism, but I know that we would get support from Duquesne Light or the utilities companies, or anybody that sends an enclosed bill, telephone bill, to enclose that as well. They would be very supportive of this kind of mailing.

But you're absolutely correct and I would like to have the City Clerk to add that to the bill if it's alright with my colleague, to amend the bill to include but the idea of Mr. Grabowski to go through Cable, and to send a notice out.

Mr. DePasquale:

I was just wondering if the URA, under their broad powers, couldn't step in and buy that property.

The Chair:

I think the Administration is looking into that.

Mr. DePasquale:

The possibility of the URA buying it? Okay.

Mr. Wagner:

I'd like to ask Mr. Paul Imhoff, Chief of Bureau of Building Inspection, City of Pittsburgh, Dominic Cimino, and Pat Walker to please step forward for this resolution.

While they're walking up, I'd just like to say that interestingly enough, this resolution to some degree, ties in with the previous resolution because it pertains to Building Safety Week, something that we're trying to recognize with this resolution and also an upcoming seminar that's taking place this week.

Paul, maybe when you make a few comments you could even let the public know what that address is from the Bureau of Mines to obtain the type of insurance necessary for mine subsidence.

Mr. Wagner presents

No. 662 WHEREAS, across the nation this week, local and state governments, construction and design organizations, and the various professional associations of building officials and code administrators are making an effort to create a public awareness of the importance of construction safety codes and their effective enforcement; and,

WHEREAS, in conjunction with the national effort, the Public Awareness Program of the City's Bureau of Building Inspection is focusing attention on the contributions made to the health, safety, and welfare of our building facility environment by dedicated code officials; and,

WHEREAS, the Superintendent, supervisors, staff, and building inspectors of the City's Bureau of Building Inspection are to be commended for their responsible and effective dedication to strict enforcement of our building codes; and

WHEREAS, the citizens of Pittsburgh are encouraged to participate in the various programs planned for Building Safety Week, particularly the seminar for first-time home buyers on Wednesday, April 16, 1986 from 5:00 - 7:00 P.M. on the Fifth Floor of the Public Safety Building;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby recognizes the week of April 13th - 19th as National Building Safety Week in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Wagner moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Wagner:

Paul, I'd like to ask you to say a few words to endorse this and possibly the mine subsidence.

Michelle Madoff:

Can I get a character reference from him first?

Mr. Imhoff:

You sure can.

First, I'd like to thank City Council for naming this week as National Building Safety Week. We're an enforcement agency and a lot of people hate to see us come around to their door but really our job is an effort to try to build a safer place for you to live, work and play in the City of Pittsburgh as well as across the nation.

As an officer of BOCA and as the Chairman of Major City Building Officials, two of the sponsoring organizations nationwide for this program, I'd like to thank you on their behalf also.

And as far as Mr. Wagner is saying about the mine insurance, after the incident in Bryn-Mawr, I'd like to assure you after going through these people's homes up there and seeing plaster and everything down all over their belongings, personal belongings, and having to move their belongings into the street so that they could be packed in full view of the public, the first thing I did was go home and have my wife call to get mine insurance. I've lived 25 years at my place and never had it.

The place where you get it is at the Office of Mining in McMurray, PA. They're in the book; they're a federal agency and you have to make a request for an application. Once you fill out the application and mail it back in, someone will come and inspect your home and at the time they inspect it you have to make the payment for the policy. It's based on $1000.00 evaluation, $1.00 per $1000.00 and it's the best investment I think we've made.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Imhoff, would you be willing to give that information and follow up to see that Mr. Pollock's recommendation is followed through, that it indeed goes to each home owner and, not only home owners but to buildings such as mine? I think my building is looking into doing it too. I think it's very important; they don't have it in our building.

Mr. Pollock:

Paul, is that a one-time bill like a title insurance or is it an annual premium?

Mr. Imhoff:

It's an annual premium. In my case, it was $48.50. If you're a senior citizen, they give you a 10 percent discount.

Mr. Pollock:

Every year?

Mr. Imhoff:

Yes.

Mrs. Masloff:

For what valuation?

Mr. Imhoff:

It's based on $1.00 per $1,000.00. If your house is worth $50,000.00, it's $50.00.

Mr. Wagner:

I'd like to ask Dominic Cimino to say a few words also.

Mr Cimino:

I'd like to thank City Council for honoring this week as National Building Safety Week. Building Inspection is extremely proud to be a part of providing for City residents a safe place to live and work.

Contrary to public opinion, good enforcement of a good building code encourages both development of land and structures.

Again, I'd like to thank everyone.

Ms. Walker:

I just wanted to briefly thank Mr. Imhoff because it is through his efforts that National Building Safety Week has been brought to the City of Pittsburgh. We did a lot of activities last year and, of course, this year we've had more publicity than we've ever had about Building Safety Week. But he is the President of the Building Officials and Code Enforcement Administrators, Inc., and he is also involved in the Association of Major Building Officials. It's a nationwide organization and they are primarily the ones who are behind this and Mr. Imhoff is the one who is the motivator, seeing to it that we have Building Safety Week here in the City of Pittsburgh.

The Chair:

Thank you.

Mr. Wagner:

For everyone's information, that was Pat Walker. She is a building inspector for the City of Pittsburgh. Thank you, Pat.

For our next resolution, Mr. President and members of Council, I'd like to ask the Safety Coordinator for the City of Pittsburgh, Mr. Jerry Lynch, to please step forward.

While Jerry is walking forward, actually this resolution was initiated by Jerry through me and I think it's another resolution that pertains to general safety in the public and it also relates to a piece of legislation in the house.

Mr. Wagner presents

No. 661 WHEREAS, in June, 1984, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania adopted the Motor Carrier Safety Assistance Program (MCSAP) and repealed Section 4522 of the Pennsylvania Motor Vehicle Code; and

WHEREAS, by repealing Section 4522 of the Motor Vehicle Code, no city, county, or township police officer in the Commonwealth, except a limited group of State Police Officers, can enforce the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations (FMCSR) for truck, truck tractor, and semi-trailer combinations engaged in interstate commerce; and,

WHEREAS, because of this inability of local police officers to enforce vehicle safety regulations and to inspect unsafe vehicles, more and more owners of trucks and tractor-trailers are sending their vehicles into the Commonwealth with procedural and equipment violations that directly effect their safe operations and endanger the lives of Pennsylvania motorists; and

WHEREAS, this hazardous situation must be remedied by amending the existing Section 4107 to include the phraseology of the repealed Section 4522;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby petition the Legislature to amend Section 4107 of the Pennsylvania Motor Vehicle Code to include the following provisions:

VIOLATION OF FEDERAL STATUTE OR REGULATION

General Rule: No person shall drive a vehicle on any highway in violation of any provision of a federal statute or regulation relating to any type of equipment or documents used in the vehicle while engaged in interstate commerce.

Penalty: Any person violating this section is guilty of a summary offense and shall, upon conviction, be sentenced to pay a fine of $100.00.

Mr. Wagner moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Question before I vote on it. You only want to fine them $100?

Mr. Wagner:

Well, the amendment, which I would like Jerry to speak to, is very important. At the present time, we cannot fine anyone anything. This piece of legislation that is now in Harrisburg is very important in terms of being a deterrent from keeping trucks that are violating the laws off our parkways and our interstate highways that are passing through the City of Pittsburgh.

Michelle Madoff:

The fact of life is that for $100, if you got a major violation on your truck you'll send it in and pay the $100.

We had an incident, as you recall, where a truck got loose and killed people at the Horne's Building, right near Horne's. What are you going to do with a $100 fine? It's a joke. Put them in jail. Lock them up forever.

Mr. Wagner:

If I may, it depends also on the type of violation that is involved and there's other things besides a fine which Jerry will mention.

Michelle Madoff:

It isn't strong enough.

Mr. Wagner:

This is what is proposed in Harrisburg and this is what we would like to amend in Harrisburg.

Mr. O'Malley:

Jack, this says our local police, the inability of local police officers to enforce the Vehicles Safety Regulations and to inspect unsafe vehicles. Does this amendment give them the authority to do that? I don't see it in the amendment that this would give the local police officers the authority to inspect the vehicles.

Mr. Wagner:

Yes, it would.

Mr. Lynch:

Let me try to assemble this so it's easier rather than read the bill.

For instance, we have a tractor trailer coming down Liberty Avenue toward town in Bloomfield. A police officer pulls that vehicle over near the top of the hill, above Iron City Brewery for speeding. During that citation, he sees that the tractor has no brakes, the trailer has an airline cut. There's nothing he can do about it. He can't secure that vehicle there under the current legislation.

Under the previous legislation, he could secure that vehicle, cause that driver not to be able to operate that vehicle, not to be able to have it moved unless it was towed. Now, the police officer could see numerous violations which are $100 each, safety violations, could see numerous violations. He may be able to get a MCSAP, a State Police Officer from Harrisburg to come but I doubt that they would come that far for that violation, and once the police officer left, the vehicle could again move and lose his brakes or any number of other problems.

The only thing the police officer can stop him for now is City of Pittsburgh Vehicle Code Violations. Federal, they can't do a thing about it.

Mr. O'Malley:

Does this amendment give our police officers the ability to enforce the Motor Vehicle Code and stop that truck from proceeding if its found unsafe?

Mr. Lynch:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm a little confused. Doesn't the State and City Vehicle Code, or do we have a City Vehicle Code that says that you cannot have brakes that are defective or wheels that are spinning out of line? Why don't we write our own code?

Mr. Lynch:

Well, the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Act which was demolished a year ago and the MCSAP program took it over, used to allow us to do that. But the reason this wording was left out of the bill was an honest mistake. Someone didn't notice it. But all the rural and City police officers really have no right to respond any longer.

Michelle Madoff:

Are we pre-empted by State law or can we write our own law as well? For example, let me tell you what my great concern is. You can write all the laws in the world but laws without enforcement are an exercise in futility. I have had boulders and pieces of metal fall off of trucks in front of me, once when I had a car two hours, a new car, under my car and ruin my car. I had to have $200 or $300 worth of work. Why aren't we enforcing the existing laws on tarpaulins? I wanted to enact a law on tarpaulins here and I was told we already have it in the Code. Why aren't our police enforcing it? Who's in charge of the Police Department on Council now?

The Chair:

The same man that is presenting this legislation and I'm sure he will take care of that.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Wagner, tarpaulins. All the dirt that we get in the City, all the boulders and pieces of metal that fall off. I want every truck tarpaulined. I want to be able to cite them myself.

The Chair:

All in favor? Opposed?

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

Mr. Wagner:

If I may comment, Mr. President. Many of our police officers have attempted to fine and without this law backing them, they cannot. Jerry, as a Safety Coordinator, as met with police officers. He has brought that to our attention. That's the purpose of the resolution. The next step is to send this resolution to Harrisburg as an endorsement to this legislation. Thank you.

Mr. Depasquale presented

Mrs. Masloff moved to suspend Rule 8 by providing for consideration of the bill only until or after the 9th calendar day following the meeting in which the bill was introduced so the bill will be on the agenda this Wednesday.

Which was read.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, I just wanted to state we're all aware that Bill 555 is a pilot program and I wanted to add that the Board of Education, I've talked to most of the members, are quite optimistic about this program. They feel that it's going to be very successful. Hopefully the beginning of it is successful, and I don't see why it won't be, and then they'll have many more after that.

Mr. Givens:

On the same bill, Mr. President, I was not here last Wednesday and I have some concerns. Has this been given to the Allegheny Labor Counsel for their scrutiny, and if not, I would ask that the bill be held. It's not that I am not for this, I am. But I would like to see, and rightfully so, a coordination between the trades within Allegheny County and the City of Pittsburgh with that of what the school's doing. I think it's a good complement but I would like very definitely to have their blessings in this before we go forward and do this actual work because sometimes the various trades feel that this is an infringement upon their skills when they have people that are unemployed out there. However, when it comes down to education, many times they'd like to even participate in helping out those children who are going through the trade school here.

The Chair:

I'm not going to speak for what the the Administration has done but I know that the building trades are very involved with Connelley Vocational and I'm sure that they don't have any objections. In fact, we tried to get something similar to this a few years back with Frankie Mae Jeeter and her Welfare Rights Organization with -- Nick Stavanovich and I were working on that about four years ago, on a project similar to that.

Mr. Givens:

I just have that question and for that reason and some other questions I have on the bill, I would like to --

Mr. Woods:

Building trades very, very seldom do commercial work, especially home work, and I don't feel there's any problem whatsoever. In fact, most of the North Side knows that the building trades are not even involved in that. They do commercial, light industrial and industrial. So, I don't see any problem with this.

Mr. Givens:

I'll rely on your good judgment. Okay.

Michelle Madoff:

I agree with you, Mr. Woods, on Bill 555. What we need to do is expand that a lot more to have sweat equity where some of the homes, you put them on the market quickly before they're cannibalized and let people get together in groups. I don't know if you recall, it was before your time, we had the squatters here. We had a real big problem with ACORN. People going into the houses when they were evicted from the houses. There's no reason why we can't make good solid homes that need to be perhaps gutted and redone, sweat equity, retired carpenters, electricians, who would volunteer to help in the community and I'd like to see this bill go far beyond this one example and that's being put together by I guess a training school, to teach the youngsters or those who are in retraining.

I'm saying that we ought to expand this and perhaps, Mike, you could dig out my old resolution somewhere and we'll put in another one that we make our houses available through sweat equity. Perhaps Mr. Pollock and his committee would look into it. He probably is already but that is something that we ought to be doing. We have this supply of houses that come on the market, hundreds of people in each shelter. They have nowhere to live, they don't have the money to rehab, but through sweat equity and through community involvement. It's very much the way they used to do barn-raising. We could make a lot of houses available to people.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bills?

And on the question, "Shall the bills pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Mr. Givens	Mr. Pollock

Michelle Madoff:

On Bill 563, I'm sorry, I was out ill, I've really been doing a number on myself these days. The power cleaner being paid for from EMS. What is a power cleaner and why is the EMS fund paying for it? It was furnished without previous authority of law, so it had five signatures. But what is it? What's a power cleaner? Who is using it and why are we paying for it out of the Emergency Medical Fund?

Which was read.

Mr. Pollock:

I would like my comments from the Committee Meeting on Bill No. 140 brought forward please.

(MR. POLLOCK'S REMARKS ON BILL NO. 140 - WEDNESDAY, 4/9/86)

Mr. Pollock:

At the hearing, there were concerns raised by some of the neighbors regarding -- their fear was that once the zone change takes place, that even though the use will be for a doctor's office, there is no guarantee that the future use will be for a doctor's office. My understanding is that the neighbors have met with the developers and owners of the property and have received assurances and they are satisfied. I checked with them and I received a signed document from the people who attended the public hearing that they now consent and join in this petition. So, I'm content that the zoning change go through. I just wanted to put that on the record.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair presents

Which was read, received and filed.

Also,

Which was read.

Mr. O'Malley:

Move to approve.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

I have several items. I would like to call to Council's attention, and I would like to request a post agenda or a hearing, whatever the President thinks is appropriate, and perhaps there might be a letter to go first to Mr. McDermott and to Mr. Gaetano. There is something drastically wrong in Denmark; there is something terribly wrong with what was done on McArdle Roadway.

I want to know how it was engineered because there is a sharp turn coming off the hill. I want to know how it was engineered so that water runs down from the top and freezes and we've had some severe, serious, serious accidents. People leaving places of employment on the Hill when one person spun around six times, was unconscious, they were going to sue us. I understand there may be a question of liability with the Port Authority pipes. I want to know why today, as I drove down, there was a boulder half the size of that desk sitting on the wall that rolled off the top on the right hand side coming down from Mount Washington.

There is something seriously wrong with the design and the way that whole job was handled. I see people working there all the time taking some kind of measurements with some kind of telescopes; I guess they're measuring to do sidewalks and other things. I want to know why it wasn't put in the initial contract. I want to know how much more it's going to cost us because it wasn't in the initial contract, and I want to know what the serious problems are with that roadway.

I know that Mr. Wagner was working on that. Whose department is that now? I can't keep track; we change all the time.

The Chair:

Mr. DePasquale.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. DePasquale's committee. I'm sure Mr. DePasquale will be happy to set up a hearing to get all that information but a letter first of all might be able to explain some of it. If not, I want a public hearing and I want a notice and I want people who live on Mount Washington or who use that roadway to know, Arlington people, to come and partake and find out what has happened to their tax money because it certainly was abused in that area. It's a disgrace. That's the road to the mountain which is our Niagara Falls, absolutely the show piece of the City.

I have two other items.

The Chair:

Let me make one comment while you're looking for your other items.

We had a post agenda scheduled for Wednesday and I think a number of us attended a meeting last week. We're going to have to cancel that post agenda, it's with the refuse workers, at 1:30 on Wednesday, because they are in the process of bargaining their agreement. If we meet with them, the Administration can conceivably file unfair labor practices against that union. So, would you please cancel that post agenda.

Michelle Madoff:

I have two other items. We have life rafts that are being questioned that have been put around the City on our bridges. I'd like to know what the cost of them are. I'd like a report from the Safety Department. I would say, Mr.

Wagner, that perhaps this Council should be informed say every six months whether they have been removed and whether they are still in place.

And while we're at it, could I please get an accounting from I guess it would be Mr. Jacoby, I'm not sure, what it costs us to put up the telephone system in the City that was ripped out. We've done away with it; we got sold a bill of goods that we actually had to have this telephone service outside for people to use the telephones and now they've been removed.

I want to know what it cost the taxpayers, what the dollars were. I believe it was thousands and thousands of dollars.

Mr. O'Malley:

Hundreds of thousands.

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you. I'm not finished; I have a couple of items.

The last but most important item, since I have been on this Council, and I was very instrumental, probably the motivating factor in creating a lease department for vehicles, for those members of Council who were not here at the time, we were having innumerable accidents in our Refuse Department. I went back over my records, I asked the Law Department or the Budget Department to prepare a list for us, a chart, that showed in what department accidents took place, what month they were, because when I said the accidents took place in January, I was told by the Refuse Department that it was because it was icy. I went back and found the accidents were in August and they said it was because it was hot out. Then we found that most accidents took place in April, May, and the off-season months.

It was agreed that we put in a safety program to teach the people who use these, they're no longer dump trucks. When they have a refuse truck it's a very sophisticated piece of equipment with hydraulics. We had incidents where drivers were putting burlaps over the motors and within one week an $80,000 vehicle was burned up. We have no insurance; we're self-insured and because of the material that was put together, Mr. Yatch created the Leasing Department. We needed cars at that time for police, the police couldn't go out, we didn't have mechanics taking care of our trucks.

Because of the bill that will come up on Wednesday that Mr. Woods is introducing on drug testing, whether people are subject to abuse of drug or alcohol, I thought it would be important if we go back over the last three years and compare where and what departments we are having claims, what amounts, what departments and what vehicles. In other words, where are the accidents taking place and what is it costing the taxpayer both in claims that are settled out of court and in repairs that are done in-house, do we have enough mechanics, and so on.

To my shock and surprise, I learned today after sort of tracking Mr. Buckley who is out ill, for months and his asking me for extensions of time, extensions of time, extensions of time, which I graciously granted to him because he was swamped and we were going through budget, it has been over six months that this Councilmember has requested a breakdown by department of repairs on, excuse me, what the claims were and what the costs were and, as you know, we get a list, under $700 and over $700.

We had Mr. Dan Pellegrini come to this Council to explain to this Council and to Mr. Buckley and to the Budget Office people, that he didn't have to supply this information because indeed he sends down a sheet to Mr. Perry and Mr. Perry sends it on to Council that says a claim was settled out of court and what it was, what the accident was, so that a listing could be compiled. And that is the records that Mr. Buckley was to use. But he didn't have to give him any other information.

I hope everybody understands what I'm talking about. It's claims under $700 that are given to us but not broken down by departments and they're claims over $700. And, of course, that doesn't include any cost to the taxpayer in the repairs that come to us in the form of a letter and that Mr. Buckley could use that letter to give us claims over $700.

What I learned today is that there are claims paid out of the Judgment Code, Code 46, and it is a certificate of judgment issued by the Judge. They never come to Council. They go right to Mr. Ray Johnson. I requested the last three years; they're coming off the microfiche. I want to know what additional cost to the taxpayers have we got in addition to the below $700, settled out of court, over $700. And I'm going to expand it further by asking whatever department deals with the repairs service of our fleet, of course I'm not terribly concerned about fire trucks and so on which are franchised out, I also understand we just hired somebody to repair our vehicles. We've contracted out or hired someone who is doing the work down at the place where we store our vehicles.

Basically what I'm saying to you, bottom line, folks, we're asked to vote, we appropriate money for the budget, we don't know the numbers because they've never been given to us and I don't understand why it would go to the Controller without our getting a copy. So, I'd like to make a motion that, a) in all future claims ordered by the court, that they don't go directly to the Controller for payment and again they are called certificates of judgment, we get copies in this Council so we know at least what we're paying, and I would like to share with you when I get the list, it should be in my office any moment now, on the last three years of the claims that were settled.

I was told by Mr. Buckley just a few minutes before we came into Council that the big money, the biggest portion of our debt comes from that Code 46, Judgments, and we never get that information. I was sort of appalled and very, very surprised because the figures were then very distorted. We do get settlements if they don't go to court and its settled out of court, but we don't get the judgments ordered by the court. We never know if it's a large amount. If Michelle Madoff settled for a claim on her arm and the court ordered me to be awarded $100,000, this Council would never know about it. We don't even vote on it. It just goes right down and is paid out of the Controller's Office. I think we want to know what is going on. I'm appalled, I'm floored. Did anybody else know this?

The Chair:

Michelle, it's a court order or something. I don't think it's within our power to vote on it, whether to pay it.

Michelle Madoff:

No, no, I don't want to vote. I want to be informed. I just want to know what we're paying in claims. Where are the accidents generated? What kind of programs do we need? Do we need an inebriation program expanded? Do we need a training program expanded? Are people on drugs? I don't know. But when you look at some of these things and you take a look at the volume, the seriousness of the accident, how it happened, you get some idea, even from the $700 under claims and the ones that are settled. But more importantly, what I'm talking about now, I'm mixing apples and oranges right now. One is where the accidents take place; the other one is the fact that we vote on taxes every year and we have really no idea of what we're paying out in claims. I would like to know that. I think everybody here would like to know that. All I'm saying is that we're not getting the information we need.

The Chair:

We know the bulk of what we're paying out.

Michelle Madoff:

No. I was told that the greatest bulk is paid in those claims.

The Chair:

But we fund that code account so we know what we're paying out, we just don't know —

Michelle Madoff:

I want to know what I'm paying for; I don't want a lump sum.

The Chair:

I see no problem with that.

Michelle Madoff:

Can I ask you the question, do you know, does any member of this Council, can they tell me what we pay in claims on Code 46, the total?

The Chair:

I don't have that off the top of my head.

Michelle Madoff:

I can tell you that for two years we paid $4 million for the Zoo, the Aviary and the Conservatory —

The Chair:

Michelle, do you want the information?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes.

The Chair:

Did you make a motion?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes, I did.

Mr. DePasquale:

I second the motion.

The Chair:

It has been seconded.

Mr. Pollock:

Could someone please read me what the motion is or tell me what the motion is?

The Chair:

Just that we get on all the judgments, Code Account 46, that the court orders us to pay, it doesn't come through Council — Ms. Madoff wants a list of every time we have to pay out and who it's to.

Mr. Pollock:

If she will permit me to amend her motion, I would ask that we send a letter to Mr. Pellegrini requesting that upon any judgment or verdict that he send us a brief synopsis of the history of the case and the decision of the judge or whatever tribunal rendered the decision. That could be done in a couple paragraph form.

Michelle Madoff:

That would be most acceptable to me. I understand that's already done but it doesn't go to us, it goes to the Controller.

I'll second the amendment.

WHICH MOTION PREVAILED.

The Chair:

Now on the motion as amended.

Mr. Wagner:

I would just like to suggest to my colleague, Councilwoman Madoff, that I think the way we want to go here is, we want to know what the number of accidents are per department with vehicles. Recently Council passed legislation for workers' compensation. We are beginning this year in the budget for every department we will know specifically what their losses are in terms of accidents for people working in the department. I would suggest that we expand that through additional legislation to include other types of losses, equipment, vehicles, damage to property, etc., so that when we vote on the budget each year there will be a separate listing for each department, not only for workers' compensation accidents and claims paid out, but also for vehicle accidents, property damage, etc.

The Chair:

Let me do something. We just made a motion and an amendment. Michelle, I did this to you before but believe me, I'm being nice. We want this to be law, we want to make sure they send it up. Right now this is a wish of Council. You could take that and do nothing; it's just like these resolutions. Would you please draft it, introduce it, including what Mr. Wagner says here, we'll pass that and then they have to do it. Okay?

Michelle Madoff:

May I respond? I wanted to share what I learned today with Council so that everybody could come up with their ideas; I'm not married to the words. I think it's an excellent idea that we hold off and put it in writing and I'd be more than happy.

But I do want to point something out if I may. Mr. Perry, you have a copy of my last summary, the one I did when Mr. Yatch created the Leasing Authority, which does indeed do what Mr. Wagner is asking for. It breaks down by department, by vehicle, and I would like to share that with all members of Council so we have a base from which to expand. You may likely have done it, you may want to improve upon it, and therefore, when I put it together in some written form, with the help of Rick Infante, and I do want to publicly state that Rick Infante has done a phenomenal job of writing, I just want to give him a little credit there, that we can expand on it but you may like it just the way it is.

The Chair:

Okay, so we'll withdraw that motion and you'll put it in writing.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, it's been brought to my attention through the media that our request made last week to the Election Department of Allegheny County has in essence been denied due to the procedures by which it was requested, meaning that we made a request for a formal audit to be conducted of campaign expenses for calendar year '85 and under the form by which we made that request, it cannot be done.

I would suggest, and I would like to make a floor motion, that we proceed in another direction with another request. My colleague, Councilman Pollock, being a lawyer I know he knows the procedure much better than I and I would like to defer to him as to what that procedure is.

Mr. Pollock:

Section 1636 of the Campaign Expense Reporting Law, a Pennsylvania State Statute, states that any individual who has been required to file an expense account may have that report audited by the following procedure and that is, any five electors may present a petition to the Court of Common Pleas of the County in which the report was filed. The Court will then order that the Election Department certify the account back to the Court. That means present the expense account back to the Court with all the documents attached to it.

The Court will then appoint an independent auditor and the auditor audits the report. The Court or the auditor fixes a date and time at which date and time the candidate or the elected official who filed the report of which the petition is filed shall be required to be present and answer questions under oath concerning that report and to verify the report filed.

The petitioners may request that subpoenas be issued to any parties to appear and give testimony regarding said report.

After this has been completed, the auditor will then file the audit with the Court and the Court would review this audit and if the Court finds that any part of the report was false in any substantial manner, or if the Court determines that any expenses that were incurred were done so illegally or were not valid election expenses, then the Court would certify its decision to the District Attorney and direct that the District Attorney institute criminal proceedings.

Further, the cost of the audit would be borne by the candidate or the elected official.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Woods, as you may recall when this issue came up, I had a motion which was defeated that we include all elected officials. Mr. Flaherty our Controller, and the Mayor, so we were not discriminating and zeroing just on Councilmembers, that everybody obey the same rules. I lost the vote so I then said I would go ahead and proceed in any event, and my information was that you needed five members of the electorate to petition the Courts. But I was also informed that if there's nothing wrong with the audit, and let's assume we did it on the Mayor or on a member of Council who had a lot of money and a lot of expenditures, and nothing was found wrong, that the five who petitioned have to pay the court costs.

I personally don't have the money but if there are five good citizens out there who would like to pay the costs of the audit, should it be found that there were no errors, that it was a perfectly legal audit, I would ask them to step forward. And that's not really a wish because I think there are people who would do that. Somebody came up with $5000 when we had our Water and Sewer Authority to hire an attorney for us, I don't think Council is aware of it, and paid for that because they believed we should not have a Water and Sewer Authority. The felt very strongly about it and they went out and hired an attorney in the private sector who testified before us and who was opposed to it.

I would like to further take this opportunity, if you will indulge me, to state a case which, for some obscure reason that escapes me, has never hit the media. The comment about Councilmembers spending money in off-year elections. Let's tell it like it is, folks. Mr. Givens, when I first got to Council, informed me that he had done a study, and I thanked him for it, that showed that Councilmembers spend between $5000 and $6000 a year on requests for items such as: This Thursday Mr. Jack Robin, the architect of Renaissance I and II is being honored. There's no way as an elected official I cannot attend that. That comes out of my political fund. When a charitable organization calls my aide and says, "Isn't Michelle supporting this community group?" That's a political contribution. When I am invited to support a charitable organization or a cultural thing in the City by virtue of my office, somebody in the private sector can be asked to support it and say they don't want to do it, but as an elected official we cannot say we won't do it. We have to lend our support.

This is terribly important. There's been so much said in the paper, Mr. Woods, that I think the public needs to understand that every year, every day, and I will be happy to give you copies of the letters that come to our office saying that we are the so and so community group, we support you, we know that you won't let us down, and would you please buy tickets to our bingo, our Monte Carlo night? This money is going to be used for the community good, it's going to be used for supporting the orphans, buying food for those, whatever it is, and as elected officials we must be supportive of the cultural arts and of the community groups endeavors because those are the people who work for us or against us, the community groups in particular.

We don't have the option of saying we don't have the money and I don't think at $33,800, it's a matter of public record what Councilmembers earn, that we can go into our own pockets for $6000 and $7000. My office has spent, in the first three months of this year, probably $3000 and that doesn't include the fact that I went to the Opera Ball and paid $300 out of my own pocket. If I'm going to be criticized for spending $200 to the finest group that has the best record of dispersing money to charities overseas and the group is out of California but solicits all over the United States, then I will be subject and I accept that kind of criticism because while it is true that it may not be helping me politically in the immediate area, I think that Councilmembers must set an example of being charitable and helping children suffering from famine and who are just bones and who don't have the opportunities that we have. When political leaders and people in the community come to me and say, "Michelle, would you please help and make a contribution to this group?", I don't care if they're out of China or California, they have the best track record in this country of giving the money. Their overhead is the least of any other charitable group.

I'm telling this to the public that is listening in on cable and I'm hoping the media will pick this up and be fair. I don't mind you attacking any member of Council and if you're right, let the hatchet fall where it may. When I vote incorrectly and I have done that occasionally because I may not have understood something and I get flack, I deserve what happens to me. But I also think it's important that people understand that we spend money every year, we have fund raisers every year, and what the money is used for. And that has never once come out in the media. Not once.

The Chair:

I haven't seen the letter yet, the City Clerk hasn't gotten the letter yet.

Mrs. Masloff:

One question. It's my understanding from what I've read in the papers that if they find any discrepancy we have the privilege of filing an amended report. Is that so? So that if there's anything wrong you can file, if they find any discrepancies you just file an amended report. That's my understanding.

Mr. DePasquale:

I just want to say for the record, none of my contributors have complained. In fact, in the last couple of weeks, I've been sent contributions of close to $4000.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, according to the Charter, we have the responsibility to legislate and investigate City government. We do that quite often for the Administration, we do that for the Controller; we must also do that for ourselves. What I am suggesting is that if we have been denied with our previous approach and our previous way of requesting that the County Board of Elections investigate, that we proceed with an other procedure.

My floor motion would be that we would be the nine signatures that would request that the Court assign an auditor to audit our expenses and I put that on this floor in the form of a motion and I firmly believe that should be the way we go.

Mr. Pollock seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. Again, would somebody please clarify for me, perhaps the Parliamentarian or someone who is a lawyer, is it not true that what I was told by our Law Department that if indeed we request the audit and nothing is found defective, the cost of the audit must be borne by the persons filing.

Now, if Council will appropriate the funds, I'll vote for it. I have no problem with it, Mr. Wagner and Mr. Pollock, but if I have to pay it out of my own pocket it could be thousands of dollars and I just don't have the money.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think the procedure that was asked for by Council last week is appropriate procedure. If I understand it properly, this Council asked the Election Bureau to come over and do an analysis of our expenditures or an audit from the Election Bureau of our expenditures and that if they find any inappropriate expenditures they would make recommendations to Councilmembers to correct them. If they find anything that they feel is intentionally inappropriate and illegal, then they will refer that to the District Attorney's Office or to the appropriate law enforcement agency.

Michelle Madoff is correct when she states that any five members of the electorate can ask for an audit. She's also correct when she states that if, as Mr. Pollock stated, if there is intentional mistakes in the campaign expenses, then the expense of the audit is borne by the candidate. But if there are no intentional mistakes, then the expense of the audit is going to be borne by the five signatures requesting the audit.

What we're talking about is hundreds and hundreds of dollars. Personally, I don't care. The Press spent 10 hours on my campaign, expenses. My Treasurer spent an additional 16 hours. My own accountant spent another 6 or 7 hours. I spent time on it. But if it's found that there are no intentional mistakes, then the expense, and doing 9 candidates expenses is going to run into thousands of dollars. If there are no intentional mistakes, then that expense has to be borne by those that filed the petition.

I think what this Council asked for last week was the appropriate way to proceed.

Mr. Pollock:

It's my interpretation of the act that if an elected official or candidate's account is audited and the audit of that account reveals that there are no violations and the electors, everyone was accurate, that the electors who sought that audit would pay for it. I think that this is a risk that we as public officials should take. We're the ones who have been accused of having some improprieties. I think that it is incumbent upon ourselves, since no one else is acting upon it, the Election Department was requested and we've been informed that they have refused to act, that because this cloud hangs over this entire body that we should all put up our own funds if that may be to verify that our accounts have been filed accurately. I, for one, will be one of the electors to file a petition requesting that all nine of our accounts be audited.

The Chair:

I've stated this once, and I just asked the City Clerk, I was not informed by the Election Bureau and neither was any member of this Council informed, or the City Clerk, what actions they're going to take. It may have been in the newspaper and I didn't read it but to be very honest with you, I don't take that as Gospel. I think the appropriate thing, we sent a letter and see if we get a letter back.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Woods, your point is well taken but I must inform you that even though they bypassed us they said they're going to do nothing. I think what my colleagues are saying is that there is a cloud hanging over our head and I think that I, for one, welcome an audit. I have one dispersement where I said St. Francis Hospital and I didn't put the address down, I'm sorry. I have no problem with having us all checked to see if indeed we are spending money maybe in ways we shouldn't be spending because, as Sophie Masloff has said, the election law itself is so very unclear and ambiguous, that when we buy a ticket to honor somebody, maybe it isn't considered political but since time immemorial it has been that way. I don't think there has been deliberate intention on my part, I speak for Michelle only, to defraud. But if there has been by other colleagues, I can only speak for myself, a way of taking political money and pocketing it themselves, I mean, that's obviously what we're talking about so let's put it here on the table, I think that we should not operate under that cloud.

What I was trying to do, Mr. Woods, was to say to you that everything was covered except the parameters. When you see a cartoon in the paper, a very funny cartoon, a man having dinner in a restaurant and they say, "How would you like to pay? American Express, Visa, Mastercard or your political fund?", I think the public is entitled to know that we raise money every year, what the money is used for, and I think it was important to get that on the record and again I hope that my colleagues will be fair and say that that's what we do.

I will support my two colleagues in voting to appropriate dollars that would not come out of Michelle Madoff's pocket —

The Chair:

They're going to come out of your pocket.

Michelle Madoff:

No, I'm talking about Council voting to take it out of the funds to show that the elected officials are honest or not honest. I would support that.

The Chair:

Wait a minute. You cannot take public money to audit. No way. Mr. Pollock is talking about —

Mr. Pollock:

Nobody asked that.

The Chair:

She misunderstood you, Mr. Pollock.

Michelle Madoff:

I misunderstood. Would you please clarify that?

The Chair:

You take your own money.

Michelle Madoff:

Alright. May I suggest, Mr. Woods, that we make a plea to the public for those who have the money to come up and pay for the audits? I don't have the money for the audits. So, I would like to amend that motion that we ask the public to come up, private citizens who are concerned, to pay for the audit.

I have the floor; I'd like to finish please. Can I have everybody's attention because I wouldn't want them to miss a pearly word.

The Chair:

Well, Ms. Madoff, if they want to speak when you're talking please feel free to talk because when they were talking you were talking also. Go ahead.

Michelle Madoff:

This is serious now. I am very, very serious. I would like through the media to make a public plea for those who have money who would like to see good government, have our funds checked, to please step forward and create a fund to pay for that audit. I would encourage the electorate to do that. There are people out there who have the money because it could indeed run into many, many thousands of dollars. I don't have it, folks.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. Woods, in regards to what my colleague, Michelle Madoff, has said, and she is so right, maybe it's seven or eight years ago, I'm not quite sure, maybe all of you are familiar or not with Uncle Tom, Mr. Morris, who wrote for the Post Gazette. He looked at my report and he discovered that I bought some suits and I charged them to the campaign. He put me in the headlines, okay, and he also stated that was liable for two years in jail, $50,000 fine, and I don't know what else. He just ran off at the mouth. But on page 26 that same day, there was a perverted legislator who had committed sodomy with a young boy up in a Marriott Hotel. He made page 26; I made page 1 for the suits.

Now, they were told by the Bureau of Elections that those suits were a legal expense because they aided towards my election because I made a nicer appearance. The same if Michelle bought a dress or Sophie or anybody else bought a suit. I'm only telling you it's a legalized expense. Anything that you do within reason to get elected or re-elected is a legalized expense.

It's sort of ridiculous and asinine, I'll say it one more time, for a colleague to keep saying that we should be audited, that we should be investigated. What are they trying to prove? It's over there for anybody who wants to see it at the Bureau of Elections and anything we've done wrong is right over there right now. I defy them to prove that I did anything wrong and I don't know about anybody else in this Council and I'm not going to pay for any audit for anybody to investigate me or to audit me.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think it's a form of grandstanding by some of my colleagues here because Mr. DePasquale is right. —

Mr. DePasquale:

And even now I never received an apology from Mr. Morris or anybody at the Post Gazette.

Mr. O'Malley:

I think this has to be carried one step further. This Council here is talking about the expenditures of funds that were raised. I think the question has to be asked of the candidates of this Council and maybe the Controller and other people how those campaign funds were raised. There's some members of this Council who spent an awful lot of money in last year's election. It has come to my attention that some members of Council borrowed money from the URA at low interest rates. It came to my attention that some members of this Council —

The Chair:

Mr. O'Malley, we are not going to get into personalities —

Mr. O'Malley:

I'm not mentioning any names.

The Chair:

Mr. O'Malley, you're ruled out of order.

Mr. O'Malley:

May I continue?

The Chair:

Not on that subject.

Mr. O'Malley:

What? How campaign funds are acquired by using URA funds for fixing up your home or remortgaging your home? Let's talk about that.

The Chair:

You are out of order, Jim. That's the end of that subject.

Mr. O'Malley:

Do you want some cheap grandstanding here? I'll give you some cheap grandstanding.

Mr. Pollock:

I don't think anyone so far has raised question or exception with anything that any of my colleagues have said so far in so far as there being significant sums of money which have to be spent in off-year elections when one is not a candidate. No one has said one word about that. No one has said one word about people spending money raised legally. Certainly I, for one, would not talk about how much money is spent. But what we're talking about is money that is spent illegally and money that is spent that is not related to getting someone elected. And we're talking about money that is funneled through an expense account to the candidate with no verification of there being a loan to the Committee, with there being no verification of any receipts for that reimbursement to the candidate.

If somebody receives $7000 from his or her expense account and puts that money into his or her own pocket or uses that money for his or her own personal use, then that's like receiving $7000 of tax-free income. It's like receiving an increase of one's salary of about $10-15,000 because you have the use of $7000 without paying taxes on it.

So, I think this is something very serious and not something that should be just laughed over or not followed to the fullest. That is why I join Mr. Wagner's motion that all nine of us be the electors who request audits of all nine of our accounts.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, as I started out I indicated what responsibilities the Charter of this City gives us. It can be broken down into two words: legislate and investigate. That is our responsibility as a body. And if we can't start with ourselves, we cannot proceed beyond that.

There's no doubt in my mind that the public image, and it was mentioned earlier, there is a cloud over the head of this Council. That exists today, it has existed last week, it existed three weeks ago, it will continue to exist three weeks from now unless this Council addresses that issue publicly.

I am not in any way suggesting that anyone and everyone on this Council, in this society, does everything right. We all do things wrong. What's importance in terms of the confidence level of the public and elected officials is that we are open and out front about anything and everything we do. And in order to improve that confidence level, we must address pertinent issue of the day. This is a pertinent issue in the City today and I feel it should be addressed by this Council. It should be dealt with up front, publicly, and in a manner in which all of us can lift the cloud that appears to be over this Council.

Now, the motion made a week ago that was suggested to the Board of Elections, and you're right, Mr. Woods, we have not received a formal request, and maybe this vote should be delayed a week because we have not received in return the formal opinion of the Board of Elections. But, the point that I want to make is that we can't dodge this issue, and I will not dodge the issue. And if I have to pay myself to have myself audited, so be it; I'll pay for it. But I want the public to have confidence in me as an elected official; I want the public to have confidence in this Council as a group of elected officials. That must be addressed, that must be done, and it must be done as soon as possible and I am suggesting that we do it as a unified group as soon as we possibly can.

I will defer to you, as President of Council, if you think we should delay until we find out formally what the opinion of the Board of Elections is on this issue. You're right, I have not seen anything in writing also; it's only what I am reading in the media and maybe the media has been more in tune as to what is happening and they have probably received a formal opinion and we have not.

The Chair:

Well, the reason I said I didn't receive anything, the City Clerk didn't and I doubt if any of you did because some of the media articles that appeared in the Pittsburgh Press were inaccurate, and I know they were inaccurate. Some statements that were made that the reporter reported were inaccurate. And we all know that everything that you read in the paper is not accurate. So, how do we know what that letter is going to say? And that was my original suggestion to you, that before you do anything let's see it in writing from their solicitor, from Mr. Scanlon.

Now we're not going to debate anymore. We're going to call the question or you're going to remove your first and second. That's it.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I would withdraw my motion for one week and ask for a response, a formal response, from the Election Headquarters.

The Chair:

Do you withdraw your second, Mr. Pollock?

Mr. Pollock:

I would just like —

The Chair:

We're not commenting.

Mr. Pollock:

Point of order.

The Chair:

There's no point of order on this subject. The motion has been withdrawn; is your second withdrawn?

Mr. Pollock:

I think you have to realize a point of order.

The Chair:

Is your second withdrawn, Mr. Pollock?

Mr. Pollock:

Did you withdraw your motion, Jack?

Mr. Wagner:

I will along with a formal request for a response.

The Chair:

We are expecting that. That was in the letter, that we wanted a response.

Are you withdrawing your motion, Mr. Wagner?

Mr. Wagner:

Yes.

The Chair:

Are you withdrawing your second, Mr. Pollock?

Mr. Pollock:

You're withdrawing your motion along with the formal request?

Mr. Wagner:

No, I am withdrawing the motion at this time, delaying vote on my motion. I will bring it up one week from now, and in the interim period, ask for a formal response in writing from the Election Bureau.

Mr. Pollock:

Do we have to vote on that?

The Chair:

No.

Are you withdrawing your motion?

Mr. Wagner:

Yes.

The Chair:

Are you withdrawing your second?

Mr. Pollock:

And you're saying you will submit a formal request?

The Chair:

I will do it.

Mr. Pollock:

And we'll get copies of it?

The Chair:

Of course.

Mr. Pollock:

Okay, I'll withdraw my second.

The Chair:

Okay, the issue is dead.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, may I bring up one other issue?

Mr. President, I would just like to formally request with our public hearing tomorrow of which we have many, many speakers, that the appropriate department heads, meaning the URA, the Planning, and the Zoning Board, be in attendance at that public hearing to answer questions.

The Chair:

One other thing, and I will announce it tomorrow when we start the hearing so we all know, we have I think 60 —

Mr. Pollock:

One hundred.

The Chair:

We have 100 speakers so we are going to break for lunch tomorrow.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. Woods, with reference to the hearing tomorrow, while the former President was not one of my favorite people he did ask people to have representation for the group and if you had nothing new to add not to speak. We don't need to hear the same thing over and over and over and over again.

The Chair:

Michelle, I do that but they still have the right to speak.

Michelle Madoff:

But you understand where I'm coming from?

The Chair:

Right.

And on the motion of Mr. Givens

Council adjourned.

Municipal Record

Proceedings of the Council of the City of Pittsburgh

VOL. CXXI Monday, April 21, 1986

No. 16

Municipal Record

ONE-HUNDRED TWENTY-FOURTH COUNCIL

BEN WOODS President
MICHAEL PERRY City Clerk
LINDA M. JOHNSON Asst. City Clerk

Pittsburgh, PA
Monday, April 21, 1986

PRESENT:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. O'Malley
Mr. Givens	Mr. Pollock
Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Wagner
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	(Pres't)

The Meeting was opened by the recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRESENTATIONS

The Chair:

Before our regular order of business we're going to take one resolution. Mrs. Masloff?

Mrs. Masloff:

Would Mary Alice Babusci, Molly Knox, Jean Owens, Martha Friday, Adrienne Goldstein, Valerie Tutokey, and Pat Hansen come forward, please?

Mrs. Masloff presents

No. 699 WHEREAS, thirty-seven million Americans become victims of crime each year in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the citizens of Pittsburgh who become victims of crime often suffer serious financial, physical, and emotional injury; and

WHEREAS, it is fair and just that victims of crime receive assistance and compensation to help lessen the burden of these injuries; and

WHEREAS, in Pittsburgh and elsewhere, both new and well established service programs for crime victims face a threat of having fewer resources as a result of federal deficit-reduction efforts; and

WHEREAS, National Victim Rights Week, April 20-26, 1986, is an appropriate occasion to express the public's gratitude for the vital services these programs perform for victims of crime;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby recognizes the week of April 20-26, 1986 as "VICTIM RIGHTS WEEK" in the City of Pittsburgh and urges all citizens and institutions, public and private, to support the establishment and enforcement of victim's rights in Pittsburgh through participation in state and local activities commemorating those rights and to assist their local victim assistance programs in every appropriate way to continue and expand their mission to help victims of crime.

Mrs. Masloff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mrs. Babusci:

On behalf of the five domestic violence programs, Pittsburgh Action Against Rape and the Center for Victims of Violent Crime, I want to thank City Council for your support over the years and I want to thank you for this resolution today.

I think now more than ever it is important for the public and the private sector to work together on helping victims to overcome the terrible ordeal of violent crime, be it domestic or crime that occurs in the streets.

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

I wonder whether any of my esteemed friends, and I consider you that, you know I've been a supporter forever, had called to your attention as I did within the last half hour the article in the New York Times yesterday about the way women are treated in the courts as witnesses and how women are treated as attorneys. Women are discriminated against as attorneys; there's been sort of a study that proves that that is indeed fact, and that women witnesses are not considered as credible as men witnesses. Of course that plays a major role in what we're trying to accomplish together. I think that would bear some investigation to see what we could do about changing some of that.

Mrs. Babusci:

I think that certainly on the national level that's true but I think that Pittsburgh is distinguished because the conviction rate on rape in '74 was 22 percent; ten years later it is 68 percent. So, we've really come a long way. Communities are beginning to work together.

Michelle Madoff:

We've been leaders thanks to people like yourself being out in the forefront but I just think that all the discrimination against women has not ended and we still have a battle to fight.

The Chair:

Thank you very much.

At this time I'd like to recognize a former Councilmember, Amy Ballinger, who served so well for this City for so many years.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, I have some comments and a motion concerning Bill No. 602.

First of all, I'd like my comments from Wednesday brought forth.

(BEGINNING - MR. POLLOCK'S
REMARKS ON BILL NO. 602 -
WEDNESDAY, 4/16/86)

Mr. Pollock:

When we were at the Mayor's Legislative Agenda Conference on April 7, this legislation was submitted by Director Norton to Chairman Wagner and was not on the agenda conference. When it was passed to us at the table, it had the language that the agreement was to be specifically for Bob Coll, unless I'm mistaken.

Mr. Perry:

That was on a cover letter.

Mr. Pollock:

Right.

Mr. Perry:

Right.

Mr. Pollock:

I would assume that the amendment to the cover letter which omits the name Bob Coll was unintentional, and I would further assume specific consultant who is being offered the contract is still Bob Coll. Well, are we not then wasting our time if Bob Coll doesn't want to enter into a contract with the City of Pittsburgh? And it's my understanding that that is in fact the case, that while he might appreciate the offer, he doesn't want any part of it, and if we approve this legislation, then it seems to me if Bob Coll is the one who was sought for this position and he doesn't want it, then with all due respect, you could go out and fill it with any other person. So, rather than us vote on this legislation that is meant for Bob Coll, I would ask that we hold it until we get testimony from Bob Coll to see if he wants this position rather than allow legislation to be enacted and it can be filled by somebody at any other time who maybe we don't want for that position. So, I would ask the Chairman to hold the legislation until we get a report from Mr. Coll.

MR. GIVENS COMMENTS

MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS

Mr. Pollock:

The last time I looked, in order to have a contract, you have to have two parties. If this person doesn't want to accept it, then we don't have a contract. Now, Mr. Givens has been out of town, and he hasn't spoken to Mr. Coll. Mr. Coll, from my understanding from what he said to me in this hall does not want this agreement, does not want to be a consultant. So, I think before we can pass legislation, we should have Mr. Coll at this table or have a letter submitted from him saying that he would like this position before we go out and try to find somebody to fill it.

(END OF REMARKS)

Mr. Pollock:

Secondly, I would like to place on the record some facts which are extremely relevant to Bill No. 602.

If you will recall, there was discussion concerning Bill No. 602 relative to whether this legislation was designed for one individual, namely Robert Coll, or if it was just legislation to be filled by any qualified individual if, in fact, any other qualified individual could be so identified.

Director Norton gave me his assurance that this legislation was, in fact, only meant for Bob Coll and that if Bob Coll did not accept this contract offer, that the position would not be filled. He gave me that assurance on Wednesday.

Needless to say, I was extremely disheartened and concerned when I saw in the newspaper on Friday that Director Norton stated something directly in contradiction to that and the report in the paper said that if Mr. Coll did not accept this position, that it would be filled by some other individual. Needless to say, there is a conflict in these two statements, if, in fact, the report in the newspaper was accurate and I have no reason to doubt that it was.

My point is that I would hope that before members of this body vote, and I will be making a motion prior to our voting which I hope will be passed, but if, in fact, it is not, I hope that the members of this body will consider this before enacting this legislation and will take serious heed of the fact that if any member who would vote in favor of this, as the majority did on Wednesday, is thinking that this legislation is earmarked only for Bob Coll and so want it to be only for Bob Coll and not for any other individual, the enactment of this legislation does not carry with it that stipulation and that Director Norton, or whoever he may designate to so offer a contract to a consultant, would have a free hand to offer it to any individual and Council is then out of the picture.

So, the question before this body is, today, does Council want to put forth legislation to have a consultant hired at the rate of $26,000 for six months, to any individual and then leave it at that and give Director Norton or whoever a free hand to identify that individual for that consultant contract.

Having said that, I would make a motion to recommit this legislation to Committee for further analysis, discussion, and research to determine if, in fact, only Bob Coll is to be offered this consultant contract and if, in fact, Bob Coll desires this consultant contract and if, in fact, Bob Coll does not want this consultant contract, that this legislation be tabled permanently. Do I have a second for my motion?

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. I was going to make the same kind of comments that my colleague, Mr. Pollock, has made but I was going to take a different tact. This morning, as we all know, a new Police Chief was —

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, if I may —

Michelle Madoff:

I'm on the recommitment. I am on the issue of recommitment.

The Chair:

Gretchen, on a recommittal you can discuss; am I correct?

Parliamentarian:

I it is seconded you can discuss it.

The Chair:

Okay. Ms. Madoff?

Michelle Madoff:

As we all know, this morning a new Chief of Police was appointed and his name, as you know, is Mr. Moore. He is now Superintendent Moore, I believe that's the correct title.

In his opening remarks, he made the comment that he had already talked to people about getting some help. One of the people he talked to about getting help was indeed Superintendent Coll. In most corporations and in most business operations, there is an orderly transition, a period of changing hands on the job and learning what has happened before because Mr. Moore said today himself that he'll have a lot to learn about the new job.

It would seem to me that Bob Coll, having received accolades from us at the last Monday meeting, would certainly be in a position to help in an orderly transfer and help the new Police Chief who is obviously Mr. Moore. Originally, this bill came in with Mr. Coll's name on it and that name was taken off. It would seem to me that the proper way to proceed would be to put Mr. Coll's name back into Bill 602 to hire a consultant. After all, there's no reason why Mr. Coll who is going into the business of consultanting now, into the private sector as a consultant in the field of security, should not be paid for his services in that transition time. As a matter of fact, many corporations, when they hire a new president or a new director will have two people, they pay both of them, the new person coming in while they're learning and the one going out, while they're going on to perhaps another job.

So, I would strongly suggest that we don't keep batting this back and forth and putting it back into Committee and taking the time and just put Mr. Coll's name back in. We vote it up or down. If Mr. Coll doesn't take the job, so be it. If he does, Lord knows, we need the input of the man who we've all applauded and felt he has done an outstanding job.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, my first question would be, and I suspect we could know this from the Parliamentarian, I don't believe it's possible to put a name in this legislation according to our procedure for contracts. Is that correct?

The Chair:

I believe we can do it.

Mr. Wagner:

We can do it?

The Chair:

Yes.

Mr. Wagner:

Okay. The next point I would like to make is that, well first of all, I'd like my comments brought forward from last Wednesday's meeting for the record.

(BEGINNING - MR. WAGNER'S
REMARKS ON BILL NO. 602 -
WEDNESDAY, 4/16/86)

Mr. Wagner:

Councilwoman Madoff, if you will recall, 1st week there was a news release by the Mayor of the Police Chief leaving our City. In that news release, it indicated the individual would be considered for consultant position. And this legislation pertains to two items. It is a consultant to assist in the transition of the office of Chief of Police and the same individual or individuals would assist in the development of the Office of Professional Responsibility which falls under the Assistant Director of Public Safety.

MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS

Mr. Wagner:

I'm objecting to the legislation.

MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS

Mr. Wagner:

This Council has funded at great length millions of extra dollars into the Department of Public Safety to hire new personnel, confident personnel to fill the positions which we have funded. What we are now saying with this legislation is that we want to assist the individuals that are filling those positions in performing their duties in the position during that transitional period.

I personally feel that if we are hiring confident people to fill those positions, they do not need assistance from other individuals to know how to meet the job duties of those positions. Just to reflect a little bit on the consultant contract that we approved for the Bureau of Police to evaluate the Bureau of Police, we are in essence adding onto a consultant contract which this Council approved last year, an additional $26,000 to assist in the Chief of Police Office, and in addition to that, the area of Professional Responsibility. We do not need any more consultants in the Department of Public Safety. What we need to do is to simply move forward in the right direction to address the problems that were brought to our attention when the Public Safety Department was formed.

MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS

DIRECTOR NORTON COMMENTS

MICHELLE MADOFF COMMENTS

Mr. Wagner:

Well, if I may comment. Director, I don't want to get into a disagreement at this table because obviously we have had a few disagreements in the past, and I would rather not talk about this one here at this table. However, I could talk at great length if you want to talk about it, and I totally disagree that the purpose is for assistance in the area of Professional Responsibility because I know only too well what the original letter said that was sent to the President and members of Council. And each member of this Council received that letter. I would appeal to my colleagues that this $26,000 is not needed in the Department of Public Safety.

Director Norton was approved by the Mayor and he was confirmed by this Council. He has hired an Assistant Director. He has appointed a Chief of Police in place of another Chief. Your department is in the process of filling many positions, and this Council has every right to believe that the assignments and positions that you fill will be with confident people.

The taxpayers should not be burdened with an additional $26,000 in money to assist those people. This Council does not hire a consultant when a new member of Council is elected to consult with the Councilman. Other Departments in this City, when we fill new positions that we find, we do not hire consultants to assist those individuals. We hire confident people to fill those positions. The same situation exists in the Department of Public Safety, and I highly recommend not to approve this legislation for that reason.

Members of Council, there was a previous letter. The previous letter was changed at my request to Director Norton. Prior to changing the previous letter, Director Norton and I had a discussion that I would support this legislation if in fact the previous Director wanted this position because I felt that he was very confident. I have had a lengthy discussion with him, and he in no way ever requested or asked or has indicated that he would accept a consultant position with the City of Pittsburgh. For that reason, I am stating quite frankly that I have investigated this to great degrees, and I know the situation. If in fact the legislation is passed and that scenario is correct, which I firmly believe that it is, another person can be chosen as another consultant. Now, we have a consultant right now working, evaluating the Police Bureau in this City. There is no reason that if we need a consultant to evaluate the Police Chief position in the area of Professional Responsibility in which a great portion pertains to police work, that that present consultant on duty that has not yet completed 50 percent of their consultant report cannot address this situation. It is within the realm of the responsibility of that contract that they can evaluate these positions and assist in direction for a person within that position.

We are placing consultant on top of consultant and I am strongly recommending to this Council that the morale of this Police Bureau does not need another consultant, and I have requested an interim report on the consultant that we initiated, this Council approve and voted for, and I approved and voted for. I have yet to receive a report. And while we are talking about another consultant on top of that, I strongly recommend that we do not approve this legislation.

(END OF REMARKS)

Mr. Wagner:

I don't think there is a need to continue to determine or evaluate whether or not we should have a consultant for this purpose and I think it's clear cut. I think this Council should vote on that today, up or down, and the reason being that I firmly believe we don't need consultants for transitional periods for directors, especially due to the fact that we have funded a new department to a great degree with taxpayers' money, with many new positions, to the point where the Safety Director of this City and the Chiefs that report to the Safety Director, have more than adequate help in terms of people working for them to help them in those positions. We hire competent people, we promote competent people; we do that for that reason. And the reason should be that they move into that position and do the job which we feel they're capable of doing.

For that reason, I cannot support holding this legislation at this point.

The Chair:

I'd like to make a suggestion if I can. I know many of us are interested in seeing that Bob Coll gets this. If you would, those of us that want to see him get this contract, I can't make a motion, I wish that you would defeat this motion to recommit and, Ms. Madoff, make a motion to add his name to it after that is defeated, and then we vote on that, then we vote it up or down that way.

Michelle Madoff:

May I make a comment, Mr. President? I think your point is well taken and I would hope that the Councilmembers would heed your thoughts and vote accordingly.

But in response to my colleague, and one of the things that I respect about Councilman Wagner is that we can disagree without being disagreeable and he doesn't fine me, and that is that there is no question that everything he just said, that there is so much money and so many new positions at stake, we're talking about hundreds of thousands of dollars that for us to not insure whatever we can absorb and retain from the good work that Mr. Coll did, to reinforce that financial commitment that we've made, would be foolhardy, that indeed, if we for a pittance of $26,000 and a budget of $180 some million, could get the input of all the years of experience for Mr. Coll to have an orderly transition to know some of the things that have happened so that we can approve upon them or go on from them or for whatever reason that Mr. Coll was not allowed to do what he may have wanted to do or whatever his shortcomings may or may not have been, there were many, many superb things that Mr. Coll did as Chief of Police and we ought to incorporate those things and make it easier for Mr. Moore who stated today that he has a lot to do to learn on his job.

And I might point out, I hire a new administrative assistant, she could be the most brilliant person in the world, and I think she is, but it takes time to learn and you learn by being there and having someone help you. And I think that is exactly the same situation we find ourselves in with Mr. Moore. Anything that we can get from Mr. Coll to help us would be beneficial.

Mr. Pollock:

If what the President said is legal and if we can do that — Are we getting a ruling that we can't do it?

The Chair:

We can do it. Trust me on this one.

Mr. Pollock:

Ben, you can do anything you want in this City, I know that.

I withdraw my motion.

Mr. O'Malley:

I withdraw my second.

Michelle Madoff:

My motion is to amend the bill to include that this consulting job would go only to former Superintendent of Police, Robert Coll.

Mr. Pollock seconded the motion.

Mr. Grabowski:

Discussion on the motion. If you will recall, the rules of Council state that no amendments shall be honored unless they're in writing, and I believe that's 24 hours before the meeting.

Mr. DePasquale:

Steve's right.

The Chair:

Wait a minute. We argued about the amendment and I'll tell you what it was, it was on the pay raise because we had to balance the budget. We are not talking about balancing the budget here.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, the rules do not state whether it's a budgetary item or not. The rules are specific; all legislation.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, if I can respond, I think we're at the same place as we were before which says that it must be in writing before the vote on the bill. So, if we can recess --

The Chair:

No, I'm not going to do that this time.

Steve, I honor your request.

Mr. Perry, I'm sure that this Council can vote on a cover letter requesting that Mr. Coll be the consultant.

Mr. Perry:

Is that cover letter or legislation?

The Chair:

The cover letter.

Mr. Perry:

The cover letter won't mean anything.

The Chair:

I understand that.

Michelle Madoff:

I want it to mean something.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, before this thing becomes moot, let's check and find out, is Mr. Coll on pension or has he applied for pension?

The Chair:

No, not yet.

Mr. DePasquale:

Well, I think you're all aware that you cannot receive a pension from the City of Pittsburgh and still work for the City of Pittsburgh. In effect, a consultant will be working for the City of Pittsburgh, for the Police Department.

Now we say that Mr. Coll has resigned and did not apply for his pension and now is coming back on the City payroll as a consultant.

The Chair:

He hasn't applied for his pension, that I know of.

Mr. DePasquale:

Okay, then he can come back as a consultant. But if he's going to be drawing his pension, he cannot be a consultant to the City of Pittsburgh any more than I could have come back and kept my pension as a City Councilman.

The Chair:

Right.

Michelle Madoff:

If there is a problem in amending the bill because we're going to stand on protocol which has always been used against the one person on this Council who is female and is outspoken, and that's when I make a motion to amend a bill it, "Oh no, we have to have it in writing for 24 hours". I've never understood that. In all the years we've been here, not to keep us handling the same bill 90 times over and over again, someone makes a motion to amend, we second it, we're dealing with the business of the day and that's the way it should be. And if that is not the way it should be then I will challenge the Chair on the issue of having to put this particular item in motion, that we get enough people to overrule then we can go ahead and put it on. So, if there is a will to put it on today we can do that. It's a matter, if necessary, of challenging the Chair and getting the majority of the votes to say let's put it on today. That is the legal way around that issue.

Mr. Pollock:

I really don't think that the future of the civilized world as we know it today hinges on whether we vote on this today or next Monday and I'd be content to allow it to wait for another week until we can have the proper legislation before us, as Mr. Grabowski pointed out, as far as the rules go.

But I do want to clear something up because I think that Mr. DePasquale did represent something inaccurately. I think that Mr. Coll, by becoming a consultant, does not go on the City payroll and that he would be permitted to receive his pension and still be a consultant to the City. I think the preclusion about receiving a pension and being on the City payroll is different than somebody receiving a pension and being a contractor to or for the City.

The Chair:

To simplify this, and please, let's do this because we keep saying the person's name over and over again, make a motion again to recommit --

Michelle Madoff:

I have a motion on the floor and I have a second.

The Chair:

No. I had to rule that out of order and just so we go by Council rules we all agreed that we're going to try to stick by the rules of Council as written and I agree with you but, like you said, one week isn't going to hurt anything and we can amend it at Wednesday's meeting. Let's recommit it until Wednesday afternoon's meeting.

Okay, it's been moved and seconded.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, what is the motion on the floor?

The Chair:

To recommit.

Mr. Wagner:

I haven't heard that motion.

The Chair:

Mr. Pollock did and Mr. O'Malley seconded it.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, as Chairman of Public Safety, I strongly suggest that we vote on this piece of legislation. This piece of legislation is a consultant contract. I don't believe with or without an amendment we should be determining whether or not this piece of legislation is necessary. It should be willing to stand purely on its own; if we need a consultant, we move forward to obtain a consultant. For that reason, I would like to see this Council move forward on it today.

As you all are aware, we have a $90,000 consultant contract in existence right now within the Police Bureau. Do we want another consultant contract within the Police Bureau? We funded that Bureau to the tune of over a million dollars in terms of additional staffing with the creation of a new Public Safety Department. Now, how far are we going to go?

I also attended the news conference this morning with the promotion of Mr. Bill Moore to Police Chief. Mr. Moore clearly indicated at the news conference that he will rely on his staff in the transitional period. True, he did indicate that he spoke with Mr. Coll also but he indicated that he would rely on his staff, his immediate inspectors, commanders, assistant chiefs, etc.

I would like to see us, Mr. President, vote on this piece of legislation today. If someone wants to make an amendment, there's no reason in the world why that amendment cannot be put in writing in a matter of two or three minutes and vote the legislation up or down.

The Chair:

Well, I'd like to vote on it also, Mr. Wagner. We're not going to put it in writing five minutes before we're going to vote on that subject. We're going to go by Council rules which says 24 hours and that's what we're going to do.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. President, I think what has happened here today has very clearly focused the need to really go back to why Council rules were the way they were for many, many years in certain procedures where they function very well.

If a body is going to handle something over and over and over again, we're ineffective, we're inefficient. I don't want to go into detail, but just to quickly summarize, if you've got an additional million dollars invested in the Police Department, all the more reason why we should have the best person give us the consulting in an orderly transition period.

We have different rules for different people on this Council. I think the rules should be what is expedient in being good government. If we have a bill where you need a small amendment, we're going back to an original bill where something was taken out and put back in, it shouldn't be because of the person making the motion, it should be because it's the orderly way to do business. I don't think it's efficient and orderly and I agree with my colleague, Mr. Wagner, to go back and put this bill of again and again and again because we're not running a tight ship or an efficient ship doing that. We shouldn't have to deal with this bill again; there are other important things we have to deal with. I, for one, would support, if necessary, doing it in the orderly fashion of challenging, because you're in the bind of having to say alright, if it's 24 hours, it's 24 hours, and I can challenge, that's legal, the Chair, and we vote to override in this instance and we go with the bill today and we resolve it. Or we sit in our own meetings and change that rule that we can amend bills under certain conditions.

The Chair:

But the thing is, we all knew who we wanted there, it was discussed, we should have changed it at the table.

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't change it.

The Chair:

No one did, that's my problem. We all assumed and I would still go on that assumption, I didn't read the article.

There's a motion on the floor and it has been seconded. On recommittal, I would suggest, like Mr. Wagner, that we don't recommit it, only he wants it voted down after that. I want it voted up because I know, I'm pretty sure and I think we all know who is going to get that contract.

Roll call vote on the recommittal for one week.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Grabowski	Mr. O'Malley
Michelle Madoff	Mr. Pollock

AYES 4

NOES 5

VOTING NO:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. Wagner
Mr. Givens	Mr. Woods
Mrs. Masloff	(Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

The Chair:

Now, on the bill as written, roll call vote.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you want to explain that, please, to everybody?

The Chair:

If you're in favor, you're voting on the bill, if you're in favor of this consultant bill you vote yes.

Mr. Pollock:

I have a comment on the bill itself.

The Chair:

I'm sorry, Mr. Pollock. I thought that you did that in the beginning, you had your remarks brought forward and then —

Mr. Pollock:

Well all my remarks were preparatory to my — I want to make sure, this is very important and I hope I can have my colleagues' attention, that if we vote this legislation up without any amendments, we're losing the right to designate who receives it, it's going to be out of our hands who can be this consultant, and a $26,000 contract is floating around for someone else to fill with whoever he or she may choose to fill it. Think about that when you vote.

The Chair:

I ask my colleagues to vote aye for this bill because I think we all know who is going to get that contract. Call the roll.

Mr. DePasquale:

Aren't we under discussion?

The Chair:

We're finished. We're ready to vote now.

Mr. DePasquale:

We haven't had discussion yet.

The Chair:

Yes we did. Do you want to add something else?

Mr. DePasquale:

I want to discuss it, yes. I want to know why some of my colleagues continue to say that the only way we'll pass this bill is if Coll gets the money. What are we giving him, some kind of bonus or reward or what? Why does it have to be Coll or else the bill doesn't sail? I'm a little curious. What's it all about? Can anybody tell me? Why do we have to give Coll $26,000 and nobody else gets it?

Michelle Madoff:

I think I speak for those of us, like yourself, Mr. Woods, who feel that there would be advantages, and I'm repeating myself, obviously; being female, sometimes members of Council who are not of the same sex don't listen. My understanding is that Mr. Coll has been a very good director who is gone but he has valuable information that would be very helpful to Mr. Moore in an orderly transition. This happens in all businesses, it happens in government. Frequently two people are paid for the same job during the transition period, and we have, as my colleagues pointed out, millions of dollars invested in this new department, we have a $90,000 study. To do anything to make this a better department, to get whatever knowledge we can get from Mr. Coll for a mere $26,000 in a $180 million budget would be a good investment.

I for one would like to put the name of Mr. Coll back in. It was taken out against my wishes when we discussed it earlier. I lost that battle. Now we're all willing, those of us who want the bill to go through, to put it in but because it wasn't done in 24 hours in writing, we're talking about recommitment and recommitment has failed, which means, indeed, if we vote for it that bill can be filled by anyone but I'm being told privately that indeed this won't go to anyone but Mr. Coll.

So, those of us who want to support the transition and the knowledge that has been acquired over all these years, from Mr. Coll to Mr. Moore, are in the awkward position of having to devote a pig in a poke, as Mr. Pollock has said, to vote for anybody with this contract floating around without being specific. We can do what Mr. Wagner said and we can attach a bill that it is our wish and it is our understanding that it would be Mr.

Coll but that still means there's a $26,000 contract floating around that can go to anyone and I don't know how to vote on that. I have a real problem with it and I suggest we recommit it then for one week.

Mr. Pollock:

The vote failed on the recommitment.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Woods, may I have one final comment? Mr. Woods and members of Council, as I indicated at last Wednesday's meeting, I have researched this particular piece of legislation, not only within the Police Bureau but also with the individual former chief that has been suggested as being the recipient of the contract. It is to my knowledge that this individual does not want this contract, has never sought this contract.

This piece of legislation was introduced at the Mayor's Conference Meeting. It was unnecessary, due to a duplication of consultant contracts that exist that I have indicated earlier.

The bottom line here is, we're dealing with $26,000 of taxpayer money. Should we spend $26,000 of taxpayers' money if there's no need to spend it? That's the issue. That and that alone. And, as I've indicated earlier, for various reasons, we do not need to spend $26,000 in taxpayer money.

Many of you have talked about consultant contracts in the past, the fact that we need some and we don't need some. And I would simply ask all of you to look at it in that vein. Do we need this consultant contract? And if we do, vote for it; if we don't, vote against it. I strongly recommend we vote against it.

Michelle Madoff:

Point of order. Clarification. If we vote for this bill, there's no guarantee that it will go to Mr. Coll, is that correct?

The Chair:

That's exactly right.

Michelle Madoff:

And if we don't vote for it we're keeping him from getting it because I believe that we should use —

The Chair:

What is your point?

Michelle Madoff:

We're in a catch-22, that's my point. How do you vote?

The Chair:

That's not a point of order. Call the role.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like my remarks brought up from last Wednesday.

(BEGINNING - MR. GIVENS' REMARKS ON BILL NO. 602 - WEDNESDAY, 4/16/86)

Mr. Givens:

Mr. Chairman, I have been very close to the Public Safety issue since I have been a Councilman for some 11 years, and the Public Safety Department has been created, and I really want to see that thing move forward as quickly as possible right now.

The fact that we are talking about the Office of Professional Responsibility, that is a key administrative position and one that should be filled by a police officer. All of us in the City always criticize the Director in some cases when we don't hire from within or somebody from the City of Pittsburgh. We're talking about pre-employment in an area that has been dear to all of our hearts, on the quality of the police officers the City of Pittsburgh is going to hire. We need to get into the 20th Century, and we need to get a model and start acting on that model so we can get the finest police officers this City population can get us.

On the other side, we are talking about evaluation and investigation, another extremely sensitive area to the Director here and who is going to handle that particular internal procedure. If anything, John Norton came in here and was hit with a brand new organization that probably would take several years in any department to build up to that speed. I'm asking that it be built up as quickly as possible.

I'm supporting this bill, 602. In fact, we are getting the best expertise that we can get; a person who on his own accord, apparently, has retired from the City of Pittsburgh after serving this City for many, many years. And now, exactly the type of work that someone in his capacity wants to do. He wants to be a consultant for and he wants to be able to do certain things. And this is a very sensitive area, and I think if it is Bob Coll who in fact gets this particular contract, I think he's going to be able to move into that and bring this office up to speed in the most expeditious way possible. For that reason, and that reason only, I want to vote for this particular thing and please don't delay it because it's going to delay the professionalism of the City of Pittsburgh.

(END OF REMARKS)

Mr. O'Malley moved to adopt the resolution.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

The Chair:

I have an appointment of a member to a committee, Mr. Pollock to the Neighborhood Fund Board.

Mr. Pollock:

Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

While we're on that subject, when you're appointed to a board, aren't you sworn in to the board at some point?

The Chair:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

I was appointed to the Leasing Authority and I understand you're supposed to be sworn in to that committee. My term runs out at the end of December of this year and since it's been eight years and this is my first appointment I would urge the President of this Council to find out whether that was really an appointment or whether that was just some kind of magic trick.

I also would like to ask another question. In the event that Mr. Coll, his services obviously are going to be needed as soon as Mr. Moore takes over which is imminently, like today, say within a month, if that contract is not in the works to Mr. Coll, can we then line item that or somehow — What can we do to transfer that money to another account? Could it be transferred to another account for something else?

The Chair:

No.

Michelle Madoff:

It has to sit there all year unused, become surplus. Who is to say that that money can't be requisitioned for some other needy service? We do it all the time, we transfer money from one account to another.

The Chair:

It's a bill now that's there for two years or to the end of this reorganization period.

Michelle Madoff:

But don't we ever take money out of one account to another, when it isn't being used?

The Chair:

Many times.

Michelle Madoff:

Well then it's very conceivable that if that contract is not filled by Superintendent Coll some other need that might be in the City, that we could say yes, take it from that money and indeed that would take care of the problem. You just told me yes, you can do it and now you're saying no, you can't do it.

The Chair:

We have no choice; that's Public Safety money. That's where that's coming from.

Michelle Madoff:

But I'm sure there are other needs in the Public Safety Department that could use the money.

The Chair:

Right and they're budgeted that money. If they find another use for it and don't want to use it, I'm sure they could use it.

Michelle Madoff:

Fine. So the Public Safety Director, if that job is not filled by Superintendent Coll, has the right to come back to this Council and say, we have a need for racks on the bridges to save people or a canoe, and he can say let's take the money of that account, because it wasn't Coll, it wasn't used, we want to transfer that money out. I just wanted to get that clear.

Mr. Wagner:

Just to follow up on my colleague, I think she's bringing up an excellent point. If the dollars are not used by the City, I believe we could amend the legislation and apply it to another type of consultant in the area of the Police Bureau and Public Safety. One of the areas we could possibly do that is the Narcotics Task Force, to address the number one crime problem in this City. So, I think it's important that we stay on top of that and see if the dollars are utilized.

Mr. Pollock:

On another subject, and it's come up earlier today and several times in the past. I would ask the President to appoint, if he and the other members of this body are so willing, a sub-committee to examine our Council rules to see if there might be amendments to them. It's been over eight years since they've been adopted. I would think that Mr. Grabowski should definitely be on that committee, I would love to serve on that committee, and I think it's time that we do look at them to see which ones are outdated, which ones can be changed and so forth.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

The Chair:

I'll look into it.

Michelle Madoff:

You'll look into what? Whether you're going to appoint a committee?

The Chair:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Could we do that as an official motion and have Council move on it?

The Chair:

The Chair has the prerogative to appoint committees.

Mr. Pollock:

I would like to be on that committee if you do.

Michelle Madoff:

And I would just like to make recommendations.

Mr. DePasquale moved to approve the Minutes of Monday, March 10, 1986.

Mr. O'Malley seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. DePasquale

Council adjourned.

Discussion on the amendment.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. President, last week and over the weekend I received a lot of calls from people in that Homewood area where the rezoning is planned and I haven't received one where they want that amendment or any change in the original plan. It strikes me that we're trying to favor just one party down there and to do that we're going to delete two blocks from this whole program and it just doesn't make any sense.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. President, we held a public hearing before Council on this matter. The overwhelming testimony was in favor of the zone change as it is before Council without the amendment. The Planning Commission approved it, all of the neighborhood groups in the area support it without the amendment, we have citizen input, we have professional input from the City Planning Department, we have objective, impartial arbitrators, the Planning Commission deciding in favor of it. I don't see any reason to change this legislation in any way. To go along with Mr. Grabowski's amendment would leave two entire blocks industrial, yet they themselves have residences in them.

So, what Mr. Grabowski is attempting to do is to protect a business from being a non-conforming use by being in a residential area and instead he's having residences be in a non-conforming use in an industrial area. So either way he goes, he's going to have non-conforming uses, non-conforming structures. Why go against the legislation? I mean, everybody wants it. It doesn't make any sense to go against it.

Mr. Grabowski:

In response to Councilman DePasquale and Councilman Pollock's comments, in fact, the intent of this amendment is to protect that one business. Right now that whole area is zoned industrial. The man that started operating that business went in there with the understanding that he could conduct business in an industrial zone. We're talking about a 20 block area, approximately, that's industrial and we're planning on changing it to townhouses. I see no real problem in excluding the two blocks necessary to protect this man who went in there with the idea that he could conduct business in an industrial zone and let him continue to do business in that same fashion.

Michelle Madoff:

I have a letter in front of me signed by Mr. Pellegrini that says it's illegal. "Since the rezoning is not in accord with the Comprehensive Master Plan and constitutes such a small parcel that it, indeed, would constitute spot zoning, it is, accordingly, illegal." So, we can't do it anyway.

Mr. Givens:

Mr. President, I think we have great concern here that has to ramify not just in this particular project but in any development throughout the whole

City of Pittsburgh and the fact we're saying here that this was, as Steve indicated, an industrial zoning area for many, many years. And I appreciate what the people want in that particular area now and that's townhouses. But you have to protect the people who are in there right today.

Now, the Legal Department made an indication to us and said it's spot zoning. I don't consider two blocks spot zoning. I appreciate that people don't want to have a townhouse and have something industrial come up in their midst right there. This past Wednesday I had asked the Legal Department to research this and see what they can come up with, if there's anything that we could put in there to protect this individual that if anything happens to his business, any catastrophe that would destroy his particular establishment, that he could rebuild that and have the ability to expand, as he so indicated, and the neighbors all agreed to it, up to 25 percent, to expand in that particular area and I think that's reasonable.

I'd ask the Council right here that if we do this in this particular zoning, that there's other areas of the City and especially out in the Strip District that are industrial complexes right now with residences in them and everything else. I think the Administration, I know the Mayor would like to see some type of new homes go in there, maybe condominiums. But the thing is, we still have an industrial base in the City, there's still people working there.

I would ask all my colleagues to pay attention to what Steve is trying to say and by protecting this businessperson, I think we have to be keenly aware of that. It's a very serious thing that if anything would happen to that person's business that he could not then continue. And this two block area out of 22 blocks, to me, is not spot zoning. Someplace within a block or a half of a block or a quarter of a block, that this City is designed by blocks and by blocks we should zone, generally speaking. I can show you the zoning map of the City of Pittsburgh and show you where the back alleyway from one end to another of a block is zoned completely different from what another one is. And for having two blocks out there or at least his property, his property plus 25 percent expansion, possible expansion, should be something that we should protect. Any business person, not just this one, any business person.

Mr. Grabowski:

In response to Michelle's comment, what is proposed in my amendment is not considered spot zoning. The Law Department referred to spot zoning in general as being illegal and, in fact, it is. But the amendment that I have proposed is not spot zoning and it is legal.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, Councilman Grabowski is correct. This is not spot zoning as his amendment is proposed. Spot zoning would be the rezoning of that parcel of property itself, meaning where this business owner is. I think it's important to note here that this individual does have rights and will continue to have rights, even without this amendment.

As was indicated in a letter to all of us, dated April 25, 1986, from our Solicitor, the first sentence in the second paragraph reads as follows: "Chapter 991 of the Zoning Code sets forth the rights of a non-conforming owner to expand and to rebuild after a catastrophic accident." If this particular individual wants to rebuild as a result of a fire, they can rebuild, even though that property is not zoned for the purpose of which they're there now. They can also expand, as was indicated to us in another letter, up to 25 percent, an agreement that Councilman Pollock has, I believe, with the business owner and the City of Pittsburgh.

The question here is whether or not, in the rezoning of two blocks of property and not rezoning two blocks of property, in addition to this one building owner, are there other developers that want to come in there and build businesses? If so, I have not heard of any. But the people of Homewoods, the people want to attract townhouses in this particular area. That's part of an overall master plan for a 20 block area along the Martin Luther King Busway. I think it's a very practical plan; I think housing is what we need in this City. Housing will improve the tax base which we all know needs strengthening.

As I indicated at last Wednesday's meeting, and I would like my comments brought forward for the record, two weeks ago I was at an annual town meeting in Homewood-Brushton of which there were approximately 150 participants. All individuals wanted to see this property rezoned, in total, rezoned. Not one individual there was against this rezoning.

Therefore, I would strongly suggest that we move forward with the rezoning, the total rezoning of the 20 acres, and continue to grant this individual the rights that they have and they will have in the future.

(BEGINNING - MR. WAGNER'S
REMARKS ON BILL NO. 316 -
WEDNESDAY, 4/23/86)

Mr. Wagner:

I think the avenue that Councilman Pollock is pursuing is the correct one to obtain a reassurance from Mr. Mistick and also reassurance from this Council that this individual will not be left alone if he is put in an undesirable situation with a fire in his building, or whatever, and if there is a need for expansion of his building that we do make every effort if it can't be done at that location to do it at another location that's suitable to his needs, that is not a burden on that individual economically.

I think the clear thing to remember here is that the neighborhood in far majority supports this zoning change. I was at a town meeting last week in Homewood, of which about 150 people attended, and I can tell you clearly, you know, the average person on the street wants this rezoned, and I think if we simply take into consideration this individual's needs and be prepared to deal with them when the occasion arises and move forward on the rezoning, I think that's the right way to go.

(END OF REMARKS)

Mr. Pollock:

With all due respect to Mr. Grabowski, I know what his intent is and I respect that, but I must ask him rhetorically before he votes if he is not avoiding one evil by gaining another. All the residences that will now be non-conforming uses and non-conforming structures, will be subject to the same evil that he's trying to avoid. If one of these home-owners have their houses burned down or if one of these home-owners desire to expand their property, they'll have the same problem that he's trying to avoid with the business.

I have a commitment from the Zoning Board Administrator, Mr. Joe Mistick, that he would indeed entertain a motion, an application from the Triangle Poster gentleman to expand beyond 25 percent. We have a commitment in writing from the neighbors and the neighborhood groups that they would support an expansion beyond 25 percent. Mr. Mistick told me that when the neighbors and the neighborhood groups support it, that it generally goes through without any problems.

Similarly, the issue as to the destruction beyond 50 percent, there are serious questions about the constitutionality and legality of that, and indeed there are currently cases challenging that, and that is, if a person has a structure in a non-conforming use and it burns down, does that person have to go before anybody to get permission to rebuild. I, myself, think that he or she would not have to do that and should not be required to do that. So, again, you have the problem with that, which I don't think is a real problem at all.

You have the Planning Commission supporting this, the Planning Department supporting this, the neighborhood groups, the neighbors, the public testimony. You know, I have to wonder, what do all these people have to do to get this Council to vote? Do they have to stand on their head on Grant Street or picket with signs? What do we want? This is absolutely ridiculous.

Michelle Madoff:

I concur with Mr. Wagner and with Mr. Pollock, and I think one avenue has been overlooked. We have an Urban Redevelopment Department, there's a Relocation Department, there's funds available. If a company is expanding 25 percent or more, obviously they're bringing in new employees; there's money available to help them. That person might even want to relocate because it might be an incentive for them to do so. There's also abatements on new buildings, improvements that are made. We should not penalize people that are trying to upgrade their community and go to townhouses. I agree. Let's call the vote.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. Givens	Mr. Woods
Mr. Grabowski	(Pres't)

AYES 3	NOES 5

VOTING NO:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. Pollock

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Mr. Givens:

I'd like the letters that have been sent to the various Councilpeople to be made a part of the record.

Dear Mr. President and Members:

You have requested an opinion as to whether exempting the Triangle Poster Company property from the proposed rezoning would constitute spot zoning.

In Pollock v. Zoning Board of Adjustment, et al., 20 Pa. Commonwealth Ct. 641 (1975), the court stated:

"Generally speaking, spot zoning is the arbitrary and unreasonable classification and rezoning of a small parcel of land. This small parcel of land is usually set apart or carved out of a surrounding or a large neighboring tract, with no reasonable justification for the differential zoning. Cleaver v. Board of Adjustment, 414 Pa. 367, 379, 200 A.2d 408, 415 (1964). A municipality, however, may rezone a small piece of property for a use different from that of surrounding uses if such use is in accord with the comprehensive plan and reasonable use in the area. Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church v. City Council of Harrisburg, 2 Pa. Commonwealth Ct. 222, 278 A.2d 372 (1971)."

Since the property rezoning is not in accord with the Comprehensive Master Plan and constitutes such a small parcel that it, indeed, would constitute spot zoning, it is, accordingly, illegal.

Very truly yours,

D.R. Pellegrini
City Solicitor

Honorable President and Members
City Council
City of Pittsburgh

Dear Mr. President and Members:

You have requested an opinion as to whether there is a mechanism for Council to safeguard the future interests of Triangle Poster Company which is going to be rezoned to R-2T, Townhouse Residence District.

Chapter 991 of the Zoning Code sets forth the rights of a non-conforming owner to expand and to rebuild after a catastrophe. Other than giving more rights in general to non-conforming uses, which are not favored by the law, there is no practical way for Council to single out Triangle Poster Company for any special privilege to expand or rebuild that is not available to all non-conforming owners.

Very truly yours,

D.R. Pellegrini
City Solicitor

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chair:

At this time I must leave, and Mr. Givens, President Pro tem, will take over.

Mrs. Masloff:

The following gentlemen have given much of themselves in time and effort to further Little League Baseball. I would ask them to come forward for this resolution. Attorney Bill Conway, George Petnuch, Richard Reagan, John McCrone, and Joe Natoli, all City of Pittsburgh leaders in a Little League Baseball movement.

Mrs. Masloff presents

No. 749 WHEREAS, a crisis exists in Little League Baseball and other amateur sports programs in the Pittsburgh area and throughout Pennsylvania in which increasing numbers of adult volunteers are being subject to frivolous liability and litigation; and,

WHEREAS, if we do not provide protection from such nuisance suits, we risk losing volunteers, ruining the various athletic programs, and denying our children the benefits of organized, competitive sports; and,

WHEREAS, the Pennsylvania House of Representatives recently passed House Bill 1625 which seeks to lessen these frivolous law suits by establishing an accepted standard of negligence common to all non profit associations sponsoring sports programs; and,

WHEREAS, the Senate of Pennsylvania will soon consider this bill on its legislative agenda and the vote could well decide the future of amateur sports programs for the young people of our Commonwealth;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby urges the Senate of Pennsylvania to pass Bill 1625 to protect amateur sports programs throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Masloff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Conway:

Thank you, Sophie. I'm Bill Conway, the facilitator of this coalition and I'm representing several Northside athletic associations and also one in Greenfield.

What this legislation will do is provide protection for some of our neighborhood volunteers who spend their time and effort in our Little League, soccer, football and softball programs. We know how important those amateur sports programs are for the youth of our City neighborhoods. I'm pleased that Council has decided to take the initiative to support protection for our neighborhood volunteers who are so vital to those sports programs.

I again would like to highlight some of the people who are here today. I really appreciate them coming. Joe Natoli from the Morningside Baseball Association; Richard Reagan from the 31st Ward, Lincoln Place Youth Athletic Association; George Petnuch from the 10th Ward Baseball Association up in Upper Lawrenceville; and also Johnny McCrone from the 9th Ward Little League Baseball in Lawrenceville. I appreciate them coming today and would like to afford them the opportunity to say something to Council.

Mr. Natoli:

I guess I'm the oldest one here. In the Morningside area, I know some of the guys in this room know this, I've been involved with athletics for the last 45 years, Little League for the last 34 years. We're probably one of the oldest Little Leagues in the City, next to Greenfield. Of course, John McCrone from Lawrenceville, Petnuch from the Lower 10th Ward, we've been brothers in Little League, baseball, amateur sports for years. Without the volunteers, and we don't have the volunteers that we used to have, and the volunteers you get now, with all these lawsuits coming up, it sort of scares people away.

There's no way that anybody can finance this kind of a program. These programs save an awful lot in the City of Pittsburgh, or whatever borough they're from. The City of Pittsburgh, Department of Parks and Recreation, could in no way handle the Little League programs in our City, or they couldn't handle it as well as these volunteers are doing right now.

It's very important and we are pretty much in a shocked attitude about this thing that we have to go to Legislators in Harrisburg and now it's supposed to go to the Senate now. I'm sure we will win on this thing but can you imagine if we don't win what would happen? The volunteers would walk out and from then on you'd have to pay people, you'd have to insure them in other respects outside of liability insurance. The programs would be in deep jeopardy.

We appreciate the fact that this program has been started and I would say these fellows here are probably the oldtimers of the Little League Baseball Program and they know and it's very important to us and an office such as Council here would be a big step for us to get your support in Harrisburg. It's very, very important that this happens. I know because, like I said before, after doing it for many years you meet many people, you lose many people with ages and the kids graduating, but you're not going to get that influx anymore if we have this kind of a liability looking at our people.

I thank you very much for hearing us out today. Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me. How do you pay the insurance now?

Mr. Natoli:

Right now, for instance, in our league we pay liability insurance, our own monies, and we have insurance on our players, managers, concession workers. This is for injury to the person. That's the only kind of insurance. And then liability insurance is if a kid breaks a window down the street or something, the ball goes over the fence.

Michelle Madoff:

But you have that money? The community chips in to pay that insurance?

Mr. Natoli:

When the kids raise their money in Little League initially that money goes into insurance first and that's how we're protected.

Michelle Madoff:

There's some insurance but the cost is going out of sight and what you're looking for is some protection. I thought we ought to understand what we're voting on.

Mr. Natoli:

You can read about us all over the country especially in departments — I know over in the county the concessioners cannot keep up with the insurance. Something has to be done. But these are kids and without volunteers, forget it. You know yourself, the best support you can get are from volunteers.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Thank you very much.

Mr. Pollock:

Would Mr. Henninger please step forward? This is a real joy to read.

Mr. Pollock presents

No. 750 WHEREAS, Bayer AG, the West German parent company of Mobay Chemical Corporation has announced that its seven United States units will operate under a holding company, Bayer USA, Inc.; and

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Pittsburgh is delighted that Bayer AG has chosen Pittsburgh as its headquarters for Bayer USA; and

WHEREAS, Bayer USA, with its 25,000 employees and $4 billion in sales, ranks among the 200 largest corporations in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh has the third most corporate headquarters for Fortune 500 firms of all the cities in the nation, and Bayer USA will be joining 15 other such corporations based in Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, Bayer USA's decision was a result of the knowledge of Pittsburgh its Chief Executive Officer, Dr. Konrad M. Weis, gained through his years here as Chief Executive Officer of Mobay Chemical, and because of the quality of life and relatively low cost of living in Pittsburgh; and

WHEREAS, Bayer USA's decision reaffirms Pittsburgh's position as an important headquarters city and indicates that Pittsburgh is a liveable city for businesses as well as people; and

WHEREAS, it is earnestly hoped that our City will also attract some Bayer USA subsidiaries to locate here; and

WHEREAS, the Mayor, the City Council, and the residents of Pittsburgh warmly welcome Bayer USA to our City and offer any assistance the company may need in making its transition an easy and enjoyable one.

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the month of May shall be known as "Bayer USA Month" in the City of Pittsburgh so that the company will know how very happy and proud the people of Pittsburgh are to have Bayer USA join its family.

Mr. Pollock moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Pollock:

Michelle was going to introduce similar legislation on this so when I'm finished she might like to say a few words as well and maybe come up here if she likes.

I just want to say that all of us in Pittsburgh and all of us in Western Pennsylvania have live through many defeats lately and a lot of things that have made us very sad, the Union Switch and Signal battle, the Dorothy Six and a lot of mills closing, so that when it comes time to have a victory I think that that should get as much publicity as some of the failures have. And this truly is a great victory. A company of this magnitude, a corporation with this number of employees and this amount of billions of dollars of sales locating here because of Pittsburgh, not just because it's convenient but because of what Pittsburgh is, is truly a great success story.

Mobay Chemical, located out by the Airport, it's a very low-profile company but it should be known that Mobay was the largest headquartered company in the United States that is headquartered outside the nation. So, the Mobay in Pittsburgh was the largest foreign held corporation located in the United States. And now we're going to have the parent company, Bayer USA, here and it says a great deal about our area.

So, we're going to try and get this as much publicized as possible so that people know about Pittsburgh more and so we can get more of these companies to locate here and, more than that, we're going to do all we can to help Bayer in its transition here and then once its here to make its existence here as enjoyable and as profitable and as rewarding as possible.

I think the only other thing I want to say before turning it over to Michelle and anybody else is that the spelling for the parent company is B-a-y-e-r and I know that the European German pronunciation is "Buyer", but I think you people better get used to being called "Bayer" because, as the residents of North Versailles will tell you, you can forget about having European pronunciations around here.

With that, I'll turn it over to Michelle, if she wants to say anything, or join me up here.

Michelle Madoff:

I had just asked the City Clerk to prepare the same resolution and I'm just delighted that two minds think alike and he did a superb job. I welcome you; we're happy you're staying. Expand quickly, we need the jobs.

Mr. Pollock:

Mr. Henninger is the Vice President of Financial Services for the Mobay Corporation.

Mr. Wagner:

I would just like to ask Mr. Henninger, in evaluating Pittsburgh, what were our strenghts and what were our weaknesses and overall what was the bottom line as to why you chose Pittsburgh?

Mr. Henninger:

Well, Mobay which is one of the seven corporations of Bayer USA has been headquartered here in the Pittsburgh community for over 30 years. I personally have been connected with the company for 23 of those 30 years. So, over that period of time, Pittsburgh did not have to sell itself. We have learned to find out that Pittsburgh is, in fact, the number one City.

Mr. Wagner:

And will you be located in the same complex with Mobay or another complex?

Mr. Henninger:

No, Bayer USA will be headquartered here in the City of Pittsburgh, in one of the buildings in the City, but Mobay will still be headquartered on Parkway West.

Mr. Wagner:

Okay. Welcome.

Mr. Henninger:

Thank you.

On behalf of Bayer USA and its Chief Executive Officer, Dr. Conrad Weis, I'd like to thank the members of City Council for this proclamation in naming the month of May as Bayer USA Month.

As I mentioned before, one of the seven companies, Mobay, has been headquartered in the Pittsburgh community for over 30 years so trying to convince the more than 1000 employees of Mobay that the City of Pittsburgh is in fact the number one City was relatively easy. Therefore, Bayer USA has been very proud in naming Pittsburgh its number one City by locating our headquarters here.

We thank the members of City Council once again and I give you my personal comments that we will try to be a very good corporate citizen in the future.

The Chair, Pro tem:

I'd just like to make one comment if I might on behalf of the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, which this resolution does include, including myself. When I looked in the business section of our local newspaper and saw that your company was in fact going to locate here, I was very, very happy because we have seen within the City of Pittsburgh, as has been indicated, some companies, corporate companies, who have left here.

I only ask one thing of you and that is to bring as many of your satellite companies where we can get some workers here and not just have the corporate headquarters but bring some of your satellite companies in here and put some of our people to work because they would dearly appreciate. Thank you very much.

Mr. Pollock:

Another one I have to read is also a great victory for the City. In fact, it's only the second time its ever happened, and that is regarding the awarding of a Pulitzer Prize.

Mr. Pollock presents

No. 751 WHEREAS, the Pulitzer Prize has been awarded for outstanding work in journalism, literature, music, history, fiction, and poetry since 1917; and

WHEREAS, the Pulitzer Prize is the highest honor awarded to journalists for exceptional reporting; and

WHEREAS, Mary Pat Flaherty and Andrew Schneider of The Pittsburgh Press received the specialized reporting award for their series of articles on the scientific and ethical questions raised by the nation's organ transplantation program; and

WHEREAS, their ten month investigation chronicled in their series of articles entitled "The Challenge of a Miracle: Selling the Gift" resulted in changes being made in the field of organ transplantation; and

WHEREAS, this award marks only the second time a Pittsburgh newspaper has captured the Pulitzer Prize, thereby bringing national attention to the City of Pittsburgh and to the exceptional quality of reporting of our City's journalists.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh recognizes and congratulates Mary Pat Flaherty, Andrew Schneider, and The Pittsburgh Press for their exceptional work in the field of journalism and for bringing to light the problems in our nation's transplantation program.

Mr. Pollock moved to adopt the resolution.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Pollock:

We'll probably get another one next year for John Schmitz' series of articles on Council's expense reports.

Michelle Madoff:

I have a floor motion. Can I read it? It's a floor motion making available funds for the hiring of a photographer to take photographs of City problems at any time, day or night, so that these problems can be best brought to the attention of department heads and other Councilmembers.

The Chair, Pro tem:

We have a motion; do we have a second?

Michelle Madoff:

We don't have anybody here. How are we having a floor motion without anybody here? I think I'm going to keep it a week until somebody is here.

The Chair, Pro tem:

We'll go with your motion, Michelle. Does anybody second the motion?

Mr. Pollock:

I'll second the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Now discussion. We have an item that you brought up, Mr. Givens, and I think you were right on target. The $76,000 that's being paid, we voted on it today, on a claim and you talked about the streets being in repair. I was out one day at the Larimer Avenue Bridge and I complained that there was a problem there and we were told that the youngsters were throwing boulders over the bridge and they put up a sort of mesh fence and that didn't take care of it, they said the kids were crawling over it. But what it turned out to be was water seeping through the bridge, breaking off, and large boulders falling and there was no net underneath the bridge. We've since amended the law to take care -- all bridges must have nets.

But if you recall, those boulders actually fell through two businesses, costing the City a great deal of money. We're self insured. One was a small industrial business and the other was a residence.

We then had a subsequent episode where the boulders fell through a car on election day, went through the glass, blinded the driver, and put all the lights out in that area on election day and nobody could vote in the area. I had the chauffeur at that time, and I don't recall who it was, put some of the boulders in the trunk and I brought them to Council on a little wagon. I did not call television because I was not doing it as a publicity stunt. I was severely chastised by the media who thought what a great visual.

I think it would be very beneficial for this Council, when there are issues happening, to actually see photographs. For example, McArde Roadway took seven years, it was down half the time, it was close some of the time completely, and we brought it in $100,000 under budget two months ahead of time seven years later. You drive up McArde Roadway, we've had one very serious accident, one of the employees of the Shiloh Restaurant went down one evening when it was cold out and skidded on some ice and was unconscious. It appears that the problem was not the City's but PennDOT putting water over the hill because of some problem. We have some problem with the design, we have water there today, moisture on the ground. If it was cold out we'd have a problem. The sidewalks were never repaired. There's a problem with the retaining wall for the incline, and no one going up that Roadway would ever believe that the millions of dollars that were spent on it were spent and it was never done.

Either we adjourn meetings and we go out and take trips around the City on a bus and we show some of these things happening or let's get some photographs. Our office wanted to show some photographs of the garbage in the living room of the City of Pittsburgh, which is the Downtown area, the first thing people see. At 5:30 or 6:00 it's neatly piled up Downtown. By 8, 10, 11 o'clock it's strewn by either the rats getting into it from the sewers or the street people going through the garbage. The City looks like a garbage dump. I needed some pictures of that. We got pictures early of the garbage neatly piled showing that the garbage was indeed outside in the Downtown area but not what happens to it.

There's a boulder sitting up on McArdle right now that's come off the side of the wall that could hurt a car and do some serious damage. There are trucks going by that don't have tarpaulins, trucks where the license plates are completely covered. We don't have any photographs.

If members of Council had access, as we should, to a photographer, I'm not a photographer, to take some photos at not unreasonable rates and not unreasonable times and we make arrangements with the photographer they're generally available.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Just two things very quickly. One, we do have cameras at our disposal —

Michelle Madoff:

No we don't.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Yes we do.

Michelle Madoff:

I checked this.

The Chair, Pro tem:

I talked with our Finance Department. They do have —

Michelle Madoff:

We tried to get them. We had to go out and pay for our own.

The Chair, Pro tem:

No, they have film and I have used them myself —

Michelle Madoff:

To go out and take pictures?

The Chair, Pro tem:

Yes we have them.

Michelle Madoff:

To go out and take pictures for you?

The Chair, Pro tem:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you mean I can have them come in in the evening and have them take pictures in the camera?

The Chair, Pro tem:

Well, I mean anyone can operate the cameras and I think within the Public Safety Department of the City of Pittsburgh, you'll find in there that we do have an audio visual which includes camera, picture taking, etc., and that's a capability that the Mayor can use.

Mr. Pollock:

Just so we know, Mr. Givens, are you saying that if tonight at 11:00 I wanted to have a photograph taken of something there's a number I can call to have a photographer from the City go out and take a picture of something?

The Chair, Pro tem:

I don't know what the status of the Public Safety Department is in that particular department but it's a very interesting area I think we should explore into.

Mr. Pollock:

I support what Michelle is talking about. I think that photographs can be a great benefit to this Council whether it be at a public hearing or just a Committee Meeting or even for a final vote.

My question for Michelle would be, who would be in charge of determining? Can any one of the nine of us request a photograph be taken and request that the photographer go out? Or would it require a vote of Council to determine whether or not --

The Chair, Pro tem:

No, I think, as I indicated, we have our own equipment back there. It's not the best in the world. If you want some very specialized equipment, I think the City is going to have, if they don't already have, some very qualified people with the state of the art equipment on board to give whatever type of photography that you might need. I don't know if that's in position right now. I know this Council has budgeted for it over some 18 months ago and it should be on hand or very shortly should be on hand.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, Pro tem, and members of Council, I think the only way it's possible to accomplish this is for Council either to do it with a staff person or with a consultant. We do not have jurisdiction, obviously, over the Administrative branch of government and could not command to have an individual from the Administration to go out and take photos of whatever.

I would just possibly suggest to Councilwoman Madoff that maybe the way to go about this would be for the City Clerk to assign a particular individual that responsibility to have a quality 35mm camera and maybe send that individual to a one or two day school on the operation of that camera and have that individual available to all nine Councilmembers.

The Chair, Pro tem:

I think we can do that, possibly. But here again, we have I think an excellent capability --

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, Mr. President. We checked with the Public Safety Department and they turned us down.

The Chair, Pro tem:

When was this?

Michelle Madoff:

We took pictures of the litter in the Downtown area on two occasions. We went to the Public Safety Director and we were turned down.

And there's another dimension that we've all forgotten. What happens when one member of Council inadvertently walks into another department and sees checks not deposited for six months, not getting interest, and they want a photograph of it? Do you think we're going to go to the Administration to get a photograph of checks sitting around, they're going to let us in? I was told if I went in I was to be physically evicted, to lift me up and take me out. Fortunately, that problem has been corrected. But I would suggest that we ought not to mix our business with the Administration's business.

If I want some photographs taken because somebody calls me, as they did today, to tell me about a problem that exists in the City and I don't believe it, I want to see that photograph. I would like to have somebody go and take a picture of that situation and bring it back to the people who are going to vote on it, the colleagues.

I think for example, we've maligned, and I've probably been part of the people, Mr. Grabowski on his newsletter when indeed one of the things he warned us against was subsidence. I think if he'd had some photographs that were taken and given to us early on before his newsletter that we may have been more supportive.

I think that photography would be very helpful and it should not be the Administration knowing exactly what we're doing. I need some pictures taken right now and I don't want anybody to know what I'm doing.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Michelle, if I might make a suggestion, I think we're talking now about an in-house solution. May I recommend that we hold this until our Monday monthly meeting --

Michelle Madoff:

I need them right away. I need those pictures tomorrow.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Well, I think the motion you have before us is to hire someone to do this. Suggestions have been made by Mr. Wagner that we can maybe assign somebody in-house to do it. I don't know if we need a vote on this particular motion --

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like a vote on it.

Mr. Pollock:

Before you vote on it let me just ask one question. Could not Michelle go out tomorrow and retain a photographer and then after having the photographs submit the bill to Council to be paid as an expense?

The Chair, Pro tem:

I'll ask the Chief Clerk to answer that.

Mr. Perry:

Yes.

Michelle Madoff:

We have a $75 bill for you.

Mr. Pollock:

It's a City expense.

Michelle Madoff:

I have a $75 bill for you. We'll line up our own photographer, we'll give you the bill, you reimburse us. That would be just ducky.

Mr. Perry:

It will be on Wednesday's agenda for payment, Council will vote on it.

Michelle Madoff:

The thing that I'm concerned about is that I don't want to end up with another $250 fine at the Election Board saying that I took that out of my political fund. I think that if I'm a good Councilperson I'm a politician which is political and I'm not taking that out of my private fund, it does indeed come out of my political fund.

I want to take some pictures of the garbage strewn all over the street because Mary Beth Salley came here and said, "I had a baby" and then she said, "We just formed the laws". Well, all I know is that this Council has been giving money to that committee for years and years and years and I don't want to see the Downtown looking like a garbage dump.

Mr. Grabowski:

I think what our City Clerk indicated is correct, that we can, any one of us, go out and hire a photographer. But I would submit that that could become pretty costly and perhaps an alternative would be to maybe buy two or three cameras for the office. As Michelle indicated, some of these things that some of us may be working on may be confidential in nature and rather than have one individual from the City Clerk's Office assigned to that function let Michelle go out and take the picture or myself or anyone that would like to.

The Chair, Pro tem:

We have those cameras presently back in our Finance Department. They're fairly decent cameras. I've used them for a number of years. The film is back there.

I think Michelle's problem goes a little bit deeper. She's asking for someone 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, if she receives a call about a condition, that she might not have to go personally there but call somebody up and ask them to go out and take some pictures of that particular area. That could get costly depending upon how aggressively the Councilpeople would use it.

Mr. Grabowski:

With respect to that, we all have administrative assistants and I know I've called on mine to go out in the evenings or put time in above and beyond what she normally does. If I wanted to take some photographs of a particular problem and I couldn't do it myself, I'm sure that my assistant would be willing to do that.

Michelle Madoff:

We're talking about it becoming costly. It won't be as costly as $76,000. I think it would be cost effective if we bring some of those problems to the attention of Council and I don't have a problem with having a person hired for all of Council keeping confidentiality. The person wouldn't have their job long if they went out and said they were doing work for one as opposed to the other. The chauffeurs keep confidentiality, I find the Clerk's Office keeps confidentiality. I don't have a problem with hiring a photographer, even part-time. We don't need a full-time photographer, pay them by the hour. We go through Mike Perry, we have a photographer available, we ask Mike to get in touch with him, say I need him at 8 o'clock at night, I need him to go at 10 in the morning, 3 in the afternoon, have a person available and, as you pointed out, some of the streets you'd like to have photographed. You don't want to send your aide out. Maybe it's not safe at night or maybe you've got something else, your aide is working on another project. Let's have somebody who can take some photographs for us. It's a lot cheaper, a lot less costly than the damage that's done.

Mrs. Masloff:

Are you suggesting that we hire somebody?

Michelle Madoff:

I'm suggesting that Mike find some photographers for us, that we go to him like we would to a chauffeur, but they're on a consultant basis so we have no benefits, nothing. We have somebody who can do photography, we go to Mike and say, "Mike, can you get me a photographer for 10 o'clock tomorrow?", or the woman calls me and I say, "This is what I want, would you please go get the pictures taken?" Then I'd bring them to Council and show you what I've got. I may go out at 11 o'clock at night. The independent photographers will work at strange hours.

That's my motion. That we have somebody assigned by Mike, hired as a consultant to Council, to be able to do photography for us as needed. We may find that we use it very seldom; we may find we get 10 or 20 hours a year. I don't think we're talking about a large sum of money.

Mrs. Masloff:

What I don't understand is that if Mike has cameras, he says he has cameras —

Mr. Perry:

I have one right now.

Mrs. Masloff:

Well you buy another camera; how much could that cost? Then, periodically, when you want to take a picture, you can send anybody from the staff out.

Michelle Madoff:

Do you know somebody on the staff you can send out to take a picture? That's fine with me.

Excuse me, Sophie, we have a problem. At 3 o'clock in the morning when there's a water break and nobody shows up and the water is pouring, I'd love to have a cameraman standing there taking a picture of the leak and three days later the leak not repaired. I think we need a photographer to help us make our case.

I would like to be specific about my motion. Sophie raise an issue so we'll put it to rest, that Mike has a couple of cameras or we have an available photographer and they usually have their own cameras, that we hire by the hour, they work for any member of Council that would like some photographs taken of cracked streets, of whatever we think is important, that would save the taxpayers money by seeing that the problems are corrected.

The Chair, Pro tem:

I think that's within the realm of all Councilpeople and we have a code account that monies can be expended. The Chief Clerk has so indicated that we can do that. For that reason, I don't think there needs to be any requirement for a vote on this particular motion.

Michelle Madoff:

I would like to have a photographer for Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday. I have something I want photographed. Three things I want photographed: a street at night, the boulder on McArdle, and I've got another goody.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. Chairman, I believe there's a motion on the floor and a second. We have to vote on it.

The Chair, Pro tem:

Well, I think it was so indicated that it can be handled in-house, we have that capability, and we don't have to actually have a motion.

Mr. Wagner:

I believe according to Robert's Rules those motions must be retracted in order for us not to vote on them.

The Chair, Pro tem:

You're absolutely right, Jack. I thought I could solve that very quickly. If not, there was a motion, it was seconded. Will the persons who made the motion and seconded the motion please withdraw their motions?

Michelle Madoff:

I'm willing to give it a shot for a week to see if I can get my photographs. If I can't, I'll be back with my motion.

Mr. Pollock:

Are you withdrawing your motion?

Michelle Madoff:

Yes.

Mr. Pollock:

I'll withdraw my second.

Mr. Grabowski moved to excuse Mr. O'Malley for absence from the meeting.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. Grabowski

Council adjourned.

The Chair:

If I can explain this, we had a public hearing on this and the Director of Engineering and Construction, we met with the people, the Chairmen, and they decided to rebuild this bridge rather than tear it down and that's why it's coming with a negative recommendation.

Michelle Madoff:

Clarification. Would you give me that again? They want to rebuild it instead of taking it down? You can't rebuild it unless you take it down.

The Chair:

They're going to rehab it.

Michelle Madoff:

They're going to rehab it but they're not going to rebuild it. How will the numbers change?

The Chair:

There's no numbers on it.

Michelle Madoff:

Excuse me, I don't think you understand. There's $48,000 — Is that for a new bridge?

The Chair:

That was to tear it down, I'm sorry. I think for another $10,000 or $20,000 they can rebuild it.

Michelle Madoff:

So, in other words, the amount would go up —

The Chair:

We don't know that until they come in.

Michelle Madoff:

I have a comment on that. I understand that there was an interim letter, and I haven't signed it yet, circulated by Mr. Pollock as recommended by myself at the time that the group wanting the pool on the hill —

Mr. Pollock:

Wouldn't that be under New Business?

Michelle Madoff:

I want to put the money to it.

The Chair:

Michelle, that's altogether different. It's a different project.

Michelle Madoff:

Whoa, whoa.

The Chair:

No whoa, it's an altogether different project. We are talking about Bill 414 and that's what we're discussing at this moment.

Michelle Madoff:

Mr. Chairman, if it is your pleasure I'll wait until the end of the meeting and recommend that the monies saved here be used towards that —

The Chair:

There's no money going to be saved here. It's going to cost more money than the $48,000.

Michelle Madoff:

I thought it was going to cost $12,000.

The Chair:

It could cost $12,000 or $20,000 more.

WHEREAS, Pittsburgh City Council recognizes the important contributions working women make to their places and communities; and,

WHEREAS, it is necessary to increase public awareness of their contributions and the concerns they face;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby recognize May 4-10, 1986, as "Working Women's Awareness Week," in the City of Pittsburgh, and urges all citizens, employers and community leaders to: (1) recognize the contributions of its working women, through special events and activities during the week, and (2) assist in developing programs in the City of Pittsburgh to better meet the changing needs and concerns of our working women.

Mrs. Masloff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Ms. Tillow:

I'd like to thank the Councilmembers for passing this resolution. We would love to have you join us on Wednesday, May 7, where we will be in Mellon Square distributing yellow roses and pushing for the passage of the Parental and Disability Act on a federal basis to provide for the right for women throughout our country and we certainly hope that this is a beginning of the Council looking at ways we can solve the problems, the inequities in earning power between men and women, the problems of inadequate child care, in Pittsburgh and nationally, and all the other kinds of things that we've got to work for to finally reach equality and justice in our society. Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

I think its all good and well to have a week to recognize the problems and I hope that, as you say, maybe something will start to happen but we've all been waiting a very long time. I don't know that a recognition week is going to make those who don't care any more interested in recognizing the problems.

One of the things that I'd like to see happen that would be meaningful or effective would be to get a bill through the City immediately, as soon as possible, and I'm having somebody prepare something for us, is a flexible benefits bill so a woman working for the City who doesn't need to have duplication of medical services, meaning Blue Cross, Blue Shield, Major Medical, because her husband carries it -- my former aide's husband had one of the best plans in the world but she took it here, it was mandatory -- to stop the duplication of mandatory benefits that don't give you any benefit but you're paying for it, and perhaps have something like a day-care center right in the place where you work.

Those are the kind of things we have to do and set by example to do something rather than declaring a week, but that's nice too.

The Chair:

Thank you ver much.

Mr. Wagner presents

No. 786 WHEREAS, Pittsburgh's reputation as a growing center for road racing in the United States has been established with events such as the Great Race, numerous 10 kilometer neighborhood races, and the upcoming May 18th Pittsburgh Marathon; and,

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held last week on Tuesday, April 29th, at which several doctors, health specialists, and road racing coordinators testified that the 10:30 A.M. starting time for the Marathon creates a serious health hazard for the hundreds of participants who will be forced to run in the afternoon heat;

and,

WHEREAS, the average temperature for May in Pittsburgh increases more than 20 degrees from morning to afternoon, thus increasing the health risks to the runners and, should the weather be unseasonably warm on that day, an even greater potential exists for fatalities; and,

WHEREAS, an 8:00 A.M. starting time would enable more runners to complete the marathon in the cooler morning hours and thus substantially lessen the health risks posed by finishing the course in the heat of the day;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby recommends and urges Pittsburgh Marathon, Inc. to change the starting time of the Pittsburgh Marathon from 10:30 A.M. to 8:00 A.M. in the interests of the health of the runners.

Mr. Wagner moved to adopt the resolution.

Michelle Madoff seconded the motion.

Mr. Wagner:

Discussion. Mr. President and members of Council, this resolution is an outgrowth of our public hearing this past week. As you all know, we had, I think, an excellent public hearing where we had excellent testimony from both sides pertaining to the Pittsburgh Marathon in particular and also road races in general in the City of Pittsburgh.

Several people that testified indicated, and one was a doctor, that we are facing a severe potential health hazard by having a marathon start at such a late time, 10:30 a.m., during the month of May. As a result of that testimony and others that spoke, some of which are race coordinators, I did a little research to determine if that does, in fact, present a health hazard to the runners on that day, with a 26 mile race. The more information that I have found indicates that we, as a City, are jeopardizing ourselves, I think, with a fine event by starting it at a late point in time.

I did some research on temperatures; I called a meteorologist, a well-known local meteorologist, Joe DiNardo. He stated to me what the average temperatures in mid-May would be and he indicated that on rare occasions we have hit the 90's in mid-May. If that, in fact, were to occur on the day of the Marathon, we could have many serious accidents with those runners and could possibly have fatalities.

Last year there were slightly more than 2000 runners in the Marathon. We treated in the field along the race 240 runners. At the end of the race we treated 360 runners. Last year the weather conditions were ideal for running. They were cool, the humidity was down. It started at 10:00, a half hour earlier than is proposed for this year.

What I am saying is that unless we take safety and consider that to be the number one criteria for this race, we as a City are jeopardizing, I think, a fine event.

Just to give you an example of the difference in temperature, and this is the information provided to me by Mr. DiNardo, no matter what the temperature is that day, let's just say, use an arbitrary figure that it's 50 degrees Fahrenheit, at 8:00 in the morning. It is 10 degrees hotter at 10:30. If it's 60 degrees at 8:00 in the morning, it will be approximately 10 degrees hotter at 10:30. That same ratio of temperature will follow throughout the hours of the day.

So, if you have a marathon race that can be run by the fastest runners in approximately 2 hours and 10 minutes and by the slowest runners probably anywhere from 5 to 6-1/2 hours, what you're saying is that if the race begins at 10:30 a.m. in the morning, the average runner will probably finish about 2:30. The fastest runner will finish about 12:30 and the slowest runner about 4:30. You are in the heat of the day. Not only that, as you know, when you run your body becomes more fatigued. The longer you run, the more fatigued your body becomes and the hotter the day is getting. So, consequently, by moving the start time to an earlier start time, you reduce the potential of health hazards and injuries in the race.

We have a 6 mile race, a 10 kilometer race, the Great Race. We start that race at 9:00 a.m. in the morning. Here we have a 26 mile race we're starting at 10:30.

All this resolution is doing is simply suggesting and requesting, and it's a wish, it's a wish of Council, that the Pittsburgh Marathon Incorporated and the Administration reconsider the start time of this race and move it up from 10:30 to 8:00 a.m. It can be done, it's possible. Notices can be sent out to the people and the people that would be most pleased would be the runners.

For that reason I am requesting your support for this resolution.

Mrs. Masloff:

Mr. President, it's my understanding from the testimony that we heard that day, they told us that they specifically couldn't start earlier because they couldn't get the volunteers out that early along the line that they needed. It was also my understanding, from what the doctors said, that that was safe. The doctors that testified said that a 10:30 start was safe. They've been nine months in negotiations in coming to this conclusion, the runners, the clergy, the doctors all agreed that this was alright and the reason they didn't start at 8:30 was that they couldn't get people out along the road who volunteered to help. At least that's my understanding of it and that's why they came to the 10:30 time, unless I'm mistaken.

Mr. Grabowski:

I intend to vote against this resolution primarily based on the facts that Sophie just stated. The reason that this race is starting at 10:30 is because there were several months of negotiations with all principles involved and this was the best time derived. And for Council just to merely pass this resolution and say, "Hey, all that work and effort that you people put into this is going to be ignored", I think is inconsiderate of us and I don't think that we should be passing this resolution.

Mr. DePasquale:

As I stated at the meeting, I suffered heat prostration, actually it was on the island of Guadalcanal about 40 some years ago. We had a 20 mile hike with a full pack, what have you, and a high sun, as Bob Prince used to say, and after about an hour or an hour and a half we were dropping like flies.

I certainly agree with Councilman Wagner that if that race starts at 10:30, there's going to be some fatalities or near fatalities if it's a warm day, and the chance is very good it's going to be a warm day.

Mr. Givens:

I think most of the leaders that were in opposition to the race being on Sunday was the fact that it was disturbing the church services. Eight o'clock is ever worse than 10:30 because most services are in the morning hours, primarily between 8 and 12 o'clock, really between 8 and 11 o'clock, getting out at 12. So, by having it at 8 o'clock, we're going to be really inconveniencing the people both coming and leaving most of the church services within the City of Pittsburgh.

The second point is that there's been a lot of advertisement that has gone out on this race. Posters have been printed, material has been distributed. For us at this late hour, only two weeks from the race, coming up and saying that we want to change the hour, I think, is going to cause a tremendous amount of confusion.

The Chair:

Let me just add something, Jack. It is a wish of Council, we have no authority whatsoever, and there has been negotiations. The way I understand it also is that television is involved and it would be very difficult to change now. But it's a wish of Council, that's all it is.

Mr. Wagner:

I'd like to add in response to some of my colleagues' responses, I believe that the official position taken by the Administration to not have road races for 50 weeks out of 52 during the year is in response to the church community and is, in fact, addressing those concerns.

This concern here is an outgrowth of that hearing and I know I heard the physician say at that hearing that we are jeopardizing the health of the runners by starting at a late time. I believe that if it's the help or the people working in the race, it's just a matter of them getting out there two hours earlier, and I don't think there's a problem in doing that.

Material that has been distributed, if there's 2500 runners, it's a matter of sending out 2500 notices changing the time, and I think that can be corrected. However, I do think the important point here is that the number one issue in this race has to be safety and safety to the runners is what must be paramount and with a late start time, to me, it is not the paramount issue. By moving it up we tremendously reduce the potential of accidents and I think that should be the intent. If in fact we had serious accidents, and we were lucky last year not to have it with 600 people out of 2500 treated, if in fact we had a serious accident, I can think of nothing that would be more embarrassing to all of us with this race. I hope we don't, even if it starts naturally at 10:30 in the morning, but if we approach a day that has an 85 or 90 degree temperature with a runner out there running and not knowing when to stop running, we potentially could have that type of accident and I think for that reason it's important for us as a Council to send a message that we would like to see an early start time.

The Chair:

Jack, would you consider amending this to the year of 1987? We're not going to do anything this year, you know that, I know that; it's set. But I think if you amend it to the year of 1987 you'd probably have a lot more support here and they'd go back and rethink their positions, everyone would rethink their positions. It's just a suggestion.

Mr. Wagner:

Councilman Woods, in 1985 it was 10:00. In 1986, it's 10:30. In 1987 it may be 11:00, I don't know. I'm concerned about this year and I would like to have input, obviously, to next year also. I think by passing this resolution, at the very least, even if it did not have an impact this year, even if the Pittsburgh Marathon Incorporated did not change the time and the Administration didn't change the time, they would know that next year we wanted the time changed.

The Chair:

That's why I was suggesting making it '87.

Michelle Madoff:

It seems to me, if memory serves me well, that these races are run in other cities where the temperature is even hotter, and, while I would like to support my colleague who, I think, his intentions are very well taken, he's concerned first and foremost about the health of the people and that's the people he represents and it's very commendable, the problem really is one of responsibility for oneself. If anybody here were running in a race and I know that — Do I still owe you money for riding the bicycle? Did I pay you?

The Chair:

No, you paid.

Michelle Madoff:

I paid? Okay. When Mr. Woods undertook to bicycle for a charitable cause and he got people to support him, he had to stop when he knew that his health couldn't handle any more, and I think anyone running in a race has to take that responsibility for themselves.

And while I agree that it would probably be more desirable to run when it's cooler, you have no guarantee that the same people running when it's cooler aren't going to be running past the time when it's hot anyway and should be dropping out and not making it an ego situation when their own health is involved. One must take responsibility for oneself and I agree with my colleague, Mr. Woods, it's after the fact. There's nothing we can change at this point and I think the input should be for next year and perhaps something with the Committee to see that they instill in the runners the sense of protecting their own well being for their loved one, not only for themselves.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes:

Mr. DePasquale	Mr. Wagner
Mr. Pollock

AYES 3	NOES 5
--------	--------

VOTING NO:

Mr. Givens	Mrs. Masloff
Mr. Grabowski	Mr. Woods
Michelle Madoff	(Pres't)

And a majority of the votes of Council not being in the affirmative, the motion was defeated.

Michelle Madoff:

On another couple of items, Mr. Chairman, it has never been my style to pretend something isn't happening and to try to sweep something under the rug and since I'm going to be an issue today I would like to address it very briefly.

I understand the Law Department, unbeknownst to me, sent down the claim for my broken arm that took place here in Council. I just want to report in addition to what is here and listed in the letter as to my out of pocket expenses. Attorneys have asked me why I didn't ask for more or go back with a counter offer. I had asked for forty based on out of pocket expenses and on the fact that I will probably have some arthritic problems. Dislocations, unlike breaks, are never the same; they just never heal. I have limited use of my arm; I cannot put my arm behind my back. The public media, newspaper, were here the following day when Brother Richard brought me in and said, "Did we make it better?" In other words, "We were very remiss and hopefully we've corrected the problem." There was no guardrail up when the camera was up. Fortunately, my accident wasn't even more severe; it could have been someone else and it could have been a very large claim against the City.

One item that's not in here, I believe, I just scanned it, is that I did have someone — The reason I was able to go to work immediately was that I hired someone to look after me. She was with me constantly, cut my food, dressed me, bathed me, drive for me. But I also had to change my car. It has a rack and pinion steering and I can't park it, I still don't park very well on the left side of the street so anybody who goes out and sees the car that is never parked right, it's mine if it's on the left side; the right side I do better.

Basically, the $15,000 takes in almost out of pocket expenses, it was about $12,000 out of pocket and the rest is in case I have to go back to a doctor and I have, since I put in the claim, been to therapy at Montefiore on an emergency basis. My record at Montefiore can be checked and I might point out that Marv Fein was my attorney when I was in an accident many years ago where I injured my neck and this arm directly impacts on my neck.

I think the public ought to know the reason I'm settling as low as I'm settling is that I don't want to go to court. I don't want the taxpayers to pay more than just my cost. If it ends up where I have to pay a lot more and I have problems with arthritic or other problems, so be it. But I think I'm taking what I consider a fair and equitable and very considerate role and since that's going to come up I thought I ought to address it.

If anybody would like to talk on that subject fine but I've got another subject.

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, just one comment. I think in light of the testimony that Michelle just gave, you should take it easy on the fines in the future that you impose on her.

Mr. DePasquale:

That reminds me, can I still sue the Marine Corps?

Mr. Pollock:

Can I ask that the testimony that Michelle just gave now be carried over to Wednesday so that we don't have to go through that again on Wednesday?

Michelle Madoff:

New subject. Mr. President, you had to leave, I believe you had a meeting, when we were discussing the photographer and I believe Mr. Givens was running the meeting. I'm not sure; correct me if I'm wrong. We discussed having a photographer and we battled that, we discussed it back and forth whether we should hire one photographer, whether we should use the photographers that work for the Cable in the City.

My understanding is that I'm to submit my last bill for $75 for a prior photographer we hired and that those bills would be paid out of "consulting fees" we use for attorneys or consultants or whatever, that are available to all of Council. I'd like clarification but I want to show you some pictures if I may because there are two other subjects that I wish to address and they address the photographs.

The Chair:

Here's what we're going to do. We're going to have our regular monthly meeting of Council in the Conference Room —

Michelle Madoff:

When is that?

The Chair:

As soon as we get this meeting over with.

Michelle Madoff:

Alright but then I'll go on with the issue. I would like to share with my colleagues, if you will quickly pass these pictures along, two subject. The first one is on garbage.

We went out and we hired the photographer and he took some pictures

Downtown and I must tell you that it is still early in the evening. We had Mary Beth Salley sit here and say, "The problem is that I had a baby and we've got these laws on the books and there's no enforcement." I would like to ask my colleagues on a rotating basis whether we would each take turns, because we really care about keeping our City clean, of going down to the magistrate's court when these hearings are being held — I will personally go to one or two and I'd like the others to do the same — to reinforce that we really care about what's going on in the City.

I didn't bring the article but I picked up an article this morning about the Schenley Park Oval. It's a pigsty. This is the Downtown part of our City, it's referred to as the living room of our City and Mr. Woods, what happens is when my aide went out to take the photographs, she went out about 5:30 or 6:00 and they were neatly piled. I went back because I had to go to a citizen meeting and I didn't get back until 11:30 at night and I drove around the streets and the garbage was strewn all over the place like a hurricane had hit and the street people were going through the garbage and I saw rats running across the street across from that building down there, what is it, it's like a little mall, a theater mall. Not the Warner but the Warner also had garbage in front of it about a block up.

It's really a terrible problem and I think those pictures save a lot of us the trouble of having to go out.

Mr. Pollock:

Where did you get pictures of my apartment?

Michelle Madoff:

I would very much like the support of my colleagues that a commitment would be made on a voluntary basis for us to monitor the courts to see that someone is sitting there. I know in the environmental days it was very productive to know that somebody cared representing the community.

You know, laws without enforcement is an exercise in futility and if the Downtown is a pigsty, how can we consider ourselves a beautiful city? That's one item that I just wanted to share with my colleagues.

The other pictures that were taken are equally serious. I'd like everybody to take a quick look at these. Do you recall that I asked somebody to go up and take McArdle; frankly, I don't have good enough pictures of McArdle but it gives you the flavor. I don't know how many millions of dollars were spent on the McArdle Roadway.

I spoke to Mr. McDermott; they are going to be spending more money. He tells me that in the last three years, you know, the McArdle Roadway was under construction or closed down for some seven years. The only major route up to the mountains. When you go up that road it's an embarrassment. Mr. McDermott says that in the last three years, for some peculiar reason, the street has deteriorated faster than usual.

We have a problem with drainage. It seems that the roads were supposed to be cleaned out. I guess the catch area behind this wall, which is not really a retaining wall but just to keep boulders from going down, if you look at one of those photos you're going to see a boulder sitting right on top of the wall. If that boulder rolls over, somebody is going to get killed, somebody is going to get their car hurt. The damage to us, because we're the taxpayers, is a lot more than $15,000.

I have some great concerns about why, in the planning of that bridge, this Council did not take a more active role to see what was really going to happen. You know, we get a snow job. But I don't understand the logic. Can anyone here explain the logic of not doing the street at the same time, repaving in the last months. It would have been easier, cheaper, the equipment is there, it would have been done, it would have looked great. Item one.

Item two, having the water from PennDOT being captured in the winter and going over the hill, causing this erosion, this accelerated damage. We already have a lawsuit and they come to the City when it's not out fault; it's PennDOT's fault. We still have the drainage problem or the pipes that are plugged up and they're going to be constantly filled up and it's a really serious problem. But the most important thing is that we've spent millions and we're going to go back and spend hundreds of thousands more and obviously that street and the bridge is going to have to be closed down even for a few hours now and again, for days on end. I don't understand how that could be allowed to happen and I would appreciate it if somebody would do something about it. I think probably the thing to do is a post agenda; what do you think, Mr. President?

The Chair:

I think we should have a post agenda on it.

Michelle Madoff:

Okay but we've asked for material and it's being coalated. Should we send a letter then to Mr. McDermott and Lou Gaetano and Dan Pellegrini asking for a post agenda at the earliest time that the materials are available, not to exceed, say, one month from now on a Wednesday?

The Chair:

Mike, will you handle that?

Michelle Madoff:

Thank you very much. And I would like my letter, we have one month, I believe, on the refuse problem, we're supposed to get our feedback as to how the claims are going, what the courts say, how they're citing, and whether the same people are causing the same problem again, the garbage problem.

So, those two issues will be before us within the next month and I really ask that Council take them very seriously.

Mr. DePasquale moved to excuse Mr. O'Malley for absence from the meeting.

Mr. Wagner seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. DePasquale moved to approve the Minutes of Monday, March 17, 1986, Monday, March 24, 1986, Monday, March 31, 1986, Monday, April 7, 1986, and Monday, April 14, 1986.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Mr. DePasquale

Council adjourned.

PRESENTATIONS

The Chair:

We're going to defer from our regular order of business today for a moment. We have a resolution. Ms. Madoff?

Michelle Madoff:

We have with us today a very esteemed honored guest, Mr. Hazo. He's a distinguished poet, he's brought to our City as well as Washington, D.C. a series of the most important contemporary poems written in English or translated into English.

Mr. Hazo, over the past two decades, you have included such well known individuals as Princess Grace of Monaco, the Russian Poet, Yevgeni and the great American writer, James Wickey and jazz singer, Cleo Lane.

We at City Council are pleased to honor you today with this resolution and to recognize the force you've exerted in creating a different dimension of cultural life in Pittsburgh. Please stay here in our community and continue your fine work.

Michelle Madoff presents

No. 824 WHEREAS, Dr. Samuel Hazo, Professor of English at Duquesne University, founded the International Poetry Forum in Pittsburgh in 1966; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Samuel Hazo, for the past two decades, has provided an opportunity where "people could appear and speak without censorship of any kind", and;

WHEREAS, the creation of the International Poetry Forum has enhanced the quality of cultural life in Pittsburgh by presenting poetry, not only to those in a university setting, but to ordinary men and women in a public place; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Samuel Hazo, by bringing poets and writers from all over the world to Pittsburgh and by receiving recognition for his own poetry, has become a cultural ambassador for our City; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Samuel Hazo, in April 1986, received the Theodore L. Hazlett, Jr. Award for Excellence in the Arts in Pennsylvania in the field of literature.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and the Council of the City of Pittsburgh, join in offering our congratulations to Dr. Samuel Hazo for his outstanding cultural contributions to our community.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

I'd like to ask Mr. Hazo to say a few words. He has written a book which is about to come out in publication called "The Pittsburgh That Starts With You". This is some of the excerpts, the beginning of it. There are already three or four thousand copies already in order.

I would like to have his brother, Robert Hazo, please rise to be recognized. I don't believe that your wife, Marian Hazo, is here as yet. She couldn't park, right? She would have been towed. I had hoped that Judge Barry would be here; he sends his deepest respects. He wanted to be with us and was very excited that you were getting this resolution.

Dr. Hazo:

The first thing I would like to do is to thank Michelle and Judith Aaronson and the members of the Council for the resolution.

As I was waiting in Mrs. Madoff's office she said to me, "You might be asked to say a few words." So I had from the time we left her office until I arrived here time to think of what I wanted to say. One has to be careful politically about what one chooses to say.

I have been working on a book about the City of Pittsburgh and in it there is a brief comment about a small bronze bust that is on the main floor of this building. It's of a local official, years ago, named William Flynn. You have to look hard to find it. But that bust was done by a Russian sculptor who also did the main statue for the New York World's Fair in 1936 and many, many other things. He has since died but I had occasion to meet him before he died at the age of 82 on West 62nd Street in New York. This is a man, by the way, who knew Rasputin, he knew him. It's not often you meet somebody like this. So, he said, "They asked me if I'm a Democrat or a Republican." He said, "I'm a Monarchist. I pledged my allegiance to the Czar and he never released me."

I'm not a Monarchist, I'm just a citizen of the State of Pennsylvania and, in that capacity, I thank you very much for this honor. Thank you.

Mr. Givens for Mr. DePasquale presented

No. 787 Resolution amending Resolution No. 196, effective March 19, 1986, entitled: "Providing for a Contract or Contracts, or use of existing Contracts for Replacement of Windows at Fire Stations No. 10, 12, 13, and 14 and Police Station No. 4; and providing for the payment of the cost thereof," by increasing the total project allocation from $60,000.00 to $76,000.00.

Which was read and referred to the Committee on Engineering and Construction.

Mr. Givens moved to suspend Rule 8 by providing for consideration of the bill only until or after the 9th calendar day following the meeting in which the bill was introduced so the bill will be on the agenda this Wednesday.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Also,

No. 788 Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant in favor of Trumbull Corporation (Perry J. Dick, President) in the amount of $29,322.40 in payment of Extra Work, being in addition to the original contract price of $4,083, 511.40 on Controller's Contract No. 26925, furnished for the benefit of the City in connection with the Reconstruction of Grant Street - Phase I, payable from the Grant Street Trust Fund. (PRIOR APPROVAL GRANTED)

Which was read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Givens presented

No. 789 Resolution providing for the issuance of a warrant in favor of

Louis J. Viglione, Inc., in the amount of $17,967.00 in payment for an Emergency Sewer Contract furnished for the benefit of the City in connection with the repair of a dangerous sewer condition on Old Banksville Road in the 20th Ward, chargeable to and payable from Code Account PW 84-29, Emergency Sewer Replacement. (PRIOR APPROVAL GRANTED)

Which was read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

Also,

No. 790 Resolution providing for a Contract or Contracts, or the use of existing Contracts for traffic signal installation at various locations within the City of Pittsburgh at a cost not to exceed $199,798.93, chargeable to and payable from Code Account PW 85-03, Signals at Various Intersections - $24,798.93 and Code Account PW 86-03, Signals at Various Intersections - $175,000.00.

Also,

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Michelle Madoff presents

No. 825 WHEREAS, the loss of 120,000 jobs in Western Pennsylvania has resulted in an unemployment rate of 9.9% for white workers and a devastating 34.5% for black workers; and

WHEREAS, current attacks on affirmative action by the Reagan Administration is a major area of concern for black trade unionists and black workers because many employees no longer feel compelled to employ them; and

WHEREAS, the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh proclaimed Saturday, May 3, 1986 as COALITION OF BLACK TRADE UNIONISTS DAY to focus attention on the unemployment of black workers throughout Western Pennsylvania; and

WHEREAS, the historic conference sponsored by the Coalition of Black Trade Unionists, the first of its kind in the history of Pittsburgh, successfully educated, informed, and brought attention to the contributions of black trade unionists and workers in Western Pennsylvania.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT

RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh hereby recognizes this successful and historic conference sponsored by the Coalition of Black Trade Unionists to raise public awareness of the black worker in the labor movement and in our community.

Michelle Madoff moved to adopt the resolution.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Michelle Madoff:

I have a couple of items, Mr. President. I happened to be speaking to Malcolm Prine about security at the Stadium and he has asked to see what we can do as a body to provide security, not inside the Stadium, not on the area where the company that runs it is looking after the security, but to do security for people who are going to their cars afterward. There was an episode that could have been much more serious than it was. There was a mugging on the way to a car.

I don't know, and I don't know if anybody else on this Council knows, what is the status of the number of police that we have right now. I know we're 105 police below minimum security. I know that we put on a class of 40 and we lose 50 by attrition. I know that we have police officers on vacation, we have police officers on workmen's comp, we have police officers with vehicles down so they're not out doing their thing.

I know we're going to revamp the Police Department but wouldn't it be nice if the elected officials were informed as to what the plans are? I would like very much to hold a post agenda to get that information.

The Chair:

I'm sure Mr. Wagner would do that for us. But I suggest that Malcolm Prine, if he has any problem with security and the police over at the Stadium, that he take it directly to the Administration and to the Stadium Authority.

Michelle Madoff:

I'm repeating this, this is not police in the Stadium. The City of Pittsburgh has its own police, named City of Pittsburgh Police. And I don't think that the Stadium Authority has the authority to get City of Pittsburgh Police. That's something we have to do here.

The Chair:

We don't have the authority either, the Administration does and that's why I suggest that Malcolm Prine go right to the Administration.

Michelle Madoff:

I still think if the support came from this Council it would not be detrimental. It might help the Administration understand what the problems are.

On another matter, as you may recall, last week we took some photographs, which we circulated, of garbage in the Downtown area. I requested to get some idea of what kinds of fines were being levied against various entities and it seems that the following cases heard in Housing Court on May 5th, the penalties imposed were: Lloyd's Youth Center, I don't know who they are but they got a $25 fine and costs of $23.50; Weiner World, which I believe is in Oakland, got $25 and costs of $23.50; Joseph Ella Zwiskey for dumping, there's a $100 fine, the same costs; Applebee's, four different cases and the total was $97, four different cases; Hite's Drugstore was dismissed and picked up by the City; Mr. K $25, who's Mr. K, and $23.50 for costs; Fotohut, $25 and $23.50 costs; and the Fulton Building, the big Fulton Building, $50 with $23.50 costs; and the City Club $200 with $23.50 costs.

I don't know how many times these people were cited. A $25 fine is a slap on the wrist. I would like to know why one was fined $200 and another one $100. It would be very interesting to me. And I would like to see what is going to happen with the rest of the citations because we plan to go down and take more pictures in a couple of months. We'll give them two or three months to clean up the act, see that they're cited, and then go back Downtown and see if there's any improvement. $25 is cheaper to pay than to get it cleaned up and that's the sad part.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I'd just like to respond to the security issue. We are sitting without information as to the future of the Police Bureau and I think that's information that all Councilmembers would like to know, including myself. If I knew that I would relay that information to you but I'm not aware of it.

I would like to say, though, that I may be suggesting some ways in the future to address that problem. In particular, the problem at the Stadium, this Council discussed a year ago when there was a stabbing on the Fort Duquesne Bridge and the need for increased security around the Stadium. I believe the suggestion was made at that time that we better utilize police officers around the circumference of the Stadium, particularly at the four gates, and we suggested not only an officer outside of each of the four gates but also an officer on the other side of the bridge at Point State Park.

A further suggestion was made to better utilize canine dogs because they are so effective with crowd control and they are a deterrent to crime, especially in those types of situations.

So, Councilwoman Madoff, I'm not certain if you would like to again suggest that idea but we did a year ago and I think it would be good for this Council to make a similar recommendation this year.

Michelle Madoff:

I think the issue is much broader, I think it's time that we held a public hearing, cablevised, and we get some really committed answers to what's going to happen with our Police Department. I don't think anybody knows and I think it's really disgraceful that when we go out to speak and I get asked questions all the time, I can't answer them.

Michelle Madoff moved to excuse Mr. DePasquale and Mr. Grabowski for absence from the meeting.

Mrs. Masloff seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Wagner moved to approve the Minutes of Monday, April 21, 1986 and Monday, April 28, 1986.

Mr. Givens seconded the motion.

Which motion prevailed.

And on the motion of Michelle Madoff

Council adjourned.

PRESENTATIONS

The Chair:

We have a presentation from Maribeth Salley Russuto on the Clean City Committee.

Ms. Russuto:

Good afternoon ladies and gentlemen. Thank you for this opportunity to make the presentations today. What we are doing is, we are making presentations on the Council Challenge Program which was operated during Keep America Beautiful Week and of the nine Councilmembers, four members of this City Council participated and I would like to thank all of you for your participation and your volunteers as well as your own individual staffs did a marvelous job of putting it together and it was extremely successful.

The program, as you are aware, was sponsored by Heinz USA and Westinghouse. They were so pleased with the results and the level of participation that they would like to make this an annual event. So, we will look forward to working with all of you next year on the Council Challenge Project.

On to the awards and presentations. We'll start with the bottom and work to the top.

The fourth place winner in this year's contest is Sophie Masloff for her participation in Hazelwood. And for the participation you will receive one trash receptacle to be placed in the business community of your choice. All of the plaques will have the Councilmember as well as the Heinz USA and Westinghouse logos on them.

The third place winner is Councilman Grabowski for his efforts on Crane Avenue in Beechview. You will receive two receptacles for the business district of your choice.

The second winner is Council President Ben Woods. Mr. Woods, for his efforts in Esplen, will receive three cans with your logo on it for the location of your choice.

Of course you all know now who the big winner is. It's Councilman Dick Givens and certainly one of the things that the judges from Heinz and Westinghouse took into consideration was the amount of public and community activity that you have involved in your individualized programs. Mr. Givens, for those of you who don't know, used the "It's a crime to mess up a beautiful City" logo and posters throughout the community on the day of his events and he did his event centering around the Doughboy Statue.

Again, I thank you all for your participation this year and look forward to working with the rest of you next year. Thank you.

Michelle Madoff:

Discussion. Question. I'm just curious. Do you have the report ready for us on the —

Mr. Givens:

Before we have a motion, Mr. President, I meant to bring this up Wednesday but because of the other pressing issues we had before this Council it slipped my mind.

I looked throughout all the paperwork I have and I checked with our Finance section back there and I don't know who the principles are, I don't know what the itemized list of things that they're wanting for this $2000. I'm sure the Sooners need the money but I'd like to make a motion to put this back into Committee for one week so we can get that information by this Wednesday.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Mr. Wagner:

Discussion. Mr. Givens, I have all that information in my office. It was available to you last week and it is continually available to you today. You are free to review that information and if there is any other reason why you choose to hold this piece of legislation I wish you would come out and say.

Mr. Givens:

Jack, I have received document and background information on every bill that was presented to us last week but that bill. I'm sorry, I just didn't receive that information and generally it's attached to the bill itself.

This Council has gotten burned on the few occasions for giving money to various community groups. I have set a standard for myself; that is, I want to see an itemized list. In fact, it's required by the Planning or this Parks and Recreation. Before they can dispense of any money, they have to show where this money is going to be spent. That is not accompanying the bill and I wish you would have had it but I would like the opportunity to look at that information. I think all other Councilmembers should have that same opportunity.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President and members of Council, we have had that information in our hands for two weeks; a week and a half prior to it coming into Committee and since it was in Committee last Wednesday, an additional five days.

I think it's rather late to be asking for that information. That information along with every other bill that is part of this legislation has been available to every member of Council for two weeks and for a member of Council to say that it is not available, I disagree with and I can say that the South Side Community is very worthy of this legislation, the organization that it's representing is very worthy of this organization. There are only two such football programs left in existence in this City. This program is struggling financially in the South Side. Without this assistance in funds it will exist any longer and for that reason I strongly support this legislation.

Mr. Givens:

Jack, I strongly support it too but I am not going to act on it until I get that specific information, study it and talk to the people. I've been burned once in this Council and I'm not going to be burned again.

Our Finance Department did not have it. When I went to get it, even prior to this meeting, I could not get that information. That's all I'm asking for. And I think if any of us put anything into any bills that we should have background documentation supporting it. It was not in this bill.

I had it as a note on Wednesday to bring it up; I did not bring it up. I'm bringing it up now. I can't vote on it because I won't vote on it until I get that documentation.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I'd like another comment. Mr. Givens, you have not come to me for that information and if you are flat out against the support of a South Side organization that is very worthy --

Mr. Givens:

Absolutely not; I'm on record as saying that I am not.

Mr. Wagner:

-- that is very worthy of this legislation, I would suggest that you come out and say that.

I will say this to you. I will stand up and be heard in terms of supporting this youth football program and I would strongly suggest to every member of this Council that they do the same.

This organization has been in existence for a number of years, over ten years. They can prove it, they can validate it with brochures, they are very worthy of this support. Other neighborhoods in this City have received the same type of similar support in the past, of which you have supported that legislation. Now, if you in any way have a problem with the South Side community with this legislation, I would simply request that you come out and say that and not hold up this legislation. This legislation is very worthy, the information that you're requesting has been available, and now is not the time to request it.

The Chair:

Let me put this all back in perspective. Let's not get personal. The motion was to recommit until this Wednesday. No one said they were against the legislation or for the legislation. In fact, Mr. Givens said he was for it but he wants to see some documents. It's just to recommit.

Now, Mr. Pollock, on recommitment only.

Mr. Pollock:

That's exactly what I was speaking to. I don't think the purpose of recommitment is to accomplish what was supposed to have been accomplished in the Wednesday Committee Meeting. That's not why we have Wednesday Committee Meetings. If people weren't there or if they didn't ask questions on Wednesday, the legislative process runs its course. We have final votes on Monday and if someone wasn't able to accomplish what he or she should have accomplished on Wednesday, a motion to recommit is inappropriate.

The Chair:

Well, as President of Council I disagree with you. It happens here many, many times. There are many pieces of legislation that a particular Councilmember may not have paid attention to on a Wednesday or may not have been here, and I can look around at everybody in this room, all nine of us, and ask that at one time or another, because we didn't have the information or have a chance to look at it, has asked for recommitment. So, that's what I said. Let's not get personal.

Mr. Wagner:

Just one question, Mr. President. This is coming out of Parks and Recreation Committee and the Chairperson of that Committee, Councilwoman Sophie Masloff, appears to be very comfortable with this legislation or she would have requested recommitment. I think as respect for any Councilmember on this Council, that Committee Chairperson and also myself that strongly supports this legislation, if the Committee Chairperson has not requested, I would just strongly request that this legislation move forward.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the motion?

And on the question, "Shall the motion pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

And a majority of the votes of Council being in the affirmative, the motion was approved.

Mr. Wagner presented

Bill No. 857

Report of the Committee on Public Safety for May 14, 1986 transmitting one resolution to Council.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also, with an affirmative recommendation,

Bill No. 811

A Resolution entitled, "Resolution Repealing Resolution No. 357 of 1986, approved April 25, 1986, entitled: 'Resolution providing for an Agreement or Agreements with a Consultant for professional services in connection with the establishment of an Office of Professional Responsibility within the Department of Public Safety, and providing for the payment of the cost thereof.'" —(SPONSORED BY MR. WAGNER)

Which was read.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I think the Record reflects that this piece of legislation was in front of us three or four weeks ago. It came out of the Committee on Public Safety. I did not support the legislation and I did not think at that time, and I expressed my feelings at that time and as part of the Record, that this legislation was not even proper legislation because it identified a certain individual to receive the consulting contract. The legislation should not have done that. There is no need for additional consultants within the Department of Public Safety. We already have a consultant contract going on there; one is enough. This piece of legislation represents $26,000 in taxpayer money and I feel if it were spent it would be wasted. Consequently, I strongly suggest that it not be supported and that we repeal the legislation.

The Chair:

Mr. Wagner, this is what this is doing, repealing, isn't it?

Mr. Wagner:

Yes.

The Chair:

So you're requesting that we affirm it.

Michelle Madoff:

The vote is aye to repeal.

Mr. DePasquale:

Mr. Chairman, first of all, this legislation was handled very badly. It's the first time in all the time that I've been on City Council that legislation was submitted to Council for one individual. In other words, if that individual was not to take the job, the legislation as we're doing now would be repealed. It's sort of repugnant that someone would do this and someone in Council would also get together with that party and say, "Okay, if he gets the job we'll okay it and if he doesn't, then we won't." It's so irregular that I never heard of it and I hope I never hear of it again. If this type of legislation comes up one more time and someone specifies it's for a certain individual, I'm going to holler foul. I didn't like it then and I don't like it now and I'm going to vote against the repeal. Either they wanted a consultant in that Department at $26,000, regardless of who it was, or they didn't want a consultant. You don't specify one individual.

The Chair:

If I'm correct, Mr. Wagner, you initiated this piece of legislation.

Mr. Wagner:

Mr. President, I did not support the original legislation of the $26,000. As you recall, the majority of this Council voted for that when I strongly recommended not to vote for it. Again, I am strongly suggesting that the legislation be repealed and that we not give the Public Safety Department the $26,000.

The Chair:

Is there any further discussion on the bill?

And on the question, "Shall the bill pass finally?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Grabowski:

Mr. President, I move to adjourn this meeting and meet again on Tuesday, May 27, 1986 at 2:00 p.m.

Mr. DePasquale seconded the motion.

Michelle Madoff:

Don't we have any other business?

The Chair:

He made the motion and it was seconded.

Michelle Madoff:

You didn't give us a chance for any other business.

The Chair:

I stood here and --

Mr. Pollock:

I didn't hear what his motion was.

The Chair:

His motion is to adjourn this meeting and meet again Tuesday at 2:00.

Michelle Madoff:

There's some other business to be discussed, Mr. Chairman.

The Chair:

I can't make another motion unless he rescinds his motion and the second is rescinded, then we can have some other discussion.

Mr. O'Malley:

What was the purpose of the motion?

The Chair:

To adjourn.

Michelle Madoff:

We have a holiday. But I want him to hold off until other business is discussed.

Mr. Grabowski:

Well, Mr. President, out of courtesy to Michelle I will withdraw my motion but I would ask that she pay attention in the future. Councilman Woods stood up there for a few seconds waiting for someone --

Mr. DePasquale:

I'll withdraw my second.

Mr. Pollock:

I didn't hear him say it. Did you say New Business?

Michelle Madoff:

I didn't hear New Business. Did you say New Business?

The Chair:

You don't say New Business. I know how to run the meeting, please.

Now, Ms. Madoff, you have the floor.

Michelle Madoff:

I want to thank my colleague for withdrawing his adjourning of the meeting so I can just address an issue that's before all of us.

Over the weekend I took the opportunity to consult with an attorney with reference to the issue of my injury suffered here in Council when I was hospitalized July 15, 1985. In speaking to my attorney, it was pointed out to me that since no one knew that public officials fall in the same category of the general public, they are not covered under workmen's compensation. If somebody is covered under workmen's compensation in the same way that anybody, including elected officials, medical bills are paid. However, if they have a re-occurrence or if they're disabled, a person on workmen's comp could and has been, in many instances, having their problems and their salary taken care of for life. They become eligible under workmen's comp if they are not able to return to work or if the same injury is the cause of a flare-up at a later date.

The general public, which a member of the elected Council falls under, does not have that protection. In other words, had I not just dislocated my elbow, and I'd like to clarify that for anybody who doesn't know. There's a tremendous difference between a break and a dislocation. Breaks are usually in a cast for six weeks and you heal generally. Dislocations never heal completely.

My attorney pointed out to me that since I had been to therapy, once in Washington which was $90 and was not covered under the existing policy that we have with the City which is Blue Cross, Blue Shield, Major Medical; it had to come out of my own pocket. And that when I go to a doctor on an out-patient basis that is not covered under, not entirely, sometimes it's partially covered, sometimes not covered. An out-patient visit with a doctor is generally not covered, not knowing what other problems could occur because of arthritic problems or what have you, and the fact that I cannot do buttons up on the back of any garment I choose to wear, I need someone to dress me, there's a permanent injury, and the fact that I was being, what I thought, very reasonable in saying that I don't want to put the City through a lawsuit, I just want to be reasonably reimbursed, I will settle for what was offered. But since that position has become —

You know, Mr. Chairman, if I did what my colleagues did right now, not only would I be ruled out of order but I would have been fined.

The Chair:

You do it all the time, Michelle. And the reason I'm not correcting them is because you and your aide have been meeting on every piece of legislation when Mr. Perry was reading it. You walk to the back of the hall, you went and talked, you followed Maribeth Salley out and you sat back there and caused a commotion and now I am showing you the same politeness that you show the rest of your colleagues, and that's none. Now do you want to continue?

Michelle Madoff:

I'm trying to. Tell me when I may continue. I will wait for your instruction because, after all, I always look to my leader for leadership.

The Chair:

Thank you. You may continue now.

Michelle Madoff:

In light of the fiasco that took place by Mr. Ferlo, who is here, I might add, at 2:45 when he should probably be in the Controller's Office doing his job, and by the question on KQV on Saturday which was, "Should Michelle get $15,000, should she get more or should she get less?" It's like a little boy who brings a rabbit to school for show and tell and the little girl says, "I wonder if it's a male or a female" and the teacher says, "Let's find out; we'll vote on it."

I decided to listen to my attorney and to wait until the reimbursement, see what, if any, other problems occur, what happens with my arm, and to let the matter ride for the time being. I will instruct my attorney that I have to immediately initiate a claim to go through what Mr. Ferlo has requested and that is the courts. Unfortunately, as you all know, Mr. Danny Pellegrini has informed us that that will mean the hiring of an outside attorney so that's going to be more than what I was even asking for which I think is unfortunate. You know, attorneys don't work for nothing; I'm sure that they will want a portion which they build into the claim which I think is terribly unfortunate.

I also want to point out one very important thing, that any person injured in this City who makes a claim, whether its against the City or against anyone else, if the claim is legitimate, can go to any attorney, almost any attorney I believe, on a contingency basis. In other words, there's no money out of pocket until the settlement time. So, any B.S. rhetoric that people didn't get paid their fair amount because they didn't go to an attorney or they went to an attorney and didn't get their money or they couldn't afford an attorney is nonsense because attorneys take claims on contingency basis.

Subsequently, I will follow procedure, let the wheels of justice grind as slowly as they may, and eventually I believe that justice will be done. I'm glad, though, that someone wasn't hurt more severely than I was. The fact that the guard was not up at the time in front of the camera has been corrected, that the Cable Division of the City showed all the commercial stations the next day how they had made corrections, that they were grievously at fault, it was grievously negligence which they admitted to which is now on all the television station, 2, 4, and 11, in their files. So there's no question of culpability or liability; that's been clearly established.

I think it's unfortunate that Mr. Danny Pellegrini, in pleading the case that I'm willing to settle for so little, reiterated the fact that not only did I see my own doctor but that the City sent me to another physician and they both reaffirmed that I have a permanent damage that could exacerbate and become much more severe as years go on.

We're going to wait and see and we'll just take that course of action. I wanted to inform my colleagues because I know there was a bill that was read for Wednesday and so that bill would be moot.

Mr. DePasquale:

On the same subject, Mr. Chairman, I want a Parliamentary ruling. In regards to a settlement for anyone who gets hurt in the City of Pittsburgh, I think we're all aware that if the City attorney feels that its for the benefit of the City to settle and not go into court, actually to save money, this is probably the proper procedure. Never, in the 13 years that I've been on Council, have we ever held up a settlement offer by the Law Department. This is the first time and I'm a little curious as to why. Whether it's Michelle Madoff, you, I, or any citizen named Joe Smith, if they get hurt and the Law Department feels its fair settlement — in this case they had two or three doctors verify that the party was permanently disabled, partially disabled, and obviously entitled was entitled to the money.

As far as Council holding it up or throwing it back in the Law Department's lap, that's something else. I wasn't here so I can't really speak out but I wouldn't have been a party to it.

The other one is, I'm curious as to why a public hearing. This is a routine matter, the Law Department has tried to settle with the party and it's Council's ball whether to approve or disapprove. How does this wind up being a hearing? I understand 25 citizens signed a petition, yes. But not on a routine matter. It does not require a hearing and should not be allowed. That's where I want a Parliamentary ruling.

The Chair:

Under the Home Rule Charter, any issue concerning the City that has the signatures of 25 people, we have to have a public hearing.

Mr. DePasquale:

I'm being told that any time a settlement comes up, there can be a hearing on that settlement?

The Chair:

If it's City business.

Mr. DePasquale:

We could have a case now where we could be having hearings five times a week.

The Chair:

We have hearings on things that don't even involve our legislative process and don't even involve our City process. If there's 25 signatures, we have to have a hearing.

Mr. DePasquale:

I'm confused. This is the first time that anybody has ever asked for a hearing in a matter of this type.

The Chair:

On this particular case we'll have to do a little research because if Ms. Madoff does file suit then perhaps there will not be a hearing.

Michelle Madoff:

If I might just respond. My understanding, Mr. DePasquale, was that I got advice from one of my colleagues that there weren't the votes on this Council to vote for the settlement which I was willing to take and I think was very reasonable.

Some members of Council felt that they didn't want to vote on another member of Council so that I hope that in the future, if any member of Council has a personal issue, if they're involved in a housing, a zoning, anything that they're personal involved in, this Council will not vote, it will go to court on it.

I also would like to point out that it appears there were votes, the votes were there. I have polled this Council and the votes were there to support that settlement. The hiring of an attorney now is going to be more than my settlement, Mr. DePasquale; you're absolutely correct. However, while I didn't want to discuss it today and didn't want to go into it, you're correct, Mr. Chairman, any time a case is in litigation, it cannot be discussed and cannot have a public hearing.

Mr. Pollock:

On another subject. In our mailboxes, I don't think everyone has picked them up yet, is a correspondence from David Donahoe of the Mayor's Office, along with a copy of a letter he received from the DeBartolo Corporation along with a news release. David makes careful attention to point out that he received this correspondence at 5:05 p.m. on Thursday.

In the following day's paper, the news release came out which stated that the Penguins asked for a one-year extension of their lease and that they had received support for this request from the Allegheny County Commissioners. In light of this request and in light of the support of the Allegheny County Commissioners, the DeBartolo Corporation is hoping that the City and the Public Auditorium Authority goes along with this request for a one-year extension. As my colleagues may or may not know, there was supposed to be a five-year lease as approved by this Council before I came on it last year, when the Civic Arena Corporation was given about a half million dollar rent cut and about near half million dollar operating subsidy along with 11.4 million construction bonds.

Now, it's not my style to pre-judge any issue which might appear before Council at a later date, so I won't address the merits of the request for a one-year lease. But what I would like to bring up at this time is the shoddy manner in which City Government is being treated, for maybe it's actual purpose for the DeBartolo Corporation releasing this information to the City Government in this manner was an attempt to muscle us into a deal. And while the Allegheny County Commissioners are given prior notice and the ability to consent or not consent, and City Government isn't afforded the same cooperation or consideration, in light of the significant concessions that this Council and the City Government afforded this corporation last year is beyond my comprehension, and so I will address that and express my displeasure with that.

I think that the Mayor of this City, I think this City itself deserves a lot more consideration by anybody doing business with the City, but even more so by an entity that received the breaks that the DeBartolo Corporation has received in the past. I wanted to respond to that at this time.

The Chair:

I think the Mayor has and I have, as President of Council.

Mr. Givens:

Mark was not in Council at the time, but the agreement, as I understood, was for a one-year extension. At the end of that one year, the DeBartolo Corporation would come in and tell this Council as well as the Auditorium Authority which I now sit on and represent the people of the City of Pittsburgh and, in fact, this Council to a certain degree.

It was brought up at our executive meeting on Monday; we were awaiting word at that particular time last Monday for this information to come down. I don't know how any company can express themselves other than do it in a professional way by putting it into a letter and giving it to the appropriate people. We are a public body. So, as a result, this is public information. The minute that letter was received by any of us it should have gone public. Now we have to sit down and discuss can we go for another year. That is something that this Council is going to have to look at, the Mayor is going to have to look at, the Auditorium Authority as well as the Commissioners, because we're all in this basket together and we're all going to have to come out with some type of a decision. Any one of those three major bodies, that of the Mayor, this Council, or the Commissioners balking at any agreement that will come up, there will be no agreement. That burden then is rested upon all of our shoulders to make a good decision.

I wouldn't want this Council as a body going out and saying that we're mad at DeBartolo. I think he's doing exactly what he said he was going to do, that when this comes up one year from now, he had to make a decision. He had to make a decision within that one year's period of time that he would continue on. And if we held $12 million until he made a firm commitment for a five year contract with us. So we have $12 million sitting there in a loan that I hope is drawing interest, I'm sure it is, and the biggest problem before all of the bodies right now is what are we going to do about that loan that we took out because that should be exercised and something should be done to the Stadium or we're going to have to put it back in or put it to some other use.

There's a lot of discussion that has to go underway but I felt bad in the fact that sometimes we don't get that counsel but you have to assume that's a major corporation out there and they did it the way I think any major corporation that has 10,000 things going on at one time. They sent a letter of decision from the highest authority of the corporation, Mr. DeBartolo.

The Chair:

We don't like the way it was handled. They went to the news media and the Commissioners first and never consulted with the Mayor of this City or the Council or the Auditorium Authority before coming up with additional demands. Before they did that they should have negotiated with all the parties involved, like they did over a year ago. I think that's what Mr. Pollock is saying, that's what I said, and for us to sit here and talk about what kind of agreement they want in the future, it's useless because we don't know what it is. But I think if someone wants to make a statement here that we're mad, yeah, I'm mad at them, personally, for doing it the way they handled them.

Mr. DePasquale:

I merely wanted to say that my colleagues, Givens and Pollock, both made very good points and certainly what you said in the newspaper the other day was apropos. It's no secret that DeBartolo is a very good, close friend of mine. However, a year or so ago we changed that lease one time, supposedly. And then within a year they were to say whether they were going to stay five more years or not. Now they're more or less saying, "Give us another year." It's the old story, and I have to agree with Mark Pollock, ante up or else. It's a threatening gesture.

And as you said, there's no use talking about it now because the legislation is going to come up. I just felt that the remark should be made that when this does come up, I'm going to look very, very closely at it. Either they're going to go through with the five year agreement or perhaps maybe we shouldn't extend it another year.

Mr. Wagner:
